A man who has just returned from Alaska, where he has been for two years, said to a World reporter: "No one, but a fool, in my opinion, will start just now from New York for Klondike. Any who do will reach the diggings to find the ground covered with snow and be unable to do anything at all until May or June of next year. The talk about the high wages reads well, but it should be remembered there is little work to be done in the cold weather in Alaska at any price. Alaska is a hard place to get experience, and it will kill more men than it will make rich."

Lucky French-Canadians.

San Francisco, July 23.—Six French-Canadians, who were successful on the Klondike and are now bound for Montreal, are at the Commercial Club in this city. They came from Seattle, having reached that city by the steamer Portland. They could not get the price for their nuggets that they wanted and they will not accept the bid made by the smelting works in this city. As the San Francisco mint is closed pending the change of administration, these six miners will carry their bullion to Philadelphia and exchange there for coin of the United States. The six men of the party are N. F. Piccot, T. Morrin, who has been in Yukon for four years; N. Mercer, of five years' experience; Joseph Caschais, who for seven years has mined in Alaska; P. Melser, who has been there nine years, and Joseph Desroches, who has just completed his second year on the Yukon.

New Port of Entry.

Washington, D. C., July 23.—In view of the present rush of travel to the Klondike gold fields, Secretary Gage has established a sub-port of entry at Dyea, Alaska. The action was taken as the result of an application to the Treasury Department by Canada, for permission for Canadian vessels to enter at Dyea, Alaska, and land passengers and baggage there. Dyea is about 50 miles north of Juneau, and it was desired to save passengers the annoyance of disembarking at Juneau and awaiting another steamer for Dyea, the head of navigation on this route to the Yukon frontier.

THE CONSTABLE SHOT HIM.

A Peddler From St. Thomas Who Was Doing Business Near Strathroy Tried to Evade Arrest.

London, Ont., July 23.—The town of Strathroy was yesterday morning thrown into great excitement over a shooting affray between Constable Wilson and J. W. Burns, a pedlar from St. Thomas. Burns has been pedling spectacles and charging very high prices, and an information was laid charging him with fraud and a warrant was issued. The officer went to Burns' boarding house, a little west of the town and placed him under arrest. Burns asked permission to go up stairs to change his clothing. Permission was granted, and the next the constable saw of Mr. Burns he was out from the rear door of his boarding house. Wilson, it is said, called on him to stop, but the prisoner continued to go ahead. Wilson fired two or three shots in the air, and when this had no effect the constable fired at the man, and the shot took effect in the muscles of the left arm. Burns was brought before Mayor Evans of Strathroy in the absence of a magistrate, and remanded until July 29. He was brought to this city and placed in the county jail. The prisoner said his object in evading arrest was that he did not want to be encumbered with the expense of a trial. Jail physicians will interview the Crown authorities and if the prisoner can be bailed he will be removed to the hospital to-morrow, where an effort will be made to extract the ball.

AMERICANS TOOK WINNIPEG

A Force of 3500 Swooped Down on the Prairie City, All Carrying Stars and Stripes No Resistance Offered.

Winnipeg, July 23.—(Special.)—It is safe to say that seldom in the history of a Canadian city has as large a delegation of United States citizens attended a celebration of a summer fair as came in to-day from North Dakota to the Prairie Capital of Canada. Three heavily-laden trains, with over 2000 people, came in shortly after 1 o'clock to-day on the Northern Pacific and one of 15 coaches arrived by the Great Northern. The 3500 Americans were our guests to-day, and with happy faces and holiday attire, they scattered all over the city to enjoy their visit. The Stars and Stripes occupied prominent positions on arches and nearly all the visitors came bedecked with a little flag of their country and a badge denoting their place of residence. There were baseball matches, racrosse and other sports for the visitors, nearly all of whom attended the Winnipeg exhibition.

THE PROLIFIC FRENCH.

They are Spreading Themselves Over the Northern Part of Ontario in Rapid Fashion.

Montreal, July 23.—(Special.)—"If the Ontario papers which seem so alarmed at the prospect of a large influx of French settlers in the west will turn their attention to another quarter they will find a second Quebec nearer home than the banks of the Saskatchewan."

The above remark was made yesterday by a gentleman well posted in the movements of population and the following facts were elicited. The French Canadians are now masters of Northern Ontario, and it is plain that they have come to stay. They now extend to the number of 10,000 families, or 50,000 souls, from Ottawa City to Cartier, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific, say 358 miles, and along the Sault Ste. Marie branch 185 miles.

Fifteen years ago there were none, or very few, of these people in Northern Ontario, but 15 years hence will see 50,000 families, or 250,000 if not 300,000 French Canadians in Greater Ontario. In fact, this gentleman says a new province or a new Quebec might soon be formed, taking in, of course, the east side of Lake Temiscamingue. He adds that where French Canadians go they stick, and no hard work is too hard to discourage them, whereas the average Ontario settler is becoming educated above hard work.

Father Paradis was in the city to-day in the interest of his colony at Domregny, near Vernon. He says that there are now 500 families, where there were only 100 five years ago. He has also located 40 families where the road built by his own efforts crosses the Sturgeon River.

The Old Arm Chair

The back and arms of an old chair that seem to be of no use will make an excellent bed rest for unmarried. The rest is made by cutting away the seat and legs and padding the back and arms with pieces of an old comfortable and covering this with some delicate colored chints or satine, or, when the rest is in use, one may fill the back and sides with pillows.

We hear a great deal about purifying the blood. The way to purify it is to enrich it. Blood is not a simple fluid like water. It is made up of minute bodies and when these are deficient, the blood lacks the life-giving principle. Scott's Emulsion is not a mere blood purifier. It actually increases the number of the red corpuscles in the blood and changes unhealthy action into health.

If you want to learn more of it we have a book, which tells the story in simple words.

SATURDAY, JULY 24, 1897.

A HOPELESS ENDEAVOUR.

The Conservatives are sympathetically anxious to discover traces of dissension or, at least, lack of machine loyalty, in the Liberal party. In evidence of a condition which the baser sort of Conservative organs assert exists, the utterances of some Quebec papers are quoted, and notably the "Revell," a French-Canadian journal, and the Huntingdon Gleaner. The Revell has always been opposed to Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, and it opposed his return in the general election, and supported his opponent, Mr. Bergron. That's the kind of Liberal paper it is. The Huntingdon Gleaner is as much Conservative as Liberal—it is an "independent" paper, something after the style of the Montreal Star. It opposed Mr. Laurier as far back as 1893, calling on Liberals to desert him. Subsequent events show how correct the Gleaner's estimation of Mr. Laurier was. Thus we cannot be surprised at the Gleaner's attack on Sir Richard Cartwright. In evidence of the character of this journal, in its issue of July 8th inst. the Gleaner has the following: "If we are to accept the cable despatches as correctly reporting him, Mr. Laurier has been saying some foolish things in London about the rebellion of 1837 and Imperial Federation." In the same issue the paper charges the present Government with increasing the expenditure by fourteen million dollars and with passing estimates for $54,000,000. The Conservative papers who are using the Gleaner just now take care not to reproduce this assertion as to an annual expenditure of $54,000,000 being voted last session, because they know that such a crazy statement would discredit all the other quotations they give. In its effort to discredit the Government, the Gleaner makes other misstatements. For example it states that in the House of Commons last session the Opposition charged that Mr. Greenshields of Montreal bought La Patrie for the Government, paying $20,000, which amount was to be recouped to Mr. Greenshields by the Government buying the Drummond County Railway for double its worth. No other Opposition paper in the Dominion, besides the Gleaner, has dared to make such a monstrous misstatement. The Opposition in the House of Commons never made any such charge. It was an insinuation peddled around by Mr. Armstrong, who was disappointed in not being able to make a deal with the Government, and only finds utterance in the columns of The Gleaner because it is the most baseless slander that could be uttered against Mr. Laurier himself." Such is the "Liberal" paper that the Conservatives quote as condemning the Laurier Government. "Divide et impera" may be good enough tactics in war, but when a party that is split into factions like a loose bundle of faggots essays the role of division it can only be expected to be a dreary failure. If the Conservative party wishes to find favour with the people, it should try to make itself coherent and respectable before it seeks to discredit the Liberal party by trumped-up charges and factitious "facts."

A CONSERVATIVE OPINION.

Re-Construction of the Conservative Party from a Conservative Standpoint.

The Montreal Star, erstwhile independent in politics, just before the last Dominion elections became, for reasons which were apparently sufficient to itself, rabidly Conservative, and it has been since a strong partisan publication. But even in its new found party zeal it can't close its eyes to the sad conditions at present prominent in the Conservative party; and it thus voices the need that is felt of a reconstruction of the party:—

"There are some gentlemen prominent in the Conservative party, who can do the party and the country a great service—by retiring into private life. Never did a political party so much deserve, never did a political party so much need, a beating as the Conservative party deserved and needed one at the last Federal elections. The triumph of free-trade-protection-unrestricted reciprocity-preferential tariff principles may have been a misfortune for the country, but it was only the greatest of two evils. The Conservatives were distrustful of each other, disloyal to their leaders, and among them were men who were quite right to distrust each other. Before long there must be a great reconstruction of the Conservative party, and the exigencies of the situation may as well be recognized at once. Some of the old leaders can never be leaders again, and now is the time to get rid of them. It is alleged that some of them are mixed up in the Drummond County deal Nothing is more probable and that is all the more reason why the deal should be investigated. If the Conservative party is to command the respect and confidence of the country it must have leaders worthy of respect and confidence."

Midsummer Danger!

Paine's Celery Compound Surely and Quickly Cures Neurasthenia.

One of the commonest and most dangerous diseases of midsummer is Neurasthenia, or Nervous Prostration. This disease, which respects neither age or sex, is usually brought on by overwork and worry in the shop, office, home and school.

It is maintained by physicians of large experience that nervous diseases are increasing so fast that to-day few people can boast of perfect freedom from nervous ailments.

The symptoms of nervous exhaustion are so well known that it is almost unnecessary to name them. Dizziness, sleeplessness, palpitation of the heart, shooting pains in the limbs, paralytic symptoms, constipation and headache are the commonest feeders of the disease.

One of the first indications of nervous disease is irritability, then ensues despondency, often followed by terrible insanity.

How can nervous exhaustion be cured so that insanity and death may be avoided?

Past experience and medical testimony answer the question fully. Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine that can surely overcome the troupies of the nervous. This marvellous curing medicine braces up every nerve, gives strength to the muscles and tissues, makes pure, rich blood, gives perfect digestion, and sweet sound sleep.

In this age of overwork, worry and fast living Paine's Celery Compound is a shield and protector against the ravages of all nervous ailments. Medical men and druggists having a full knowledge of the virtues of Paine's Celery Compound are recommending it every day.

Its cures attest its superiority and usefulness; its work in public institutions has given it a popularity never possessed by any other medicine. Try it, nervous one; it will quickly give you that condition of health that your are looking for.

A KICK AGAINST CANADIAN CHEESE.

The protest against the shipping of green Canadian cheese has arrived from London. Here is what a leading dealer there says about it in the course of a letter:—"Old Canadian cheese is making better prices than a month ago, well-kept parcels realize 55s to 56s. This rise of 4s per cwt. is due mainly to the small quantity of this class of goods left on hand. The market for new Canadian and States cheese has somewhat disappointed shippers owing to the condition in which the goods have arrived. In many cases the cheese has been shipped too young, and consequently it has not cod transit so well as older cheese. There is considerable variation in values just now, some shippers accepting as low as 41s per cwt., London terms, while others are holding for 43s to 44s, and cables which have come to hand during the last few days have asked 6d to 1s advance on these prices. New Zealand cheese is pretty well cleared up at 47s to 48s per cwt., white having the advantage over coloured of from sixpence to a shilling.—Montreal Herald.

EIGHTY UNFORTUNATES.

Is the Estimated Proportion in Every Hundred People in this Climate Affected with that Dread Disease Catarrh—How Easily the Proportion Would be Reversed if Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder was Universally Used—It Relieves in 10 Minutes.

"Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder benefitted me at once, and it's so easy to apply," says Rev. W. H. Main, of Emmanuel Baptist church, Buffalo. Thousands more in professional, and in the humbler callings of life, could say Amen to this statement. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder gives relief in from 10 to 60 minutes in most acute cases. Now is the season of severe weather changes, and now is the season when disease germs develop. That slight sneezing cold in the head may mean that the seeds of chronic catarrh have been sown. The tested cure is the safest and quickest. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

HAS HUBBELL SUICIDED?

It Would Cause No Surprise in Montreal If Such Turned Out to be the Case.

Montreal, July 23.—(Special.)—It would not surprise people here to learn that Edward T. Hubbell, the missing Ottawa broker, has committed suicide. It now transpires that when Hubbell was in Montreal he told an acquaintance here that he had ruined his partner, and as he had $15,000 on his life, which would keep his wife and children from want, he would kill himself. With this he attempted to carry out his rash resolve but a revolver which he took from his pocket was snatched from his hand and placed out of reach. Hubbell left the office, and as he has not since been seen it is surmised that he threw himself into the river. The statement that he had been doing business of late with L. J. Forget & Co., is incorrect, as all the transactions Hubbell had with that firm were closed weeks ago.

Alderman Rogers of Ottawa, the principal victim of the speculations of his fugitive partner, was in the city to-day. "I am not," he said, "expecting to get any financial return for my proposed trip to New York, but I desire to obtain information from him, which is absolutely necessary to me. I will follow him to the North Pole, if necessary, but I must find him. It's no use being easy with a man like that. Unless he is taught a lesson somebody else will be victimized."

Alderman Rogers is accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Maynard, and left this evening for New York. Mr. Rogers, while here, succeeded in getting back a small portion of the money which Hubbell had squandered. The amount was $ 08, and was obtained from the Ottawa bucket shop people.

We know the great cures of Hood's Sarsaparilla are genuine because the people themselves write about them.

THE ANGEL OF PEACE

Seems Now to be Hovering Over Constantinople.

THE FRONTIER LINE ACCEPTED

And the Evacuation of Thessaly by the Turks Has Really Begun—A Special Commissioner Sent to Crete to Get Matters Arranged—Cable News.

Constantinople, July 23.—The Ambassadors of the powers and Tewfik Pasha have agreed upon the frontier clause in the peace treaty. The line drawn by the military attaches, and insisted up n, the first by the powers, has been accepted by the Sultan with slight technical modifications. The reports that the Turkish forces have begun to evacuate Thessaly are confirmed.

Djevad Pasha has started on a special mission to Crete. He left last evening. The palace party contends that his experience especially qualifies him to bring about an understanding between the admirals of the international fleet and the Mussulman Cretans with reference to autonomy.

In consequence of the recent raids by Albanians into Servian territory, the Servian Foreign Minister has informed the Porte that if further incursions take place the Servian troops will be ordered to pursue the raiders into Ottoman territory and that they are now held in readiness at Prokouplye, prepared to start for the frontier immediately.

The Servian Minister adds that in the event of another raid the Servian Government will decline all responsibility for the consequences.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—The Novoe Vreriya urges the powers most interested in the settlement of the Eastern question to pay immediately on behalf of Greece the whole of the war indemnity, as the only means of forcing Turkey to evacuate Thessaly, which is indispensable if the tranquillity of European politics is to be restored.

London, July 23.—A special despatch from Vienna reiterates the statement that the Turkish Government is preparing to send 32 battalions of troops to Crete.

NOW THE REPORT IS DENIED.

No Carrier Pigeon Was Captured, as Was Stated the Other Day.

London, July 23.—A despatch from Copenhagen says that the report of the capture of a carrier pigeon in the vicinity of Tromsoe Island, near the north point of Norway, stamped with the words and figures, "North Pole passed 15," is not true.

Probable Explanation.

Berlin, July 23.—The Hamburgische correspondent says that a thousand birds belonging to various pigeon flying societies were released on the 13th instant at a place about 280 kilometers northwest of Heligoland. Each pigeon had an aluminum ring on its leg inscribed with a number or a letter to indicate the year of its acquisition. "It is believed," says The Hamburgische correspondent, "that the pigeon found in the neighborhood of Soerde in Rifylke, with a silver ring on one of its feet and its wings stamped with 'North Pole, 142 w., 47. 62,' was one of these."

RENOWN COMING TO HALIFAX

The Powerful Ironclad Will Join the North American Squadron.

London, July 23.—What may be interpreted as the British reply to Sherman's recent despatch concerning the Behring Sea fisheries comes in the form of an order issued by the admiralty to send the battleship Renown to join the North American squadron.

The Renown, which is one of the most powerful ironclads in the navy, will take the place of the cruiser Crescent. She will sail for Halifax almost immediately.

The Renown was the flagship of the fleet at the recent naval review at Spithead.

It was fully expected until the admiralty's orders were made public that the Renown would be sent to the Pacific station, it being originally intended that she should be the flagship of the Pacific squadron. In view of this, the change in the admiralty's plans acquires additional significance.

Luncheon to Sir Wilfrid.

Paris, July 23.—M. Hanotaux, the Foreign Minister, gave a luncheon today to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier. Among the guests were Canadian Commissioner General Fabre, Sir Edmund Monson, the British Ambassador and Baron Decourcel, the French Ambassador to Great Britain, who is in Paris for a few days.

Crops in France.

Paris, July 23.—The official report of the conditions of crops in France, as compiled up to July 15, shows as follows:

Wheat is "good" in 27 departments, "fair" in 37, "passable" in 12 and "middling" in 8. Spring wheat is "very good" in 2 departments, "good" in 24, "passable" in 7, and "middling" in 1.

Portuguese Sailors Massacred.

Lisbon, July 23.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day the Colonial Minister, Senor Candido, said that the crew of the Portuguese gunboat had been massacred near Chinde, on the Zambesi River, East Africa. He said the Government had instructed the local commandant to punish the rebellious natives.

Six Persons Drowned.

Berlin, July 23.—A despatch from Hamburg says that a boat containing 45 employes of the Hamburg Engine Works capsized in the River Elbe today. Six persons were drowned.

Mr. Hogan Wants to Know.

London, July 23. Mr. James Francis Hogan, anti-Parnellite member for Mid-Tipperary, has given notice that on Monday next he will ask the Hon. George M. Curzon, Under Secretary for the Foreign Office, whether the provision of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty to the effect that neither Great Britain nor the United States shall annex Hawaii, is still recognized by both powers as of binding force.

British Influence Counted.

London, July 23.—The correspondent of The Times at Hong Kong says that as a result of protests of the British officials the viceroy of Canton Province has revoked the charter granted to a Chinese syndicate, which had been formed to carry on farming enterprises in the valley of West River, Pekin district.

Twenty Stokers Struck.

London, July 23.—The British steamer Manitoba, which was to have sailed for New York yesterday, was detained in the Thames until this afternoon, owing to a strike of 20 stokers, who refused to work because of a refusal of the steamer's owners to employ more stokers.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Toronto, July 24.

There was excitement enough for a whole week at Hanlan's Point yesterday afternoon. Toronto won out from the champions, but the local rooters were on the ragged edge of expectancy until the last man went out in the ninth. With two out, two on bases and Coogan batting for the pitcher, a hit meant a tied score, and over the fence defeat. But the substitute only sent a harmless grounder to Wagner, and the game was over.

OPENING IN MONTREAL.

Montreal, July 23. The opening game in Montreal was surprisingly well patronized considering the threatening weather and the fact that it is the first time Montreal has ever been in a baseball league. But the home team played in hard luck, and Wilkes-Barre won the game by bunching hits in the seventh inning, which netted five runs. Even at that it was a close call, and Montreal would at least have tied the score in the ninth had it not been for a double play made by McMahon to Shannon to Goeckel. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Montreal 1 2 0 0 2 0 2 3 0	10	12	1
Wilkes-Barre . 2 0 0 0 1 3 5 0 x	11	14	4

At Syracuse—The game was called on account of rain after Scranton had scored one run in the first inning.

At Buffalo—Springfield-Buffalo game postponed, wet grounds.

Port Huron.....	3	3	9

Batteries—Wood and Lyons; Wolfver and Warner. Umpire—Chalsegreen.

LONDON BEAT THE HAMS.

Hamilton, July 23.—(Special.)—The London base-ball team outplayed the Hamiltons here to-day at every point, and Cochrane, the Hams' overworked pitcher, did fairly good work, but his support was wretched. Although only two errors were credited to the fielders. The Cockneys' twirler proved a puzzler for the locals, who made only four hits for a total of six bases. Phelps, the boy umpire, umpired the game most satisfactorily. The score:

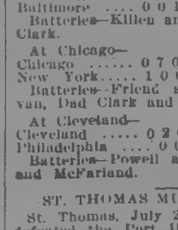
A FAMOUS MAN!

What His Researches Have Done for the World.



DR. CHASE.

All successful and distinguished men have imitators, and Dr. Chase, the well-known author of Chase's Recipe Book, proved no exception to the rule. Dr. Chase's discoveries have many pretended rivals, but no equals.

Long scientific researches produced Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Chase's Ointment, the first a certain cure for all kidney, liver, stomach, bladder and rheumatic troubles; the latter an absolute specific for chronic and offensive skin diseases. Among his other discoveries were Chase's Catarrh Cure and Chase's Linseed and Turpentine for colds and bronchitis.

During 1895 the Canadian manufacturers, Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard street, Toronto, gave away free 500,000 samples of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and 100,000 samples of Chase's Ointment. The return they brought proved how much they were appreciated. The same free distribution of samples will be continued during 1896. Those at a distance should enclose a 5-cent stamp and also receive a sheet of the latest music in return.

Search the Wardrobes and Closets.

In almost every home half-worn garments and goods are stowed away in wardrobes and closets that can be made as good as new and fitted for months of wear.

The operation of recreating and beautifying is simple, the cost of trifling, and the general results beyond the comprehension of those who are acquainted with the work of home dyeing.

Dresses, jackets, capes, vests, pants, ribbons, silks, feathers, and a score of other things worn and faded can by transformed into things of beauty and fashion at a cost of from ten to twenty cents.

Thousands of Canadian families use Diamond dyes every year and save a great deal of money. All users of Diamond dyes say it is so easy to use them. The directions are so explicit and simple that a child can do good work.

As there are many imitations and worthless dyes sold, see that your dealer gives you the Diamond dyes when you ask for them. Common dyes ruin your goods; Diamond dyes bring success in colour and beauty.

FISHING EXTRAORDINARY.

Grand Catch of Mr. Harry LeBrun and R. B. Lundy at Stony Lake.

This year everything seems to be coming the Frenchman's way. Napoleon the Great attempted to capture England and failed, but that was over eighty years ago. This year a French-Canadian has, after capturing Canada at the point of the ballot, captured not only Great Britain but the Empire at large and is making a big whole in France. It is therefore no surprise when we see a French-Canadian capturing the most of the fish supply of Stony Lake. This is a long way round to Mr. Harry LeBrun's fish story. Yesterday he returned from "Bellechasse," his beautiful chateau au plaisir, on Stony Lake, where he has been creating a panic among the piscatorial population. On Wednesday, in company with Mr. R. B. Lundy, Harry made the biggest catch of the season. In the afternoon they caught five lunge and seventeen splendid bass, which were among smaller fry what Mr. LeBrun is physically among ordinary men, many of them weighing 4½ lbs. each. This is the solemn truth. All the elections are over and there's no object in telling anything but the solid cold-storage facts, fished fifty fathoms deep from the undiluted well of truth. It is no canard au poisson—no clearing sale advertisement. Harry, with the usual impetuous generosity of his nature, distributed the lunge among st his friends at the Lake—if he hadn't caught them he couldn't have given them away. Besides, there are no such fish as those described to be found in the lake now, therefore they must have been caught on Wednesday afternoon. Another evidence of the veracity of this narrative and bona fides of the catch is the fact that Mr. H. C. Winch and Harry are going back to Mr. Charley Winch's cottage next week to complete the contract of clearing out the lake in the matter of fish.

STILL THE PESTILENT TRAMP.

Reported Misconduct at Jackson Park—An Unsuccessful Raid.

This morning it was reported at police headquarters that half a dozen tramps were loafing at Jackson Park and that one of them had molested a woman. The Chief of Police, mindful of the desperate character of the last gang encountered there, took up a well armed posse of police and citizens and thoroughly scoured the park and vicinity, but no tramps were to be found. It was reported that a gang of tramps had been seen making for the west on the railroad track. Probably they had some inkling of the Winchester welcome the police were prepared to give them. It is proper it seems that strong efforts should be continued to free one of the pleasantest parks in the town of the presence of the unwashed, malodorous and vicious tramp.

DEANRY OF NORTHUMBERLAND.

The Annual Meeting to be Held at Stony Lake.

The Deanry of Northumberland will hold their annual meeting at Headlands, the island residence of Mr. Tate, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 2nd, 3rd and 4th. This is the third year in which Mr. Tate has extended his hospitality to the Deanery. Rev. G. H. Webber, the newly elected Rural Dean, will preside. The programme will include a devotional consideration of some points in the Ordinal a discussion of parts of the missionary districts of the Deanery, with paper by Rev. W. L. Baynes, Reed, and a paper by Rev. H. Symonds, on Salmond's "Christian Doctrine of Immortality." The council of the Archdeaconry of Peterborough will meet on Tuesday at the same place to arrange the programme for the forthcoming meeting of the Archdeaconry at Lindsay.

THE PETERBOROUGHS BEST THE ORILLIAS

AT LACROSSE BY A SCORE OF SEVEN TO TWO.

It was Nevertheless a Fine Clean Scientific Game of Lacrosse—Free From Roughness or Dispute—The Best of Feeling Between the Contestants—A Beautiful Exposition of the Game.

The cleanest and fastest game of lacrosse of the season was played on the P.A.A.A. grounds yesterday afternoon, when the Peterboroughs won from their old rivals, the Orillias, by the score of seven goals to two.

The game was wildly exciting from the start, the combination work of both teams keeping either one goal or the other in constant danger.

The Peterboroughs seem to have at last solved the problem of how to properly balance the team, and both the home and defence fields worked together splendidly yesterday. Jimmy McCabe, of course, is missed from the home field, but he is a tower of strength to the defence and fills the gap to a "tee." The other defence men were all in their old positions and King has been moved to the home side of centre. He is a worker and did some great feeding during the day. Galley's game at centre was the fastest and by far the neatest that he ever put up. He stayed with the game yesterday from the and won plenty of praise by the way he fooled his check. Rubidge showed up better than he has been doing lately, being in better shape. His catching and passing yesterday were very pretty to watch. "Scuddy" Phelan is playing a little further out in the field than he did earlier in the season, and the constant caution of the Orillias to "watch Phelan" is proof sufficient that he played in fine form. Jack McCabe is doing better at outside home than closer in and did a lot of the scoring yesterday. McDonough at inside home played a fast game and handled the ball well, although it would have been better if he had given the goalkeeper closer attention, as that player stopped a good many shots which could have counted if his stick had been sharply checked. Dobbin stopped some hot ones during the day, his forte being the bouncing grounders which other goal men find it so difficult to secure.

Just outside of him Brown played his old reliable game at point. Mein, also seems to improve at every game, checked as close as ever, and Glover put up a very fast game, although he had a very hard man to check in "Mary Ann" Curran. Borland at third defence did some great blocking and fed the home well.

The Peterborough defence is rapidly adapting the new style of play in relieving the goals by combination work rather than by throwing the ball aimlessly down the field.

THE TEAM.

The two teams lined up as follows :

PETERBOROUGH.		ORILLIA.
Dobbin	Goal	Hanley
Brown	Point	Quinn
Jim McCabe	Cover Point	Connors
Mein	1st. Defence	Hammond
Glover	2nd. Defence	Hoy
Borland	3rd. Defence	Thompson
Galley	Centre	Blaine
King	3rd. Home	Curran
Rubidge	2nd. Home	Dunn
Phelan	1st. Home	Dunn
Jack McCabe	Outside Home	Frost
McDonough	Inside Home	Newton
J. Begley	Field Captain	B. Kane
Vic. McWilliams	Umpires

Referee—Mr. Harry Phelan.

The ball was faced off at 8 minutes to 4 and Peterborough took it from the draw in on the Orillia flags. Galley passed to McCabe to King, who made a close shot. The flags were then relieved and some nice combination work was being done by the Orillias around the Peterborough goal, but Jim McCabe soon broke it up and relieved. The ball came back, however, and things looked dangerous, but Brown passed out to Galley who brought the ball in on the Orillia flags. Back and forth the play ran, the two teams apparently being almost evenly matched, but Orillia having a little the best of it. Glover brought the ball down the field and several close shots were made on the Orillia goal. Then it was hot on the Peterborough flags.

On another attack being made on the Orillia flags it was noticed that the Orillia defence was covering the Peterborough home players particularly well. Galley finally got a chance for a shot but the ball bounced

OVER THE FLAGS.

Phelan also made a close shot. The next time the ball went down in Peterborough territory Curran put a red hot one in between the flags and Orillia had scored first blood. Time, 13 minutes.

The Orillias took the ball from the draw and Curran tried to score, but Dobbin made a fine stop and relieved well. Some ineffectual shots were then made on the Orillia flags, and it was noticed that the passing of the Peterboroughs was becoming more accurate, and that their famous combination was working beautifully. Galley finally saw an opening and passed in to Jack McCabe, who evened the score. Time, 6 minutes.

The excitement ran hight at the opening of the next game. Peterborough took the ball from the face off and Galley made a close shot. Phelan, King, McCabe and Rubidge then figured in some lightning combination work which resulted in the latter scoring. Time, 1½ minutes. Score, 3—1 in favour of Peterborough.

Orillia took the ball from the face off in the next game, but although a sharp attack was made on the Peterborough flags, the defence relieved brilliantly. Glover brought the ball out and passed to McCabe, who made a close shot. Back came the rubber again into Peterborough territory, but this time Brown passed it out to Rubidge, who carried it to Jack McCabe, who again scored for Peterborough. Time, 5 minutes. Score, 3 to 1.

Peterborough took the ball from the face off this time, and Phelan passed in to Rubidge, who passed to Jack McCabe. The Orillia flags

HAD A CLOSE CALL.

Galley was showing up splendidly as a feeder, keeping the home men busy all the time. After a sharp rally on the Orillia flags Quinn's stick was struck by Jack McCabe just as he was relieving and the rubber flew out to Galley who wheeled and shot a goal with such terrific speed that the ball could scorcely be seen. Time, 7½ minutes. Score, 4 to 1.

In another minute Jack McCabe made the score 5-1.

Four minutes later Curran again scored for Orillia, making the score look more respectable for the visitors at 5-2.

The rain which had held off well now began to come down in torrents, but Orillia wanted to continue the game in the hope of evening up the score, but that was just where they fooled themselves as the attack on their flags soon became such the shots were raining in on the defence. Mein was hurt a few minutes later and a halt was called. When play was resumed Dobbin relieved to Glover who passed to Rubidge. Percy made a great run in through the defence and scored. Score, 6-2.

Orilia took the ball from the next face-off but it was not carried into Peterborough territory very far and King soon had a chance to put one so close to Orillia's goal tender as to make him shudder. Jack McCabe then sent one in which was cleverly stopped by Hanley, but he was not quick enough to handle the next one which Jack sent at him and the score was increased to 7-2.

TIME WAS THEN CALLED

and although the spectators were soaked to the skin there were few of them who left the grounds, as the game was so even as to keep the excitement at fever heat until the last goal was scored.

The Orillias remained in town until this morning, registering at the City Hotel, where Bert Brown gave them all possible attention.

Field Captain Kane, who is the manager of the team, is Orillia's baby alderman and a royal good fellow.

The visitors all had scars to show as the result of their recent game at Barrie, when an endeavour was evidently made to slaughter them.

Orillia thinks it has the fastest team it has ever put on the field and their defeat yesterday was a matter of much surprise to them.

The game was clean throughout. Not a word was even exchanged in anger.

The shirts of royal purple worn by the Orillias are very pretty and attracted considerable attention from the ladies.

FAREWELL TO REV. J. E. MOORE.

How Ashburnham's Methodist Pastor was Appreciated in his Former Field.

The Dutton Advance contains the following reference to the closing day of the pastorate of Rev. J. E. Moore, now of the Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, an evidence that gives strength to the hopes entertained of a successful pastorate in Ashburnham :

Bev. J. E. Moore, who has laboured very successfully in this circuit for the past three years, brought his work to a close Sunday. Although the laws of the church must be observed there exists in this village, where the reverend gentleman resided, a general regret that his ministerial term has expired and that he must in future labour in a new and distant field. His residence here brought him in contact with all denominations and his affability, courtesy and kindliness won for him a warm spot in the hearts of all.

On Sunday Mr. Moore preached his closing sermon to a large audience, many being present who are not in the habit of worshipping in the beautiful edifice of the Methodist body.

A FAREWELL.

On Monday evening a large number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Moore assembled at the parsonage to bid them farewell and to wish them success in their new home at Peterborough. The ladies provided an excellent lunch, to which ample justice was done. The gathering was called to order by Mr. Conn and on behalf of the ladies of the congregation Mrs. Conn presented Mrs. Moore with a valuable silver sugar bowl. At the same time an address was read by Mrs. Joseph Hickson as follows :

DEAR SISTER.—We, the ladies, of the Methodist church, Dutton, deem this the eve of your departure from among us, an opportune occasion to offer an expression of our sincere regret at the severance of the ties that have bound you to us as a co-worker for the past three years. We beg to assure you that we have appreciated your many kind Christian and thoughtful acts in all work in connection with the welfare and progress of the church ; and we have further recognized your ever increasing zeal in seeking and striving to promote the Master's cause in this part of His vineyard. We now ask as a slight token of our esteem and respect that you accept this sugar bowl, but we pray think not our regard can be measured by this small gift. We hope in years to come it may remind you of your many sincere friends in Dutton. We now with regret say farewell, and believe us we shall always pray and hope that you may in this world be blessed with long life, health and felicity, and in the world to come with life everlasting.

Short addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Lyons ; J. H. McIntyre and M. Conn, all speaking in the highest terms of Mr. Moore, and regretting his removal to another field of labour. The rev. gentleman feelingly replied, thanking the people for their many acts of kindness since he came amongt them.

Starr & Patterson, advised him that there was no tumor in his case but an apoplectic seizure followed by induration of tissue, and that, while he might be visited with another attack, he might with care escape it for years. Mr. Stone is feeling better and very much encouraged.

Mr. F. A. Lount, who has for some time occupied the position of ledger keeper in the Bank of Toronto, here, has been transferred to the agency of the bank in Cobourg, where he has been promoted to the office of teller. Mr. Lount left for Cobourg last evening, but his family will remain in town a few days. He was very popular and well esteemed and will be much missed in social and musical circles.

Mr. J. W. Flavelle, brother of Messrs. J. D. and W. Flavelle, of Lindsay, is rapidly gaining a prominent position in financial circles in Toronto. Since his departure from Peterborough he has become manager of the Wm. Davis Co. (Ltd.), a director of the Bank of Commerce and Vice-President of the Imperial Life Insurance Company recently formed, with Hon. Sir Oliver Mowat, G. C. M. G., as president. For the recent Epworth League convention he acted in the capacity of treasurer.

The many friends of Sister St. John, daughter of our respected citizen, Mr. Jno. Lynch, will be pleased to hear of her unparalleled success as a teacher. Over three years ago she entered the St. Joseph Order of Nuns, and since that time has been in charge of the pupils preparing for entrance examination to the High School. The first year she sent up nine and eight were successful ; last year nine were sent up and the nine passed, and this year eight were recommended to try, and the eight were again successful, one of them obtaining the very high mark of 604, while 423 marks was sufficient for a pass. This is proof positive of the very efficient work done in this department of the Lindsay Convent. The result of those sent up for second or third class certificate is not yet known. We congratulate Sister St. John on the good work she is doin, and wish her similar success for the future.

THE MATTER OF MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

DEAR SIR,—In a Saturday's issue some time since, under the heading "Where is the Gas?" Pro Bono Publico drew attention to the manner in which the gas franchise was being used in this town. His few remarks should lead every thoughtful citizen to ponder over the question of public franchises generally. Where ought the proprietorship of the gas, electric light and waterworks franchises to be vested? Is it not a fact that these investments are yielding their proprietors—joint stock companies I believe—large and wholesome dividends out of the pockets of the general ratepayers? And why should they not be compelled to admit the general ratepayer to a partnership in the profits as well as the general expenses of these necessities? Why should not these public necessities be the properties of the town as well as the other public necessities, the streets, bridges and sewer system?

Would it not pay the town as well to own the one class of conveniences and necessities of modern life as well as the other? Why should not the profits of the first mentioned class, the gas, electric light and the waterworks franchises be used to meet the expenses of the other public institutions, the streets, bridges and sewers.

It could make no difference with the ordinary labourer and employee of such institutions for the amount of labour to be performed and the number of men engaged would be practically the same under both conditions, the only difference being that the employers would in this one instance be the town and in the other the smaller corporations.

But some citizen would say, Would they sell out for what their plant and investment should cost the public? My answer to this question is, they do not own the streets, nor the river, nor the coal beds ; these are natural productions and public properties, and without these the other institutions could not exist as they do now. And the town can borrow money to build and construct other and better services than those now in operation at a rate of interest sufficiently low to save at least half the cost of these conveniences and necessities to those that use them at present.

But who would grumble at the present rates and charges of these companies if the surplus over a fair remuneration for services rendered was applied to the reduction of general taxation.

Besides these questions, other matters of quite as great importance are worthy of consideration as well. Supposing the water power inside the corporation was the property of the town, and was utilized to supply free power to industries which might locate here, would it not be an inducement for the private corporation holding the public franchises, to invest the money now employed to screw large dividends out of the ratepayers of the town, to employ this money in promoting other industries to the general benefit of the public as well as themselves? I have not mentioned the Street Railway yet, in the consideration of these questions, because that is, so far as the town is concerned generally, rather a luxury than a necessity as yet. Still, the way the franchise for that affair is managed leads one to think that its owners treat it as a necessity and are willing to supply at a profit to themselves only what the public must have. Were they really enterprising private individuals it seems to the writer it would not take them long to conceive the project of extending this line down the river some distance to where a small park could be had very cheaply at present, and to a wharf below the locks somewhere. This would open the way to a very profitable and convenient employment for our few steamboats and other pleasure crafts during the summer season, and furnish the citizens with the opportunity to employ the splendid water privileges of the river, so close to us, but so far away because of the time wasted in getting through the locks by any craft. Such a move on the part of the Street Railway Company would enable the ordinary labourer and his family to enjoy a stroll by the river or a short sail down its pleasant course, and at a cost quite within his reach.

Mr. Editor, having trespassed thus far on your good nature I will finish, hoping that the suggestions made above and hastily thrown together may lead some of our people, while enjoying a well earned rest, to think if they may not aid in bringing the blessings they enjoy within the reach of many who are not now able to share in what should be the possessions of every one.

Yours very truly,
PRO BONO CIVITATIS.

[The propositions submitted by our correspondent are very nice in theory, and his position is very fairly proved. But there's a vast difference between theory and application. Hundreds of times the problem of perpetual motion has been triumphantly solved, theoretically. The ownership of the conveniences mentioned, by a civic corporation may be in the abstract desirable, but the difficulty lies in the well known inability of any civic corporation to manage such affairs as economically as a private enterprise. A business corporation is a practically permanent affair, while a civic corporation practically changes from year to year. In the former the managers and chief employees become versed in the business and are held to strict accountability for the success or failure accomplished. In the latter there may be, as there often is, a complete annual change of personnel. Each new representation has to theorize and experiment before he becomes accustomed to the working of the civic machinery ; he is replaced next year and the process is repeated. Under such conditions it is obviously impossible to expect satisfactory management of business enterprises conducted under municipal auspices. Besides the expert and capable manager of such an enterprise would have the life of a toad under a harrow. Every new representative to the council, would bring in a lot of new theories which he would like to have tried in opposition to the plans (justified by experience and skill) practised by the expert. Thus there would be constant friction, interference and consequent inefficient and unsatisfactory results. Ownership of works like those suggested by the correspondent would, to be successful, require to be placed under the control of permanent commissioners, not subject to annual change and not subject to the temptations to accommodating and opportunist management to which a representative, indebted for his position to popular vote, is exposed. Any civic enterprise to be successfully managed must be conducted on the same principles that are applied to the successful management of a private business, and this is we have seldom, if ever, seen applied under municipal management. A set of councillors might be found one year capable in every respect ; but after they had become accustomed to their duties they are liable to be replaced by a new set of councillors quite incapable and incompetent. If our correspondent, after securing corporation ownership of concerns like those named, will insure some scheme for their efficient and business-like management, he will remove all doubt as to the wisdom of municipal coporation ownership of electric light, gas and other plants. Such ownership seems to have been made a success by hard-headed Glasgow, but we do not seem to have yet arrived at the stage of adopting the system with reasonable hope of success. The subject will, however, bear ample discussion, and it is by discussion, with an honest desire to reach the truth, that the facts are to be arrived at.—ED. EXAMINER.

COBOURG CONNUBIAL CHIMES.

Marriage of Mr. Milton A. Sorsolell, of Peterborough, and Miss Minnie Meehan.

On Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage, Cobourg, the marriage of Mr. Milton A. Sorsolell, of the South Ward teaching staff, and Miss Minnie Meehan, was celebrated. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Mr. Kines. The bride was costumed in a travelling gown of pearl gray satin cloth and carried a magnificent bouquet of white roses. She was unattended. Little Miss Eva Carswell, cousin of the groom, was maid of honour and held a beautiful bunch of white carnations. The flowers were furnished by Dunlop, of Toronto. The groom was supported by his friend and quondam schoolmate, Mr. Peter Gillespie, of Cobourg.

The service concluded, the party repaired to the home of the groom's mother, Queen street, where a reception and a wedding luncheon were tendered the friends of the contracting parties, and where the many manifestations of regard and affection in the form of wedding gifts were the admiration of all the guests.

The happy couple took the evening train for Toronto, where they purpose spending a portion of their honeymoon, prior to a three weeks' tour of the State of Michigan and points west.

The Cobourg World says : Mr. and Mrs. Sorsolell are well known in Cobourg, the birthplace of the former and their common home since childhood. Mr. Sorsolell has many firm friends who have been drawn to him by his integrity, kindness of disposition and exemplary conduct and character, and what we say concerning him we aver with equal certainty regarding his estimable wife. We voice the sincere wishes of all, we feel sure, in wishing them all the health, prosperity and happiness that is implied in the pretty Eastern myth regarding the hand of Providence in marriage among men.

CHEAP COAL PROMISED

The People's Coal Company to Locate at Belleville.

From present indications there is reason to expect that Belleville will have cheaper coal this year than it has for a number of years past. The organization styled "The People's Coal Company" promises to open an office here and has the site of the coal yards about selected. Mr. Chas. Leavens, of Buffalo, son of Mr. D. R. Leavens, is to manage this office.

This company has been awarded the contract of supplying the Deaf and Dumb Institution and is at present unloading coal at the Institution dock.

Messrs. T. A. Eidrige, F. V. Clisdell, and J. H. McClellan were in the city yesterday and have about completed arrangements for this project. The People's Coal Company are miners of their own coal and are not in combination with other mines. The State line and Sullivan Railway Company, of Towanda, Pa., are the owners of these mines and they ship their coal over the Lehigh Valley Railway, from their mines to Fairhaven.

The head office of the firm is in Toronto and as the company has existed in Canada for seven years, there need be no doubt as to their reliability. There are other branches in Hamilton, London, Brantford, Guelph, Galt, St. Thomas, Whitby, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Port Hope, Peterborough, Cobourg and many other places.

The price of the coal is not yet decided upon, but the proprietors state that it will be cheaper than the price paid here last year.

A Special Departure In Summer Millinery.

After a most successful stretch of business, we feel like doing something exceptional in the interests of Ladies before the 1st of July.

Perhaps we ought to say we want to sell more Hats and mean to go about it in the quickest and best way to sell them. Please yourself how you consider the matter, but the facts are that the entire stock of Straw Hats in Fancy Shapes, Sailors and Leghorns have been marked down for the balance of this month. We also offer the additional inducement of reduced prices for trimming these Hats—provided, of course, the materials are purchased here.

MISSES CAHILL

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL is CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices :—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 30 ; 1889 at 33 ; 1890 at 75 ; 1891 at $1.00 ; 1892 at 44 ; 1893 at 59 ; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

KILLED BY BURGLARS.

An Aged Farmer Shot Down in His Own House and His Sister Wounded—No Clue to the Rascals.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 22.—Word was received to-day that Marcus Nichols, of Daniels Farm, a small settlement eight miles north of here, was killed by burglars during the night. Nichols, who was 54 years of age, dwelt with his sister, Mary Nichols, aged 55, the pair constituting the household. The old man has always borne the reputation of being wealthy and is known to have concealed about the premises considerable money, besides stocks and bonds. He was thought to be worth $100,000.

Their nearest neighbors live 500 feet distant. At about 1 o'clock this morning Mr. Nichols was awakened by a suspicious noise. Miss Nichols was also startled, and the two arose, lighting lamps, and proceeded to the lower floor and waited. All of a sudden the side door was burst open and two masked men entered the room. As soon as they discovered the presence of Mr. Nichols and his sister they whipped out revolvers, and one of the men fired at Nichols, the other at his sister. The aged man fell forward with a bullet in his breast, just over the heart. His sister sank to the floor with a ball in her side. A few seconds later the old man died. The burglars removed Miss Nichols to the kitchen and covered the woman with their revolvers, the spokesman announcing their intention of killing her if she attempted to leave the house, and they also demanded that she disclose the whereabouts of her money and that of her brother. She told them of the hiding place of her funds and also disclosed the spot where some of her brother's money would be found. The burglars continued the search and succeeded in finding about $200 in cash. They left strewn all over the house certificates of stock, bonds and other papers valued at about $75,000. Some time after they left Miss Nichols gave the alarm. Dr. Hill, of Trumbell, was summoned, and he found the woman to be seriously wounded. The injury, however, will not necessarily prove fatal. There is absolutely no clue to the burglars.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, July 12—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to the most of the residents in this locality as having previously affected some very extraordinary cures.

STRENGTHENING THE FLEET.

British Government Will Have a Small Armada to Protect the Seals in Behring Sea.

Victoria, B.C., July 22.—The British Government is sending to the Behring Sea sealing fisheries a much stronger patrolling force than usual.

Already two men-of-war—the Wild Swan of 1,200 tons and 8 guns, and the Pheasant of 800 tons and 8 guns—have sailed for Behring Sea, and they will be followed in a few days by H.M.S. Amphion, a powerful cruiser of 5,000 tons and 10 guns, and the fastest vessel in Pacific waters.

Besides these vessels two cruisers have been detached from the China fleet for the seal fisheries, one of which is H.M.S. Rainbow, a powerful modern cruiser of 4,800 tons and 8 guns.

THIRTY YEARS OF GLOOM.

He had Hunted the World for a Ray of Healthful, Hopeful Sunshine, but in Vain, until South American Nervine Brought a Mid-day Burst of Healing Life to Him and Made him Strong Again.

Thos. Waterman, a well-known and popular resident of Bridgewater, N. S., had been suffering from indigestion and weakness of the nerves for nearly thirty years. He had tried every remedy, and treated with best physicians, but all failed to give him any permanent relief. He had almost given up hope of a cure, and as a last resort procured South American Nervine. One bottle greatly benefitted, and after taking three or four bottles he proclaimed himself perfectly well. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Providence Thanked.

It is with pleasure that I recommend B. B.B. for the cure of indigestion and impure blood. I had tried many medicines but received no benefit until, I thank Providence, I was advised to use B.B.B., and it resulted in a perfect cure.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED BOOKED

To Take Steamers From Seattle for the Great Klondike Placer Mines in the Yukon.

Seattle, Wash., July 22.—The news that the telegraph has been bringing for the past ten days of the wonderful things of Klondike, in the land of the midnight sun, has opened the floodgates and a stream of humanity is pouring through Seattle and on toward the golden Mecca of the north. It is a crowd at once strange, weird and picturesque. Some say it eclipses anything in the days of '49.

The good ship Portland, which recently brought a million and a half of the treasure to this port, sailed for St. Michael's to-day at noon. She carried every passenger and every pound of cargo she has the ability to transport. From St. Michael's her burden will be taken up the River Yukon to far-famed Klondike.

The Portland booked for this passage fifty-two first-class and ninety-eight steerage passengers. Perhaps the most prominent is John H. McGraw, an ex-Governor of this State, who says: "I can go to Klondike, take a pick and a shovel and earn $12 or $15 a day at common labor. Such work there, even if I can do no better, would not be as embarrassing to me as the performance of manual labor here."

The name of E. M. Carr, one of the foremost lawyers of the State and an ex-Brigadier-General of the State militia, appears on the Portland's list, as does also that of Peter Jackson Carr, a nephew of the late General Carr of the regular army. He leaves a lucrative law practice.

The son of a dignitary will be of the Portland crowd in the person of G. St. L. Mackintosh, whose father is Governor C. H. Mackintosh of the Northwest Territories, in which is located Klondike. Governor Mackintosh came to Seattle to bid his son adieu, and during his stay here declared that there are a hundred Klondikes in British Yukon and that they contain hundreds of millions, for gold has accumulated in these streams for ages. George Hyde Preston is a Southern gentleman by birth and breeding, but he is being turned away in the prime of life from the practice of law by the romantic tales of Klondike. Captain Balliot is a Harvard graduate and a football player of Pacific coast reputation.

Down in the steerage were poor men, who, as a rule, have been "grub staked." The Pacific coast States appear to be contributing the largest number of voyagers, though the advance guard from the Middle States are arriving, and, in truth, men are coming from the four quarters of the nation. Every city of prominence in the country is represented, and the agricultural districts are furnishing their quota.

As near as can be estimated passage has been engaged for about fifteen hundred persons on steamers departing for Alaskan points between now and Aug. 7. This is nearly as many as can be carried, and at the rate gold seekers have been coming since Monday there will be many who cannot secure passage in time to reach Klondike before Alaska is frozen, unless an additional number of big vessels are placed on that route.

BERLIN'S JUBILEE.

Music Galore in the German Town. Also a Baseball Match.

Berlin, Ont., July 22.—The second day of Berlin's Diamond Jubilee celebration and band tournament saw an immense crowd lining the route of the procession. The ban proceeded to the station to welcome the visiting bands which had not come yesterday. About 10.30 the great Forum Barnopaugh Circus parade started from the town park and proceeded along King and other streets. At 1 o'clock the bands met at the Market-square, whence they marched out to Victoria Park, where boat, bicycle and other races took place; also a Waterloo County League baseball match between Galt and Berlin. Galt won by a score of 9 to 4. In the evening another band concert was held at Victoria Park, after which there was a gorgeous display of fireworks. Thus ended one of the most successful celebrations ever held in Berlin.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

IN A DUNGEON FOR LIFE

And to be Whipped on the Bare Back Till He Screams for Mercy.

Vancouver, B. C., July 22.—The Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of India arrived from Japan yesterday, having made a speedy passage. She brings the following:

The Princess Dowager of China has confined Prince Tsai for life in a dungeon for her birthday, and in refusing to worship not being present to congratulate her on at the shrine of his ancestors. His title is to be taken away from him and he is to be publicly whipped on the bare back with bamboos until he screams for mercy, after which he is to be shut up in four walls and fed on spare diet until he repents. This decree has been published in The Court Gazette.

Capt. Boltcheff on Trial.

Philippopolis, July 22.—The trial of Captain Boltcheff, ex-aide de camp to Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria, and his accomplices in the murder of his mistress, Anna Szimon, a beautiful singer of Budapest, is in progress. Boltcheff denies his guilt, but his accomplices have confessed and have produced a letter alleged to have been written by Boltcheff, in which he declared that Prince Ferdinand wished the girl to be got rid of because of scandalous scenes at court, of which she had been the cause. Sixty-four witnesses will be examined.

Lady Brassey Badly Hurt.

Melbourne, July 22.—Lady Thomas Brassey, wife of the Governor of Victoria, has met with a serious accident. While out driving to-day her horses, a spirited team, took fright and ran away. Lady Brassey was thrown out and severely injured, two of her ribs being broken.

In February last Baron Brassey was thrown from his horse and badly hurt.

The proportion of the Bank of England's reserve to liability, which last week was 49.88 per cent. is now 50.59 per cent. The Bank of England's rate of discount remains unchanged at 2 per cent.

Store and Dwelling Gone Up in Smoke

Goderich, July 20.—This morning about 3 o'clock the store and dwelling belonging to Mr. J. T. Goldthorpe, Saltford, was totally destroyed by fire, also a blacksmith shop occupied by Mr. George Bradford. Owing to the rapidity of the flames Mr. Goldthorpe saved very little of his effects. His buildings were insured in the Perth Mutual for $1200. Mr. Bradford has $200 in the same company.

The pursuit of money tempts many a man to neglect his health, with the result that he soon loses both money and health, and finds himself doomed to an untimely death. A man should remember when he is tempted to over-work himself, neglect his health, and devote insufficient time to eating, resting, and sleeping, that death is the tempter that holds out money as a bait. If a man will take proper care of his health, he will feel like work, and will find that he can do all the work that he cares to do within working hours.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery gets a man into working shape and keeps him there. It invigorates the liver, keeps the digestion in working order, the appetite hearty and keen. It keeps the blood pure and plentiful. It keeps out and drives out impurities and disease-germs. It wards off nervous and wasting diseases. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It is the product of the life-work of an eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Druggists sell it.

Mrs. L. F. Coates, of Blythebourne, Kings Co., N. Y., writes: "Three years ago, I was so sick I could not eat, sleep or walk, for I coughed all day and night. My weight was reduced from 150 to 127 pounds. The first night that I slept for hours at one time, was after I had taken three doses of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The offensive matter expectorated grew less every day and when I had taken the whole of one bottle I could sleep all night without coughing, and have been well ever since and weigh 178 pounds."

A good, practical, medical book is worth more in a home than a thousand novels. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is that kind of a book. It contains 1,008 pages and over 300 illustrations. A new edition given away absolutely FREE. For paper-covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps (the cost of customs and mailing only), to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y. For cloth binding, 50 stamps.

A SUMMER IDYL.

Just a little brown canoe
Floating on the stream;
Only room enough for two
And a blissful dream.

Just a little maid demure,
Sitting in the bow;
Eyes that twinkle, lips that lure,
Cheeks with health aglow.

Just a little sail we took—
Like to take some more—
Where their heads the willows shook
Along the faded shore.

Just a little tale of love
Underneath the trees,
While the cloudlets up above
Drifted with the breeze.

Just a little promise won
From the maiden meek,
Kept as faithful as the sun—
Just a little week.

CAN'T BUDGE THEM.

Science is Right 99 Times in a Hundred Medical Science says that Pills and Powders Will not Dissolve the Solid Secretions Which Cause Kidney Disease—It has Proven that a Liquid Kidney Specific will do it so, and Thousands Have Testified That South American Kidney Cure, a Liquid Specific for Kidney Disease, has Done so.

The secret of the success of South American Kidney Cure is the fact that it is solely a kidney specific. It dissolves the uric acid which is really the base of all kidney diseases. And it is only when these solid matters and secretions have been dissolved and eradicated from the system that a cure can be hoped for. Pills and Powders from a medical science standpoint, or from the standpoint of common sense, can hardly be expected to do what this liquid remedy has done. The people are learning it. Mrs. Norman E. Cook, of Delhi, Ont., says: "I tried no end of remedies—pills, powders and porous plasters, and all were used in vain. Five bottles of South American Kidney Cure completely restored me to health." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

The Value of Good Roads.

Cultivating ten acres, eight miles from the station, I buy two tons of fertilizer for $70, says a correspondent of the Lansburg, Fla., Commercial. This quantity makes eight loads for one horse and six hours are required for a trip. The time of myself and horse is worth 60 cents per load. I make 500 crates of vegetables, which require seventy-one trips to get them to the station at a cost of $12.60. On hard roads I could haul my $70 worth of fertilizer in four trips of four hours each, at a cost of $1.60. I could haul my 500 crates of vegetables in thirty-five trips of four hours each, at a cost of $14. On the sand roads one horse is required seventy-one days to ship my crop, which is a longer time than the shipping season; hence I am compelled to keep two horses during the year, or hire from my neighbors at a busy time. The cost of keeping the second horse may be safely estimated at $25. So much of my time is used in my trips to town that during three months of the year I am compelled to hire an extra hand, which costs me about $15. The foregoing items will suffice to show that bad roads cost on my ten acre crop $101.80, being a tax of over $10 per acre.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

"JACK" M'LEAN PASSED BY

Mr. Thomas Vance of Toronto Declares That He saw the Fugitive in Jordan on Wednesday.

Toronto, July 23.

From evidence received at The World office last night, it would appear that "Jack" McLean, the fugitive burglar and ex-convict, who escaped from the Toronto police, is making his way to the United States border in spite of any effort to recapture him. Mr. Thomas Vance, a Toronto commission merchant, was in Jordan on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock when a stranger, whom he declared to be McLean, from The World's picture of the fugitive, ambled by and asked for a drink of water at Zimmerman's hotel. His clothing was described by Mr. Vance as given in The World yesterday. While the wanderer was at the Jordan hotel no one thought of McLean, but when he had gone it struck Mr. Vance and others that the man was McLean, and they are now certain. The man passed through St. Catharines yesterday on his way to the U. S. border. The St. Catharines police, it is said, learned of McLean's being there only after he had gone. Efforts are now being made to locate the daring fellow.

SCOTT ACT DEFEATED.

After a Number of Years' Experience the Electors of Charlottetown, P.E.I., Vote It Out.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., July 22.—In the election held here to-day for repeal of the Canadian Temperance Act, 673 votes were polled for and 786 against, defeating the Act by 113 majority. The Act has been in force in the province for some years, and in the city for the past three years. Previous to that the Liquor Regulation Act was in force three years, and before that the Canada Temperance Act was in force for several years. Both sides worked hard.

EASTERN LEAGUE.

At Syracuse—A home run by Ryan in the fourth, with three men on bases, and a triple by Shaw in the eighth, with an equal number on bases, won the game for the Stars. Umpires Gruber, Swartwood and Brady all reported for duty, and Gruber and Brady started to the work. Gruber was taken sick after the first innings and Brady finished the game. He made a mess of it, and both sides kicked continually. Score:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Pittsburg—The 5200 people at the ball park saw a prize fight, an umpire rotten-egged and two good games, all for one price of admission. In the third innings of the first game, Sheridan gave a batsman his base on balls and when he went out behind the pitcher's box to watch second, Hawley said something to him and Sheridan struck Pink a blow on the cheek. Hawley retaliated, and, with two well-aimed blows, knocked Sheridan down and out. Hawley was put out of the game and Hastings substituted. In the second game Hawley was put in to pitch and Jennings, the third man up, was given first on what Sheridan called an illegal delivery. This set the crowd wild and in a few minutes a shower of ill-smelling eggs fell around the umpire and he had to stop the game until Captain Donovan could come in from the field and restore order. Both games were well played. Score:

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

Shortness of Breath

"Since last year I have had serious heart trouble caused by malaria. Shortness of breath, smothering spell on retiring, violent palpitation, etc., often made me gasp for breath. On procuring Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I found to my surprise and delight that they gave almost instant relief. I got healthy, restfull sleep, my heart troubles disappeared, and I now feel very well and strong indeed." Mr. Hugh Moore, Ingersoll, Ont., makes this statement for the public good.

KEENE IS HIMSELF AGAIN.

By His Dashing Campaign in Sugar He is Said to Have Made $2,000,000.

New York, July 22.—James R. Keene is in the saddle again, and Wall-street has found it out. On the floor of the Exchange and in every broker's office yesterday this brilliant, daring man was credited with having so conducted the recent dashing campaign in sugar that he has increased his wealth by fully $2,000,000. He reappears, therefore, in the front rank of American financiers, from which adversity temporarily crowded him. The masterly cleverness of Mr. Keene was shown during the past two months. Only a few insiders knew that he was a large operator. His plans were carried out with complete secrecy up to the point where realizing sales betrayed the extent and meaning of his transactions. Wall street estimates his profits in two months' operations at more than $2,000,000, of which sugar has contributed fully one-half.

Straw Scatteration.

"Sell the Straws!" "Sell at Once--Only Sell, Sell."

There's the only thought in our minds now. We have a sort of unreasoning terror of carrying Straw Hats over to another season, and we have just bought 100 doz. STRAW HATS to be sold here and in our Toronto stores.

Neither the tariff that's past nor the tariff that's here nor the preferential tariff that we are to enjoy more fully next season, had anything to do with the curious prices at which we bought these several lines of Straw Hats.

BOUGHT TO GET YOUR GOOD WILL.

We bought them because it gave us an opportunity to hand them out to you at over-the-sea prices—minus duties—minus profits to anybody—save a moderate one to us.

Without more explanations we will give you a few samples of the "Straw Satteration" that begins now:—

Extra Fine Split Straws and Bamboos, latest styles, ventilated or not, ordinarily worth from $1.50 to $2.00, now 75c.

Men's Fine Manillas, worth $2.50 and $3.00, now $1.50.

Ladies' Sailors, large flat Mackinaw Straws, also fine braids, to clear for 25c.

Fine Canton Braids, large, flat Mackinaw plaits and English Club Straws, for Men's wear. Latest shapes. Most merchants sell them from $1.00 to $1.50, our price 50c.

A big variety of Men's Straws, of different shapes and styles of braids, worth from 50c to 75c, now 25c.

Children's Straws to be sold at once for whatever they will bring.

See our window with choice for 25c.

INSPECTOR STRICKLAND'S

STORY OF THE GREAT KLONDYKE GOLD STRIKE.

Sober Truths Sound Like Fairy Tales—Marvellous Richness of the Deposits—But Gold Getting is no Holiday play—Hard Work, Hard Weather and Hard Times With Gold Lying around Ankle Deep.

The following despatch to the Globe gives a true version of the state of matters as furnished by Inspector Strickland, a son of Mr. R. C. Strickland, Lakefield. The former has been stationed at Fort Cudahay for some time, in the midst of the gold district:

Regina, N.W.T., July 22.—(Special)—Inspector Strickland of the Northwest Mounted Police arrived last night from the Yukon, accompanied by Mrs. Strickland and the child they took out as a baby. The party arrived at Forty-Mile Creek on July 24, 1895, and there erected their first post. This spot was then the centre of the mining district. The twelve members of the police who have taken to mining are all doing well. The five who are now on their way back did not like a miner's life. George Cormick, alias Siwash George, found gold in enormous quantities in a creek running into the Thron-Diuck, on August 12, 1896. He made it known as soon as he could get to Forty-Mile. A stampede to the creek at once took place and miners poured in from the United States side in such numbers that now not more than half a dozen claims are being worked in the Circle City district. These men had to drag their kits and belongings on sleds for three hundred miles over rough ice. This stampede set in at beginning of January and continued all winter. The first work of the men was to build their houses, and very heavy work it was.

LIKE FAIRY TALES.

Mr. Strickland does not believe the story of $200,000 having been already made there by any one man, but says the most literal truths read like fairy tales. It is, however, very hard to say just what is being made. The miners are reticent about their earnings. He can say, however, that miners who have come out and staked claims this year, who number about a hundred, have taken or sent away already sums varying from $5,000 to $50,000 each, and have kept back considerable sums for development and other investment. Miners from California, Australia and South Africa say that nothing in the world has been struck so rich.

Inspector Strickland says if the country fills up as rapidly as it is doing the two trading companies will not be sufficient to supply the food for them, and there is plenty of room for other companies in this line. Provisions are not so dear as might be expected. Flour is $12 a hundred, bacon forty cents a pound, canned meats 75c and $1, and caribou and moose flesh is sold by the Indians at fifty cents a pound.

NOT A PICNIC.

Inspector Strickland strongly recommends that no person should go out to the Yukon district without taking with him a year's supply of food, as well as some dollars, because paying claims are not always found immediately and there is the long and hard work of building a home. He says that mining is not a picnic. There are no enjoyments. It is all hard work. Wood is scarce and requires a good deal of labour in cutting. The climate is healthy and there is very little sickness. The chief complaints are scurvy, kidney trouble and rheumatism. Though the winter is eight months long, it is only three weeks that the sun is not seen. Miners' wages are $15 a day, but this rate will fall soon if the present rush continues from the Pacific Coast.

When Inspector Strickland left Inspector Constantine, Mrs. Constantine and the rest were well. Inspector Scarth, with the Northwest police detachment, had arrived safe and sound.

As if by Magic.

This is always the case when Nerviline is applied to any kind of pain; it is sure to disappear as if by magic. Stronger, more penetrating, and quicker in action than any other remedy in the world, pain cannot stay where it is used. It is just the thing to have in the house to meet a sudden attack of illness.

GOOD BRITISH MONEY

Is Being Gathered in by the Canadians at Bisley.

THE WIND WAS TRICKY YESTERDAY

Nevertheless Some Cracking Good Scores Were Put Up Windatt Captured First in the Duke of Cambridge's Match Four in the Final for the Queen's.

Bisley Camp, July 23.—(Telegram Cable.)—The wind today was rather uncertain at times, and its tricky puffs bothered the riflemen.

In The Graphic competition, Lieut. Ross, Corp. Kerr and Sergt. Broadhurst placed eighth, ninth and tenth respectively, and each won £2 ——— each.

In The Daily Telegraph contest, Lieut. Ross beats them all, scoring 49 bullseyes, Staff-Sergt. Smith as twenty-first in the pot, winning £5 ——— Sergt. Carter is fifteenth, Lieut. ——— near sixty-fourth, and Sergt. Corrigan nine hundred and second, each winning 40 shillings.

The Alexandra Match, one of the best of the Bisley meeting, was fired today. The Alexandra Match is open to all comers; aggregate value about £300, N. R. A. prize; distances, 500 and 600 yards aggregated; number of shots seven at each distance, one prize of £20, one of £20, two of £15, seven of £10, twenty-four of £5, twenty-five of £4, one hundred of £3, one hundred and sixty prize of £2.

All the members of the Canadian contingent competed in the Alexandra, their scores being as follows: Blair 33, Carter 33, Corrigan 31, Davidson 29, Davidson 31, Drysdale 30, Garson 31, Kynoch near 33, Kerr 31, King 33, Lamontagne 31, Marks 30, Miller 34, Broadhurst 31, Ross 31, Skedden 31, Smith 31, Swaine 29, White 32, Windatt 34.

Sergt. Blair will be one of the hundred who will fire in the final stage of the Queen's Prize. This gives to Canada a representation of four in the century of expert marksmen. In the aggregate of the first and second stage Blair tied at 206 with twenty-two others. The ties were shot off this morning and Blair qualified.

Capt. White is eighth man in the final, Corp. Kerr is tenth, and Lieut. Ross is fifty-fifth.

Lieut. Ross and nine others tied with possibles in The Daily Telegraph match, and divided the money, each receiving 47 1s. Other prize winners in The Telegraph match were Staff-Sergt. Smith, £3 6s; Sergt. Garson, Lieut. Kinnear, Capt. Davidson and Sergt. Corrigan, £2 each.

The Canadians scored as follows at the 500 yards range in the Alexandra match: Blair 30, Carter 31, Corrigan 32, Davidson, Lieut., 29, Davidson, Capt., 30; Drysdale 34, Garson 32, Kynoch near 30, Kerr 27, King 29, Lamontagne 32, Marks 32, Miller 27, Broadhurst 33, Ross 32, Skedden 30, Smith 27, Swaine 32, White 32, Windatt 28.

The aggregate at the two ranges is as follows: Blair 63, Carter 64, Corrigan 63, Lieut. Davidson 58, Capt. Davidson 61, Sergt. Drysdale 64, Sergt. Garson 63, Lieut. Kinnear 63, Staff-Sergt. Kerr 58, Lieut. King 62, Trooper Langstroth 63, Staff-Sergt. Marks 62, Gunner Miller 61, Sergt. Broadhurst 67, Lieut. Ross 63, Co.-Sergt. Skedden 61, Staff-Sergt. Smith 58, Pte. Swaine 61, Capt. White 64, Capt. Windatt 62.

The prize given by H. R. H. the Duke of Cambridge was shot for today. The distance was 900 yards, each competitor firing 10 shots. In this competition Corp. Windatt of the 10th Royal Grenadiers, put together 48 points out of a possible 50. In the same contest Lieut. Ross of the 13th Battalion scored 47 points. It is probable that Windatt will be one of the prize winners.

London, July 23.—(By Associated Press.)—Among the successful contestants in the shooting for the Queen's Prize at Bisley are the following members of the Canadian team, each of whom takes £4: Sergt. Corrigan and Sergt. Blair, with scores of 204; Sergt. Broadhurst, with a score of 203; Lieut. Davidson, with 202; Trooper Langstroth, with 201, and Capt. Davidson, with 200.

The Toronto Man Got a Nice Little Plum Worth a Hundred Dollars.

NOTES FROM KINGSTON.

Mr. Vanluven's Whereabouts Still a Mystery—Government Appointments.

Kingston, July 23.—The whereabouts of T. F. Vanluven, the missing County Treasurer, is as yet unsolved. No new light has been thrown upon the condition of affairs of his office. Warden Taggart has returned home, taking with him the keys of the vault in which are locked all the papers and books of the office.

O. V. Goulette of Gananoque has been appointed Guardian of the Islands by the Canadian Government, and on Wednesday received notice that the yacht Mabel G. would be shipped to Gananoque and placed at his disposal for use in connection with the performance of his duties.

The Whig reports that a young gentleman named Keenan, a Conservative of Kingston township, has been appointed assistant storekeeper at the penitentiary on recommendation of the Patron committee.

LIGHTNING STRUCK POWDER

And the Result Was an Explosion That Made Wilkes-Barre Tremble.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 23.—During the prevalence of a heavy rain and thunder storm, this afternoon, the powder magazine at the Empire, operated by the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, was struck by lightning. A terrific explosion followed. The building was shattered and the force of the explosion was so great that it shook the foundation of nearly every dwelling in Wilkes-Barre. There were about 20 tons of powder stored in the building. No one was in the place at the time, but John Higgins, who was driving by just as the explosion occurred, was injured by flying debris.

HAD TO USE OUR CANAL

Because the One on the American Side Was Not Deep Enough.

Sault Ste. Marie, July 23. The schooner Arizona of the Corrigan Line passed down through the Canadian lock this morning with a net cargo of 0625 tons of ore, thus holding the Lake Superior record for large cargoes, for about the space of an hour, when it was wrested from her by her sister ship, the Polynesia, with a cargo of 0674 net tons. Can anyone figure out what these two vessels would carry if loaded to a draught of 17 feet 10 inches, the scene as the steamer Kahyuna was drawing when she passed through this lock early this morning?

My baby had Eczema in its worst form. The top of her head was as raw as a piece of beef, the hair taken down to the scalp by application after application, and I thought if she ever got well she would be bald. The best physician in the city attended her, but she continued to get worse all the time, and he finally admitted "it was the most obstinate case he had ever seen," and that he was "at his wits' end." Some one suggested CUTICURA REMEDIES, which I purchased and tried. In a few days I noticed a great change. She continued to improve; and today is entirely cured, has a nice head of hair, is lively and hearty, and the disease shows no signs of returning. I send you her photograph to show her as she is today.

It Quenches Thirst.

During the hot weather, a cooling, refreshing drink is the first requisite, and nothing can be more wholesome than the juice of fruit. "Montserrat" is the juice of ripe Limes and is cheaper and more easily prepared than lemons. Its bright sourness is just what is needed to take the flatness off water—even water that is not cold becomes a refreshing drink when a little "Montserrat" is added.

THE DINGLEY TARIFF

Became Law at 4.04 p. m. on Saturday.

THE PRESIDENT SIGNED IT THEN

Using a Small Pen With a Pearl Handle Which Mr. Dingley Provided—Then All Present Thanked the Author of the Important Measure and the Incident Closed.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—The Dingley tariff bill is now the law of the land. The last step necessary was taken at the White House when the President affixed his signature at 4.04 o'clock to-day.

The signing of the bill was an interesting event. It had been arranged that the President should go to the Capitol to perform that function, but owing to uncertainty as to the time that the bill would be ready, that plan was abandoned. The members of the Cabinet who are in Washington were to accompany the President to the Capitol to witness the event but were notified of the change in the program and came to the White House about 3.30 o'clock and assembled with the President in the Cabinet room.

A few minutes before the hour, Mr. Dingley appeared, accompanied by Representative Hager, chairman of the House Committee on Enrolling Bills. Mr. Hager by virtue of his office held the tariff bill closely in hand, but not for a moment did Mr. Dingley lose sight of the document which has made his name known in all parts of the world. They were admitted at once into the presence of Mr. McKinley. The latter was sitting quietly at the long Cabinet table with Secretary Gage and Attorney-General McKenna on one side and Postmaster-General Gary and Secretary Wilson on the other. The President arose and greeted Mr. Dingley and Mr. Hager cordially and proceeded at once to the work of approval. Mr. Porter turned to the last sheet of the bill and laid the document before the President. He had several pens at hand, the owners of which had begged might be used to sign the tariff act, but Mr. Dingley unexpectedly taking a case from his pocket produced a beautiful mother of pearl handled pen, dainty enough for a woman's use, and requested that it be used for the signature.

The President recognized the right of Mr. Dingley, then he laughingly commented upon the diminutive size of the pen. Dipping it deep into the inkwell, he steadily appended his signature to the bill, asked the date and wrote "July 24th, Approved" and the bill was an act.

There was a burst of applause from the spectators. Every one in the room except the President was standing. As the President dropped the pen, Attorney-General McKenna glancing at the clock on the mantel, remarked: "It is just four minutes past four o'clock."

Then a thought suddenly occurred to him and he added: "Gov. Dingley, we stood together in this way at the signature of the McKinley tariff act."

"That was at the Capitol, however," replied Mr. Dingley.

The president rose and thanked Mr. Dingley on the successfulness of his long task, and members of the Cabinet did likewise. Mr. Dingley acknowledged with thanks the kind words and, after putting his penholder carefully away, left the roooom and the incident was at an end.

A MESSAGE ABOUT MONEY.

President McKinley Says the Currency of the Country is Good, but the System is Faulty.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—The following is the message sent by the President to Congress this afternoon:

To the Congress of the United States:

In my message convening the Congress in extraordinary session I called attention to a single subject—that of providing revenue adequate to meet the reasonable and proper expenses of the Government. I believed that to be the most pressing subject for settlement then. A bill to provide the necessary revenues for the Government has already passed the House of Representatives and the Senate and awaits executive action. Another question of very great importance is that of the establishment of our currency and banking system on a better basis, which I commented upon in my inaugural address in the following words:

"Our financial system needs some revision; our money is all good now, but its value must not further be threatened. It should all be put upon an enduring basis, not subject to easy attack, nor its stability to doubt or dispute. The several forms of our paper money offer, in my judgment, a constant embarrassment to the Government and imperil a safe balance in the Treasury."

Nothing was settled more clearly at the late National election than the determination upon the part of the people to keep their currency stable in value and equal to that of the most advanced nations of the world.

The soundness of our currency is nowhere questioned. No loss can occur to its holders. It is the system which should be simplified and strengthened, keeping our money just as good as it is now with less expense to the Government and the people.

The sentiment of the country is strongly in favor of early action by Congress in this direction, to revise our currency laws and remove them from partisan contention. A notable assembly of business men with delegates from twenty-nine States and Territories was held at Indianapolis in January of this year. The financial situation commanded their earnest attention and after a two-day session the convention recommended to Congress the appointment of a monetary commission.

I commend this report to the consideration of Congress. The authors of the report recommend a commission "to make thorough investigation of the monetary affairs and needs of this country in all relations and aspects and to make proper suggestions as to any evils found to exist and the remedies therefor."

This subject should receive the attention of Congress at its special session. It ought not to be postponed until the regular session.

I therefore urgently recommend that a special commission be created, non-partisan in its character, to be composed of well-informed citizens of different parties, who will command the confidence of Congress and the country because of their special fitness for the work, whose duty it shall be to make recommendations of whatever changes in our present banking and currency laws may be found necessary and expedient, and to report their conclusions on or before the first day of November next, in order that the same may be transmitted by me to Congress for its consideration at its first regular session.

It is to be hoped that the report thus made will be so comprehensive and sound as to receive the support of all parties and the favorable action of Congress. At all events such a report cannot fail to be of value to the executive branch of the Government, as well as to those charged with public legislation, and greatly to assist in the establishment of an improved system of finance.

William McKinley.

The special order was adopted. 150 yeas, 102 nays.

The debate proper on the bill, which the order limited to one hour, then began, and finally the Stone bill was passed 124 to 99, six present and not voting. Two Republicans voted against the bill, but in the Senate, when that body reconvened, there were many sharp passages at arms, the object of certain Senators being not to take up the subject matter of the President's message. Mr. Aldrich stated that "no Republican Senate expects the passage of the Currency Commission Bill," and he added, "so far as the matter of responsibility goes, we are willing to accept it." Mr. Hoar made a similar declaration, and Mr. Morgan intimated that the President was being treated with contumely. The Senate passed the concurrent resolution for adjournment at 9 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock took recess until 8.45 p. m. At 9 o'clock both Houses adjourned sine die.

Wild Excitement.

New York, July 25.—The rotunda of the Custom House was the scene of the wildest excitement yesterday afternoon. News had been received that the Umbria and La Touraine were steaming up the bay, and soon the Custom House was filled with scores of anxious importers and brokers, eagerly awaiting the arrival of the captains of the two vessels. A cab came dashing up to the dingy marble building a few minutes before 3 o'clock, the driver bubbling over with excitement. Captain Dutton of the Umbria flew out and dashed up stairs where the anxious waiters burst out in cheers. A line was at once formed of brokers and importers, while the captain hastened to make his declaration and present his manifest.

Captain Santanelli of La Touraine arrived seven minutes after four, just seven minutes too late to have his entry recorded. Those seven minutes will propably cost the importers $100,000 or more in duties.

The Heads of Committees.

Washington, July 25.—Speaker Reed last night announced the House Committees. R. R. Hitt of Illinois again heads the Foreign Affairs, Mr. Dingley of Maine, Ways and Means; Mr. Walker of Massachusetts, Banking and Currency; Mr. Hepburn of Iowa, Interstate and Foreign Commerce; Mr. Boutelle of Maine, Naval Affairs.

GOLD-STRUCK THRONG.

People at San Francisco are Absolutely Desperate in Their Efforts to Get Passage for Alaska.

San Francisco, July 25.—The desire of the gold struck throng to reach the diggings in the Klondike district resembles the craze of easterners to reach California in the days of '49. There is little or no method in this longing of the masses to reach the Eldorado in the great unknown territory of the Northwest.

Persons who have had no experience in mining or have undergone none of the hardships incident to such as will follow a trip to the Yukon country are clamoring for passage and straining every nerve to secure funds necessary on which to make the trip. Many are making sacrifices in order to visit the land that promises so much.

Every steamship office in the city is overrun with people seeking information concerning the Klondike country. Those who have the money do not hesitate to pay for passage, trusting in many instances to good luck to give them food on which to subsist during the coming winter. The Excelsior, which leaves on Wednesday next, has a full passenger list, but big bonuses are being offered every day for a berth on the vessel.

The steamer Umatilla left to-day for the North with 200 passengers and a full cargo of provisions. She goes to Port Townsend, where she connects with the City of Topeka, sailing direct to Juneau. The owners of the Umatilla have applied to the Inspectors of Hulls and Boilers for permission to carry all the passengers that the vessels owned by the company will hold. The Topeka, which is scheduled to leave Seattle early next week, has already more passengers than is permitted by law. The same is true of the George W. Elder, which is scheduled to leave July 30. The people at Seattle are begging the steamship officers to provide them with transportation.

The steamer Cleveland, chartered as an extra vessel by the Northwestern Trading Company, sailed last night for Seattle, where she will discharge part of her cargo and take on supplies and passengers for Alaska. About half of her passengers' list from this city is booked for Alaska, and she will be full to the limit, leaving Seattle for the North. It is probable that she will carry 500 passengers.

More people are anxious to go to Alaska and the Yukon country than can possibly be accommodated at the present time. It is believed by many that the vessels now fitting at San Francisco, and destined for Dawson City by way of St. Michael's, will never reach the former place. The river begins to freeze about September 10, and it is not possible for vessels leaving San Francisco after August to reach Dawson City for at least five or six days after the extreme cold has set in.

WON THE QUEEN'S PRIZE.

A First Devonshire Man Proves Himself the Champion Shot at Bisley in the Jubilee Year.

London, July 24.—Private Ward of the First Devonshire regiment won the Queen's Prize, including the gold medal and the gold badge of the National Rifle Association and £250. Sergt. Mansfield, of the Second West Surrey regiment by a score of 317 out of a possible 120, won the first prize in the final stage of competition for the St. George's Challenge vase. The prize is the vase, the dragon cup, the gold cross and £30.

A SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Mrs. Eugenie Ward Seeks to be Legally Separated From Her Husband Ebor.

Ottawa, July 24.—Eugenie Ward, Toronto, (nee Eugenie Hugel) wife of Ebor Brock Ward, will apply to Parliament at next session thereof for a bill of divorce from her husband, Ebor Brock Ward, formerly of Toronto, but now residing in Paris, France, on grounds of adultery, desertion and bigamy. Mrs. Ward is now residing at Niagara with her twin daughters.

ARCHIE CUTHBERT DROWNED.

Went in to Bathe on Sunday Morning and Got Beyond His Depth.

Newcastle, July 25.—A drowning fatality, the first in a long time, occurred about a miles east of the village in Argall's mill-, nd at 11 a.m. Archie Cuthbert, aged 18, of Kirkfield, Ont., employed with Allen Bros., farmers here, with 30 other companions, went to the pond for a bath. Cuthbert, who was unable to swim, walked out in what he thought shallow water, but it was ten feet deep, and he sank. His companions endeavored to rescue him, but were unsuccessful. The body was dragged for, but not recovered until 1.30 p.m., when life was extinct. His parents at Kirkfield have been wired, and it is expected they will be here on Monday and take the body home for burial.

CUT HIS OWN THROAT.

Mr. Richard Green of Castleton Became Insane and Killed Himself.

Warkworth, Ont., July 24.—At Castleton about 1 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Richard Green committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. Green was an inmate of an asylum and had just arrived home, supposed to be completely cured. Mrs. Green being sick when he arrived home it is thought his mind became unbalanced, and he committed the rash act. Mr. Green belongs to a highly respected family, and the deepest sympathy is felt for the family throughout the neighborhood. He leaves a wife and two children.

HALF A MILLION LOST.

Immense Damage to Farmers in New York State by the Rains.

Syracuse, July 25.—The heavy rains of Thursday, Friday and Saturday last did a vast amount of damage to the farmers of Central New York. The principal sufferers are in the towns of Sullivan, Madison County, Cicero, Manlius and La Fayette, in Onondaga County. It is estimated that crops to the amount of $500,000 have been destroyed. Reports show that nine bridges were washed away in various places.

CRIME OR ACCIDENT, WHICH?

Young Couple Were Struggling on the Track When a Train Killed Them.

Utica, July 25.—John Phelps, 28 years old, a clerk, and his wife, 17 years old, were instantly killed by a train on the West Shore Railroad about 9 o'clock to-night. They were seen struggling before the train struck them, and it is thought the man intended to cause the death of his wife and himself. He had been heard to threaten her.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Montreal Herald suggests that if the excitement about the Klondyke gold strike continues there will be need of sending somebody to the gold cure.

THE Conservatives claim to have scored a moral victory in the Prince Edward Island general elections. It is to be hoped they did. They have been so used to scoring immoral victories for the past eighteen years that it seems "time for a change."

R. G. Dun says of Canadian trade:—"There is a feeling of confidence in marked contrast with those of six months or a year ago, and the improvement in trade—as reported—the past two or three weeks is looked upon as the forerunner of a large autumn and winter business."

THE Hamilton Spectator and others of the Conservative Bourbon press decline to learn anything by experience. The Spectator is now engaged in trying to arouse a race ruction, and hypocritically parades the exploded cry of French denomination. There are no French, Germans, English, Irish or Scotch in Canada now—they are all Canadians and the journal that foolishly tries to sow dragons, teeth will get its own eye teeth out.

CANADA PULP TRADE.

Mr. James Beveridge, who has recently been in Canada on business connected with the pulp trade, returned on May 29th, and was seen by a representative of Wood Pulp (London, Eng.), to whom he said:—

"I am not in a position to divulge the nature of my business in Canada, but I may say that I think that country offers great facilities for the manufacture of pulp and paper, inasmuch as there is a belt of forest 2,000 miles long by 200 miles wide, stretching right across the continent, which contains vast quantities of spruce and other woods suitable for paper making.

"From my own observation this timber was unquestionably healthy, of rapid growth, and from samples which I examined is in my opinion quite equal to the very best timber grown in Scandinavia and Finland.

"Pulp wood costs papermakers from $3 50 to $6 per cord delivered at the mills, and it appears that owing to the demands made by the United States papermakers on Canada for their supply of pulp wood, the Canadian Government were considering the advisability of putting export duty upon it.

"America being the land of newspapers, the production of cheap 'news' is a great feature of the paper-making industry, and by the application of great engineering skill the cost of producing 'news' has been reduced to a comparatively low figure. This class of paper is being sold at ¾d. per lb.

"Compared with English 'news' it is less bulky, but seems well adapted to the requirements of the American printer.

"The most modern 'news' machines are running at from 300 to 400 feet per minute."

THE ONTARIO AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Brantford Expositor.

The closing exercises of this institution were this year of unusual interest. The session has been a fairly good one. All traces of the former rivalries among members of the staff seem to have disappeared. The work is carried on harmoniously, intelligently and efficiently. The college bids fair to keep the place it has long held, the foremost among such institutions on this continent, if not in the world.

The closing was this year specially notable on account of two addresses given in connection therewith, one by the Rev. Dr. Potts, the other by the Hon. Mr. Dryden. The latter was practical and felicitous, as addresses given by the Minister of Agriculture always are, but on this occasion he excelled himself. To many a future farmer over this province, Mr. Dryden's speeches will be pleasant and helpful memories for years to come, and it is to be hoped that by keeping him in charge of the Deprrtment of Agriculture, as they can easily do, the farmers of Ontario will put it into his power to continue the series indefinitely. There is no other member on either side of the Legislative Assembly who, whatever he might prove to be as an administrator, could speak so interestingly and instructively to young men about the great industry committed to his fostering care.

Such speeches as the one made by Dr. Potts are far too rare in Canada. His ordinary work is the care of the educational interests and institutions of the great church, but he has the capacity to see how important an industry farming is, and the capacity to state its claims as few farmers are able to do. It is to be regretted that such speeches from clergymen are seldom heard, and we trust that the success of the new departure made this year will induce President Mills to try to find some other speaker, some other learned divine, who can speak about practical matters in the world that is here, as well as preach to his hearers about a world to come.

The keynote of Dr. Potts' speech was the necessity of dealing with the Agricultural College in a non-partisan spirit. We have no right to allege that he had in his mind the persistent attacks and the unfriendly criticisms of the members of the Opposition in the Legislative Assembly, but if it had been his purpose to rebuke them, he could hardly have framed his remarks more appropriately with that end in view. The institution needs generous treatment at the hands of the Legislature, for it has a difficult task to accomplish. It is doing its work well now—it might do it still better if it were more appreciatively, not to say enthusiastically, endorsed.

HELPLESS FOR A YEAR.

Bowed Down With Rheumatism and Sciatica.

From the Post, Sackville, N.B.

Records like the following carry conviction with them, and in a practical sense it might be said that this is still the age of miracles. Mr. Edward Downey, of Maccan, N.B., says:—"I have been a resident of Cumberland Co. some years. I have been a great sufferer for upwards of ten years with sciatica rheumatism. I was tortured with severe pains which at times would become almost unbearable, and I think I suffered almost everything a man can suffer and live. I was so crippled that I could not work and part of the time was not able to even move about. I became so weak, and my system so run down that I despaired of ever getting better. My case was an almost hopeless one, and as I had abandoned work I was almost helpless for over a year. I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I was induced to at least give them a trial. In a short time I began to recover, and the agonizing pains left my back and limbs, so that I was enabled to walk out of doors. Before I had used more than half a dozen boxes I was almost entirely well and could do a hard day's work. I had a good appetite and began to gain flesh and feel like a new man. I am free from aches and pains and have Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to thank for it all." The reporter could not help feeling that Mr. Downey's case was a striking one, as he now presents a stout, well built figure, straight limbed and as smart in his movements as a young man of twenty.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

OTONABEE.

Council Meeting.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Meeting of the Otonabee council—all the members present. Mrs Gage requested the council to prohibit James Andrews from building a house on the road allowance near her house, as she was afraid of fire if he would burn the brush which he is cutting in the road allowance. The clerk was instructed to notify him if he sets ont any fires he will have to move off the road allowance. Peter Gillespie applied for the unused portion of the road allowance opposite lot 25, con 12.—Granted until required for road purposes. The following accounts were passed,—Mrs White, attending the late James Armstrong during last illness, $15; Mrs J Edwards, $10; Dr Shaw, medicine and attendance, $12.50; John Lancaster, gravel, $8.48; Charles Edwards, gravel, $13.35; Michael Torpey, cedar, $6.24; Patrick Sullivan, gravel, $10.78; D McCarthy, gravel, $8.25; W Graham, $13.80; R Chambers, cedar, $4 16; Alex Gillespie, gravel, $7; D Kennedy, making culverts, $2.80; Walter Renwick, jr., cedar, $2.28; C E Howson, gravel, $9.48; John Harrison, gravel, $1.04; Andrew Nelson, cedar, $6.50, John J Grady, gravel, $2.10; John O'Leary, gravel, 3.50; E Lee Welch, gravel, $33.10; A Weir, telephoning to P Hamilton for road scraper, 25c; Martin Guerin, gravel, $5.60; John McDonell, gravel, $3.99; Wm Porter, gravel, $15; J Bracksnridge, cedar, $29.36; P W Elmhirst, gravel, 5.81; David Hutcheson, gravel, $2.87; Stephen Thorn, gravel, $4.06; Wm Hatherly, damages drawing gravel, $2; James Robertson, gravel, $11.92; J A Drummond, gravel, $9,65; J W Drummond, gravel, $1.06; Jas Hayes, gravel, $21.20; Jas O'Connor, cedar, $9.70; Review Printing Co, advertising Court of Revision, $2.50. The county levy is $325 less than last year, we are informed, owing largely to the decreased number of county councillors, and the township rate will be 2-10ths of a mill higher, to meet the larger expenditure on the roads which is increasing every year on account of extra wear by milk drawing and the bulk of the grain is now delivered in summer instead of winter as formerly. Council adjourned till September.

THE RUSH FOR GOLD

Continues From San Francisco and Seattle.

STEAMERS CANNOT CARRY ALL

Who are Willing to Brave the Arctic Winter in the Hope of Getting Yellow Metal Men are Absolutely Desperate in Their Efforts to Get Passage

San Francisco, July 25.—John McGarigal, who returned from the Klondike camp on the steamship Bertha, came ashore to-day and talked about the progress that is being made at Dawson City.

"Speculation is already the ruling idea in Dawson City," said he, "but they do things already differently from the men who frequent Pine-street. A purchaser inspects a claim that he thinks he would like to buy, and offers just what he thinks it is worth. There is no skirmishing over figures. The man either accepts or refuses, and that is the end of it.

"With this claim goes the season's work. By that I mean the great pile of earth it contains, may be worth thousands or may not be worth the expense to run it through the sluice. That is a chance one must take, however, and very few have lost anything by it this season.

"I do not know in the whole Klondike region a single claim that has not paid handsomely, and there are still hundreds of claims that have not been worked. In testing a claim the prospector sinks a hole, say fifteen feet, and then tries a pan of dirt.

"In the way of public institutions our camp is at present without any, but by the next season we shall have a church, a music hall, school house and hospital. This last institution will be under the direction and control of the Sisters of Mercy, who have already been stationed for a long time at Circle City and Forty-Mile camp."

Express Office to be Established.

San Francisco, July 25.- There is every probability that Wells, Fargo & Co. will establish an office in Dawson City during the coming spring. L. F. Rowell, assistant manager of the company, said to-day that nothing would be gained by establishing an office earlier than that.

The present rate of transportation for gold from Seattle to San Francisco is $5 a thousand and $5 from Seattle to Philadelphia. If an office is established in the Klondike district the rate per thousand, including insurance, will be $8.40.

MORE MINERS LEAVE SEATTLE

There Is Considerable Excitement Over the Rumor That Canadians Will Exact Their Rightful Duty.

Seattle, Wash., July 25.—The steamer Queen left the city yesterday for Alaska. She will make the run to Dyea. Her passenger list includes 400 miners, who will at once penetrate the interior by way of the passes. Thirty miners from Cripple Creek reached here yesterday, and 100 more are on the way.

Intense excitement prevails in this city over the report that the Canadian Government proposes to tax the outfits of all American miners. Just what will be done is a matter which the business men who are grubstaking the miners cannot find out. They have been at work all day long. The miners don't know what to make of the matter. The general belief is that if the attempt is made there will be trouble. It will result in international complications and will certainly bring the great boundary question to a head.

The belief here is that if the Canadian Government tries to collect the duty on the miners' traps when they reach Dyea there will be resistance on the part of every man bound for the Yukon. That part of the country is at present in dispute, and the miners say they will not pay any duty at that port unless ordered to do so by the United States Government.

One United States official said to-day that if the Government attempted to collect the tariff at Lake Linderman it will be an admission that the boundary lines does not run where Canada at present maintains it does run.

A private telegram from Washington conveys the information that Secretary Gage has been besieged to-day by members of the Washington Congressional delegation, aided by Senator Perkins of California. They have protested against allowing British vessels to land passengers free of duty in Alaskan waters, and have secured from Secretary Gage a promise to make Dyea a sub port.

Every miner who is going north is being grub-staked by local business men. They are being allowed from $500 to $1000. To-day the miners who leave on the Mexico were at work trying to raise additional money in order to be prepared for the Canadians should they try to work the tariff claim. The Mexico has been considered the poor man's trip, for the reason that passengers bound for the Yukon will be allowed to carry all the supplies they desire.

Horses and mules will go north by the hundreds. The miners will pack their goods over the summit, and some of the miners maintain that once over the summit they will kill their horses and use the meat for food. A story reached this city to-day from New York that miners were being generally advised to wait until fall to go to the Yukon.

CANADIANS MAY REST EASY.

The New York Tribune Explains to American Readers That the Klondike is in Canada.

New York, July 25.—The Tribune, the paper of which Hon. Whitelaw Reid, special United States Ambassador at the Jubilee ceremonies is editor, says editorially to-day: According to an Ottawa despatch, the Canadian Government has had its attention called "to the claims advanced in the United States press that the Yukon gold fields are in American territory."

We have observed no such claims in any important print. Yet it is possible they are being made. The "silly season" is at hand. Big gooseberries and live snakes in a man's stomach and all the rest of the stage properties of mid summer farce comedies are coming to the fore. Why not a claim to the Klondike? Why not "move to abolish the sun and the moon?"

But our Canadian friends may be assured that if they are at all concerned over such "claims" they are "frightened with false fire." There is not, there never has been, and there never will be, any serious intention in this country of claiming the Klondike region, as well claim the city of Toronto, or the Tower of London. There is no dispute, and never has been, about the Alaska boundary in that region. The line follows the 141st meridian of west longitude. There can be no more dispute over it than over the equator. All that is necessary is to run the line scientifically, and mark it at convenient intervals with posts or other monuments. Provision has already been made for doing that work by an international commission of engineers, and it will doubtless be done, with accuracy and expedition. In the meantime let us have done with idle babble about disputed boundaries and land grabbing in a place where there are no such things. The entire course of the lower Yukon is in United States territory as far up as Boundary Creek. The lower reaches of the Porcupine River and the upper reaches of Forty-mile Creek and Sixty-mile Creek are, therefore, in United States territory. So is Circle City. And in all those regions there is probably much gold. But Dawson City is in west longitude 139.25, and, therefore, many miles to the Canadian side of the line; and the Klondike extends southeast from Dawson City, and is, therefore, altogether on Canadian soil. So are Fort Cudahy and Forty-Mile. So are the greater parts of the overland routes from Juneau by way of Chilkoot Pass and White Pass and the lakes. It would be a nice thing, no doubt to have all those regions under the Stars and Stripes. But they are not, and there is no use pretending that they are. Americans who go to Klondike must understand that they are going upon British soil and are making themselves amenable to British laws.

Nor should this fact be overlooked, that in permitting an army of aliens to swarm over the line and carry away millions of dollars in gold, the Canadian Government is acting with generosity that should be appreciated and reciprocated. One of the chief complaints against the Chinese has been that they come to this country merely to get what they can out of it, and then go back home with the proceeds. That is exactly what American miners are doing in the Klondike region. They are entering British territory, getting all they can out of it, and then coming back to the United States with their wealth. That the Canadian Government should freely permit this is a manifestation of a kindly spirit towards the country which should facilitate the adjustment of all relations between the two nations upon a friendly and mutually advantageous basis.

UNCLE SAM WILL RETALIATE.

Secretary Sherman Thinks He Can Scare Canadians Out of Looking After Their Own Heritage.

New York, July 25.—Secretary of State Sherman was interviewed at the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night.

"The Canadian Government, Mr. Secretary, is discussing the advisability, it is said, of applying the alien law to the American miners in the Klondike region. What course would this Government pursue were the Canadian Government to do this?" was asked. "We should probably retaliate. I hardly believe, though, that the Canadian Government will prohibit citizens of the United States from mining in the Klondike region. It has always been customary for the citizens of one country to go into the other's territory to placer mine, except, of course, where property claims are taken out, and in such cases citizenship is a necessity. But should American citizens be discriminated against in the Klondike country retaliation would, of course, be justifiable," the Secretary replied.

After a Severe Cold.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofula. I was weak and debilitated and Hood's Sarsaparilla built me up and made me strong and well. After a severe cold I had catarrhal fever. I again resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla which accomplished a complete cure." SARAH E. DEVAY, Annapolis, Nova Scotia.

Shortness of Breath.

"Since last year I have had serious heart trouble caused by malaria. Shortness of breath, smothering spell on retiring, violent palpitation, etc., often made me gasp for breath. On procuring Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I found to my surprise and delight that they gave almost instant relief. I got healthy, restfull sleep, my heart troubles disappeared, and I now feel very well and strong indeed." Mr. Hugh Moore, Ingersoll, Ont., makes this statement for the public good.

PEOPLE YOU KNOW

When people you know give their evidence you have confidence in it much more so than when strangers talk.

These people are people you know, Peterborough People, and you can credit every word they say.

HERE IS ONE:

Mrs. Sarah Henderson, 392 McDonel St., Peterborough, Ont., says: "For a number of years I was a great sufferer from pain in my back, complicated with terrible headaches. Oh my! how my head did ache.

A dizziness would come over me at times, and a filmy mist seemed to cover my eyes so that I could scarcely see. Often I would stagger as if intoxicated.

I could not sleep at night; my hands and arms used to swell and puff up, and I was in a condition of great misery, unable to work and almost in despair.

I doctored a great deal and took many medicines, but everything I tried failed. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I got a box at Jas. Lynch's Drug Store. The change for the better was wonderful.

The first few doses seemed to lift a load from my aching back, and on taking three boxes I can conscientiously say that I am perfectly cured of all my complaints. I cannot too highly recommend this wonderful remedy."

High-Grade Cemetery Work
AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

The Serpent Mounds.

The popular fresh air trips to Idyl Wild on the steamer North Star are to be made additionally attractive on Wednesdays and Fridays. On these days the steamer will take the excursionists to witness the extraordinary serpentine mounds on Rosch's Point, Rice Lake. Are Quite Satisfied.

The following paragraph, which is taken from the Ottawa Journal, speaks well in reference to the war canoe which was built by the Wm. English Canoe Co. for the Ottawa Canoe Club:—"The new war canoe of the Ottawa Canoe Club was given its first trial last evening when the members of the crew used it for the regular practice. They took it about half a mile up the river and spurted back, and also tried several 'turns.' It was found to go splendidly. Those who were out in her were: Capt. Johnstone, Arthur Pinard, stroke, Harvey Pulford, Dufour, Edgar Woolsey, Walter Paterson, Bert Clayton, Howard Hutchison, Bert Cowan, Archie Bell, Gordon Stewart. The new canoe is the latest one built and probably the best one in Canada. The crew was entirely satisfied with it."

The Great Attraction This Week.

Gough Bros'. hurricane sale of summer clothing, hats, boots, gloves and furnishings for men, youths and boys will doubtless prove a great attraction this week. A shrinkage of $10,500 on the prices covered by their whole stocks in both stores since last week should be inducement enough to bring crowds to their counters. The prices represent their great reductions in summer stocks, including that portion of the clothing left over from their great sale of the E. A. Small & Co.'s mammoth purchase in Montreal. Everything that cannot be carried over is to be got rid of. The goods cannot be marked any lower, and in order to have the benefit of a fairly good selection they advise all to call early to get the pick of the choicest. The changed prices will probably clear out all the summer goods in about a couple of weeks. 2it

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

Canada's Young Men's Christian Association Takes the Lead.

The general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. has just received the annual report of the educational side of the work for the year ending July 1st, 1897, and the following extract are published with a view to paving the way for an announcement, to be made at a later date, regarding the courses the local association will pursue in the coming autumn and winter in the line of evening educational classes.

The Y.M.C.A. has during the past few years done a noble work in assisting young men who are employed through the day, and who have been deprived, because of their calling, of early education opportunities. Through the agency of evening class study thousands of young men have been reached, while hundreds have been promoted to higher positions.

The work is under the direction of the International Committee and Mr. Geo. B. Hodge, of New York, secretary, whose whole time is devoted entirely to the supervision of the work.

Each year at the opening of the fall season a prospectus is sent out containing the outline courses of study to be followed by the Association during the winter.

These embrace commercial, political, industrial and scientific subjects, as well as languages.

In April at the close of the course, examinations are held uniformly and certificates are awarded by the committee to candidates receiving 75 per cent. or over in the examinations.

During the present year there were 25,289 students in the Canadian and American Associations. 566 certificates were granted and of these the reports of the Canadian Associations take the lead—Canada securing a larger number than any State of the Union. This speaks well for Canada as the examinations were not taken by any other association prior to the present season. With the facilities the Peterborough Association has, a good work should be inaugurated and carried to a successful issue in the coming autumn and winter.

"CHRISTIAN SCIENCE."

A Tribute to "Mother Eddy"

Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, the mother of Christian Science, was visited at Concord, New Hampshire, on Monday, July 5th, by more than 2,500 ladies and gentlemen from all parts of the country who came through the sweltering heat to "Pleasant View" to pay their tribute of love and reverence to its mistress."

The main party came in two special trains of 12 cars each which reached the local station at 11.30 a.m. Every public conveyance in the city had been chartered to transport the crowd to Mrs. Eddy's residence and in a few minutes its beautiful and spacious lawns were black with people. Over two thousand Christian Scientists were present to greet the founder of the sect. She was welcomed by the mayor. Addresses were delivered by several ministers, who spoke of their resurrection from the grave, of the effete theology of the standard churches to the light of Christian science. Warm tributes were paid the "venerable" mother of "Christian Science."

THE YUKON'S CLIMATE.

A Few Cold Facts for the Klondyke Gold Fever.

The Meteorological Department at Toronto supplied a contingent of the Mounted Police who left for the Yukon in 1895 with a couple of self-registering thermometers, and during the following winter and summer a daily record of the temperature was kept by the sergeant at Fort Constantine.

Zero was first reached on Nov. 10th, and last recorded April 29th. Between those two days the temperature sank below zero on 136 days. The lowest reading was on Jan. 27th, 65 degrees below zero. The temperature was under 50 below zero on 24 days during the winter. During December and January it was below zero every day. The warmest day of January was 8 below, and the average of that month was 38 below.

The months of June, July and August are quite warm. The average temperature of July was 66 degrees, which is very little below that for Peterborough.

The figures indicate an intensely cold winter, followed by a short spring opening in May, and then a decidedly warm but short lived summer, a month of autumn and winter again.

Mark Street Methodist Church Notes.

The services in this church yesterday were unusually interesting. Rev. W. H. Moore's sermons were strong, powerful expositions of Divine truth. The pastor, Rev. J. E. Moore surprised the congregation by reading from the church register the entire list of the membership of the church as reported by his predecessor. The stewards meeting is called for next Saturday at 3 p.m. The singing by the church choir was very fine, and was complimented by the minister. The congregations are on the increase and Methodism is on the upward march. Don't forget Rev. W. H. Moore's lecture to-night at 8 o'clock on "Young Men and Maidens: Their Battles, and how to Win Them." Everybody should hear this talented young American Divine.

OBITUARY.

Demise of Mrs. S. R. Armstrong Yesterday Morning at Nine O'Clock.

The death occurred on Sunday morning last of Lizzie, wife of Mr. S. R. Armstrong, town clerk, Dublin street, who after a week's suffering from an attack of peritonitis, passed away at nine o'clock at the age of 34 years.

The untimely death of Mrs. Armstrong leaves motherless four small children, the eldest of whom is eleven years of age and the youngest 14 months.

The sympathy of the entire community will be extended to Mr. Armstrong in his trouble.

The funeral takes place from the family residence, Dublin street, at three o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

THE MICA MINES.

The Ninth Line Road of Dummer Needs Improving.

Mr. Bennett, of the mica mines, was in town last week. In conversation he stated that the new road around the head of the lake, which had just been completed, will greatly facilitate the development of the mining lands in the back country and in many ways benefit the settlers.

If the township, county and government, he added, could only be induced to vote a sufficient sum to improve the ninth line and make a first class waggon road of it the whole of the north country would be greatly benefitted. The settlers away back are now asking the government to extend the new road further north. A liberal grant should be voted by the Dummer council, as there is as much, if not more, travel on the 9th line than on any other road in the township. If the township authorities will take the initiative we are quite satisfied that the county and the government will make substantial grants.—Norwood Register.

CHURCH CHIMES.

In George street church at the morning service the Rev. Mr. Shorey gave an admirable sermon from St. Mark, 4 28 The congregation was large for the season. In his opening prayer he made touching allusion to the sudden death of Mrs. Armstrong, and in eloquent and pathetic strains invoked divine help and consolation on behalf of the bereaved husband and motherless children. Mrs. Armstrong will be greatly missed. She was an unassuming but efficient worker in all church enterprises.

CHEAP COAL PROMISED

The People's Coal Company to Locate at Belleville.

(From the Belleville Ontario.)

From present indications there is reason to expect that Belleville will have cheaper coal this year than it has for a number of years past. The organization styled "The People's Coal Company" promises to open an office here and has the site of the coal yards about selected. Mr. Chas. Leavens, of Buffalo, son of Mr. D. R. Leavens, is to manage this office.

This company has been awarded the contract of supplying the Deaf and Dumb Institution and is at present unloading coal at the Institution dock.

Messrs. T. A. Eldrige, F. V. Citadell, and J. H. McClellan were in the city yesterday and have about completed arrangements for this project. The People's Coal Company are miners of their own coal and are not in combination with other mines. The State line and Sullivan Railway Company, of Towanda, Pa., are the owners of these mines and they ship their coal over the Lehigh Valley Railway, from their mines to Fairhaven.

The head office of the firm is in Toronto and as the company has existed in Canada for seven years, there need be no doubt as to their reliability. There are other branches in Hamilton, London, Brantford, Guelph, Galt, St. Thomas, Whitby, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Fort Hope, Peterborough, Cobourg and many other places.

The price of the coal is not yet decided upon, but the proprietors state that it will be cheaper than the price paid here last year.

Norwood's New Block.

The workmen are rushing up Mr. J. B. Pearce's new store and post office very fast in Norwood. The brickwork was only commenced on Wednesday last and has now passed the second floor. The cellar for the other three stores adjoining has been excavated and the masons will commence work on the foundation at once. The cellar contained about 500 cubic yards of earth and was taken out in about three days. The block, when completed, will be one of the finest in the place. It will be as nearly fire proof as possible and besides will have fire proof vaults. Mr. Pearce's store and office are to be heated by the hot water system.

Surprised His Doctor.

"A little over a year ago I was laid up with bronchitis," says Stanley C. Bright clerk of Kingston. "My doctor's pills came to $42 and altogether my illness cost me $125. This fall I had another attack. I came across an advertisement in a newspaper for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for throat troubles. I thought I would risk a quarter and try it. It cured me. After this I intend to treat my own ills."

The Steamer Sunbeam

Will run a moonlight excursion from Chemong to Jacob's Island on Wednesday, July 28th. Leave Chemong Park at 8 o'clock p.m. Tickets for round trip 25 and 15 cents.

SOME BREEZY ITEMS FROM STONY LAKE CAMPS.

The Names of Some of Those Who are Enjoying Their Summer Vacations.

SUNDAY SERVICES ARE NOW BEING CONDUCTED.

The Annual Exodus From Peterborough to the Back Lakes has Already Began—About all the Cottages Are Now Occupied and There are Scores of Tenting Parties as Well —Large Numbers of Strangers Flocking Back to This Delightful Summer Resort.

Lovely, idyllic Stony Lake. It is at this season of the year that thy charms are most alluring and to thy arms the tourist flies for rest and resurrection.

The islets are now crowded with cottagers and campers and for the next three weeks the population will steadily increase as the Stony Lake season is not in full swing until the beginning of August. The exodus from Peterborough to the Lakes commenced, however, early in July this year, as the extremely warm weather turned the minds of the fortunate possessors of islands to their summer homes.

Probably in no former season has there been as many strangers back at Stony Lake as this year. The American visitors have been flocking in steadily during the last couple of weeks and Toronto is also represented. Nearly every island is now or tent, and flags are flying from every point of vantage on the lake. On Saturday evenings the lake looks particularly pretty as the cottagers vie with each other in seeing who will have the prettiest decorations and the largest bonfires. The lake boats are always crowded on these evenings, and even to the most experienced tourist the sight presented is one which thrills with its beauty.

A passing word is hardly sufficient to refer to the courtesy shown the passengers by the steamers' crews. More obliging officers would be impossible to find, and the service is growing more efficient every day. A steamer meets the morning train, and returning in time to connect with the evening train. In the afternoon another steamer meets the train and takes the down trip next morning from the Lakes to the train. On Monday, Thursday and Saturday the Sunbeam connects with the evening train and makes a trip to the Lakes, returning in the evening. On Wednesday she make a trip to Chemong, returning to Lakefield on Thursday to connect with the afternoon train leaving there.

This week the Majestic is connecting with the morning train from town and the Golden City takes up the passengers at noon. This week the Majestic will take the

SATURDAY NIGHT TRIP.

In connection with the Saturday night trips the City and Majestic have started a new system of conveying passengers around the lake, so as to save time and get them to their several destinations before the next morning, one which will be greatly appreciated by the public. On the arrival of the Majestic on Saturday night she will be met at the store on Juniper Island by the Golden City. One steamer will take all the passengers that have to be landed between the store and Boschink, and the other will take all the passengers that go between the store and Burleigh, thus saving considerable delay.

The routes as mentioned above are taken alternate weeks by the Majestic and the Golden City.

The new pavilion, at the store, is greatly appreciated by the cottagers.

Services were held in it yesterday morning by

REV. MR. McINNIS,

of Elora, assisted by Mr. R. J. Colville and Mr. Ackerman, of Toronto.

Considerable trouble was experienced by Mr. D. W. Dumble in procuring a preacher for the occasion, and it was not until about midnight on Saturday that he landed at Craig's island at the farthest end of the lake and asked Mr. McInnes to officiate. On Sunday morning Mr. David Breese went up in his steam yacht and brought the divine down to Juniper through the pouring rain. Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather, between seventy-five and a hundred campers had gathered in the pavilion. They were much edified by the practical address which Mr. McInnis gave. In the evening the services were held at Otter Island by Mr. Cole, and as the night was a beautiful starlight one hundreds gathered to attend, and the shore was lined with canoes, skiffs, sailboats and steam launches. As the shades of night drew on and made it impossible to see the hymnals, a monster bonfire was lighted, illuminating the whole end of the island and enabling the worshippers to follow the singing.

Large numbers had remained in their boats on the shore and many were paddling slowly backwards and forwards in the channel. Between the fitful flashes of the bonfire these latter could be seen flitting noiselessly to and fro and the effect was enchanting as the fantastic shadows were thrown out over the water. After service Mr. Breeze's yacht towed a long string of of canoes down to Fairy Lake and then back up the head again. One Sunday last year Mr. Breeze towed 22 canoes and skiffs to Cole's island, containing 87 campers in all.

The fishing has not been so good for a long time. Mr. D. J. Lundy made a fine catch on Saturday and Miss Pearl Lundy went out by herself and brought in EIGHT BEAUTIFUL BASS.

Capt. Reynolds and our friend Tough have spotted a rock out in the middle of the lake near the mouth of Gilchrist's bay, which is very prolific. They hauled in 28 fine ones the other day in a couple of hours. They used fish worms and report the fish as being very voracious. Messrs. Huther and Steve Truesdale, of Rochester, and Fred Addison, of Toronto, caught 48 on Friday.

Capt. Reynold's dog, "Pedro," had a great fight with a woodchuck in the water yesterday. Sometimes both dog and woodchuck would be out sight under water, but Pedro won out.

Amongst those who were noticed as being back at the lakes yesterday were the following:

Siberia Cottage:—Rev. Mr. Innis, Mrs. Innis and two children, of Elora; Mrs. Robertson and Misses Jessie and Jean and Master John, also of Elora.

Mr. John Craig, M.P.P., of Fergus and a large party, are expected to again occupy their old cottage by about the first week in August.

Miss Williams of Norwood has had her cottage finished at Maple Hurst. It is one of the prettiest on the lake. Mr. Hudspeth of Rochester, is also completing a new cottage just above that. Mr. R.W. Grubbe's cottage is not occupied as yet. Mr. Winch and family of Montreal are again in their summer home. Mr. Harry Winch of town is visiting them. Mr. Davidson and family of Norwood, are to be found on the main shore again, but Mr. Zach. Burnham's cottage near there does not seem to be occupied. Mr. Robert Lundy's place and a new outhouse has been erected.

Belle Chasse, Mr. Harry LeBrun's fine cottage, is occupied by himself and family, and there a welcome always awaits a caller. Mr. Ackerman's cottage has just been completed on the next island and is occupied by himself and family and a party from Norwood.

Mr. Harry Brock's hospitable doors stand as wide open as ever, and Mrs. Brock's Saturday evenings are still the feature of the east end of the lake. Miss Bessie is down again this year. Mr. Ross Cameron of Norwood was a guest on Sunday.

The Roxburgh cottage is as full of guests as ever. Amongst those who are at present there are Miss Roxburg, Miss Pearce, Mr. Fred Code and Mr. Carmichael.

Mrs. and Miss Craig of Belleville, have just moved into their cottage again and expect Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craig of Tweed next week.

Mrs. Pope has rented her cottage this year to some Americans. Mr. Gould and his family have just arrived at their cottages for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, of Peterborough, are occupying Rubia Cottage, and just opposite Mrs. Breese has a houseful of jolly girls from Toronto. There are eight of them and the gentlemen have their hands full looking after them. Amongst those registered there at present are Miss A. E. Johnstone, Miss Maggie Johnstone, Miss L. Bruce, Miss Florrie Cranfield, Miss Langlois, Miss Grace Langlois, Miss M. Bradshaw, Miss B. Hillier and Messrs. W. A. Mackenzie T. H. Hillier, J. Dickson and S. H. Jeffery. These all comprise one

PARTY FROM TORONTO.

There are, besides, Mrs. J. Imrie Ashcroft, of Montreal; Mrs. J. J. G. Terrill, of Belleville; Mrs. and Mrs. Fred. Addison, of Toronto; Mr. Huther and Mr. Steve Truesdale, of Rochester.

Mr. J. R. Donel, next door, also has a large number of guests registered at his cottage. Amongst them are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Morphet and Mr. J. Jeffreys, of town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sanderson have as hearty a welcome for friends as ever at their pretty cottage. Mr. W. H. Meldrum is spending a few days with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Shortly are occupying their summer home again. Miss Shortly is also there.

Mr. Graham Weir's cottage and one of Mr. Best's are closed up.

Mr. J. W. Butcher has quite a few with him at Kill Kare Island. Amongst them are Miss Lumsden, Miss Butcher, Miss Ball, Mr. Dave Yarnold and Mr. W. F. Green.

Mrs. Cluxton has with her Judge and Mrs. McDougall, and Miss McDougall, of Toronto, Dr. Young, V. C. McGill and Harold Cluxton, of town.

Sheriff Hall has his family at the lake with him, and as Sunday guests Miss Beckham and Messrs. Collins and V. E. Austin of town.

At Boschink there are Mrs. Pinkney and family, in Mr. Adam Hall's cottage; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cameron and children, and Miss Cameron, in Robt. Hall's cottage; Mrs. W. G. Ferguson and family, including Miss Kate Ferguson, Mr. Thos. Ferguson; Miss Bessie Connal, Mr. James Connal, Mr. Will Connal and Mr. Alexander Stewart.

Col. Sloan and party have not yet arrived at Boscobel, but Mr. Hopkins and his sons and their families are at Boschink camp.

Mr. D. W. Dumble has

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 90. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy in for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

TO RESTORE RESPIRATION

Treatment to Be Used in Cases of Apparent Drowning.

With the advent of warm weather people naturally seek recreation or exercise upon the water, and, as a result boating accidents are not infrequent, and deaths by drowning occur. In some cases of apparent drowning a knowledge of the principles for restoring respiration would save the life of the victim if promptly applied, and that the proper methods to use may be generally known an annual circular upon the subject has been issued.

In the case of a person apparently drowned the first thing to be done is to restore breathing; and, secondly, when the patient is breathing regularly, promote warmth and circulation. The efforts to restore breathing must be commenced immediately and energetically, and persevered in for one or two hours. Turn the patient face downward in the open air, removing all tight clothing from the neck and chest. Efforts to promote warmth and circulation, beyond removing the wet clothes and drying the skin, must not be made until after the appearance of natural breathing. If the circulation of the blood be induced before breathing has recommenced the possibility of the restertation of the patient will be endangered. To restore breathing place the patient on the floor or ground with the face downward and one of the arms under the forehead, in which position all fluids will more readily escape by the mouth, and the tongue itself will fall forward, leaving the entrance into the windpipe free. Assist this operation by wiping and cleansing the mouth.

Should this result in failure or only partial success, turn the patient on his side, and, supporting his head, excite the nostrils with snuff, hartshorn and smelling salts, or tickle the throat with a feather, etc., if they are at hand. Rub the chest and face warm and dash cold water or cold and hot water alternately on them. If this results in failure also replace the patient on his face, raising and supporting the chest well on a folded coat or other article of dress. Then turn the body gently on its side and return it briskly to its former position, repeating this motion several times. This action is of great importance, for by placing the patient on his chest the weight of the body forces the air out; when turned on the side this pressure is removed and the air enters the chest. To induce circulation and warmth commence rubbing the limbs upwards with handkerchiefs or flannels, and by increased energy the blood is propelled through the veins toward the heart. The friction must be continued under the blanket or over the dry clothing. Promote the warmth of the body by the application of hot flannels, bottles or bladders of hot water, heated bricks, etc., to the pit of the stomach, the armpits, between the thighs and to the soles of the feet.

On the restoration of life a teaspoonful of warm water should be given, and then, if the powers of swallowing have returned, small quantities of wine, warm brandy and water or coffee should be administered. The patient should be kept in bed and a disposition to sleep encouraged.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

An Acetylene Bunsen Burner.

Among the newest practical applications of calcium carbide is for use in a Bunsen burner. It not only gives an excessively high temperature, greater than that obtainable with the Bunsen burner and blow-pipe, but also permits of the use of the burner in isolated laboratories where gas is not available. The burner is like the ordinary form except that special dimensions of the tube are required. The gas jet is very small, being capable of delivering about one cubic foot at acetylene per hour under six inches water pressure. The air holes and collar are arranged in the ordinary Bunsen fashion.

Economy and strength are combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month.

It is with pleasure that I recommend B. B.B. for the cure of indigestion and impure blood. I had tried many medicines but received no benefit until, I thank Providence, I was advised to use B.B.B., and it resulted in a perfect cure.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

There were about 100 carloads of live stock on the market yesterday, 42 cars having arrived on Thursday and 60 on Friday. They consisted of 1500 cattle, 1400 hogs, 800 sheep and lambs, 100 calves and 25 milk cows. There seemed to be more export and butchers' cattle than were really needed, and the market was slow.

Prices ruled lower, and nearly all the dealers reported that values had receded from $3 to $4 per head on all kinds of fat cattle since Tuesday. Export cattle ranged from $3.65 to $4.40, the latter price being paid only for choice cattle. Butchers cattle, choice, sold from $3.50 to $3.75 and slow at that. A. W. Maycee stated that he had paid $4 for two loads of choice butchers' to ship to St. John, N.B., but this was the only sale that we heard of at that price for this class, and they were a picked lot.

Mr. McDonald of Huron County sold a picked lot of steers and heifers, weighing from 1000 to 1100 each, at $3.50.

George Robinson of Orangeville sold seven cows and heifers at $2.75.

Thomas Heal of Mitchell sold 22 cattle, export and butchers' mixed cattle, at $3.70 for the exporters and $3.50 for butchers'.

Heavy bulls were worth $3 to $3.50, and few, if any, light ones on the market and quotations remain the same as Tuesday. Stockers were in good demand at from $2.90 to $3. E. Maybee bought four carloads to ship to Ohio.

Mr. Murby was buying stockers for Buffalo, and J. H. McRoberts for Illinois market, and he will be on Tuesday's market for the same purpose.

Cows sold from $20 to $35, and about 25 changed hands.

Calves sold at $3 to $6 each, the latter price for extra choice only.

THE SAGE.

(A reply to Kipling's "Vampyr.")

A sage there was and he made his prayer
(Even as you and I)
To a lovely form of vesanty rare,
With bright blue eyes and golden hair;
The sage thought no one half so fair
(Even as you and I).

Oh, the life we live and the love we give,
And the work of a manly soul,
Belong to a woman good and pure,
While time wings on, while seasons roll,
And human hearts endure.

A sage there was, and his life he spent
(Even as you and I)
In the smile of love with a heart content,
With the joy and care that God had sent;
Where duty acted 'twas there he went
(Even as you and I).

Oh, the toil so sweet when loved ones meet
O'er the work that love has planned,
And the heart of the sage grows young with the age
Of a life as pure as a virgin page.
And the wife can understand.

* 1871 *

In this year Messrs. Mason & Risch started in business with small capital and no reputation, but with a determination to sell pianos of such unquestioned merit that each customer would be an aggressive advertiser for them.

* 1897 *

The enviable position that this firm occupies to-day is the best proof that their policy when they started was a wise one. They have sold over 6000 Mason & Risch Pianos in addition to many thousands of pianos and organs of other makers, establishing for themselves a reputation for piano building such as no other Canadian maker has achieved, also the recognition of prominent musicians in the United States and Europe. There is no experiment in getting a Mason & Risch.

Did ever a woman experience true happiness until she bent over her rosy-cheeked, sleeping babe, tired of play and forgetful of toys. Never. True happiness for a childless woman is nature's most emphatic impossibility. The world teems with otherwise happy wedded couples that only need the link of a babe's divided caresses to unite them in mutual happiness through all eternity. Any woman may assure herself of happy wifehood, long life, love, and the great blessing of motherhood, who will take proper care of her womanly self, and resort to the right remedy for weakness and disease of the delicate organs peculiar to her sex.

The best of all-known remedies for the special weaknesses and diseases from which women suffer is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly and only on the organs that bear the burdens of motherhood. It makes them strong and healthy. Taken during the expectant period it banishes the usual discomforts and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It insures a robust newcomer and an ample supply of natural nourishment. All good druggists sell it.

"It is my heart's desire," writes Mrs. M. E. Jimpson, P. O. Box 31, Kinderhook, Columbia Co., N. Y., "to tell you what Dr. Pierce's medicine has done for me. Two years ago I was in a very bad state. I took nine bottles in all of your 'Favorite Prescription.' I had been married five years and had not had any children. I now have a young son one year old. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription effected a positive cure—words cannot express my gratitude for the relief from the great suffering I so long endured. I do not think I should be here to-day had it not been for Dr. Pierce's medicines."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the liver, stomach and bowels.

ONLY A MISSING "M."

One Saturday morning I was sitting at my desk opening my correspondence, when I came across a letter which conveyed to me news that considerably shocked me. My old friend and client, Sir Douglas Renwood, was dead, and the letter announcing the sad intelligence was from his nephew, and ran thus:

"—— Cottage, Staines, June 1.—Dear Mr. Geary: I have to inform you of the sad death of my uncle. He passed away at ten o'clock last night. It was all terribly sudden. He caught a violent chill last week, which developed into inflamation of the lungs. We sent for Dr. Holmes, the leading doctor here, but he could do no good, and the end came last evening.

"I write to you because I think it desirable that you, as the leading family adviser, should come down here at once to arrange for the funeral, and also to go into other matters connected with my poor uncle's estate. Yours faithfully,

"MARK RENWOOD."

"Aha!" said I to myself, as I concluded the reading of the letter, "the other matters which Mr. Mark refers to are closely connected to himself. He is the next of kin. Douglas died unmarried. This means £20,000 a year to my young friend."

I then proceeded to continue my work of opening the morning letters, and, finding that there was nothing of urgent importance therein, I determined to act on Mark Renwood's suggestion and go down to Staines without a delay.

I sent for my head clerk and told him of my intention, bidding him also to find out when there was a train from Paddington. He soon returned with the information that I could catch a good one at 12.30, and I accordingly drove to Kensington and collected what I required for the journey, and an hour later was seated in a first-class carriage on my way to Staines.

I had announced my coming by telegraph from Paddington, and I was therefore not surprised to find young Renwood waiting for me when I alighted.

He was a tall, thin young man, with strong aquiline features and small, gray eyes. I had known him since he was at Eton, and he held out his hand to me with a cordial smile.

"I am delighted to see you come so soon, Mr. Geary," he said speaking in a hearty tone, "but I wish you had come on more joyous business. This is a sad affair, indeed."

"Sad enough," I rejoined, "and yet we must all die some day or other—else where would the young ones come in?"

The cottage was about half a mile from the station, and our journey took us along the river bank. As we passed the boathouse on the slope, he said, in a low voice:

"This is the spot where my poor uncle contracted the chill which caused his end. He and I were walking along this path one evening, when we heard a cry for help, and the next moment a child's head appeared above the water. I, of course, would have plunged in, but, as you have perhaps noticed, I am suffering from a temporary sprain, and could not swim an inch. My uncle, knowing this, threw off his coat, and, swimming to the spot where the child was fast sinking, rescued it just as the youngster came up for the third time."

"This Dr. Holmes," I queried, "was he a really good man?"

"I believe he is the best doctor in these parts. Had I known things were so serious I would have wired to town for our own man, but I never dreamed that such was the case."

"Poor old gentleman!" I said. "And he was to have been married soon, was he—not?"

"Yes. That is the oddest part of the business. He looked forward so much to giving up the state of bachelordom in which he had lived, and now—well, it's no use talking of the past."

"All the same," I could not help remarking, dryly, "it is not such a terrible thing for you that this marriage did not take place. Had it done so there might have been an heir to the estate, who would have cut you out most completely."

He looked up with a hasty glance.

"Oh, Mr. Geary," he said, "I cannot think of things like that at a time like this. My uncle was a father to me, and better than many fathers. I am well-nigh stunned by the blow—money matters just now seem to me very small indeed."

"Well, well," I said, somewhat testily, "we cannot do without money, whether we think of it or not. Put here we are at — cottage, for, I suppose, this is the place."

"This is the place," he answered. "Come in."

I followed him into the cottage and up the stairs, until we came to the room where the dead baronet lay.

I went slowly toward the bed on which my poor old friend and client rested, and, drawing aside the sheet which covered the dead face, took a last long look on the features I knew so well.

I was roused from my reflections by the entrance of young Renwood, who came up to the bedside and pulled out his cigar case, several papers dropping from his pocket at the time.

"Have a cigar!" he said, as I stooped to pick up the papers, and then, seeing a shade of annoyance that I could not conceal cross my face at the thought of smoking at such a time and in such a place, he said, hastily: "Perhaps we'd better not smoke, though; it's hardly decent in a room with death in it."

His sudden glow of proper feeling did not impress me and I merely handed him the papers he had dropped in silence.

One of these he handed back to me, "You'd better look at that, Mr. Geary," he said, abruptly; "that is Dr. Holmes' certificate of death."

I glanced at the document. Yes, it was all in order. "Douglas Kenneth Renwood, aged 67," and so on, but when I came to the heading, "Cause of Death," I gave a violet start.

"Good heavens!" I said to myself, "can this be possible—can this be possible?"

For something I had seen in that certificate had connected itself with something I had seen in another document that morning, and the sight of the two things filled me with an awful suspicion.

And I determined to act on that suspicion and to act at once. Asking Renwood to excuse me for half an hour, as I wanted to call on a legal friend, who lived in town, I hurried away.

I was going to call on Dr. Holmes, whose name was at the foot of the certificate recording the death of Sir Douglas Renwood.

I had to wait some time at the physician's house, as he had numerous consultations in progress. After an hour of terrible anticipation in the dull waiting-room, I was at length ushered into the doctor's presence.

"Dr. Holmes," I said, "I have not come to see you professionally, but rather to ask you one question."

He seemed surprised, but simply said: "Go on."

"Did you sign a certificate of death, through inflamation of the lungs, of Sir Douglas Renwood, who now lies dead at the place called —— cottage?"

He jumped up from his chair in amazement.

"My dear sir," he cried, "what on earth are you talking about? I know nothing whatever of Sir Douglas Renwood, except that he is reported to be a man of eccentric habits, as he refuses to have any servants in his house."

The suspicion which had been darkening in my mind grew darker as he spoke these words. In a moment I had risen from the chair, and, walking quickly to the doctor's side, I said:

"Doctor, there has been some foul play in this business. Sir Douglas Renwood lies dead and I have just seen a certificate of his decease bearing your name at the foot."

The doctor looked astonished.

"Then it is a forgery," he cried. "I have never signed a certificate of this man's death. More than that, I did not know even that he was ill."

I thought for a moment and then said:

"Our way is clear. We must go at once to the police station and get a warrant for the arrest of the man who produced that certificate as coming from you. That man is Mark Renwood, Sir Douglas' nephew and—heir."

The doctor gave me a quick glance.

"His heir, eh?" he said. "Come, perhaps we are on the brink of a discovery. It seems to me that there is more in this business than meets the eye."

I thought so, too.

An hour later Dr. Holmes, a couple of plain-clothed policemen and myself entered the cottage. Bidding the two men to be close at hand in case of need the doctor and I went straight upstairs in search of Mark Renwood.

He did not seem in the least astounded at the appearance of the doctor. Evidently he imagined that he was the "legal friend" on whom he fancied I had gone to call, for he held out his hand with a smile.

"Any friend of yours, Mr. Geary," he said, "is welcome here. Introduce me, please."

Wondering whether he was merely playing a part or was sincere, I formally introduced the two men.

"Dr. Holmes—Mark Renwood."

A terrible change came over Renwood's face and he clung to the table for support. He tried to speak, but words failed him. The look on his features told what I had already guessed.

There was no time for idle thought or conjecture. I touched the bell and the two constables appeared in a moment.

"I give this man in custody," I said, in a loud voice, "for uttering a forged death certificate. Whether a further charge, and a more serious one, will be added, remains to be seen."

Renwood uttered not a word. With a white, scared look, he suffered himself to be led from the house, and thence into a conveyance. Our way lay in the direction of the police station.

A coroner's inquest was held on the body of Sir Douglas Renwood, and the verdict of the jury, following on the doctor's post mortem examination, was "Wilful murder against Mark Renwood."

He was accordingly committed for trial at the next assizes.

The incident which served to convict him was the forged certificate. He could assign no reason for the forgery, and therefore the jury had no option but to conclude that the man who had administered to the deceased the subtle poison which caused his death was his nephew, the man who stood in the dock.

Sentence was passed accordingly, and on the night before his execution he sent for the chaplain and made a full confession.

"I killed my uncle by means of a drug which natives use in certain parts of India for medicinal purposes, and which leaves the features calm and composed after death. My uncle was about to marry, and, in the event of his doing so, and having issue, I knew that my chance of a great estate was gone. So I brought him down to Staines and kept him under lock and key in the cottage."

How did I discover the forgery? By the fact that I knew Dr. Holmes' handwriting, and detected the difference? Not a bit of it. The doctor's handwriting was as unknown to me as the first Pharaoh. No. It was simply on account of the fact that the death certificate bore the cause of death, "inflamation" being spelled with one "m."

In the letter from Mark Renwood with which this history begins the word occurred with the "r" omitted, and it struck me as being very curious that two men should make a mistake over the same word. So curious was this apparent coincidence that I pursued the inquiries which ended as I have described. If Mark Renwood had been a better speller he would, in all probability, be alive at this hour."—Cassell's Journal.

Not "Mrs. So-and So" in Russia.

A Russian gentleman recently traveling in this country and commenting on the gentleman as referring to his wife as "Mrs. So-and-So," said:

"I suppose the American holds his wife in as high esteem as the Russian holds his, but if at home I should speak of my better half as Mrs. Kaplon my friends would at once conclude that my domestic relations were not as pleasant as they should be and that I was thinking of a legal separation. When I first heard him speak of his wife as Mrs. Jones, for example, I felt almost like presuming on my acquaintance by intruding into his private affairs and asking him what the trouble was at home. Yet I soon learned that the custom was universal over here, but still I cannot get used to it. 'My wife' is the plain, blunt way I speak in Russia of the lady who, I suppose, I would have to call Mrs. Kaplon in polite society in Canada. In some of the more fashionable circles in St. Petersburg this New World social custom has been adopted, though I was told by a prominent Government official not long ago that the Czar disapproved of it."

Well, perhaps it was my fault, but never mind, I have a pot of "Quickcure" in my kit and it will cure our bruises before we get home. You never saw anything like the way it will heal a cut or a bruise of any kind, and for sprains and strains it is—well, it is just "out of sight."

HENRY IEVERS, L.D.S., Quebec, writes: "One of my children sprained her ankle, which became much swollen and discoloured. Some 'Quickcure' was spread on linen, and applied; the pain ceased at once, the swelling was gone the next day, and on the fourth day she walked to school as usual. I have also proved it to be a wonderful remedy for cuts and bruises.

Straw Scatteration.

"Sell the Straws!" "Sell at Once-- Only Sell, Sell."

There's the only thought in our minds now. We have a sort of unreasoning terror of carrying Straw Hats over to another season, and we have just bought 100 doz. STRAW HATS to be sold here and in our Toronto stores.

Neither the tariff that's past nor the tariff that's here nor the preferential tariff that we are to enjoy more fully next season, had anything to do with the curious prices at which we bought these several lines of Straw Hats.

BOUGHT TO GET YOUR GOOD WILL. We bought them because it gave us an opportunity to hand them out to you at over-the-sea prices--minus duties--minus profits to anybody--save a moderate one to us.

Without more explanations we will give you a few samples of the "Straw Satteration" that begins now:--

Extra Fine Split Straws and Bamboos, latest styles, ventilated or not, ordinarily worth from $1.50 to $2.00, now 75c.

Men's Fine Manillas, worth $2.50 and $3.00, now $1.50.

Ladies' Sailors, large flat Mackinaw Straws, also fine braids, to clear for 25c.

Fine Canton Braids, large, flat Mackinaw plaits and English Club Straws, for Men's wear. Latest shapes. Most merchants sell them from $1.00 to $1.50, our price 50c.

A big variety of Men's Straws, of different shapes and styles of braids, worth from 50c to 75c, now 25c.

Children's Straws to be sold at once for whatever they will bring.

At the lake many laughable incidents occur nearly every day, such as unintentional baths, etc. As an instance: one day this week, a young lady and gentleman at Dulce Domum were amusing themselves on the wharf at the cottage when the both of them slipped and fell into the water, the lady going in over her head, but the gentleman was a little more fortunate, only getting wet to his waist. Dry clothes were thus in order. Another--On Tuesday last one of Lakefield's prominent merchants, who makes Viamede cottage his stopping place at the lake, took a punt and went out to one of the steamers. In reaching to catch hold of one of the fenders of the boat, a big swell came along just then, and in an instant the gentleman took a header into the water. His trip home was delayed for a time.

Mr. R. Shaw, Government road commissioner, visited North Harvey on July 12th, paying up all those who had their portion expended. We may be sure he received a hearty welcome. We hope soon to have him back again on a like errand, which we feel sure will not be long as he is very prompt. As soon as he gets notice he is soon on the spot to pay up, so if there is any delay in the men getting their pay it is because the work is not finished or else Mr. Shaw has not been notified.

W. J. Ventress is working up a good trade in the market garden line; he visits Bobcaygeon twice a week, and his numerous customers speak well of the way they are served.

On July 19th the wife of Mr. Daniel Arscott presented her husband with a fine boy. Both mother and child are doing well.

Mrs. James Tate, who has been ill for some time with lumbago and siatica is recovering and will soon be about again.

Mr. N. Harris, who it will be remembered got his foot injured at Kennedy, Davis & Son's mill some time ago, is progressing favourably under the care of Dr. Thorne. The wound is now healed and he is able to be around on crutches; but it will be some time before he will be able to use his foot again, as some of the cords were broken as well as the bone. We hope he will soon be all right again.

On the 6th of July James Oliver, one of our councillors, received the sad intelligence from his brother John, who resides in Arizona, that their sister Mary, who having developed consumption here had gone to that place about two years ago to see if the change of climate would do her good, had died. Hopes were at first entertained that she would recover, but she succumbed to the dread disease. She was buried at Prescott, Arizona. The remaining members of the family have the sincere sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by the Doctors in the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

OTTAWA, July 26th.--It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent of this city with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills has definitely decided the objection as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine, and has been accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no question raised to this statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

Something Unusual

No matter how intense the heat, shopping keeps up unusually well here. It may seem strange to be selling so many goods at cost or below, but conditions warrant it. It is desirable to clean up stocks and especially towards the close of a season. There never was a time when bargains crowded each other more than they do now, and it is but fair to say that the steady crowds at the Golden Lion is an indication that nowhere will you find as many low prices as right here. LATEST CABLE NEWS.

South African Report in the House of Commons.

DENUNCIATION OF CECIL RHODES.

Also of the Chartered Company and Mr. Chamberlain But the Motion of Censure Failed But Protest from the Cretans Against Turkish Occupation — Cable News.

London, July 26.—The House of Commons was crowded to-day in expectation of a spirited debate upon the report of the select South African Committee appointed to enquire into the circumstances of Dr. Jameson's raid into the Transvaal and into the conduct of affairs of the South Africa Chartered Company.

After a number of questions, the Hon. Philip James Stanhope, Radical member for Burnley, moved, amid loud Radical cheers, a resolution that the House regretted the concessive character of the report of the committee, more particularly its failure to recommend that specific steps be taken with regard to the admitted complicity of Cecil Rhodes, and asking that Mr. Hawkesley, the attorney of Rhodes, be ordered to attend at the bar of the House and to produce the telegrams which he refused to show the committee.

Mr. Stanhope, who has been described as "A revolutionary aristocrat without being a Mirabeau," supported his resolution in a vigorous speech. He attacked the Chartered Company, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, and Cecil Rhodes, and expressed a desire that the latter should be deposed from his membership in the Privy Council. He also wanted the charter of the company materially modified.

Mr. Henry Labouchere spoke in the same strain. He said he thought that if Canada should be raided by the Secretary of State of the United States without the assent of the President, England would not be satisfied if the Secretary of State were treated as Cecil Rhodes had been.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said the Government would have to consider whether Rhodes should remain in the Privy Council. But in dealing with him it must take into consideration the services he had rendered generally. All the damaging rumors alleging complicity on the part of the Colonial Office had been exploded as fast as they had been produced.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader, defended the committee, and said he thought the report conclusive on all important points. He strongly defended Mr. Chamberlain, and declared that his action at the time the raid occurred disproved all insinuations of complicity. The charges that the committee had plotted to suppress certain evidence were worthy only of contempt. He hoped, he said, he would not live to see the day when a majority of the House should declare by vote that they did not trust the word of its statesmen.

Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman, Liberal member for the Stirling district, supported the committee report.

Mr. Chamberlain reminded the Opposition that it was due to their insistence that the committee had been appointed and that he himself had been made a member of it. He had been in a position, he said, in which he felt like judge, witness and defendant, and he thought he deserved the sympathy of the House from the fact that during the 18 months of difficult South African negotiations he had been worried by constant irresponsible charges and suspicions, and he was glad that he was able to speak at least as a free man. As to the telegrams, he said, he had nothing against their publication. Whatever they contained was no evidence against the Colonial Office. He was convinced that while Cecil Rhodes' fault was as great as a politician and a statesman could commit, there was nothing that affected his personal character as a man of honor. It was said he had deceived others. So also did Garibaldi, Cavour and other patriots. It was a military necessity. Mr. Labouchere, by bringing outrageous charges against Rhodes, Beit and Harris, had abused the privilege of Parliament. The speaker contended that Rhodes had already been heavily punished. The Government was not going to prosecute him and to deprive him of his Privy Councillorship, which had been conferred upon him for his great service, would alienate his loyalty to South Africa. Mr. Chamberlain had, he was glad to be able to state, that the position of South Africa was better now than it had been at any time since the raid, and President Kruger was desirous to meet the Government in a proper spirit. He believed that the time was not far distant when Rhodesia would have self-government.

Mr. Chamberlain announced that the charter of the company would not be revoked, but that means would be taken to strengthen the directorate so as to secure more direct Imperial control of Rhodesia. He was preparing a scheme which he expected would be put in temporary shape before Parliament met again.

Mr. Stanhope's motion was lost, 304 to 77.

ALMOST SHOT THE QUEEN.

And the Young King of Spain Was in Danger as Well.

Madrid, July 26.—Queen Regent Christina and King Alfonso had a narrow escape from a serious accident today. While they were walking in the woods at St. Sebastian a heavy load of shot, discharged by a youth who was out bird shooting, and who had not noticed their presence, passed close to their heads.

A despatch from Arenas, Santander Province, says that a dynamite cartridge was exploded there this morning in front of the residence of the Alcalde. Considerable damage was done. The police have made several arrests. It is believed that the outrage was politically inspired.

ENGLISH PRESS ON GERMANY.

Satisfaction That the Bumptious Kaiser Has Had a Set Back.

London, July 26.—The English newspapers devote a good deal of space to the situation in Germany, and record with thinly disguised satisfaction the defeat of the Emperor in the Prussian Diet over the law of Associations Bill.

The Globe says: "The struggle in which Emperor William has just been defeated is a conflict between himself and his people. It is to be wished, rather than confidently anticipated, that he may have the wisdom to accept his discomfiture with dignity and good temper."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The vote is a significant rebuff. But Frederick the Great always had his way, and William the greatest must not lag behind. The little facts that there is no Frederick the Great now, that universal suffrage exists in Germany and Prussia, and that people will talk nowadays, don't count."

The Westminster Gazette says: "The Kaiser has had a very nasty check in his own country. It is a strong protest against the attempt to place power in the hands of officialdom at the expense of civil liberty."

The St. James' Gazette says: "The Germans will stand a good deal of dragooning, but there are limits. They won't be treated like Russians and Turks."

WINNINGS OF THE CANUCKS.

About Fifteen Hundred Dollars in the Pot and $450 Outside.

Bisley Camp, July 26.—(Telegram Cable.)—The approximate winnings of the Canadians in the competitions closed on Saturday are something over £300, the undivided winnings going in the neighborhood of £90. Some of the men think that the action of the D. R. A. in deducting the entry fees from the winings would bear revision and amendment.

The team are so well pleased with their own officers that it is proposed to recognize Major Mason's efforts in their behalf by making him a present in a few days, at the High Commissioner's office in London.

Capt. White won the silver cup presented by Sir Donald Smith, and the Canada Company's cup was captured by Lieut. Davidson.

PACIFIC CABLE SCHEME KILLED.

Mr. Chamberlain and the Colonial Premiers Have So Decreed.

London, July 26.—The Standard publishes a long account of the principal conference between Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, and the Colonial Premiers, which confirms the despatches already sent out by the Associated Press and, in addition, announces the abandonment of the Pacific cable scheme.

The St. James' Gazette, commenting upon this account, says:

"The substance of the whole thing is that the Colonial Office and the Colonial Premiers have decided to leave matters about as they were. There is no denying that this is somewhat disappointing."

Clayton-Bulwer Treaty Does Not Apply.

London, July 26.—In the House of Commons to-day the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, the Hon. George N. Curzon, replying to James Francis Hogan, anti-Parnellite member for Mid-Tipperary, who asked if the Clayton-Bulwer treaty was considered of binding force by Great Britain and the United States as bearing upon the annexation of the Sandwich Islands by the latter, said the treaty contained no agreement recognized by either power as affecting Hawaii.

Britain's Wheat Crop is Poor.

London, July 26.—The Agricultural Gazette recently sent out a circular asking information on the subject of crop prospects. The circular elicited 738 replies, the substance of which shows that the wheat crop for the United Kingdom is much below the average. Barley is up to the average; oats and potatoes are slightly below it, and hay in most districts is considerably above it.

THE NEW GOLD LAND

No Abatement of Excitement Out West.

THE TRUTH TOLD BY NANAIMO MEN

Inspector Scarf of the Mounted Police Heard From: Letters Carried for a Dollar Each Customs Officers Send from Victoria A Millionaire Might Starve.

San Francisco, July 26.—Instead of abating, the Klondike craze grows more intense. Preparations for the departure of the Cleveland yesterday merely added to the mining fever that has swept over the city. All day long Mission-street wharf, where the steamer was moored, was thronged with men and women. Every longshoreman who tramped up the gangplank was pointed out as one of the "Klondikes," and instantly that man became a hero.

The crew of the ship caught the general contagion, and paused in their work to discuss plans for deserting at St. Michael's and making their way to Dawson. By night the majority made no secret of their intention to carry out this plan, and an acquaintance of Captain Hall offered to wager a new hat that the steamer would be compelled to remain at St. Michael's all winter for lack of men to bring her back.

People who are not excited are aghast at the possible fate awaiting the thousands of unprepared adventurers rushing into the frozen Northwest.

Words of caution are not wanting from those who are at Klondike and those who have been here. J. B. Dyer of this city, who has been working along the Yukon River and has claims upon Chicken River, and also upon the Klondike, has been credited with making fabulous sums.

One rumor says that he sent to his wife in Oakland $400,000. Fearing that these exaggerated stories might induce others to go to the mines unprepared she has issued the following card of warning:

Fearing that the stories circulated concerning my husband, Mr. J. B. Dyer, may create a wrong impression and induce many to go to Alaska without means, I beg to state that the claim, which promises to be valuable, is as yet unopened, and instead of returning this fall he will remain in Alaska and develop the property. It is needless to say that my little daughter and I do not "accompany him in the spring on his return to Alaska." Yours truly,

Mrs. J. B. Dyer.

J. B. Elderidge of Alameda, who has mined all through the Yukon region, warns people not to go unprepared for the winter. "The man who goes up next spring will be just as well off as the man who goes up now," said Mr. Elderidge. "In fact he will be better off, for he will not have to stand the winter. Many who are starting for the Klondike now will probably not get further than St. Michael, for winter comes suddenly in that country. The Yukon is a wide, shallow river, and only boats of the lightest draught can navigate it. I shall go up next spring, and shall be in just as good a position as the men who start now."

WHAT A NANAIMO MAN SAYS.

Would Not Advise Men to Go to the Klondike Expecting Big Wages—Where the Strike Was.

Nanaimo Free Press, July 19.

There was considerable excitement in this city yesterday when the noon train arrived from Victoria, and W. Sloan and J. Wilkinson, having returned from the Yukon, unexpectedly stepped from the train, to be heartily greeted by those who happened to be at the station.

Mr. William Sloan accorded a Free Press. The party proceeded to the Stewart and Pelly River section and did considerable prospecting, principally on McQuestion Creek, a branch of the Stewart. They worked in this section, in which there were several other parties out prospecting, until September, when they pulled up stakes, after several months of unsuccessful work.

Early in September the party started to go down the Yukon River to Forty-Mile Creek, in the hope of obtaining work in the mines in that vicinity, or to find some ground on which they could make at least a grub stake.

When the party were proceeding down the river they met a man coming up the river to hunt moose in the Stewart River, where they are found in great numbers. He told them of the great strike that had been made on the Klondike River, and stated that he had himself staked a claim, but wanted to "raise the wind" by moose hunting before commencing mining operations.

He stated that the strike had been made on Aug. 12th.

On arriving at the Klondike the party found that the strike was on Bonanza Creek, but that all the available ground had been staked off before they got there. They then staked off claims on Adams and Eldorado Creeks, being branches or gulches off the Bonanza Creek. On Adams Creek they found nothing, but the Eldorado gulch turned out to be the richest gulch ever discovered in the country. The pay ground is only four miles in length, and as each claim is 500 feet wide, extending from rim to rim of the gulch, there was not room for more than 45 claims. It is from this short gulch that all the rich strikes have been made. The claims the party had were Nos. 14 and 15, and adjoining that of Zippy, who claims to have taken out $50,000 from a very rich and exceptional pocket that he struck. One strange feature of this gulch is that the pay streak is found in one claim on one side of the creek, and perhaps in the next claim on the other side of the stream.

On Bonanza Creek only about ten claims are being worked, and at the mouth of Adams Creek two paying claims were discovered and are being worked. On Skookum Pup Creek only one claim was paying. Nearly all the ground on the small streams running into the Bonanza and Eldorado Creeks had been staked off, but nothing of

We know that Cod-liver Oil is a fat-forming food because takers of it gain rapidly in weight under its use and the whole body receives vital force. When prepared as in Scott's Emulsion, it is quickly and easily changed into the tissues of the body. As your doctor would say, "it is easily assimilated." Perhaps you are suffering from fat starvation. You take fat enough with your food, but it either isn't the right kind, or it isn't digested. You need fat prepared for you, as in Scott's Emulsion.

"SHOW YOUR HAND, SIR."

The Bobcaygeon Independent extends this invitation to Mr. Whitney, leader of the Ontario Opposition. The Independent remarks that the Ontario educational system is the best now existing. It leads the van in world's educational procession. But, though it is better than any other system, it is far from perfect and must be regarded only as an experiment * * * Improvements will be introduced as time goes on, and it is to the credit of the Provincial Government that it is not bound by any hard and fast principles which admit of no variation." The Independent then wades into Mr. Whitney's glittering generalities in the following terse and pointed style;

Mr. Whitney, the leader of the Opposition in the Provincial Parliament, on his recent electioneering tour made a strong point of school reform in his indictment of the Provincial Government. But he does not make any clear and definite references to the defects of the school system. He simply says that the system is bad and that if he is put in Mr. Hardy's place he will make it better. He finds fault with the system only in a general way, and asks to be put into a position where in a general way he can improve it. This won't do. He must clearly refer to what he considers defects, and then state explicitly what remedies he will apply. Before we can entrust to the hands of of any person, or any party the power vested in the Government, we must know clearly what is the new policy and what are the faults that require remedying. Mr. Whitney has not yet made the slightest explanation of any proposed policy, nor has he specified any fault that he would correct. The voters will not put aside Hardy with whose policy they are well acquainted and replace him with Whitney who has no policy whatever. Especially on this question of school reform must Mr. Whitney publicly declare his views. At present he has none, or if he has he keeps them secret, but until he distinctly proclaims what he objects to and what he proposes to do, the electorate will not be disposed to place power in his hands.

This language applies with as great force to all Mr. Whitney's attacks as well as to his criticisms of the Hardy Government's administration of the school system. For the past twenty years Mr. Whitney's party has been attacking the course of the Mowat Government without "coming down to hard pan," making vague and general charges, which they have not had the courage to put into specific shape. Failing anything substantial to find fault with, failing to originate a policy that would promise anything better than what they grumbled at in vague terms, they have resorted, at the several general elections, to some "fake" cry. When the Opposition leader did not lead the charge on King Williams' white steed, spurred on by an "Eye-opener," he dashed to the onslaught, waving the green flag of Ireland, and his battle cry was the woes of Hibernia's down-trodden sons in Ontario. For the past score of years the Opposition has been fighting against the farmers, discrediting the Agricultural College, yet they have failed to show one reason why it should be be abolished, and to formulate one specific charge of any importance against its management. They have ignored the work it has been doing in the interests of the farmers, and while they grumbled they failed to suggest in one single respect how its efficiency could be increased. The complaint has been made in season and out of season that too much money was spent upon the Agricultural College, forgetting that there is hardly a possibility of too much money being spent upon an institution that is specially maintained in the interests of farmers, who compose seven-tenths of the population of the province. And so it goes through all the public service; we have paltry carping and puerile fault-finding but no propositions looking to better administration—merely the expression of a desire for office. If Mr. Whitney and his friends think they can govern the province better than Mr. Hardy and his colleagues, they certainly should be able, after twenty years trying, to show in some one little definite way how they would go about it and what reforms they would suggest. The people demand, in connection with the Bobcaygeon Independent, that they show their hand. They must present some reasons why they should be intrusted with the government of the province, beyond the vague claim implied in the grumble that the present Government is doing the job badly, before they will be trusted by the people.

LUMBERMEN IN A HOLE.

If Canada Puts an Export Duty on Logs They Will Be Hit Seriously on Both Sides of the Line.

Bay City, Mich., July 26.—Since the passage of the tariff bill some of the lumbermen who own Canadian pine are in a box. One firm has a contract for putting in 25,000,000 to 50,000,000 feet of logs next winter with an option only as to quantity, but the contractor must get the word how much next week. If they should put in 25,000,000 and the Canadian Government should impose an export duty of $3 a thousand they would have to pay $75,000 besides the tow bill to get the logs across the lake. If they should have the logs cut in Canada they would have to pay $4 duty or more, besides the freight, in order to get the lumber into the United States. This uncertainty is likely to prevent logging in Canada next winter by all except those having binding contracts to meet.

WHEAT, CORN AND OATS.

The Visible Supply in the United States and Canada East of the Rocky Mountains.

New York, July 26.—The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada east of the Rocky Mountains at the dates mentioned below and changes for the wek were as follows:

July 26, 1897—16,031,000 bushels of wheat, 16,179,000 bushels corn, 6,651,000 bushels oats. Increase, 707,000 bushels wheat, 1,049,000 bushels corn. Decrease, 352,000 bushels oats.

There was an increase in the visible supply of wheat from the corresponding week of last year of 399,000, an increase in corn of 144,000 and a decrease of 574,000 of oats.

The visible supply of wheat in the United States and Canada, and the amount of wheat and flour now in transit to Europe, is equivalent to 28,191,000, against 67,302,000 one year ago, and of corn 24,399,000, against 13,130,000.

WHO WAS THE SUICIDE?

A Fairly Well-Dressed, Strong Looking Man Jumped from One of the Ferry Boats at Windsor.

Windsor, Ont., July 26.—An unknown man committed suicide at 10 o'clock this morning by jumping into the river from the ferry Victoria. Just after she left the Windsor dock, a deck hand, who stood near the man, said that after the boat had cleared the dock the stranger walked to the outer gangway, and after looking at the water in a hesitating manner for a moment made a quick dive head first into the river. He came to the surface and a life preserver was thrown him. It did not go within his reach, and then a long wooden bench was shoved into the water. He got hold of this and rolled it over several times, but pushed it away. Then he swam about for several seconds and another life preserver was thrown him. He caught hold of this and was pulled to the side of the boat, but as one of the men stopped to get hold of him he released his grasp and sank from sight. The men on the ferry say they feel sure he wanted to drown. He is described as about 30 years old, fairly well dressed. He wore a mustache of light color and was a tall, strong looking man.

The Pope's Health.

London, July 26.—The Rome correspondent of The Pall Mall Gazette says that in spite of the intense heat the Pope is in his usual state of health. Indeed, he is feeling much better than he felt last winter. He is again directing special attention to the question of international arbitration, which he considers a matter appertaining peculiarly to the papacy.

An Alpine Climber Killed.

Paris, July 26.—A special despatch from Grenoble says that the body of young Sorrel, the daring Alpine climber, whose venturesome feats have attracted attention this summer, and who started on the 18th to make the ascent of Mount Taillefer, has been found at the bottom of a deep crevasse, with his neck broken. Mr. Sorrel was only 19 years of age. Evidently he had lost his way in the fog.

OF FRENCH ORIGIN

But Loyal to the Core to the British Empire.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER'S PROTEST

Against the Wrong Construction Put On His Speeches by Some Quebec Papers—He Could Not Decline the Title Conferred Without Being Offensive to the Queen.

Montreal, July 26.—(Special.)—Mr. Joseph H. Jacob received a letter to-day from Hon. George Lane Fox, Vice Chancellor of the Primrose League, stating that Mr. George Pym, M. P. for Bedford in the Imperial House of Commons, had sailed for Canada, and would be in Montreal within a few days. It is intimated that Mr. Pym will take into consideration the founding of branches in the New Dominion.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier protests in a letter addressed to a friend in Montreal against the interpretation of some of his utterances while in London. He says: "I was represented as saying at the banquet of the Lord Mayor of London that my heart was English. I was replying to a toast proposed by the Lord Mayor, who had been speaking as if the British Empire was composed of only English, and who constantly used the words, 'The English race.' I said that all the subjects of the Empire were not of the English race; that I was myself of the French race, and that I was proud of my origin. I am proud of my origin, but I am British to the core. Certain newspapers translated British 'Anglais,' and core 'coeur.' These two words, as many others, cannot be literally translated, but they meant that, although French by origin, I was profoundly attached to the British institutions. As to the titles and honors which were conferred upon me, I was not consulted as to their acceptance. I found the decree, signed by the Queen, awaiting me when I arrived in London. Is there a reasonable man who can say that under the circumstances I could have refused to accept it and throw the official document from Her Majesty into the basket? The question is not to be discussed."

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

THE NEW GOLD LAND.

much account had been found on any of them. The section above alluded to is known as the Bonanza Creek Mining District.

On Hunker Creek all the available ground has been fully staked, and while the anticipations of this district are of the brightest character, still up to the time Mr. Sloan left there had been no strike made. The ground in this section as well as in the Bonanza District was very much spotted, and it was hard to say what would be the final result of the prospecting.

Mr. Sloan estimates that 3000 persons are now in the Bonanza and Hunker Districts, and in his opinion that number will be fully capable of supplying all the labor that will be required this summer and next winter. The wages paid last winter was $1.50 per hour, but the hours were limited from 5 to 10 hours, according to the length of daylight. The probability, however, is that, with the large influx of people, the wages next winter will be down to the standard wage of that country—$1 per hour.

Press representative an interview this morning in which he gave the following particulars:

In company with Thomas Flack, J. Wilkinson and W. Scouse he left here in March, 1896, and proceeded to the Yukon River country. The particulars of their trip through the Chilcoot Pass and the hardships they endured have already appeared in detail in The Free.

Mr. Sloan explains that there are two classes of claims or systems of mining—one for the winter, the other for the summer.

The cold being very intense, reaching between 60 and 70 degrees below zero, it is only the deep or hill claims that can be worked in the winter. These claims are worked by sinking or drifting to the bed rock, which is from 10 to 25 feet below the surface. This ground is frozen hard, the frost even penetrating to the bed rock, which is of a slaty formation. This frozen ground, which is principally gravel, is thawed out by large wood fires, which softens the ground for a few inches, and the pay dirt taken to the surface, where it remains till summer and is then washed out. Owing to the clear dry atmosphere of that region work can be continued about every day during the long dreary winter. It is from these winter claims that the much exaggerated strikes have been made.

The summer claims are the shallow bar and creek claims, which can only be worked during the warm season. These claims require an outlay of $10,000 and upwards before they can be got ready, and it will take a year or two, and in some cases three years' work, cutting ditches, sluicing drainage, etc.

Mr. Sloan, while admitting the undoubted richness of the Klondike section, contends the results and amounts credited are exaggerated. Like every other mining country and mining excitement, there are sure to be very many who will be grievously disappointed with their trip to the Klondike district. The Yukon is a region of vast extent and great possibilities, but at present every inch of known paying ground has been staked off. Mr. Sloan says from what he has seen he really could not conscientiously advise anyone to leave a good situation and a comfortable home to take the chance of being close on hand should a new discovery be made.

Mr. Sloan says that law and order is as pronounced in the Klondike section as in any part of the civilized world. The Northwest Mounted Police, under command of Captain Constantine, have the esteem of the entire community in their careful government of the country. So far the only contravention of the law has been an assault arising out of a gambling dispute. The police at present have their barracks at Forty Mile, but are now busy erecting new barracks at Dawson City, at the mouth of the Klondike, which they intend to make their permanent headquarters, until another excitement may change the base of operation.

INSPECTOR SCARF'S LETTER.

Another Mounted Police Official Writes to Ottawa About the Wealth of the Klondike Country.

Ottawa, July 20.—A letter was this morning received from Inspector Scarf, who has recently entered the Yukon territory in charge of the Northwest Mounted Police. The letter is dated Fort Constantine, June 19. He states that from Juneau there is no regular mail, but once in a while people going out take letters for $1 a letter, and if we are lucky enough to strike them in time they can get one out.

Of the journey he says: "We only arrived on the 12th of this month, and this is the first mail which has gone out, and there will not be another for some time. We did not have nearly such a long walk as we anticipated, only having to go about 100 miles, the ice being so unsafe we could not go further. And on Lake Bennett I made my permanent quarters. It took us twenty days to build our three boats, and we had the most perfect weather all that time, and were camped in a lovely spot, well sheltered from the wind, and managed to make our camp very comfortable. The only thing to mar the pleasure was the continual round of bacon and beans, which palls on you when you get it three times a day."

From Lake Bennett the trip was grand, 'the nights being as light as day."

Speaking of Klondike he says: "Klondike is booming, and the wealth of the mines is really marvelous; money is thrown about just like water, and things are frightfully expensive. I bought some moose meat the day before I got into Klondike, about 80 pounds, and paid $6 for it. At Klondike I was offered from $60 to $100 for the same.

"Grub is so very scarce that although a miner might have a million in his pocket he might still be starving. This will continue until the boat gets up in about a week. Everybody has to purchase a year's supply on the arrival of the boat, and the grub stake costs about $300 for us who draw rations. You will hardly realize the expense of everything up here, and a man needs his increase of salary for serving in this country.

"We celebrated Her Majesty's birthday when on Lake Bennett by building a rousing bonfire, drinking her health in tea and singing the National Anthem, winding up with three good old British cheers and a tiger which aroused the echoes."

The Klondike is High.

Winnipeg, Man., July 26.—It is learned late to-day in a letter just received from Klondike that no mining is going on in the summer season there, owing to the high water.

A Winnipegger has accepted work at $15 per day till winter sets in in September.

Customs Officers Sent.

Ottawa, July 26.—Telegraphic orders have been sent to the customs authorities at Victoria, B. C., to send one officer to Dyea and two others to Taggish Lake, 50 miles further on. This is in consequence of the agreement arrived at with the American Government, constituting Dyea a custom port. British goods entering the Yukon by this route will be accompanied to Taggish by an American officer.

Says It's All True.

Belleville, Ont., July 26.—Dr. Wills, of the Mounted Police at Fort Cudahy, writing under date June 10 to his father here, confirms all that has been told as to the richness of the Klondike country.

350 for the Gold Fields.

Port Townsend, Wash., July 26.—The steamer Mollgo has left here with 400 passengers, all except 50 being bound for the gold fields. They went well provisioned and equipped. Many have supplies for a three years' stay. The party was made up of men representing all callings and professions.

Winnipeg Exhibition Had a Successful Day to Finish Up With.

Winnipeg, July 26. (Special.)—The Winnipeg exhibition closed to-day with the largest attendance of the week. Nearly 12,000 people were on the grounds, and notwithstanding the wet weather the fair has been a financial success.

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by the Doctors in the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

OTTAWA, July 26th.—It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent of this city with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills has definitely decided the objection as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine, and has been been accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no question raised to the statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

Shortness of Breath

On procuring Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I found to my surprise and delight that they gave almost instant relief. I got healthy, restfull sleep, my heart troubles disappeared, and I now feel very well and strong indeed." Mr. Hugh Moore, Ingersoll, Ont., makes this statement for the public good.

CATTLE AND SHEEP SAVED.

They Were Thrown Overboard from the Baltimore City and Swam Ashore.

Halifax, N.S., July 26.—The steamer Harlaw arrived this afternoon with 163 cattle, 35 sheep and 500 bales of feed from the stranded steamer Baltimore City. The latter had seven or eight feet of water in her after-hold and three or four feet in her forward hold. When the Harlaw left the cargo was all in the ship except a small lot taken out by the steamer Nimrod. Captain Farquhar thinks the steamer will be floated successfully. The Baltimore City ran on a rock about two years from Flat Island in a thick fog. In a few hours the cattle and sheep were thrown overboard and they swam ashore.

DIED FOR HIS BROTHER.

The Boys Went In Swimming, Couldn't Swim and One Was Lost.

Stouffville, Ont., July 26.—A sad drowning accident occurred at Glasgow, about five miles from here, on Saturday night.

Two of Mr. Simeon Davis' boys were bathing, when the smaller one got beyond his depth. The older boy jumped in to save him, and being unable to swim was drowned. The younger boy managed to cling to a root and was saved.

In this year Messrs. Mason & Risch started in business with small capital and no reputation, but with a determination to sell pianos of such unquestioned merit that each customer would be an aggressive advertiser for them.

* 1897 *

The enviable position that this firm occupies to-day is the best proof that their policy when they started was a wise one. They have sold over 6000 Mason & Risch Pianos in addition to many thousands of pianos and organs of other makers, establishing for themselves a reputation for piano building such as no other Canadian maker has achieved, also the recognition of prominent musicians in the United States and Europe. There is no experiment in getting a Mason & Risch.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our

The danger of going into water while the body is in a state of perspiration cannot be too strongly urged upon bathers. Several drowning accidents from this cause have already taken place this summer. If people would only take time to think many of these fatalities might be averted.

Thanks to the Fire Brigade.

Everett desires, through THE EXAMINER, to heartily thank the members of the Fire Brigade for the very prompt and effective services they contributed last night in the extinction of the fire at his residence on Murray street Their extreme promptitude prevented theloss from being very much greater.

Thirteen Hours of Rain.

Last night rain began falling shortly after 11 o'clock, and continued till half-past twelve to-day. The total rainfall for the thirteen hours was 2 inches and 17-100, of which about one inch fell during the night and the remainder this morning. Since last Thursday the rainfall has amounted to almost three inches—2 inches and 92 100.

A Camping Party.

Harry Faint, Sam Choate and Frank Burnham arrived home on Friday evening last on the Steamer City of Peterborough from a two weeks cruise on Rice Lake and the Trent waters. They report bass fishing very good at Jubilee and Trent bridge, but experienced a severe thunderstorm on Rice lake on Sunday morning, July 11th. The wind was so strong that it blew the tent down.

Charlotte Street Church Music.

The singing in the Charlotte street Methodist church was especially excellent on Sunday. In the morning the quartette, Shelly's "The King of Love my Shepherd is," was contributed by Miss Florence Hall, Mrs. Arthur Brooks and Mr. A. L. Davis. The offertory solo by Mrs. Brooks was "Behold I Stand at the door," by Jude. In the evening theanthem was a duet of Shelly's "Hark, Hark my Soul,"] by Mrs. Brooks and Mr. Davis. During the service Mrs. Brooks sang by request, "Calvary," and after the sermon the hymn, "We are waiting, we are watching." Mrs. Brooks singing was a delightful treat to the large audience that heard her on Sunday. Her cultured voice, artistic methods and sympathetic interpretation, gives her singing a charm which affords the greatest pleasure to those who have the privilege of hearing her.

YOUNG TILL TAPPERS.

Two Boys Attempt to Rob Mr. James Long's Cash Drawer.

At about seven o'clock last evening a crash in the store of Mr. Jas. Long, confectioner, attracted the attention of the passers by, and immediately afterwards two small lads about ten or eleven years of age ran out of the door.

One of them turned up the old Y.M.C.A. stairway, and the other ran up Hunter street and over into Ashburnham.

Police Constable Adams was standing just across the street at the time, and noticing the guilty looks of the pair, he decided to capture the lad who had gone up the stairway, but the place must have been an old runway for the youngster, as he had slipped down a back stairway and had disappeared.

On enquiring in the store it was learned that it was empty at the time of the entry of the boys, but Miss Mahony's attention was drawn from the rear by the sound of a crash. She ran to the front of the store and saw the pair disappearing out of the door. The money drawer was found lying on the floor behind the counter, the young would be till tappers having drawn it out too far in their anxiety to rob it.

As the escape of the boys was witnessed by a large number of citizens, their identification and subsequent arrest will be only a matter of time.

SIX MONTHS IN THE CENTRAL.

An Old Man's Heinous Offence—He was Tried this Morning.

Richard Geary of Lakefield was this morning sentenced to six months in the Central Prison by County Magistrate Edmison.

The man was charged with exposing his person on one of the Stony Lake steamers. It seems that he boarded the boat at Lakefield in a somewhat intoxicated condition, and almost immediately afterwards proceeded to the ladie's cabin, and committed the act complained of. The screams of the lady who was insulted brough the crew to her aid, and they placed Geary under restraint. The man was placed under arrest on the arrival of the boat at Lakefield and speedy justice has been meted out to him. About three years ago he was committed on a similiar charge.

County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution to-day.

DAILY TEMPERATURE RECORD.

The following are readings of the official thermometers for this afternoon, as well as the highest and lowest yesterday—shade temperature :—

To-day—1 p. m. ..... 58° above zero

	Highest.	Lowest.
Yesterday	76°	63°

Rain (up to 1 p. m.) 2.17 of an inch.

The rain last night and to-day is the heaviest that we had for several years. R. H. Scott, author of the standard work on meteorology, says:—"A gallon of water weighs 10 pounds, and if spread out in a layer one inch thick will only cover an area o' two square feet. An inch of rain gives 100 tons per acre, or 60,000 per square mile."

See the chances offered in our advertisement in another column. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

The Great Attraction This Week.

Gough Bros', hurricane sale of summer clothing, hats, boots, gloves and furnishings for men, youths and boys will doubtless prove a great attraction this week. A shrinkage of $10,500 on the prices covered by their whole stocks in both stores since last week should be inducement enough to bring crowds to their counters. The prices represent their great reductions in summer stocks, including that portion of the clothing left over from their great sale of the E. A. Small & Co.'s mammoth purchase in Montreal. Everything that cannot be carried over is to be got rid of. The goods cannot be marked any lower, and in order to have the benefit of a fairly good selection they advise all to call early to get the pick of the choicest. The changed prices will probably clear out all the summer goods in about a couple of weeks. dtf

TENDERS FOR SEWERS AWARDED LAST NIGHT.

KENNEDY & WADE WILL DO THE CONSTRUCTION WORK.

Pipe to be Supplied by the Ontario Sewer Pipe Company, and Cement to be Supplied by the Rathbun Company—The Lowest Tenderers Get the Contracts.

A special meeting of the town council was summoned last evening to award the tenders for sewer construction, and also those for pipe and cement.

The Mayor was in the chair, the councillors present being Messrs. Best, Robertson, Denne, Neill, Davis, Dawson, Cobb, McWilliams and White.

On motion all business except that pertaining to the matter of sewerage construction, was laid on the table.

The Sewerage Committee had held a meeting just previous to the meeting of the council and as the result of it Mr. Henry Best, chairman, submitted the following report :

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough :

We, your Sewerage Committee, beg to report as follows :

That the following tenders be accepted for sewer contracts, 1 and 2, as lately advertised for.

1. For construction only, to Messrs. Kennedy & Wade, at $9,916.00.
2. For cement "Star" Brand, to the Rathbun Co.
3. For sewer pipes, to the Ontario Sewer Pipe Co.

The engineer's estimate for material is $5,387.40, which does not include fees of engineer and inspector.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

HENRY BEST, Chairman.

The report was adopted.

In order that an insight may be gained into the work which is about to be performed, the following statement of the number of feet of sewer construction on each street is submitted :

	Diameter of Pipe. 9 in.	12 in.	15 in.
Name of Street.
Aylmer		1,960	4,080
Charlotte	253
Simcoe	475
Hunter	220
Brock	425
Murray	870
McDonel	870

Stewart		4,132
George			910
Water		910
Murray east	870

There were four firms which submitted tenders for the construction. As will be seen by the subjoined statement they first tendered for the construction work alone of the sewer, and in the second place tendered for the construction and the supplying of the material.

NOT INCLUDING PIPES AND CEMENT.

	Sec. No. 1.	Sec. No. 2.	Total.
Kennedy & Wade	$ 5,796 00	$4,120 00	$ 9,916 00
McQuillan & Co.	9,020 26	6,767 44	15,847 70
Langford & Bogue	6,280 00	5,048 00	11,328 00
R Sheehy	No tender.	do.	do.

INCLUDING PIPES AND CEMENT.

	Sec. No. 1.	Sec No. 2.	Total.
Kennedy & Wade	$ 9,096 00	$6,820 60	$16,515 00
McQuillan & Co.	10,615 37	8,736 76	19,351 13
Langford & Bogue	9,659 00	7,436 00	17,095 00
R Sheehy	13,177 80	11,612 30	24,790 10

As will be noticed the council decided to let the contract for the construction of the sewer, and the town will supply its own material, for which it has decided to award separate contracts.

The Ontario Sewer Pipe Company, of Toronto, and the Standard, of St. John's, N.B., were the competitors for the contract for the pipes. Both submitted a list of prices which were identical. The Toronto company offered 75 per cent. off the list price, and the St. John's company 73 per cent. off and an additional cash discount of 2½ per cent. The Toronto tender, being the lowest, was accepted. In the opinion of the engineer there is no difference in the quality of the pipe—both are excellent.

LAID AT REST.

Funeral of the Late Mrs. S. R. Armstrong.

This afternoon the funeral of the late Mrs. Armstrong, wife of our respected town clerk, took place, and was very largely attended. The members of the town council, as a body, the civic officials and the police force were present. The religious services at the residence were conducted by Rev. S. J. Shorey, assisted by Rev. E. Cragg. Rev. Mr. Shorey in the course of a brief but pathetic address, paid a touching and graceful tribute to the domestic and Christian virtues of the deceased lady. The offerings of flowers were very abundant. The pall bearers were Messrs. W. R. Turner, F. H. Dobbin, John Jeffries, Alfred Parker, J. S. Knapman and A. E. Dixon. Mr. Armstrong has very general sympathy in the great bereavement he has suffered.

THIS MORNING'S FIRE.

The Sheds Burned at the Residence of Mr. W. Everett, Murray Street.

At four o'clock this morning fire broke out in the residence of Mr. W. Everett, No. 105, Murray street.

It was occasioned, it is thought, through the fact that the ashes from the stove were emptied in a box near the house the evening previous.

The brigade responded promptly to the alarm and checked the progress of the flames to such an extent that only the sheds were destroyed. The property is owned by Mr. John Delaney, and the loss is understood to be covered by an insurance policy placed with Mr. H. B. Meharry.

STORM IN HALIBURTON.

A House and a Barn Struck by Lightning on Saturday Afternoon.

On Saturday Mr. A. E. Vangesen, of Ingoldsby, took refuge in his barn from a thunder storm, and was reposing on the hay when the barn was struck by lightning, and so near to Mr. Vangensen was the first flash of fire that he put out his hand to beat out the flame, when in an instant the fire burst out all around him and he had scarcely time to escape and get his horses out when the whole building was enveloped in flames.

The building was one of the largest in Haliburton county, which with its contents, consisting of a threshing machine, nearly new, two waggons, a cutter, two sets of sleighs, a fanning mill, etc, became a prey to the devouring element.

Mr. Vangesen's loss will be some $500 or $600 over and above his insurance.

Mr. McNabb's house was also struck by lightning during the same storm but escaped with a slight shattering.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE INDIA FAMINE.

A REPORT PREPARED BY THE OTTAWA GOVERNMENT.

Acknowledgment of the Peterborough Donations—The Preface Over the Signature of the Governor General—What Lord Elgin Says of it.

The Government at Ottawa has just issued a pamphlet of 150 pages, addressed to the subscribers to the Canadian National Fund, for the relief of the distress in India.

The preface is over the signature of the Governor General as follows:

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
Ottawa, 21st June, 1897.

To the Subscribers to the "India Famine Fund" in Canada:

When it became evident in the early part of this year that India was face to face with famine resulting from a shrinkage in the rainfall, and a shortage in the crops that told severely upon a population already enfeebled by several bad harvests in succession, the necessity for aid and that of the most prompt character, became painfully apparent. As soon as this need was presented to the Canadian people, vigorous measures were taken towards assisting in the relief of the suffering.

It was deemed wise to make the movement national in character, and accordingly a fund was inaugurated to be styled the "Canadian India Famine Fund." The co-operation of the Lieutenant-Governors of the different provinces was invited and cordially given, and through them communication was had with the various municipal bodies and school districts, throughout the Dominion. The assistance of the various banking institutions of the country was also invoked, and they tendered the services of the officers of their different establishments to receive subscriptions and transmit them gratuitously to Ottawa.

Reference should also particularly be made to the notable part so energetically and successfuly taken by the Montreal Star in raising a very handsome sum.

From the report of the Honorary Treasurer, regarding whose hearty and valuable assistance a grateful acknowledgment is here offered, the total subscriptions to the general fund in Canada up to 30th of June will be found to be $175,922.04. The report adds the interesting fact, that, apart from the present fund, from other sources (details of which where procurable are given) sufficient was raised to bring the total contribution of Canada for the purpose of famine relief up to about $200,000. Another feature of the report is the statement of the collection by provinces. This method is convenient and appropriate, as the provinces have all contributed so effectively, but it may be permissable to remark upon the liberality (in proportion to population) of the contributions from Manitoba, and upon the children's share in the movement.

To render the fund as effective as possible for the purposes for which it was intended, immediately on the accumulation of sufficient moneys to purchase a lakh of rupees (100,000 rupees or about $31,000) that amount was purchased and transmitted by cable direct to Calcutta through the Bank of Montreal, and acknowledgment thereof was received. The dates of such remittances were as follows:

February	9	100,000 rupees.
"	20	100,000 "
March	5	100,000 "
"	15	100,000 "
April	15	100,000 "
May	4	50,000 "
June	23	20,000 "

There is thus good ground for the satisfactory reflection that this effort has not only directly contributed towards a much needed work of benevolence, but has also directly tended to the fostering of kindly sentiment and harmonious co-operation between communities sharing a common heritage—the British name and power.

The contents of these pages will provide the particulars of what will long be remembered as the remarkable response on the part of the people of Canada to the cry of distress from suffering India.

ABERDEEN.

As to the appreciation of the aid thus rendered, the annexed extract from the letter from the Earl of Elgin, Governor-General of India, indicates the heartiness of that feeling, which has also been fully endorsed by the British exponents of public opinion.

VICE-REGAL LODGE, SIMLA, April 8, 1897.

MY DEAR ABERDEEN,—I have often thought of writing to you to let you know from myself how much we all have appreciated the sympathy and generosity of Canada. We have been taking stock of our position on passing the grand total of a crore of rupees, and though our grateful thanks are due to friends all over the world, Canada stands first in the aid which has been sent us. Perhaps you will pardon me if, as a Canadian born, I mingle a little pride with my gratitude.

I have no doubt that we owe much to your own kindness, for I know how a calamity like ours would appeal to you, but from papers I have seen it seems clear that the movement in our favour has been a popular one in every sense of the word, and that cannot fail to enhance the value of the gift.

I think I am entirely justified in saying that so far as government is concerned, we are fully prepared for all present possibilities. Indeed in many districts the worst strain is probably over. They have had a fair spring crop and by the end of next month they will be busy preparing for the summer crop. These agricultural operations at once relieve the situation; for, as I heard it put the other day, what we have had to deal with has been more of a labour famine than a food famine.

The small proprietors and occupiers of land have, generally speaking, been able to subsist, though hard pressed by high prices, but they have been unable to employ or feed their labourers, and it has been for this class that in most cases we had to provide relief works. Except in the districts which have suffered most severely, e.g., from the failure of more than one crop, there seems to be no apprehension that a good monsoon will not restore matters to pretty much their normal condition. But one of the chief advantages of the large charitable fund that has been raised will be that we shall be able to put the poor cultivators, whose credit is exhausted, into a position to take full advantage of a favourable season, by providing ploughs, cattle, seed and other necessaries of that sort.

There was a talk at one time of our having to import grain from America, but as yet the necessity has not arisen. There was a good rice crop in Burma, and it has been very useful, but though we have watched very closely, we have not yet detected any sign of a general failure of food supplies. I have to-day a letter from Sandhurst, in which he gives a reassuring account in this respect of the worst districts in the Bombay Presidency. If there was to be another failure of the monsoon over anything like the same area, we should certainly have to take from you and everybody else all that could be spared; but in the meantime there is no reason to think that anything so dreadful is impending.

I think that all are now beginning to recognize, what I have known for months, that the officers on the spot have been working throughout with a devotion and self-sacrifice that could not be exceeded.

. . . . . .

Believe me,
Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) ELGIN.

The statement of the Honorary Treasurer shows that there is a small balance still at the credit of the fund. This balance will no doubt be slightly increased, for contributions still keep coming in at intervals, and it may be some little time before they entirely cease. The amount being comparatively small it is proposed to remit it to London to be forwarded through the medium of the Mansion House Fund.

It may be of interest as indicating the widespread sympathy with the movement in Canada to point out that the people of all the provinces of the Dominion actively supported the fund to the following extent:—

Ontario	$61,827 73
Quebec	48,066 46
Nova Scotia	14,185 44
New Brunswick	11,705 45
Manitoba	20,803 14
British Columbia	5,287 68
Prince Edward Island	6,164 74
North West Territories	5,994 64

Nor were the receipts confined alone to Canada, for correspondents in Newfoundland and the United States remitted $147.97 and $1,498.09 respectively.

Included in the above are collections to the amount of $55.000 paid into the fund by the Montreal Daily Star (of which $1,805.15 was received from the Montreal Witness); $2,475.02 by the Mail Printing Co.; $824.03 by the Globe Printing Co. and $3,457.43 by the Christian Guardian (Methodist). Grants from the following Provincial governments are also included,

Ontario	$6,000
Quebec	4,000
Manitoba	2,000
North West Territories	1,000

The figures given above deal only with the sums that passed to the credit of the fund of which the undersigned is treasurer but these do not cover all the moneys contributed by Canada for the relief of the famine. The Presbyterian Church sent to its missionaries $10,820 86, the Christian Guardian, the official organ of the Methodist Church, sent also direct to the missionaries of that body, $2,320 50, in addition to the amount handed over to the National Fund. His Worship the Mayor of Ottawa forwarded to London subscriptions amounting to $4,840.94. So that from the Dominion of Canada contributions to the amount of about $200,000 have been raised for the purpose of assisting the famine stricken people of India.

THE CAVALRY QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—In your issue of the 20th instant there is a communication signed W. D. Johnston, purporting to be a reply to my letter of the 14th instant, re the action of the Cavalry Troop on Dominion Day. One notices, however, that while the letter of the 10th of July is closed: "I have the honour to be, sir, your obedient servant, W. D. Johnston, commander 'C' Squadron, 3rd Dragoons," this one is simply "Yours truly, W. D. Johnston." Is it that the worthy captain has engaged a different person to write this letter for him, or has he decided to lay aside all frills and become plain W. D. Johnston in future?—which truly would be a wise decision under the circumstances. In the letter of the 20th Mr. Johnston quotes the "Regulations and Orders for the Army," sec. 11, paragraph 25; also, "Regulations and Orders for the Militia, Canada, 1897," paragraph 48. Now, Mr. Johnston must either be very dense or think the readers of your paper are very simple when he endeavours to mislead them by quoting the above regulations. There is not a ten year old child in the country but knows that the Jubilee celebration in Peterborough on the 22nd was not a military parade and that the regulations he quotes have no bearing whatever on the discussion. The Jubilee celebration was one for all loyal subjects of our beloved Queen to take part in, and if the Cavalry troop was composed of loyal officers and men their place was in that procession, irrespective of what position was assigned them by the committee; but if not loyal and only in the service as mercenaries, like the hired soldiers in foreign service, who are only fighting from selfish motives, then they did well to keep out of the procession, and should have gone farther and kept out of the loyal old town of Peterborough. Although the committee had only two weeks to arrange for the celebration there was a procession over a mile long, and it was one of the grandest sights that ever was or will be seen in Peterborough. All the different societies, composed of all religious denominations, walking together in the same procession and the most kindly feeling existing, and it is to be regretted that the only dissension should rise from those wearing Her Majesty's uniform. Mr. Johnston claims that as the Queen's coronation was before his time he cannot be expected to know the order of that procession. But surely he can read and the captain of a cavalry troop would hardly have any difficulty in obtaining the official report of that demonstration, and if he has any doubt about the procession of the Diamond Jubilee I will furnish him with a copy of the official report which shows that the procession was closed by the Royal Horse Guards and surely it is not necessary to tell a military man of Mr. Johnston's experience the position they hold in the British Army. He says that 'No member of the company thought of making any condition about turning out,' and in reply to this statement I say distinctly that an officer of the company did appear before the committee and demand free dinners for the men if they turned out. It may well be questioned whether that officer had the authority to make such a demand, but if he had not what action has the company taken in the matter? Mr. Johnston says in another place:—"At the eleventh hour we received in an offensive manner an order to take the place in the procession assigned to us or nothing." In making that statement he knows that he is telling a deliberate falsehood to screen himself, for I was marshall that day and neither Capt. Johnson nor any member of the troop ever asked me what position they would take and what is more I never saw nor can I find any person who did see any of the troop at the Central Park before the procession started. Besides I challenge Mr. Johnston to name any man that I said an offensive word to at the park, or during the whole celebration, and it till becomes him to endeavour to cover his disloyal conduct by any such insinuation. I am pleased to know that some of the men refused to accept free dinners. This statement just sustains what I have said that the MEN did not ask for free dinners, and I will go further and say that if an investigation was held the public would find that two of the officers were responsible for placing the company in such a humiliating position.

It makes little difference to me whether Mr. Johnson writes another letter or not. The public have now learned the facts, and the failure of the cavalry troop to appear in the procession in honour of our Queen was due, not to any fault of the committee, nor of the men of the troop, but to the offended pride of certain officers.

Yours truly,
J. B. MCWILLIAMS.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 54; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 35 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. BASEBALL ON SUNDAY.

At Syracuse Both Malarkey and Hodson were effective, but the Stars' hits were more opportune, and they won out after an interesting game. Umpire Gruber is still ill, and Mason of the Stars officiated. There was not a kick on his decisions, Braun being out of the game. Score:

Batteries—Malarkey and Ryan; Hodson and Dixon.

At Montreal—The heaviest hitting ever seen in Montreal characterized the game. Belcourt, the local amateur, pitched his first game, and held the Wilkes-Barre Club down to eight hits. The centre field fence was 30 yards short, and the result was that eight home runs were scored. The attendance exceeded 3000, and all were wild with enthusiasm. Score:

Wilkes-Barre	0 0 0 4 3 0 0 0 0—7	8	3

At St. Louis: The Browns and Washingtons played a double header at Sportsman Park. Each team won a game. Score:

Batteries—Mercer and McGuire; Lucid and Douglass.

At Buffalo: A big crowd saw the Bisons defeated. Buffalo scored but once, a home run by Gray in the fifth innings. Neither team tallied again until the ninth, when the Ponies caught on, and by good batting, aided with a couple of errors, tallied up four runs. Score:

At Chicago: Dahlen was in his old place at short the first time since May 30, and his brilliant work won the game. He assisted in three double plays and scored the only run by stealing home from third while Cunningham and Werden were holding an argument at first. Rain stopped the game after the Colonels had been retired in the seventh. Score:

At Cleveland: The largest crowd ever out at a ball game was at League Park. Wilson was invincible until the eighth innings, when the Orioles found him, and in the ninth they tied the score, making seven hits in the two innings. Young was put in to save the game, but after two were out in the 10th, Kelly and Stenzel doubled, scoring the winning run. Score:

LEAFS BEATEN AT HOME.

Guelph, July 24.—The C.P.R. employes' annual picnic held here to-day was a huge success. The centre of attraction was the baseball match between the London Bluebirds and the champion Leafs. Fully 3000 were present. Crowe, with 15 hits against him, retired in the seventh, but not until London had made 14 runs, 11 of them in two innings. O'Brien, who took his place, held London down to one hit. Score:

	R.	H.	E.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

THEY MAY GO TOO FAR

And Twist the British Lion's Tail Till He Turns.

SHARP ARTICLE IN VANITY FAIR

Based on the Letter of Secretary Sherman Over Behring Sea—The Glasgow Record Speaks in a Similar Strain, Though in More Moderate Language.

New York, July 25.—The Herald to-day prints two editorials, one from London Vanity Fair, which it makes the subject of sarcastic comment, the other from The Glasgow Record, which meets with The Herald's approval, although the New York paper does not agree with the conclusions of its Scotch contemporary.

The Vanity Fair editorial, which was published in that paper on Thursday, is in part as follows:

"Mr. Sherman, the Secretary of State, and the author of that peculiarly offensive despatch which has lately been published in The New York Tribune, is a very foolish person, indeed; but, in spite of his folly, we are forced to the conclusion that the tone of the impudent letter represents the feeling of the great American people towards us. We hold this opinion because, whenever the American eagle, in the person of some vote-catching Minister, screeches at the British lion, the American people lift up their voices and shriek together. In fact, to be anti-English in his political views, to be forever sneering at the country from which the stream of his blood first flowed, is the constant care of the would-be-popular Yankee.

"Possibly this Mr. Sherman, whom we believe to be but a very decrepit and incapable kind of a Minister, is now quite the hero of the hour. He declared the British nation to be dishonest, and he has gone as far in the way of deliberate insult as he dare.

"The American people and their press, with one very notable exception, are delighted. They do not stop to think whether their Minister save the mark! be in the right or be in the wrong. They do not pause to consider whether all this is very wise or very prudent. It is sufficient that they have given the British lion another hard twist of the tail, and have almost caused that imperturbable beast to wince.

"So there is joy in the United States of America and in the hearts of that people whom we honor as 'cousins,' who speak our language, many of whom are our sons, and to whom we would even hold out the friendly hand. It is almost pathetic; it is certainly pitiful.

"What the American eagle—that noisy, bragging, would-be-bullying bird—would do if the British lion were to turn upon him we have not much difficulty in realizing. Up to the present time the more insolent the American has become the more tolerant have we been toward him. He very naturally succeeded in putting us in a nasty temper last year, but out of our good-nature we controlled ourselves, and, like a schoolboy, he ceased to find amusement in teasing when he saw that it had no effect upon his subject.

"But our gentle, quiet, tolerant behavior, to his rather stupid mind, and our extraordinary good-nature, have given him an equally uncommon 'check.' Finding us silent under his wrath, forbearing to a fault, and finding also that to be rude to us is a very paying game, he began once more to try the same tactics.

"The Yankee reminds us somewhat of a toy terrier snapping at ourselves in the person of a mastiff. The little animal bites and barks and snarls until his superior turns round. As yet we have stood the biting and snarling very patiently, but the Yankee lap-dog must take very good care. Good-tempered as we are we are only human, and we may turn round at last, not that for one moment we want to have a serious quarrel with the country across the water, but because our position of forbearance may in time become impossible.

"The American has yet to learn that inseparable from a great power like England are such things as dignity. Above all, he must understand that there is such a thing as honor. He has impugned that honor. If he goes much farther we may be compelled to vindicate it."

The Glasgow Record's editorial says:

"If one could only accept The New York Herald as the speaking mind of the American people we should be more confident than ever before of the good sense and the good feeling of our kinsmen across the Atlantic.

"Commenting on Mr. Sherman's Behring Sea despatch, our American contemporary dwells upon the honesty, the kindness and manliness shown by Great Britain during the Venezuelan troubles, and thanks God that the politicians of America do not represent the good common sense of the American people. Can we believe this? Unhappily our experience teaches us to be distrustful.

"The American politician who starts a jingo cry of enmity to Great Britain never lacks champions in the press and supporters in the country. We know that an Irish-American faction inherited and cherished traditions of hostility to this country, and that its voice is not the voice of the nation, but we know that American jealousy of the Old Country is a real and active influence in the politics of the United States, and that we have to reckon with a national antipathy not limited to emigrant Irishmen and their descendants. 'When in doubt attack Great Britain' is the permanent motto in American political life. It is illustrated afresh by the Sherman despatch. Nobody minds Mr. Sherman. He is a played-out politician, an extinct force known to be mentally and physically feeble; but it is equally well known that Mr. McKinley's presidency has failed to answer expectations, and that domestic discontent is becoming rife.

"Mr. McKinley was to inaugurate an era of universal prosperity. He has done nothing of the kind. The obvious rule of a Government in such case is to divert public attention from home affairs by raising foreign complications. The common practice of American diplomacy is to make the national grievance against Great Britain. Yet, although we mistrust the sincerity of Mr. Sherman's despatch, and mistrust still more the explanations of its apparently accidental disclosure, we thank The New York Herald for its kindly words and for the excellent example it shows to the American press. The newspapers of America are largely responsible for the ill-feelings toward Great Britain. Cheap popularity and increased circulation are always to be won by catering to jingoism, and too many of our contemporaries on the other side yield to the temptation of sacrificing honesty to commercial success.

"It is a great thing to find the greatest of the American newspapers recognising with manly simplicity the good feeling of our people, and claiming that the heart of the American nation beats in harmony with us.

"If it be so indeed the future of the Anglo-Saxon race is brighter; if it be not so, may the time come when wise America will forget the jealousies of tradition and give its hand to Great Britain as cordially as the hand of Great Britain is offered."

WIARTON'S HEART BURNED OUT.

The Business Portion of the Town Attacked by the Fire Fiend Early on Sunday Morning.

Wiarton, Ont., July 25.—The heart of the business portion of this town was burned out early this morning, about 3.30. The fire bell rang a few minutes after a bright light was seen in rear of Sadlers Bros.' store, the very centre of the business portion. Before the firemen could get a stream playing the fire was beyond control. Dry wooden sheds and outhouses were all around, and in half an hour citizens were witnessing the biggest blaze ever seen in town. Although the men worked well and water was in plenty, the fire was hard to reach, as the front of the street was solid brick and stone, and the seat of the fire could not be reached for some time. Fielding's flour and feed, Sadlers Bros. large drygoods, Fisher's drug store, Davis' (watchmaker), Davis' (tailor), Miller's office, Whicher's office, the Mechanics' Institute (books saved) and many others are the sufferers. The insurance on most was small and cannot be ascertained to-day. The fire continued to burn until 9 a.m.

Foundry Burned at Cayuga.

Cayuga, Ont., July 25.—About 2 o'clock this morning the foundry and machine shop occupied by Mr. J. Bunn was discovered to be on fire. When seen the flames had already made such headway that it was impossible to save anything. The total loss will be over $2800. The building was insured in the Perth Mutual for $800.

The Canadian team was second with a score of 70.

Travelers shudder with horror at the thought of the train wrecker who stealthily undermines the supports of a railway bridge and precipitates a passenger train with its load of precious human freight to a horrible death by fire and water. There is a deadlier enemy than the train-wrecker that menaces not only travelers but stay-at-homes. Its name is indigestion. It slowly undermines the supports that hold up the bridge of life and yearly precipitates untold thousands into the dread valley of consumption. If people will only take the right precaution they can avoid this calamity and even remedy it after it has occurred if they will act in time.

All cases of indigestion and every disease that has its inception in indigestion or faulty nutrition may be cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It cures wasting diseases. It is an unfailing remedy for nervous prostration. It is the great blood-maker, flesh builder, and nerve tonic. Thousands have testified to its merits. There is nothing else "just as good." Druggists sell it.

"I beg leave to inform you," writes Mrs. J. Shely, of No. 1701 Thomas Place, Minneapolis, Minn., "that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured my trouble in my neck—Goitre. It went away in three months. At the sixth bottle it began to grow smaller. Before it had grown larger very perceptibly. I am very grateful for the cure."

SILK FROM SPIDERS.

A FABRIC SILKY TO TOUCH AND FINE AS ORIENTAL STUFF.

The Ingenious Machinery Designed and Operated by a Frenchman—The Difficulties He Had to Overcome Before He Could Wind the Spider's Web.

The Manufacturers' Union of England has for the last two years had a standing offer of 1,000 pounds sterling to the scientist who would invent a use for the web of the common spider.

It was obvious to those who experimented with the web that there was no issue of silk contained in its filmy threads, but how to get hold of them in any way that could be of use in manufacturing silk fabric was the problem. That problem has now been solved by M. Cachot, a French chemist, who claims the reward.

The silk worm works in a different way from the spider. It is not poisonous and is peaceful in its nature and habits. The silk worm is easily imprisoned and does as well in confinement as in the natural state. Silk worms thrive in a paper box or a bureau drawer; and if fed mulberry leaves ask nothing better or further in the nature of diet. They live for years giving out their cocoons of valuable silk threads to any one who will take them, and consequently increasing in number, for they breed fast.

The common spider, on the other hand, is a wild animal. It is warlike in its nature and fierce in its attacks. Its short mandibles are provided with a sharp, claw-like end, through which venom flows, and by which it gives out sharp, deadly stings when attacked. Spiders, too, are carnivorous, and demand insects for their diet, and water. They eat every species of animalculae, and will not live without live food.

Nevertheless, such are the possibilities of the spider web that scientists have worked constantly at the fiber to secure it.

M. Cachot recently invited a company of manufacturers to his laboratory to inspect the working of the spider in its web, as arranged by him to give out a net-work in thread for use in making fabric.

When they arrived they were taken into a room lighted in the dimmest way. When their eyes grew accustomed to the light they saw in the corner of the room, running from the floor to the ceiling, a queer arrangement of bobbins worked by a dynamo. They turned noiselessly and with rapidity, constantly winding a thread and becoming quicker with the revolutions. At the other side of the room sat an operator turning on and off the power at will.

Looking further up on the wall they saw a great quantity of large spiders closely resembling the Madagascar spiders. They had long mandibles and an immense abdomen, from the rear end of which issues threads. As the threads came from them the bobbins wound it, and thus secured long strands of the unbroken thread.

When they had done expressing their surprise at the strange sight, M. Cachot explained it all to them.

The web of the spider, it seems, is not quite as strong as the web of the silk worm. The spider, moreover, does not lay its eggs in [illegible] as the silk worm. Therefore it was impossible to secure the big thready cocoons, as in the case of the silk worm, nor could the thread be gathered in any way suitable for winding. When made into a web it became hopelessly tangled and unfit for use.

M. Cachot, therefore, thought of a way of making a machine that would take the web from the spider as he spun it. Tiny bobbins were fitted with running gear, into which the web was caught first. After one fastening it possessed sufficient strength to withstand any pull that the spider might put upon it.

The nature of the insect is such that, no matter how often it is robbed of its thread, it keeps on spinning a new web, and is a source of constant supply to any machine that can wind it off.

The color of the web when first spun is a pale gray, almost the color of the atmosphere, and is the best-known tint for any raw material to have, as it takes coloring matter readily.

The common house spider answers the same purpose as the Madagascar spider, but for practical working the larger spider is preferred, as its thread is larger and the work of keeping it captive is no greater.

In catching the thread from the insect it is found that the best place is a wooden wall, dark and damp enough for moistening the thread. The spider spins best where water drops into his web, and is most prolific in webbing where there are loose rafters and leaky spots in roof or ceiling.

A bobbin as large as a peanut is not too much for a spider to spin in a week, and, as there is no cost beyond that of the machinery, it is a paying investment.

The only food required is a diet of insects, house flies and small living things of all sorts. These the spider catches, and, while trying to imprison his prey, sends out his most valuable webbing. When a spider catches a fly he spins a net round and round him. It is very strong, and is turned off quickly. The fly is soon ensnared, and then the spider punctures him with his venom. In M. Cachot's invention the spider is allowed one or two turns around the fly, then the webbing is caught with a delicate hook and attached to the bobbins, which quickly winds it.

The female spider lays eggs that are protected by a cocoon of thread. This cocoon, it is found, can be wound easily from the spiders that are kept in a cocoon so even that the thread can be wound from it.

For experimental purposes a little of the spider web was made into cloth. It was found to give a fabric very silky to the touch, and as fine as Oriental silk. It may be that the delicate silks of the ancients was made from the web of the spider, for it has never since been duplicated. The silk robes which Cleopatra easily pulled through an ear-ring might have been made from the spider's web.

At all events it is worth an experiment. The material costs so little and is so easily obtained that the first cost would disappear quickly if the product could be turned to any permanent use.

Longest Bridge in the World.

The longest bridge in the world is the Lion Bridge, near Sangang, in China. It extends five and a quarter miles over an area of the Yellow Sea, and is supported by 300 huge stone arches. The roadway is 70 feet above the water and is enclosed in an iron network. A marble lion, 21 feet long, rests on the crown of each pillar. The bridge was built at the command of Emperor Keing Long.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

It is folly to build upon a poor foundation, either in architecture or in health. A foundation of sand is insecure, and to deaden symptoms by narcotics or nerve compounds is equally dangerous and deceptive. The true way to build up health is to make your blood pure, rich and nourishing by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Straw Scatteration.

"Sell the Straws!" "Sell at Once--Only Sell, Sell."

There's the only thought in our minds now. We have a sc't of unreasoning terror of carrying Straw Hats over to another season, and we have just bought 100 doz. STRAW HATS to be sold here and in our Toronto stores.

Neither the tariff that's past nor the tariff that's here nor the preferential tariff that we are to enjoy more fully next season, had anything to do with the curious prices at which we bought these several lines of Straw Hats.

BOUGHT TO GET YOUR GOOD WILL. We bought them because it gave us an opportunity to hand them out to you at over-the-sea prices—minus duties—minus profits to anybody—save a moderate one to us.

Without more explanations we will give you a few samples of the "Straw Satteration" that begins now:—

Extra Fine Split Straws and Bamboos, latest styles, ventilated or not, ordinarily worth from $1.50 to $2.00, now 75c.

Men's Fine Manillas, worth $2.50 and $3.00, now $1.50.

Ladies' Sailors, large flat Mackinaw Straws, also fine braids, to clear for 25c.

Fine Canton Braids, large, flat Mackinaw plaits and English Club Straws, for Men's wear. Latest shapes. Most merchants sell them from $1.00 to $1.50, our price 50c.

A big variety of Men's Straws, of different shapes and styles of braids, worth from 50c to 75c, now 25c.

Children's Straws to be sold at once for whatever they will bring.

Mr. T. J. Begley has just returned from Montreal, where, in talking to a number of the members of the Shamrock team, he found them so favourably disposed towards the Peterboroughs as to be anxious to come to town for a game. They go to Toronto on Saturday, September 5th, and will be here on the following Monday.

The semi-finals for the C. L. A. intermediate championships will come off shortly. In some of the districts the clubs are still battling for the honour of representing their respective districts in the final struggle, but this week will settle most of them. Orillia has again won the championship of the Northeastern district, while the Garnets, of Wiarton, Peterboroughs and Elevatics of Uxbridge have won the Northern, Eastern and Ontario Districts without a struggle. Seaforth and Berlin are in the running for the Huron District, and the Central is anybody's battle. If Markham wins at Stouffville on Saturday next, the York District will be theirs, while if Stouffville wins the two clubs will be tied. Madoc are likely winners in the Quinte. The North-western is still in doubt, with Mennt Forest and Arthur the likely candidates.

THE WHEEL.

A large number of wheel enthusiasts will go over to the Lindsay bicycle races on Thursday next, as there will be no race meet in Peterborough this year. The financial end of the recent meets held in Peterborough have been so disastrous to the promoters that it was decided to hold no races this year here.

In the current number of the New York "Medical Record" is the following:—Another note of warning has been sounded in regard to the possible evils of cycling. Under the somewhat ambiguous title of "The Hidden Dangers of Cycling," an alarming article recently appeared in the "National Review," pointing out some of the risks of injury to health to which bicyclists are liable, and darkly hinting at others likely to be incurred. The hidden dangers of the exercise, in the opinion of Dr. Shadwell, threaten women, and the prediction is made that in the course of a year or two quite a different story will be heard concerning the health-giving properties of cycling. A few cases of serious breakdown that came under the author's notice are cited:—Appendicitis and internal inflammation are laid to the charge of the wheel. But the complaints to which the writer in the "National Review" chiefly wishes to draw attention are the various forms of ill-defined nervous affects resulting from even a moderate use of the bicycle.

The contention is made that the harmfulness of the exercise does not consist so much in excess as in the strain on the nervous system. The proposition is laid down that over-exertion is quite inadequate to explain the effects from which many cyclists suffer. The symptoms are essentially nervous, and point to a cerebral and not a muscular origin. The theory brought forward as to the cause is not the saddle, the vibration, or mechanical defects of the machine, but its instability and the constant strain required to keep it in an upright position. Dr. Shadwell holds that this incessant tension is that which tells upon the nerves.

Mr. A. W. Campbell, inspector of good roads, has for some time been busy in securing an estimate of the number of bicycles in the Province of Ontario. There is very little data at hand, for there is no form of registration. The estimate he makes, however, is that there are 100,000 bicycles in Ontario, representing an investment of $6,000,000.

THE KENNEL.

New York, July 20th.—The American Kennel Club has just made an important move, as a result of which the entire Dominion of Canada comes under the club's jurisdiction. In future all shows held in Canada will be conducted under the rules of the American Kennel Club and the Executive Committee of the Canadian Kennel Club becomes the Canadian Advisory Board of the American Kennel Club.

Under the agreement all awards made at Canadian shows will become records and all Canadian registrations will be made with the American Kennel Club's stud book.

In 1880 the awards of the Canadian Kennel Club were recognized by the American Kennel Club, but in 1893 the agreement was terminated because the American Club felt that home exhibitors were not receiving what they were entitled to. Ever since that time the Canadian Club has endeavoured to regain recognition of the American organization, but without effect. Finally after much negotiation, the American Kennel Club decided to extend the same privileges towards the Dominion as are enjoyed by the Pacific Coast. In the perfection of the arrangements, the Canadian Kennel Club is dissolved, and the three members of the Executive Committee of that organization now constitute the Dominion Advisory Board.

Something Unusual

No matter how intense the heat, shopping keeps up unusually well here. It may seem strange to be selling so many goods at cost or below, but conditions warrant it. It is desirable to clean up stocks and especially towards the close of a season. There never was a time when bargains crowded each other more than they do now, and it is but fair to say that the steady crowds at the Golden Lion is an indication that nowhere will you find as many low prices as right here. The success of our Summer Sale of Hot Weather Wearables is quite remarkable. This is the way we go about it:—

Blouses with detachable Collars, formerly sold at 75c and $1.00, to be cleared at 50c.

Linen Coloured Blouses, with detachable collars and cuffs, also in light coloured Prints, formerly sold at $1.50 and $1.25, to be cleared out at 75c.

A line of better goods with the newest style of Collars and Cuffs, former price $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, to be cleared out at $1.00 and $1.25.

Wearing Shoes does not afford much pleasure to people who buy the factory made kind. How can it be otherwise? All feet are not alike, any more than all faces. Unless made to your measure, they pinch your toes, press your favourite corn, squeeze the ingrowing toe nail, inflame the heels, and make your feet sweat, swell and ache.

$50,000 IN A WINDOW

Gave the People of Nanaimo the Klondike Fever.

NOW THEY ALL WANT TO GO NORTH.

Wall Street in New York is All in a Flutter, Too, Over the Wonderful Strikes in Canada Old Man Moss' Graveyard Story Contradicted.

San Francisco, Cal., July 27.—Returned Yukonites deny the story told by Frank Moss of Great Falls, Mont., to the effect that two thousand graves at Forty-Mile Post tell of the terrible sufferings of the gold seekers. F. G. Bowker says that so far from being over two thousand deaths on the Klondike during the past three years, there was nobody there to die until something less than a year ago, and since then there have been three deaths in that whole district so far as known.

In the graveyard at Forty-Mile Post, which has served for all that section for many years past, there are only between 30 and 40 graves.

SET NANAIMO, B.C., WILD.

Wilkinson's Gold Nuggets Displayed in a Bank Window, Made the Whole Population Anxious to Go North.

Nanaimo, B. C., July 27.—This town is aflame with excitement over the discoveries in the Klondike. All the population want to move to the gold fields because two of its citizens have come home with dazzling fortunes made in a year in the Yukon. John Wilkinson and William Sloan tired of coal mining and went to the Yukon.

A sack containing over $50,000 worth of gold nuggets, displayed in a Nanaimo bank window to-day, shows more vividly than words could express the profits of Mr. Wilkinson. Sloan has as much, or more, and they both have their claims, which are said to be worth a million each yet.

Wilkinson has just given orders for the construction of one of the finest houses in British Columbia. Speaking of the Klondike he said:

"On Bonanza Creek there are sixty good paying claims below the discovery this year and fifty above. Every one of these will require from five to eight years to get the gold out, working twenty men on each, and all the time. On the Eldorado there are forty good paying claims. Besides these creeks there are many more in which the pay dirt is plentiful, so that there is room for thousands of miners for years to come."

Mr. Wilkinson does not belittle the hardships of the Yukon experienced. He says he stood at the windlass on his claim when the temperature was 60 degrees below zero, and it took his party three months to pack in their outfits, which weighed a ton to each man. Even with that supply their provisions ran out, and both Sloan and Wilkinson believe that there will be suffering this winter for lack of food. They say a man can take out half an ounce a day almost anywhere, but that they would scorn to work on such poor dirt.

Sloan exhibits a very large nugget, while Wilkinson has one nearly as large as a man's hand. Sloan says that he could go into the Klondike now in thirty days without supplies, but he very much doubts whether the hundreds who are starting now, intending to pack in their own outfits, will get through before the Yukon is frozen. Packing in with horses, he says, is next to impossible. Sometimes the horses have to be hauled up steep places with ropes, and feed is scarce and hard to take along.

WALL STREET INTERESTED.

Great Activity Over the Gold Discoveries in the Klondike District—New Mining Exchange Officers.

New York, July 27.—The management of the mining exchange of New York has suffered a change. All the old officers, excepting the president, W. C. Dornin, have retired. The changes include George A. Drake, made vice-president in place of Louis Ross; D. G. Dale, treasurer, in place of C. M. Stead; G. D. Hedian, secretary, in place of W. C. Dornin, jr., and Bruce E. Chilton, chairman, in place of John Gray. The statement was made at the exchange to-day that most of the changes represented the retirement of the so-called "tortoise element" in favor of the "hustlers," as the new management is pleased to term itself. It is expected by some of the "hustlers" that the Klondike excitement will favorably affect the exchange, and that some Klondike claims may be listed for trading purposes.

Wall-street has become greatly interested in the gold discoveries in the Klondike region. Such men as James R. Keene, S. V. White and Washington E. Connor are giving a great deal of thought to the matter, and admit that they are seriously thinking of putting money into the Yukon mining ventures. A syndicate has bought a three months' option on the claim of Miner Berry, who brought out over $150,000 from the Klondike, and has sent R. A. Irving, one of the younger members of the exchange, to Alaska to investigate the mines.

James Rice, formerly Secretary of State of Colorado, has organized one company, with a capital stock of $1,500,000, to help develop the Klondike region and to buy claims.

It is reported here to-day that the Treasury will gain about $700,000 in gold in a day or two by the deposits at Butte, Mont., of bullion from the new Alaska fields. This will be paid for in cheques at the Chicago sub-Treasury.

WEALTH, BUT NO MONEY.

An Ottawa Man Tells How He Finds Things Fabulous Prices Demanded for Claims.

Ottawa, July 27.—Mr. Secretan, who left Ottawa some months ago in the interests of a syndicate of Ottawa investors, made the journey from Lake Lauderman, 25 miles beyond the head of Taiya Inlet, to Klondike.

A letter was received from him yesterday, in which, after an account of his trip, he says:

"There is any amount of wealth here. Everybody has a sack of dust which they chuck about promiscuously. There doesn't seem to be any money. A man stands drinks, flops down his sack, the bartender takes out a handful, weighs it, puts back what is over and throws the sack back.

"I must not forget to tell you that there is no such thing as being able to buy a claim for a reasonable price. Several of the police sold out half interests for $40,000, and there are men here who refuse to take $75,000 for claims. One old, ragged-looking ruffian laughed scornfully last night at a chap who offered him $1000 for his claim, and said he might consider $200,000.

"Like all new diggings the least rumor of a new discovery starts them going. Last night the Alaska Company's steamer went up the river from here with about 200 men, all bound for this Henderson Creek. I suppose there are 2000 scattered about there.

"Circle City has been deserted since last winter, and every soul has left Fort Cudahy (forty-mile), so you see there are any amount of people ahead of us, and our only chance, that I can see, is to watch and wait for new discoveries."

Under date of June 23 he says: "At 10 o'clock last night Barwell returned from that Henderson Creek, so I write you this supplementary to say the creek turned out to be a fizzle. The auger I mentioned would not work through the frost, and they left it behind. They went up to 49 and 50 miles above Discovery, and also staked two claims on the right fork. There were over one hundred claims staked, none of which will ever be recorded, and finally got driven out by the flies, and with a hole in the canoe paddled down here 70 miles in a day, so you may guess what kind of a stream it is to go up.

"The least rumor starts a rush, and they blaze a tree and come back. I saw Davis yesterday, and he said it was all luck. Old miners refused to even look at Eldorado Creek, and left it for the pilgrims.

"I am sorry to hear you say that a lot of fellows are coming to this infernal country by boat. I expect they will return in the next boat. My opinion is that unless new discoveries are made by some of these old-timers soon the immigration will stop, as there will be a tremendous lot of disappointed people here this fall.

"You will see by my letter how utterly impossible it is to buy anything. You also seem to think it an easy matter to get time to pay for claims, but if you saw men shaking $50,000 drafts under the noses of ragged old prospectors and getting refused you would know how different it is to what you think.

"As to the other suggestion about applying for water power, etc., there is nothing of that sort here; any amount of wated where you don't want it; but I hear on the rich creeks there is scarcely a sluice head."

He concludes by stating that his party will have no results to show this year.

WAS IT ANDREE'S BALLOON?

A Dutch Captain Saw An Object in the White Sea Which He Thinks May Have Been the Air Ship.

Rotterdam, July 27.—A letter from Capt. Lehman of the Dutch steamer Dordrecht appears in one of the papers of this city, to the effect that he saw a curious object floating in the White Sea on July 17, which was neither a ship nor a dead whale, but resembled a balloon, and Capt. Lehman suggests that it may have been Andree's balloon which he saw.

FOUR NEW CRUISERS

To Be Added to the Navy of Great Britain

THEY WILL BE OF THE BEST CLASS.

Armored Vessels of High Speed, Capable of Any Service Required—Torpedo Boat Destroyers to Be Built Also General News by Cable.

London, July 27.—In Committee of Supply, House of Commons, to-day, Right Hon. George J. Goschen, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced a supplementary naval estimate for £3,000,000 which, he said, was necessitated by recent additions to foreign navies. It is proposed to utilize the amount mentioned in the immediate commencement of the construction of four additional very fast armoured cruisers of 14,850 tons each, capable of the double duty of taking part in action with battleships and protecting the lines of communication.

In addition to these £90,000 will be spent for new torpedo boat destroyers. The completion of the ships now in course of construction will be accelerated so as to leave the coming year free for new designs.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

European Arbitration to Settle Differences in Arranging a Treaty.

Constantinople, July 27.—At the sitting of the peace conference yesterday the ambassadors presented the peace preliminaries drafted by the powers, which provide for European arbitration of any differences that may arise between the Greek and Turkish plenipotentiaries in arranging a definitive treaty. It is stated that the powers will insist upon the acceptance by the Porte of this provision, and its reception, therefore, by the Sultan will be highly significant.

The desire of Germany to institute a European control of Greek finances still hampers the settlement of the indemnity question. It is understood that the Volo-Larissa Railway will be transferred to the Greek administration, with the stipulation that the same facilities shall be granted to Turkey for the transportation of troops as are granted to the Greek Government. This, therefore, does not indicate an intention on the part of Turkey to evacuate Thessaly, but is merely a measure of economy.

CUT OUT BY YANKEES.

Contracts for Electric Railway in London Secured by Americans.

London, July 27.—According to The Daily Mail the English firms are very indignant that the contracts for the traction plant of the London Central Railway, which is to be an underground electric line, amounting in value to hundreds of thousands of pounds, have been given to Americans.

The secretary of the company explains that the contracts for car wages, locomotives and machinery were given to American firms on the advice of the electrical experts, who represent that the greater use of electrical traction in the United States has brought its manufacture to a higher degree of perfection and made it far less expensive than in England.

BRITISH SOLDIERS KILLED.

Tribesmen Attacked a Camp in India and a Hot Fight Ensued.

London, July 27.—A despatch from Simla says that a large body of tribesmen made an attack last night on Camp Malakand in the Chirral. In the fight that ensued Private Leonard Manly of the 45th Sikhs, was killed; Private Taylor dangerously wounded and Major Herbert and Lieutenant Watking of the engineer corps were severely hurt.

The cavalry, with guides, are now pursuing the enemy, who retreated this morning.

THEY HAVE THEIR MONEY.

Canadians at Bisley Received £17 4s 7d Each Expenses Allowed.

London, July 27.—(Telegram Cable.)—The members of the Canadian Bisley team were paid their winnings at the office of the High Commissioner in London to-day. Each received £2 for expenses until the steamer sails from Liverpool. The divided money gives each man £17 4s 7d.

The individual winners are: Blair £11, Broadhurst £8, Carter £2, Corrigan £11 11s, Drysdale £4, Kerr £2, King £24 3s 7d, Langstroth 12s 3d, Marks £2, Ross £27 1s 1d, Smith 6s 8d, Wilmott £30, Swaine £21 18s 3d, Lieut. Davidson £1, Capt. Davidson, Grieve, Kinnear, Miller, Skedden and Captain White nil.

The entrance fees deducted from each, viz.: £6 19s 6d, the men think, should be refunded by the D.R.A.

Majors Mason and Dunbar, commandant and adjutant respectively, were presented with handsomely-mounted umbrellas by the members of the team.

A portion of the team visited Woolwich to-day, and spent some hours inspecting the wonders of the Royal Naval Arsenal. Major Mason will visit the French Capital on Friday.

Some of the Canadians who were shooting at Bisley, but who were not on the Dominion 20, asked the commandant if he would not apply on their behalf for N.R.A. badges. This Major Mason declined to do, believing that members of the team only should receive badges.

Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, in the House of Commons to-day laid on the table the replies of the governors of the several colonies respecting the development of trade with the United Kingdom.

Probabilities About Andree.

Gothenburg, Sweden, July 27.—Lieut. Svenborg, son-in-law of Dr. Otto Nordenskjold, the Arctic explorer, reports from Ascension that if nothing is heard from Herr Andree in six weeks it is not likely that anything will be heard from him this year.

OUR BUTTER AND CHEESE.

The Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, has forwarded to the EXAMINER a copy of the Liverpool Post of the 10th July, which contains a column and a half article on the shipment of dressed beef from Canada. The Post comes to the conclusion that the figures relative to the importation of Canadian cheese during the last few years are unmistakably suggestive of a great future for the trade in dead meat which is now in its initial stage, for obviously the country which is so favourable to dairy cattle as to enable a large trade to be built up in cheese, must likewise be conducive to the profitable conversion of the bovine species into beef. It is, the Ottawa Free Press thinks, correct. It also goes at length into the immense possibilities which lie in the way of our dairy produce. They are illimitable. Thanks to the active and determined efforts of the Government, and the Minister of Agriculture in particular, the status of the Dominion has been advanced a quarter of a century in this respect. Our farmers must justify the efforts made on their behalf, and use every effort to turn out the best possible article of butter and cheese, regarding every expedient or practice, no matter how much present profit it promises, as false economy, if it tends in the slightest to cause deterioration of quality. High quality is the goal to strive for, and once that is reached, and honestly maintained, the profit will look after itself.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Canadian Bisley team didn't win any grand prize this year, but they captured over $2,000 of good British gold in many prizes. This will at least pay expenses—good all-round success.

THE talk of coal at Sudbury has revived. If it be that coal is to be found ther will mean more to Ontario than all the gold of the Klondyke. Give us coal, and hyperboren Klondyke is welcome to its gold, though both would be something nice to have.

MAYOR FLEMING, of Toronto, is accused by his opponents of being grasping, but he is not averse to the small boy being in the swim. His proclamation, giving every Toronto boy under 16 a free steamer passage, every day, to the western channel of the bay, is one of his most popular acts. This is to give the boys a chance to bathe, and what the small boy most appreciates is the chance to bathe without trunks, though this would be ever so much more fun, if it were forbidden.

CONSIDERABLE comment is made upon the fact of one lawyer striking another in a court in Nova Scotia. No. 1 called No. 2 a liar, and the latter dropped a "hot one on No. 1's nob." The referee—in this case the judge—promptly stopped the "mill" and fined the millers. While such a pugilistic encounter in court is sufficiently disgraceful, it may be submitted that it isn't much more so than some of the scenes of verbal sparring we sometimes hear in court. A neat blow neatly delivered is not perhaps as shocking as listening to the barristerial Billingsgate that one has often to hear.

THE Ottawa Citizen has discovered that the Ottawa Government is carrying on the public service with too few men. "The men on the Rideau Canal," it says, "are overworked, five men having to do the work that eight men were in former years employed to do." The operation of the Government's business-like administration says the Montreal Herald, is not pleasing the Conservatives. The late Government in latter years carried on no public works but allowed the treasury to be drained by a host of its parasites whom it had put upon the public pay sheet.

SIR WILFRED LAURIER was treated with the greatest consideration and respect in the Old Country. In only one thing were his wishes not consulted, and that was in respect of the title that was conferred upon him. He has been accused of departing from the principles of democracy in accepting a title at the hands of Her Majesty. The facts are he couldn't help—he had, in this sense "greatness thrust upon him." Writing in reference to the matter to an intimate friend in Montreal, on Monday, the premier says:—"As to the titles and honours which have been conferred upon me, I was not consulted. I was informed of them first when, on my arrival in London, I found on my table the decree, which was signed by the Queen." Under the circumstances, as the Premier well asks, what other course was open but to accept the honour? To have refused would to have been guilty of a churlish and boorish disregard to Her Majesty's wishes, of which Sir Wilfred is incapable. If his enemies and critics can find no greater fault with the Premier than his graceful acceptance of honours at the hands of a queen on so unique an occasion as that of her Diamond Jubilee, they can well afford to be silent.

Faith.

A pretty anecdote is related of a child who was greatly perturbed by the discovery that her brothers had set traps to catch birds. Questioned as to what she had done in the matter, she replied: "I prayed that the traps might not catch the birds." "Anything else?" "Yes," she said. "I then prayed that God would prevent the birds getting into the traps, and," as if to illustrate the doctrine of faith and works, "I went and kicked the traps all to pieces."—Household Words.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

THE LITTLE DELUGE

Which Focussed Over Toronto Monday Night.

GREATEST RAINFALL EVER RECORDED

Newspaper Press Rooms Were Flooded and the Big Machines Had to Stop—Some Damage Was Done Outside, but the Downpour Was Heaviest in the City.

Toronto, July 28.

The heaviest rainfall at Toronto in 20 years was that which commenced on Monday night. From 7 o'clock until nearly the same hour next morning, the rains descended and the floods came and beat upon the city. As a result sewers were choked up, cellars flooded, fences and sidewalks washed away, and the press rooms of the Toronto morning dailies were badly flooded.

There have been recorded four—and only four—rainstorms in the past 54 years to equal that of July 26, 1897. The register of the fall on this henceforth memorable date was a depth of 3.12 inches. The other four storms, with the comparative depth of rainfall, are as follows:

Sept. 14, 1843	3.45	inches.
Oct. 6, 1849	3.16	"
Nov. 2, 1861	3.13	"
Aug. 4, 1878	3.45	"

Hence, yesterday's fall of rain was the heaviest in the month of July since the Toronto Observatory was established.

The depth will be better appreciated when it is known that 24 inches is the average total yearly rainfall in rainy London, or less than eight times the depth of the fall in yesterday's storm.

From about 1 until 8 yesterday morning it seemed as though the city was the focus of a waterspout. Street car traffic was blocked, more particularly at the Queen-street subway, which, when the Parkdale population were leaving forth to their places of business, resembled a canal. For a short time transfers had to be made, but when workmen had cleared a passage into the sewers, the cars were able to run again. Work on the subway proper was also delayed half a day.

The Union Station also formed the bed for a diminutive lake, for which Simcoe and York streets acted as water-sheds. All outgoing trains were late. In the different localities where building operations were going on, foundations were flooded and work correspondingly delayed.

Many cellars were flooded and sidewalks washed out. All day the rain fell almost unremittingly.

TALK WITH OLD PROBS.

Storm Will Finish To-Night, and Then Old Sol Will Re-Assert His Power.

"Deluged citizens of Toronto, lift up your hearts and be glad once more, for to-day the storm departeth. Be ye not dismayed because this morning it is cloudy, for, although it may possibly shower a little early in the day, yet at eventide it will pass away and be clear." Thus spake Old Probs when seen by a reporter last night.

To-day will break clear over Western Ontario and eastward along the shores of Lake Erie, but along Lake Ontario the storm will tenaciously resist disruption until to-night.

When the storm is finally over, the thermometer will continue to register anywhere from 80 to 100 degrees above zero, as we have been having it for the past couple of weeks. So that those anticipating a more moderate atmosphere will probably be disappointed. At least, so runs the irrevocable ukase of the powers that know.

But, as to the storm that has been. Up till 8 a.m. yesterday there had fallen a depth of 3.12 inches of rain. At 8 p.m. the depth had increased to 3.58 inches, and by 10 p.m. yesterday the fall in round numbers totalled 4 inches. Four inches in 26 hours is probably a record for Ontario raining, but it is nowhere when compared with the fall in the Maritime Provinces, where such a downpour is nothing in the least unusual, and where it has been known to rain to a depth of over seven inches.

Toronto has enjoyed the distinction of being the storm centre, however. In Buffalo at 8 p.m. yesterday there had fallen but 1.54 inches and in Kingston exactly one inch.

Up till 10 o'clock last night the storm area had not extended eastward further than Ottawa and Prescott, the fall in the former place amounting to the merely nominal total of .02 inches; so that the impression that the storm extended all over the Province is entirely erroneous.

What caused such an impromptu deluge? The experts tell us that the exceptionally warm atmosphere of the past while, of which nobody needs be reminded, is indirectly the cause. The light, low barometric air which had been hanging over the State of Michigan lifted, and the air from all directions, rushing in, started a cyclone on a small Eastern scale. The abnormal flow for the past weeks of warm air from the South Atlantic supercharged the atmosphere with moisture, and that's where the rain came from.

Slowly and ponderously the great storm area moved, first southeast towards Ohio, then, for some inexplicable reason, shifted its course northeast, almost at a right angle. The result is that yesterday it focused between Toronto and Hamilton. All day a strong east wind was blowing up Lake Ontario, a west wind was blowing down Lake Erie and a north wind south from Lake Huron. These three formed tangents to the spirally-revolving circle of storm, keeping it for some hours almost stationary and focused over Toronto.

Its northeasterly progress has also been impeded by the large area of high pressure or anti-cyclone air, which has moved down over the Maritime Provinces, and thus helped in its humble way to bedrench this part of Ontario. These reasons have largely contributed towards the slow progress of the storm, which moved only 200 miles in 24 hours.

AT OUTSIDE POINTS.

Farmers in Some Sections Feel Despondent Over Ruined Wheat.

Niagara, Ont., July 27. This vicinity has been visited by a rainstorm of great magnitude and considerable damage done, more rain having fallen in the last 24 hours than during the whole of July last year. The wheat crop has sustained the greatest damage, most of it being in shock. The grain will be very much discolored and is starting to grow. Any not cut is thrown down. Oats, where heavy, lie flat; corn also suffered. The orchards have not as yet suffered much. A heavy wind would do much damage.

Grain Will Be Damaged.

Guelph, July 27. There has been an unusual amount of rain here yesterday and to-day. It has rained almost continually from yesterday afternoon until this evening. Farmers have a good deal of grain cut and lying on the ground, which will be damaged unless it clears soon. Grain that is yet standing will not be damaged.

Corn Suffered Most.

Port Hope, July 27.—The heaviest rainfall for years set in here last evening, lasting till noon to-day. Farmers from various districts report considerable damage to crops. The corn crop seems to have suffered more than any of the other grains, large fields in some sections being broken down completely.

Steamer Hamilton Buffetted.

Belleville, July 27. The steamer Hamilton, which was due here this morning, did not arrive until 3 o'clock this afternoon. The boat, which had about 200 passengers on board, had a very rough passage down the lake. Her bow shutters were broken in by the waves and some freight was damaged. One seaman was knocked down by a wave and was considerably bruised.

Farmers Have the Blues.

Collingwood, July 27.—The heavy showers of the last two weeks in this section have made the ground so that the farmers can do nothing with it. A large quantity of hay has been cut and lying on the ground, and it is in a bad condition and will be worthless. Grains of all kinds were very heavy and have been beaten down and lodged. In some places wheat has actually sprouted and will not be worth cutting. Plums and apples, which are our staple, will be all right. What few farmers have been in town the last two days are very despondent and see nothing but a gloomy outlook.

Very Much Discouraged.

St. Catharines, July 27.—The heavy rains of the past week or ten days have done an immense amount of damage to the wheat, which was cut and shocked up in the fields. The crop is an unusually heavy one in this vicinity and had been almost all cut, but the frequent rains prevented the farmers from handling in and in many cases the grain has started to grow. The farmers are very much discouraged.

SPLITTING HAIRS.

Some Men Contend That Calfskins Cannot Be Classified With Hides of Cattle Under the New Tariff.

Washington, July 27.—The treasury officials already have discovered a number of inconsistencies in the new tariff act, some of them, it is feared, being incapable of reconciliation. It is pointed out that section 262 places the duty on plums at 25 cents per bushel, and section 264 places the rate at two cents per pound. An error in the paragraphs as to currants was corrected in conference.

Another section fixes the rate of duty on hides of cattle at 15 cents a pound and admits raw skins free. The question involved is the classification of calfskins, it being contended that commercially calfskins are not classed as hides of cattle, and hence are entitled to free entry, which is believed to be contrary to the purpose of Congress. Attention is also called to the fact that the provision as to licenses for customs brokers was, by inadvertance, it is believed, left out of the act. Circulars are in preparation construing a number of the sections of the law. Persons entering this country are permitted, under certain restrictions, to bring with them duty free "usual and reasonable furniture." This is interpreted to mean such furniture as would be reasonable and useful for the personal use of persons in their condition in life.

On procuring Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I found to my surprise and delight that they gave almost instant relief. A Port Hope Lady Undergoes a trying experience, from which she is at last freed by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

This is Home Talk From Home People.

Mr. F. J. Armstrong, one of Port Hope's best known citizens, speaks as follows:—"My wife has had a terrible time with her heart for the last fifteen months.

The pains were intense, and she had a smothering feeling together with shortness of breath, weakness and general debility. Medicine seemed to do her no good, and we had about given up trying when she started to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which she got at Deyell's Drug Store. They have toned her up wonderfully.

She is stronger to-day than she has been for months, thanks to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I am sure there can be no better remedy from their remarkable effects in Mrs. Armstrong's case."

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our built me up and restored my health so that, although the doctor said I would not be able to work hard, I have since done the work for 20 people. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my husband of the boils, and we regard it a wonderful medicine." MRS. ANNA PETERSON, Latimer, Kansas.

A Work of Art.

The Grand Trunk Railway has issued one of the most beautiful specimens of railway literature yet published. The description text is of as high literary value as the splendid illustrations.

Foresters' Civic Holiday Excursion.

The Foresters of Court Littlejohn have made arrangements for running an excursion by rail and boat from Peterborough to Niagara Falls on civic holiday, Aug. 16. Negotiations are in progress for reduced fares from Toronto to Buffalo for those who wish to extend the trip. Be on the look out for large posters which will give full particulars as to rates, route, etc. This promises to be a most enjoyable outing. This favourite trip is the feature of the Civic Holiday in Peterborough and affords a capital opportunity to see the sights at the falls.

BADLY BURNED.

A Can of Gasoline Explodes at the Canadian General Electric Works.

Mr. Patrick Heenan, an armature winder employed at the Canadian General Electric Works, met with a painful accident when at work yesterdry.

He was carrying a can filled with gasoline when the contents sudenly exploded, badly buring his right hand and arm. The burns were dressed at the Works, but were very painful to-day, when they were redressed by Dr. King. The blister is a very large one and it will be some time before before Mr. Heenan will be able to resume work. He resides at No. 107 Rubidge street.

A PECULIAR ACCIDENT AT NORWOOD.

A Splinter From His Hammer Penetrates a Blacksmith's Abdomen.

Mr. Will Henderson met with a serious accident while working at the forge on Friday night, which nearly cost him his life—a piece of steel broke with terrible force from the hammer which he was wielding, striking him in the abdomen penetrating the walls and lodging within. The doctors were called in and after a long search and much pain to the patient, extracted the peculiar missle. At last reports he was improving.

SWIMMING FROM THE PIERS.

The Police Will be Instructed to Enforce the Law Touching the Matter.

At a meeting of Committee of the Council Monday evening, Councillor Robertson gave notice that he proposed introducing a motion at the next council meeting which would have the effect of putting a stop to men and boys swimming off the piers in the Little Lake.

THE EXAMINER has commented on this matter on several occasions, but no steps have been taken by the police to put a stop to this promiscuous bathing.

The complaints of the passengers on steamers and canoeists regarding the brazen exposure of their bodies by the men have become so loud that the ear of the council has been reached and arrangements will be made to have a constable in plain clothes take the names of the bathers who daily violate the bylaw governing the matter.

The little cove at Burnham's Point is a secluded spot where no one would have any objection to having the bathers enjoy themselves.

The Wm. English Canoe Company this morning shipped a crate of six canoes for the Klondyke gold fields. The company couldn't get their canoes much nearer to the North Pole without getting an order from Balloonist Andree.

The Great Attraction This Week.

Gough Bros'. hurricane sale of summer clothing, hats, boots, gloves and furnishings for men, youths and boys will doubtless prove a great attraction this week. A shrinkage of $10,500 on the prices covered by their whole stocks in both stores since last week should be inducement enough to bring crowds to their counters. The prices represent their great reductions in summer stocks, including that portion of the clothing left over from their great sale of the E. A. Small & Co.'s mammoth purchase in Montreal. Everything that cannot be carried over is to be got rid of. The goods cannot be marked any lower, and in order to have the benefit of a fairly good selection they advise all to call early to get the pick of the choicest. The changed prices will probably clear out all the summer goods in about a couple of weeks. dtf

GREENFIELD AT LARGE.

The Man Who Broke Into Gough's Store is Said to be the Tramp Who did the Shooting.

The identity of the tramp who did the shooting in Jackson Park the other day has been established and the men whom he ran across are glad they did not attempt to further interfere with him.

He is no other, the Chief of Police thinks, than young Greenfield, the burglar who robbed Gough Bros. store a few years ago and who has recently been released from a three years' term which he spent in Kingston Penetentiary.

Greenfield is suspected of being the man who robbed Mr. Jack Mervin of $80 00 and his gold watch and chain and it is said that he wears the clothing which disappeared at the same time. He boasts that he will never be taken alive and as the man who tries arrest him will undoubtedly have to take his life in his hand the local authorities do not know what to do in the matter. As he is making the old quarry his headquarters the police will doubtless soon be able to rout him out, although he mysteriously disappears on occasions when more than one or two approach his hiding place. How he obtains his food is not known, but it is thought he has several pals who are looking after him.

THREE MONTHS IN GAOL.

Murray, Alias Conlin, the Pickpocket Receives his Sentence.

Yesterday afternoon a session of the County Criminal Court was held and James T. Murray, of Mexico, the pickpocket who was arrested on July 1st, was up before Judge Weller for sentence.

Murray, it will be remembered, was mixing with the crowd at the C.P.R. station when the excursion train from Toronto came in. Mrs. True, of town, was also at the station and, feeling a hand in her pocket, turned suddenly and caught Murray by the wrist as he was in the act of picking her pocket. He was instantly seized by two gentlemen, who witnessed the incident, and was turned over to the police.

He was found guilty at his trial about ten days ago and was remanded for sentence in order that he might have an opportunit of sending to get testimonial as to his character.

He asked that the Engineers' Union, of Mexico, be communicated with, claiming to be a member of the Order. Word was received that a Jas. T. Murray did belong to the union, but that he was still running on the Mexican Central, and that therefore the man under arrest was an imposter. This was communicated to the prisoner, who then gave his name as Patrick Conlin, of Springfield, Mo. Here he had friends and it was learned that his brother was the police court judge, of that town, and that the position had been held by his father before him. Strong testimony as to his previous good character was received.

In consideration of this Judge Weller imposed the light sentence of three months in the county gaol.

Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, conducted the prosecution, and Mr. D. O'Connel appeared for the defense.

HORSE THIEVES AGAIN.

Word Comes to the Police of Two More Horses Stolen.

The local police have just got word of two more horses which recently have been stolen.

The Bolton livery stable complains of the loss on July 24th, of a bay horse, with 3 white feet and lump on tendon of front leg, 8 years old. It was attached to a McLaughlin side spring buggy, with natural wood gearing, black body, canopy top and back curtain on roller.

The man who hired it gave his name as Joyce. He was low set, slightly round-shouldered, clean shaven, light complexioned and about 20 years of age.

Joseph Lappin, at 1198 Dufferin street, Toronto, also writes of a stolen horse, which he has reason to think was brought to Peterborough by gypsies. It was taken on June 8th, and is a black mare, 13 years old, 15½ hands high, 3 white feet, white star on forehead, short thick tail, lengthy straight clean legs, no spavins, large head, small lump on right jaw and one on lower corner of right eye, very stylish.

THE TRAMP NUISANCE.

The Council Proposes to Take Active Steps in the Matter at Once.

Active measures are to be taken at once to abate the tramp nuisance in the Jackson Park.

At the next meeting of the Town Council a competent man will be appointed, who will be invested with power to arrest the vagrants. It is proposed that he be appointed a county constable and that the county pay half his salary during the summer months.

On Friday last a couple of tramps made themselves so objectionable to some young ladies who were picnicing in the Park that the party waded through the creek and fled into town. If such a state of affairs exist the park will soon cease to be patronized. The action which the council proposes to take in the matter, however, will soon change the aspect of affairs.

THE PERSISTENT RAIN.

The Immense Amount That has Fallen Since Last Thursday.

It would have been thought yesterday that the clouds would have exhausted their capacity from weeping, but last night with the dogged persistence of an insurance agent, it began as freshly as if it hadn't rained for a month, and last night and this morning rain fell to the depth of 72 100, almost three-quarters of an inch. The total of the rainfall ceasing yesterday was 2 23-100 of an inch, and since Thursday the total rainfall has amounted to over 3½ inches—3 58 100 inches. Very few, perhaps realize the significance of an inch of rain. An inch of rain falling on an area of an acre weighs 100 tons; therefore on an acre of land in Peterborough since last Thursday there has fallen the enormous weight of 350 tons of water, and taking the area of the town of Peterborough at say, 200 acres the total weight of water that has fallen in the time mentioned amounts to the inconceivable quantity of 420,000 tons.

The rain is a great relief to the Waterwork's Company's machinery. All the lawn services being shut off, there is a very great reduction of the power required to operate the pumps.

There are complaints in the country that the rain is doing some damage. In some places it is stated wheat is sprouting in the stooks, and late hay is becoming injuriously blackened by the wet.

OBITUARY.

Death of John McNeely on Monday Last in Lindsay.

REGATTA AT STONY LAKE.

To be held on August 19th and 20th, and not on the 4th and 5th.

The regatta which is held annually at Stony Lake and is the occasion of so much pleasure, is announced to take place this year on Aug. 19th and 20th, and not on Aug. 4th and 5th.

The former date is chosen in order that the 19th, being Peterborough's civic holiday, the citizens may have an opportunity of going out to the lakes to witness the regatta.

The events will be as follows:

Ladies' singles.
Ladies' tandem.
Mixed tandem.
Men's singles.
Men's tandem.
Boys' (15 years and under) singles and tandem.
Four paddles race.
Tub race.
Upset race.
Swimming race.
Hurry scurry race.
Tournament.
Tail end.
Rowing races, single and double.
Canoe sailing races, centreboard and leeboard.
Skiff sailing races.

The paddling events must be competed in canoes 16 x 28 to 30 for singles, and 16 x 30 to 31 for doubles.

As the wind cannot be depended upon, the sailing races will be held on the day which is suitable, and therefore those intending to compete in any event will have to be in readiness both days.

DAILY TEMPERATURE RECORD.

The following are readings of the official thermometers for this afternoon, as well as the highest and lowest yesterday—shade temperature:—

To-day—1 p. m.....64° above zero

	Highest.	Lowest.
Yesterday	65°	43°

Rain (up to 1 p. m.) .72 of an inch.

The total rainfall yesterday was 2 inches and 23-100. Since Thursday the depth of rain has amounted to 3 inches and 58 100.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars. —G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

LACROSSE.

Markham will be here for a game about the middle of August in all probability. The secretary has written to arrange for a date.

Perth is anxious to play in Peterborough and Madoc sometime during August.

Orillia won from Stouffville yesterday on the former's grounds by 9 goals to 5.

ACQUATIC.

A Walkerville firm has offered a handsome silver cup as a prize for a war canoe race at the C.A.A.O. regatta next week. War canoe crews from Brantford, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Lachine and Brockville are entered.

LEBRUN—GOUGH BROS. ROAD RACE.

The apparently everlasting and unending patter and pound of the rain has necessitated the postponement of the road race to Peterborough and Lakefield return, arranged between quartettes representing the above establishments. It has been declared off for the present, and Friday next has been fixed as the date of the great event, J.P.P. (Jupiter Pluvius permitting). It is stated on this occasion the contending teams will be paced by Mr. John Lynch, representing LeBrun & Co., and Wm. Hincholiffe representing Gough Bros.

TUG OF WAR.

The hotelkeepers' picnic in Toronto has been postponed on account of rain until August 5th, and therefore Lem Fetcher and his tug of war team will not go up till that date. Lem says his men in the meantime are keeping their hands in by pulling up elm trees and hauling up logs for the day's sawing at the mill. The local team is to be composed of Messrs. Lowery and Fegg of town, and McQuade brothers, of Omemee.

Surprised His Doctor.

"A little over a year ago I was laid up with bronchitis," says Stanley C. Bright clerk of Kingston. "My doctor's pills came to $42 and altogether my illness cost me $125. This fall I had another attack. I came across an advertisement in a newspaper for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for throat troubles. I thought I would risk a quarter and try it. It cured me. After this I intend to treat my own ills."

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 33; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1 00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 90. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.80. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

All orders executed on the New York Stock and Cotton Exchanges and Chicago Board of Trade. Write for full information, my Vest Pocket Manual and Board of Trade Red Book. (Established 1885.) Only regular Stock Broker in Vermont.

Where Woman is Exalted.

All plantation life is to a considerable extent patriarchal, except that, instead of the women being subordinated to masculine pleasures and aggrandizement, as with the patriarchs of old, they are set on a pedestal and practically worshipped. It makes little difference to this modern patriarch of the cotton belt if his cuffs are frayed and his coat rusty, so long as his wife and daughters wear suits to church that are as stylish as his crops can pay for and their village dressmaker can devise. It is a feature of the day in the south as well as elsewhere that women are being better educated than men. In the Northern States of the Union this higher culture is tending manifestly to celibacy, but in rural localities through the South the girls come back from academies and colleges and accept the young men who stayed at home to work the plantation, the same ones they would have married had they not gone away for their education the parents sacrificed so much to bestow. They know what material these men are made of, and in the attraction between the ethereal womanly and the eternal manly the question of learning counts for little.

To lead a patriarchal life without a patriarch would be dull indeed, and it must be said that it requires courage of a superior order to remain single in a situation which would offer little aim and stimulus outside of wifehood and maternity after youth has waned. For this reason youth is considered the high prize, the valuable capital and stock in trade.

The women fade no earlier than their Northern sisters, but owing to an inherited habit of thought, the label of decay is respectfully fastened upon them by the popular mind while they are still in their prime, and in the Northern and Eastern States would be accounted capable of all things, even of marrying well.—Lippincott's Magazine.

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local-application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness.

THE WHEEL SWERVED.

And Andrew Corcoran Was Thrown Into the Water and Drowned.

Dunnville, July 26.—Andrew Corcoran, aged 20, youngest son of Mr. James Corcoran of Stromness, was drowned last evening in the lock of the Welland Canal feeder. He was riding a bicycle along the bank when he struck some obstruction and was thrown with his wheel into the lock. Several companions saw the accident, but were unable to give him any assistance.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Toronto, July 27.

Charlie Brady, the serio-comic umpire, lengthened out the game between Toronto and Providence to 12 innings yesterday afternoon at Hanlan's Point. Toronto batted around four in the first innings and had a margin that should have cinched the game, but with two on bases in their half Dranby was allowed a three-base hit on a ball clearly outside third base line, and thereby hangs the tale.

Toronto	4	0	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	—11

THE OTHER GAMES.

At Montreal—Six hundred people saw Montreal win their third consecutive game from Wilkes Barre. Both pitchers were batted hard, but the home infield support was of the gilt-edged order, with the exception of Richter at third. The features of the game were McMahon's batting for Wilkes-Barre and the work of Henry at short, the latter having eight put-outs and five assists. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Wilkes-Barre	0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 3	11	14	7

Batteries—Yerrick and Berger; Coughlin and Diggins. Earned runs—Montreal 8, Wilkes-Barre 6. Two-base hits—F. Shannon, Henry, Yerrick, McMahon 2. Three-base hits—Dooley. Passed ball—Berger 1. Bases on balls—By Yerrick 3, by Coughlin 1. Struck out—By Yerrick 1, by Coughlin 1. Double plays—Atherton to D. Shannon to Goeckel, Henry to F. Shannon to Dooley, Shearon to Henry. Time—2.25. Umpire—Doescher.

At Syracuse—Syracuse won from Scranton in what was a pitchers' battle up to the eighth inning, when the home team landed on Gilton. The score up to this time was 1 to 0 in favor of the home team. In the eighth Willis made a hit, Dirty Bill Egan was given his base on balls, Garry beat out a bunt, advancing the other two men. Smith made a two-bagger, clearing the bases, and scored after two men were out on Thomson's triple. Bannon scored on Schelbeck's single. Ryan was caught off first base, retiring the side. Score:

Batteries—Willis and Ryan; Gilton and Boyd.

At Buffalo the locals went down to defeat once more. Souders was a mark for the Pontes, and after the fifth gave way to Brown. The Bisons' batting was so poor that they could not hit out the winning runs. Brouthers' home-run hit was one of the longest seen here this season. Score:

LONDON IN AN EASY SPOT.

Hamilton, July 26.—The London Baseball Club defeated the Hamiltons this afternoon and came near whitewashing them. The Londons played a good game and batted well. Dean, the Hamilton's second baseman, pitched although there were two pitchers on the bench, Lyons, the St. Thomas catcher, signed on Saturday as centre-fielder, did not distinguish himself by good work. McAndrews, the third baseman, played a miserable game, and, after muffing two balls and making a wild throw, wanted to go to the bench. The sooner Manager Stroud releases him and two of the outfielders the better the patrons of the game here will be pleased. The score:

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by the Doctors in the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

OTTAWA, July 26th.—It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent of this city with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills has definitely decided the objection as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine, and has been beyond accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no question raised to the statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

NOW THE CRETANS KICK.

Refuse to Lay Down Their Arms While Turks are on the Island.

Canea, Island of Crete, July 26.—Djevad Pasha, the special Turkish commissioner sent from Constantinople to mediate between the Mussulmans and the admirals of the international fleet in favor of autonomy for Crete, visited the admiral unofficially yesterday and they returned his visit. In the eyes of the Christian inhabitants of the island, the fact that Djevad Pasha was permitted to land is a blow to the prestige of the great powers, and these Cretans have already sent delegates to Admiral Canevaro, commanding the combined foreign fleet, notifying him that they will decline to entertain proposals for autonomy so long as Djevad Pasha or the Turkish troops remain in the island. Admiral Canevaro replied that they must be prepared to accept a small Turkish garrison. This only elicited a storm of angry protests and a refusal to lay down their arms until the Turkish troops left the island.

Married 58 Years.

London, July 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone yesterday celebrated the fifty-eighth anniversary of their wedding. Many visitors joined in the family rejoicings at Harwarden, and scores of the townspeople saluted the venerable couple while on their way to church. Both are in excellent health, Mr. Gladstone walking off with as much vigor as at any time within the past ten years, shaking hands energetically and conversing with great animation.

London, July 26.—Henry Hamilton Evans surrendered himself yesterday to the Whitechapel Precinct police, confessing that he shot Arthur Terry at 5 Gould street, New Orleans, on Feb. 22, 1893.

He was arraigned this morning at the Thames Police Court, where he repeated his confession, and was remanded.

Ambassador Hay has communicated the facts of the confession and arrangement to the authorities at Washington.

The newly wedded couple step through the door of the future. They pass from the happy, thoughtless present into an avenue of possibilities. The future is what they make it—what their health makes it—happy or miserable—a success or failure—full of the love and brightness and joyfulness of mutual love and helpfulness, and healthy, rosy, rollicking children, or, tortured with pain and sickness and mutual fault-finding and dependence and lacking the binding tie of healthy, happy offspring. A world depends upon the young wife. If she has taken proper care of herself and is healthy in a womanly way, the probabilities are all in favor of a happy home filled with the music of childish laughter. Too many young women neglect to take care of their womanly selves. They shrink from the distasteful "examinations" and "local treatment" upon which most physicians insist. There is no need for this.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription acts directly on the important and delicate organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood. It makes them strong and healthy. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and gives the tortured nerves rest and tone. It prepares for wifehood and maternity. Taken during the expectant period, it banishes discomfort and makes the coming of baby easy and comparatively painless. It insures the new comer's health and an ample supply of natural nourishment. Over 90,000 women have testified to its merits. Druggists who offer substitutes aim to get a few pennies extra profit.

Dr. Pierce's great book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser," would prevent more than half the sickness in any family. It gives the best advice for curing common ailments without a doctor. It tells all about anatomy and physiology and the origin of life, and is a most valuable, medical work. FORCES THAT SPOIL ROADS.

A United States Bulletin of Universal Application.

Gen. Roy Stone, Director of Road Inquiry in the United States Department of Agriculture, has sent to Secretary James T. Wilson an elaborate paper, prepared by C. L. Whittle, on the "Forces Which Operate to Destroy Roads." This paper goes into the subject of the construction and care of roads, from a scientific, as well as a practical, point of view, and Mr. Whittle submits some original and interesting notes on road stones.

The proposition is laid down that, all things being equal, the endurance of a road-bed depends upon the qualities of the stone used, assuming the road to be properly constructed and adequately drained. A road, it is said, is subject to attack and consequent loss of material, in part by reason of the composition of the road metal of which it is composed. The means of attack brought to bear upon the surface of a road, in the order of their importance, are physical, dynamical and chemical. There are five physical agencies—frost, water in gullies, winds, falling rain, and gravity. The dynamical agencies are friction and impact, and the disrupting effect of roots. The chemical agencies are decomposition and solution.

"A careful study of the wear and tear of a road-bed, says Mr. Whittle, "shows that the combined operation of wind and water play no inconsiderable part in the destruction of the way. * * * * Wind-blown material is not only objectionable, since it increases the cost of road maintenance, but it is an intolerable nuisance in connection with our macadamized roads. The specific gravity of individual minerals and the rock as a whole are of importance when we come to consider the surface of the road, for the crushing effect of traffic is often sufficiently great to separate the different mineral grains from one another. Under these circumstances the sorting action of the wind will tend to remove the minerals having the least specific gravity, and this will be particularly true when the grains possessing the least density happen to coincide with those of a brittle nature, which for this reason are most liable to be ground to a condition of fine dust under the action of wheels. The rain falling upon the road serves to concentrate the minerals into layers in the order of their specific gravity. This will not be found true of the micas, for these will be found concentrated near the surface with the minerals of a less density and both made accessible to the action of the wind."

The most suitable stone to be used on the highways to withstand the action of the wind is described as one whose products of abrasion are of a high but uniform specific gravity, and which is free from all minerals that by their tabular form are prone to be transported by winds. A small amount of dust is of value on a road, acting like a cushion to protect the broken stone from the action of the wheels and the animals' feet. The value of this dust film is further enhanced by a small quantity of moisture. Reference is made to the probable value of a small amount of surface water in serving to prevent loss by wind and its action, in making the road impervious to percolating waters. Capillarity plays an important part in tending to produce a firmer surface, after the manner that particles of sand are held together by thin films of water between the different grains.

A road-bed may suffer disruption by the shrinkage of the subgrade. It has been determined experimentally that clay shrinks one-fifth of its bulk in excessively dry weather and increases to a corresponding degree when wet, and that silicious sands and gravels undergo no change in volume. From this it follows that when a wagon passes over a claybed, which may become desiccated, injurious results are likely to follow, particularly at a point where the clay abuts a sand substratum which is unaffected by weather changes.

Quartz, the hardest of the common minerals, used alone does not make a desirable stone, as its dust is lacking in cementing power; it has a low specific gravity and is very brittle—qualities that should be avoided in selecting a road material. On the other hand, rocks as soft as limestones and slates are quickly ground to powder and are rapidly carried away by water and wind action. Hardness is of importance in tending to resist the abrasive effect of wheels and the feet of animals, but brittleness promotes crumbling under the impact of blows thereby delivered. With some exceptions, the great majority of rocks used in road construction all over the United States contain a considerable proportion of mineral feldspar. The alteration of this feldspar to clay, quartz and calcite so weakens the coherency of the rocks that they are converted into fine sand.

Mr. Whittle says: "Wind quickly transports the fine quartz and clay, thus liberated from the surface of the road, and rain-water charged with organic acids derived from decaying vegetation rapidly dissolves the calcite and carries it away. Near cities we must add to organic acids those derived from gas plants, and manufacturing establishments, which are powerful agents, and attack not only calcite, but other minerals as well. These acids are largely nitric, sulphuric and hydrochloric. The organic acids occurring in all water circulating through the soil in fertile regions are carbonic, humic, ulmic, crenic, and apocrenic. Rain-water impregnated with carbonic acid alone acts as a slow solvent on all the common minerals in road stones, attacking even quartz, but a mixture of the various acids, organic and inorganic, acts more rapidly."

First and foremost among the road stones in this country are classed the rocks commonly called traps, or dike stones, and technically known as diabases and diorites. These rocks are not uniformly desirable, but, in the opinion of Mr. Whittle, nearly all of them are better than the best of other rocks. The qualities commonly regarded as essential in a road stone are resistance to abrasion, cementing and recementing value, and freedom from attack of organic and inorganic acids. Nature has furnished in diorites and diabases rocks which possess nearly all of these desirable qualities.

Twig Blight.

A correspondent complained very recently of the twig blight in a young orchard. He said it extended also to an older orchard. There are periods in almost any direction where trees suffer that way. There is no known remedy, except the heroic treatment of the knife. It seldom kills an orchard or even single trees if the knife is used in season. Cut slanting, and if the wound be large paint with common white lead.

Blight in its severest form does kill pear trees and orchards. Prof. Burrill of the Illinois Experimental Station and Agricultural College, has experimented in the direction of producing the blight by inoculation, and has succeeded.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

When Perfume May Be Used.

The Best Dairy Bulls.

"The difference between a good milk cow and a poor one is great," says The Iowa Homestead, "and no farmer is unwilling to recognize it in the price he pays or pays. He will sell one animal from his herd, say for $25, and be glad to take it, while, for another, he will refuse twice as much. This is all right, for when it is done it is because the owner knows that the one is worth twice as much as the other. But if this difference is recognized by the farmer so readily in the case of the cow, why is it so frequently ignored when buying a bull, or selecting one to use on the herd? Everyone admits that for any purpose 'the bull is half the herd.' If a farmer has a herd of twenty good cows, he can easily see how there can be a difference of $5 a head between them and the same number of cows a little poorer in dairy quality, and the aggregate of the difference for the female half of the herd is $100. But if he is going to buy a bull, the difference of $100 between one that suits his purpose well, and one that does not suit it so well, would, in the majority of instances, drive him into taking the poorer one of the two. Yet, why should it? He recognizes the difference as one that he can afford with regard to the female half of the herd. Why not on the other half?"

"I was troubled with pimples on my face and head which caused me much annoyance. After trying many remedies without benefit I was advised to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. * 1871 *

In this year Messrs. Mason & Risch started in business with small capital and no reputation, but with a determination to sell pianos of such unquestioned merit that each customer would be an aggressive advertiser for them.

* 1897 *

The enviable position that this firm occupies to-day is the best proof that their policy when they started was a wise one. They have sold over 6000 Mason & Risch Pianos in addition to many thousands of pianos and organs of other makers, establishing for themselves a reputation for piano building such as no other Canadian maker has achieved, also the recognition of prominent musicians in the United States and Europe. There is no experiment in getting a Mason & Risch.

Straw Scatteration.

"Sell the Straws!" "Sell at Once-- Only Sell, Sell."

There's the only thought in our minds now. We have a sort of unreasoning terror of carrying Straw Hats over to another season, and we have just bought 100 doz. STRAW HATS to be sold here and in our Toronto stores.

Neither the tariff that's past nor the tariff that's here nor the preferential tariff that we are to enjoy more fully next season, had anything to do with the curious prices at which we bought these several lines of Straw Hats.

BOUGHT TO GET YOUR GOOD WILL. We bought them because it gave us an opportunity to hand them out to you at over-the-sea prices--minus duties--minus profits to anybody--save a moderate one to us.

Without more explanations we will give you a few samples of the "Straw Scatteration" that begins now:--

Extra Fine Split Straws and Bamboos, latest styles, ventilated or not, ordinarily worth from $1.50 to $2.00, now 70c.

Men's Fine Manillas, worth $2.50 and $3.00, now $1.50.

Ladies' Sailors, large flat Mackinaw Straws, also fine braids, to clear for 25c.

Fine Canton Braids, large, flat Mackinaw plaits and English Club Straws, for Men's wear. Latest shapes. Most merchants sell them from $1.00 to $1.50, our price 50c.

A big variety of Men's Straws, of different shapes and styles of braids, worth from 50c to 75c, now 25c.

Children's Straws to be sold at once for whatever they will bring.

See our window with choice for 25c.

LADY PATENTEES.

The New Woman up to Something New --Proof That Woman's Thinking Isn't all Talking.

Communication from Messrs. Marion & Marion, Solicitors of Patents and Experts, Head office, 185 St. James street, Temple Building, Montreal:--

Knife Sharpener--An important attachment to a sewing machine has been patented by Mary H. P. Cox, of Kirkham, Md. It consists of an emery wheel grinder for knives, scissors and the like, geared to the treadle so that it may be run independently of the rest of the machine. It may be readily attached or detached at will, and from the variety of use to which it may be put will, no doubt, have a large sale and be highly appreciated.

Hair Curler--An article considered an important adjunct to a ladies' toilet case was very properly patented by a lady, Laura W. Meech, of Buffalo, N.Y. It is a hair curler composed of a flexible roll, with a flap or apron attached, receeding from each end of the roll towards its center, so that when rolled it forms a compact and secure receptacle for the strand or braid.

Toilet Appliance.--In apartment houses, flats and other dwellings where economy of room is desired, the invention of Minnie Rhine, of Wilmington, will be particularly appreciated. The wash-basin has an arm attached, which hinges to the wall and holds the basin in a horizontal position when in use, after which it is folded downward, resting against the wall. The whole appliance is surmounted with a soap cup, towel-hangers, etc. Patented March 23.

Button-Hole Guide.--A handy appliance to render accurate work in the stitching of button holes was recently patented by Bertha J. Newenschwander, of Vera Cruz, Ind. It consists of a clamp or guide which securely holds all kinds of fabrics, and furnishes a guide whereby each stitch shall be exactly in line, thus greatly adding to the convenienc of the work and beauty of its finish. It is instantly applied or disengaged by simply pressing a spring with the thumb and finger.

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS

Afflicting a Whole Family. Speedily Cured by CUTICURA.

Statements Sworn to Before the Clerk of the Supreme Court.

My wife had appear on her limbs, just above the ankles, five small pimples that began to enlarge, and soon developed into eating ulcers of the indolent type, which, despite all remedies and our efforts to cure them, grew worse and worse, and at the end of three months had become very bad, two of them having eaten to the bone. At that time we began to use CUTICURA remedies, and with two bottles of RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, they were cured sound and well in about two months. The scars are there to-day as living witnesses of the severity and extent of the ulcers.

I also was afflicted the same winter with papular rash, from which I could not rest day or night. My skin became in a very bad fix when I began using CUTICURA remedies. I used them for about one month and was cured.

My little baby girl, when about ten months old, was afflicted with Eczema, her limbs from her knees down were one solid sore from which she suffered greatly. We tried several remedies which only aggravated them, before we began the use of the CUTICURA remedies, in which cases there was a complete cure with no return of the disease.

BENSFORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mrs. John Morrison has been suffering from an attack of weakness of the heart but is around again.

Miss Lottie Perrin intends spending a few days with friends at Niagara Falls.

Rev. Robert McPherson is spending his holidays in Bensfort.

Service was held in the Sunday school on Sunday by Rev. Mr. Dow.

Mr. Thomas Armstrong is doing a stirring trade in binder twine. His orders amount to more than any former season. Mr. Armstrong must furnish a good article --hence his success.

Miss Sarah Kerr, who has been teaching at Balsam Lake, is spending her holidays at home.

Miss Louise Waterman, of Norwood High School, is home for her vacation.

Miss Hettie Creba, of Peterborough, spent last week visiting friends in Bensfort.

Chief Paudash, of Hiawatha, paid Bensfort a friendly call last week.

Mr. Beckett, formerly hotelkeeper at Norwood, happened with what might have terminated in a serious accident a short time ago. As he was enquiring his way to the new bridge his horse took fright at some unseen object and ran away, throwing Mr. Beckett with the top and seat off the rig. The horse ran probably three hundred yards, tearing down sign boards, milk stands, etc., and smashing the buggy into smithereens. Upon recovering his equilibrum, Mr. Beckett consigned the whole outfit to a warmer climate, and proceeded to pick up the wreck. After a delay of two and a half hours, during which time he improved his acquaintance with Bensfort, Mr. Beckett proceeded on his way--a sorer, if not a sorrier, man.

Mr. John William Hall received a shipment of bees from Mr. Russell of Millbrook, by mail last week. Rather an unhealthy thing for the mail carrier should they happen to get loose on the road.

Haying is completed; harvesting is begun. Crops are good, and farmers are happy. Fruit is very plentiful. As many as twenty rigs passed through Bensfort on Saturday on their way to Peterborough with fruit, and a great deal more seems to be left, according to all reports.

The severe electrical storms of the last few weeks have done considerable damage to the telephone lines and instruments, as well as badly frightening the operaters. The instrument at Bensfort has been partially burned out. It has again been repaired, and is now in working order.

Fish seem to be plentiful in Rice Lake. A small boy of six caught a luage of 18 pounds last week. Rather a fishy story, is it not.

LASSWADE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Samuel Allen was in our midst last week calling on his many friends after nearly twenty years' absence. Everyone was glad to see his cheerful face again. He expects to start for Indian Head, N.W.T., in a few weeks.

Walter Steenburg, of Belmont, was married last Wednesday to Miss Cassie Ellis, of the same place. He and his young bride are on a visit here. They were the guests of C. N. Dingman Saturday. All join in wishing the couple a long and happy life.

We have been having a beautiful rain for a day and a half, which is greatly needed.

The hay crop is a good one this year.

Miss Cassie McFadden and Miss E. A. Bullied have gone to Lakefield.

Maud Dingman was visiting Miss M. Bullied last week.

J. A. McCall has his cottage nearly completed. It is a fine structure for a back country like this.

A number went to Clear Lake fishing on Monday. Among the number were R. Cole, from the Vanslckle settlement. W. R. Dingman caught the largest fish.

Leslie Catrull has been here on a visit for two weeks. He has left for Uncle Sam's domain again.

Huckleberries are scarce here this season.

Something Unusual

No matter how intense the heat, shopping keeps up unusually well here. It may seem strange to be selling so many goods at cost or below, but conditions warrant it. It is desirable to clean up stocks and especially towards the close of a season. There never was a time when bargains crowded each other more than they do now, and it is but fair to say that the steady crowds at the Golden Lion is an indication that nowhere will you find as many low prices as right here. The success of our Summer Sale of Hot Weather Wearables is quite remarkable. This is the way we go about it:—

Blouses with detachable Collars, formerly sold at 75c and $1.00, to be cleared at 50c.

Linen Coloured Blouses, with detachable collars and cuffs, also in light coloured Prints, formerly sold at $1.00 and $1.25, to be cleared out at 75c.

A line of better goods with the newest style of Collars and Cuffs, former price $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, to be cleared out at $1.00 and $1.25.

Wrappers Any lady who wants a wrapper for about the price of the material can have one as long as they last. Good styles and reliable qualities.

Ceylon Flannels (New) former price 25c, to be sold every yard at le s than regular wholesale prices—15c.

See our line of Summer Corsets that we are selling at 50c cheap at 75c.

Wearing Shoes does not afford much pleasure to people who buy the factory made kind. How can it be otherwise? All feet are not alike, any more than all faces. Unless made to your measure, they pinch your toes, press your favourite corn, squeeze the ingrowing toe nail, inflame the heels, and make your feet sweat, swell and ache.

INDIAN FANATICISM.

Government Taking Precautions Against Outbreaks

LEADING TRAITORS UNDER ARREST.

Fighting in Africa in Which the Lives of Some British Soldiers Were Lost—Mr. Chamberlain and the Colonial Premiers Criticized—General Cable News.

London, July 28.—The Times this morning prints a despatch from Simla, which says yet another proof is given of the wave of fanaticism which is sweeping along the northwest frontier. The story is curious as showing how quickly tribesmen can be gathered and how readily they respond to the appeal of fanaticism. Since the Chitral campaign ended the Swat Valley has been perfectly peaceful, trade has developed and the Swatis have been contented and have shown no sign of disaffection. On Monday, however, without the least warning the whole population underwent a sudden change.

The first news that reached Malakand was that a disturbance had occurred at Thana, near Chakgaru Bridge. A few hours later news was received that Mullah, a priest, who is well known locally, gathered a force of armed men, raising the cry of "Holy War."

In the evening it was reported that he was advancing towards Malakand, and preparations were made to send a column in the morning to disperse the gathering. The tribal levies, who fled as Mullah advanced, reported that Malakand would be attacked at 3 o'clock in the morning. The camp was alert, but the attack was delivered at 10.30, o'clock at night, a very unusual hour.

A despatch from Simla this morning says that the Government is taking all steps necessary to cope with the emergency in the Chitral. Although Fort Chakdara, now cut off, occupies an isolated position, it is believed that with two companies of the 31st Punjab Infantry and two guns the garrison can hold its own.

The road between Mardan and Malakand is blocked with hostile tribesmen, who have cut the telegraph wires. Three squadrons of Bengal Lancers and the 2d Punjab Infantry have started for Mardan. The 7th Mountain Battery is on the way to Malakand, and the West Kent Regiment is held in readiness at Peshawar. The Simla despatch also says that Capt. Holland of the 24th Punjab Infantry was among those wounded seriously during Monday night's attack on Camp Malakand.

A despatch from Bombay says that Gangadhar Tilak, a native member of the Legislative Council, was arrested last evening on the charge of inciting the natives to disaffection. He was formally arraigned in the Bombay Police Court this morning, after which the hearing was adjourned.

Gangadhar Tilak has for a long time agitated indiscriminately against the British rule. Of late he has been more than usually virulent. He is a man of talent, a thorough fanatic, opposed to European ideas and innovations, and he has been a leader in the recent outbreaks against the sanitary regulations.

TRAITORS ARRESTED.

The Government Taking Steps to Suppress the Native Agitators.

Bombay, July 28.—The uprising in the Swat Valley has led the Government to adopt the policy of suppression toward the native agitators who in speeches and through the native press have for a long time been endeavoring to promote the spirit of revolt.

In pursuance of this policy a number of arrests have already been made and others are expected to follow.

At Poonah two well-known agitators, Seidar Balwantrao Natu, and his brother, Huropant Ramchunder Natu, have been arrested on charges of disloyalty. A number of houses have been searched, with the result that the police have found arms concealed, though the owners have departed for parts unknown.

Eshoo Madow Bal, a partner of Gangadhar Tilak in publishing the newspaper Kesari has been arrested. The office has been searched and a quantity of incriminating documents seized, together with an issue of the paper. Eshoo will be put on trial here with Tilak.

Gangadhar Tilak published inflammatory articles before the murders of Plague Commissioner Rand and Lieut. Ayerst. He has repeated the substance of them since the murders, and there is general astonishment that he has so long been allowed immunity. He was recently elected a member of the Bombay Council, but his confirmation by Lord Sandhurst, the Governor, has been severely criticised.

The two Natus were arrested at sunrise and escorted outside the limits of the Poonah Collectorate by a formidable body of mounted police. All their property has been attached. The family is old and wealthy, and it has been implicated in many Brahmin fanatical movements.

It is alleged that the brothers Natu led the mob which desecrated the Mohammedan mosque at Daru Walluh. Two men were killed in the riot, and the younger Natu was tried for murder but acquitted.

FIGHTING IN SOUTH AFRICA.

British Loss One Killed and Several Wounded and the Fighting is Still Going On.

London, July 28.—A despatch has been received at the Colonial Office, dated Fort Salisbury, South Africa, July 26, announcing that a combined Government force of the Fort Salisbury police and the Hussars resulted in the capture of the Mashingombis Kraal, at Fort Martin, near Hartley, on Saturday. The despatch says the fighting continues. The British losses were one killed and several wounded. It is impossible to estimate the losses of the enemy, as the country is a mass of rocks and is filled with caves.

In a previous engagement which took place twenty miles from the Mashingombis Kraal, the Hussars lost one killed and another wounded.

A fight ensued which resulted in the tribesmen being repulsed. At daybreak Colonel Meiklejohn sent a column to reconnoitre and to pursue the enemy. This force discovered that the whole valley was in arms, and that it was impossible to open communication with Chakdara. Instead of being disheartened by the failure of their night attack, the tribesmen prepared to renew hostilities, and Colonel Meiklejohn accordingly prepared for defence. He wired for reinforcements, which have already reached Chakdara.

Nothing is feared now but that the report of the rising spreading rapidly may stimulate the tribesmen to attack the expedition to the Tochi Valley.

An Official Despatch.

London, July 28.—Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has received a despatch from Her Majesty's High Commissioner at the Cape, stating that in the fighting at Fort Martin, near Hartley, South Africa, on Saturday, the noted chief, Mashingombi, was slain, and between four and five hundred of his followers were taken prisoners. The Government forces occupied all the positions at Marlie's Kraal, where they captured more than 100 prisoners.

THE RADICAL ORGAN SPEAKS.

Cultivating the Colonial Premiers Has Led to Barren Results.

London, July 28.—The Daily News gives prominence to an article under the caption of "A Bad Harvest at the Colonial Office," which constitutes a remarkable douche to the popular hopes based upon the Jubilee gathering. The paper says:

"Cultivating the colonial premiers seems to have led to results as meagre as plowing the sea sands. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and the premiers met repeatedly. There were acres of talk, but if report may be trusted the harvest was nil.

"From all accounts the Treasury will not be asked to find a single shilling to support any pan-Britannic schemes. The zollverein has been buried, and the Pacific cable must be looked for in limbo, where it will have for company sundry visions of speedier Imperial mail services.

"No colonial representatives will sit in the British Parliament. Nevertheless we are told that the premiers and Mr. Chamberlain are so satisfied with their meeting that they opine that a similar conference every few years would be a good thing. We doubt they are saying this seriously.

"It is certain that no such polite expression is likely to find an echo in the colonies. The barrenness of the Jubilee conference will make it hard for any Colonial Secretary to again induce the colonies to send their premiers to London.

"If it be true that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier, has not obtained a promise that the German and Belgian treaties will be denounced, while at the same time the Australasian and Natalian bills for excluding aliens have not received the royal assent, we will soon hear complaints from the West and South, and the colonial belief in Mr. Chamberlain as the ideal secretary will be strained."

THE P. E. I. ELECTIONS.

Government 18, Opposition 12, Is the Standing Now.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 28.—According to the special votes counted today there will be five Liberals elected in Prince County, viz.: McMillan, Richards, McNut, Bell and McWilliams, and five Conservatives, Packett, Birch, McDonald, Arsenaul and Lefeurgy. In Queen's County the ten Liberals will be elected. In King's five Liberals are elected, viz.: McLaughlin, Peters, J. R. McLean, McKinnon and Acton, and five Conservatives, Shaw, A. J. McDonald, J. McDonald and Gordon. The Government now stands eighteen to twenty. None of the ministers were defeated.

A SERIOUS MUDDLE

GREAT BRITAIN TAKES AN ISLAND

And the United States is Nonplussed Thereat but Britain Owns the Island The Marquis of Ito Gives Assurance of Friendliness Toward the United States.

Washington, July 28. Private men in Washington were generally surprised when the announcement was made in the cable despatches a few days since that the question of the Clayton Bulwer Treaty had been raised in the British Parliament in connection with the proposal to annex the Hawaiian Islands to the United States, and were consequently prepared for the response of the British Government that the one question was not involved in the other. The matter is regarded here with all the greater interest, because both subjects, the validity of the treaty and the annexation of Hawaii, are under consideration by the American Congress, and both, in all probability, will receive attention during the next session. The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, which has already reported upon the annexation treaty, has undertaken an investigation of the present status of the Clayton-Bulwer convention, and the general expectation, on account of the predictions of the members of the sub-committee having the question in charge, is that a report will be made favorable to the abrogation of the treaty.

There is also a large element in the Senate which regards the treaty as obnoxious to the Monroe doctrine. Others look upon it as liable in an indirect way to have, through its reference to the Nicaragua Canal, a bearing upon the Hawaiian question. One of the points in doubt on the part of the committee is how the treaty is regarded by the British Government. It appears that, while England has generally acted in Central American affairs as she would have been expected to act if there had been no treaty, the English authorities have never given expression to any official sentiment as to the continued effect of the agreement made between Sir Bulwer Lytton and Secretary Clayton.

BRITAIN TOOK PALMYRA

And the Yankees Kick. Although the Island Belongs to Britain.

Washington, July 28. Official information of the action of the British Government in taking possession of the Island of Palmyra, in the Pacific Ocean, has been received at the State Department.

The action of Great Britain in taking possession of the island at this time, following as it does the submission of an annexation treaty to the Senate by the President, is considered very significant by the authorities here.

So far as the officials have been able to learn up to the present time, Palmyra Island was occupied a good many years ago by a number of Hawaiian citizens, who raised the Hawaiian flag over the territory. The island was first discovered by the famous British navigator, Captain Cook, who afterwards lost his life in the Hawaiian Islands.

According to the Hawaiian Government, Palmyra Island has never been surveyed, so that its extent cannot be accurately estimated. It was known some time ago as Americus Island.

Britain Owns It.

London, July 28.—With reference to the reported seizure by Great Britain of Palmyra Island, Polynesia, it is officially stated that the island has been British since 1888. The report is supposed to have arisen from the fact that H. M. S. Wild Swan called there last May on a periodical visit.

MRS. STERNAMAN'S EXTRADITION.

Warrant Issued by the State Department at Washington for Her Surrender to the Canadian Authorities.

Washington, July 28.—The State Department has issued a warrant for the surrender to the Canadian Government of Olive Adell Sternaman, who is held at Rochester, New York, on a charge of poisoning her husband. The woman is alleged to have administered arsenic to her husband in small, daily doses until death ensued, meanwhile resisting the efforts of the physician to have him removed to a hospital. An autopsy made by two country doctors failed to show any traces of poison, and the charge of murder would not have been maintained save for the action of an insurance company holding a policy on Sternaman, which caused another and an expert investigation to be made, with the result, it is asserted, of revealing large quantities of arsenic in the body.

Manufacturers of Knee Pants Cave and Sign the New Price List.

New York, July 28. The backbone of the strike of the Knee Pantmakers' Union which occurred Monday, was practically broken today. The eagerness on the part of the manufacturers to enter into settlement yesterday culminated this morning. It was learned that all manufacturers and contractors to whom had been submitted the new price list, agreed to pay the stipulated prices, and will accordingly at once give the necessary guarantee bonds.

Britain's Trade Most Important.

Vienna, July 28.—The Neue Freie Presse publishes the report of an interview with the Marquis Ito, formerly Prime Minister of Japan, in which the Marquis scouts the idea that Russia will ever get ahead of Great Britain in Asia. So far as Japan is concerned, the Marquis said, the trade of other nations is of secondary importance as compared with the trade of England.

CANADIAN PRODUCTS IN THE ENGLISH MARKET.

We take the following from the Liverpool (Eng.) Daily Post of July 10th, copies of which have been distributed to the press by the Dominion Government:—

"Our yesterday's issue contained an announcement of the inaugural shipment of dressed beef from Canada, pe. steamer Labrador. A glance at the figures relative to the importation of Canadian cheese during the last few years is unmistakably suggestive of a great future for the trade in dead meat which is now in its initial stage, for obviously the country which is so favourable to dairy cattle as to enable a large trade to be built up in cheese must likewise be conducive to the profitable conversion of the bovine species into beef. Canada has been fortunate in a succession of enterprising ministries, who, whatever their differences of opinion on les hautes politiques, have shown unbroken continuity of view in their recognition of the fact that the soil is the chief resource of the country, and that no earnestness of effort must be spared in its development. Canadian ministries have in their turn been fortunate in the administrative skill and courage they have found at their disposal towards this end. It is no small

TRIBUTE TO THE MOTHER COUNTRY

that when the Dominion Government resolved to appoint a dairy commissioner, and subsequently a commissioner of agriculture, their choice fell upon Professor J. W. Robertson, then of Guelph Agricultural College, but a native of Dunlop, in Ayrshire. Scotland has been justified of her children in this instance, and Canada of her choice, for while in 1889—immediately prior to his appointment—the export of Canadian cheese was 88,534,887 pounds, by 1894 it had increased nearly fifty per cent., and in 1894 was about $1,500,000 greater than in 1894. The butter export trade was almost a neglectable quantity when Professor Robertson was appointed. To come to plain figures, the value of what was consigned to Great Britain in 1889 was only $174,027, while in 1895 it had risen to $338,797, and in 1896 showed a still further advance of over $100,000. It will be recognised that relatively to the vast extent and pastoral resources of Canada this is still very small. But the trade has been of such a that under the system of cold storage transport which has just been initiated for dairy produce in conjunction with beef and other foods, there is really no discernable limit to its ultimate possibilities.

The commission under which Professor Robertson was appointed specified the duties, which were, "by means of bulletins, conferences and lectures," to diffuse practical information among the farmers of the Dominion on the most approved and economical methods of manufacturing butter and cheese, and of feeding cattle to produce the best result in obtaining milk. In entering upon such a task a vast amount of inherited and individual prejudice has to be overcome at the very threshold. The farmer whose wife or daughter has earned a local reputation for cheese and butter—and every district in which dairying is an industry possesses such paragons—very naturally resent such a process of levelling up. But prejudice has apparently been overcome, for experimental dairies, stationary or portable according to the needs of the district, have been from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia. Professor Robertson's individual skill as a cheese and butter-maker had been demonstrated long before his appointment. But his resource as an organiser on the larger scale had still to be proved, and the proof is found not only in the number of establishments now successfully at work, but, still more forcibly, in the steady annual increases of butter and cheese exports and the continuous improvement in quality. It was recently declared by a Canadian gentleman at a meeting in Liverpool that his country manufactured the best cheese in the world. The legislature, as almost everybody is aware, provides a safeguard against those nefarious sophistications which result in the empyreumatic compound known as "filled cheese." Not only is its manufacture a punishable offence in Canada, but the most far-reaching precautions are taken to prevent its being smuggled across the border from the United States. At the present moment, as the combined result of freedom from admixture of foreign fats and it is stated that almost the entire output of the Dominion obtains the topmost prices in the British market as the "Best Canadian."

Recent writers on the economics of the dairy have dwelt with almost unanimous voice on the importance of winter butter-making. So far as Great Britain is concerned, first-grade native butter is almost as much a season luxury as strawberries or green peas. The bulk of winter-made butter has a tallowy and uninviting aspect, in some cases accompanied by unmistakeable suggestion in its flavour of a bulbous diet on the part of the cow. There are indications in the record of Canadian experiments, however, that winter may be as favourable as summer for the manufacture of butter if the conditions as to maternity and food are met in a sufficiently accommodating spirit. Winter butter making in the Dominion, which in Ontario alone is now conducted in some 140 creameries and factories, had its beginning so recently as 1891-92 in the establishment by Professor Robertson of two experimental winter creameries. The commissioner's work on the government experimental farm has been invaluable. He devoted forty acres to cattle sustenance exclusively, with the object of showing that by a

PROPER SELECTION OF FODDERS

the number of animals kept upon a given area could be doubled. The fertility of the forty acre plot was maintained by the application of the manure from the animals themselves—a principle whose value is recognised in this country by the folding of sheep upon turnips when practicable. He was able eventually to keep thirty cattle on the produce of the forty acres, and he is convinced that the number is capable of still further increase, even to the extent of a cow per acre. The practical evolution of the cold storage transport service is largely owing to the far-sightedness and practical knowledge of the commissioner. His doctrine as to the digestive capacity of Great Britain for foreign foods will receive more cheerful endorsement from the consumer than the native farmer. Great Britain, he declares, "is the market to "which perishable food products from all "civilized lands on the surface of the "globe are sent." It is the fact, unfortunately, perhaps, that there is no country in the world so largely dependent on foreign food supplies as Great Britain. Canadian cheese has already in British markets, and in view of the fact that out of 340,250,004 pounds of butter imported from abroad last year, Canada only contributed 9,895,983 pounds, her determination to capture the market will find ready sympathisers. Her people are our kith and kin, they have recently shown their good will in practical shape by extending to our goods exceptionally favourable terms, and since we must sustain ourselves largely upon the produce of other lands, there is every reason why Canada should have our custom, rather than countries which bear us no overweening affection, especially when she is determined to conquer by virtue of a superior article, and by that alone.

ESTABLISHED ITSELF FIRMLY

Throat Trouble Cured.

"I used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for severe throat trouble," writes: Mrs. Hopkins of 254 Bathurst street, Toronto. It proved most effective. I regard it as one of the best household remedies there is. It is easy and pleasant to take and drives out the cold with surprising celerity."

TRAVELING DRESSES.

Gowns in Linen and Serge Always Cool and Comfortable.

Gowns of linen are the coolest things that can be worn, and when they are fresh and clean appeal irresistibly to the woman who is starting off on a long journey. The idea of wearing a gown that can be put in a tub after the journey's end is reached seems so clean and delightful. The linen gowns this year are very attractive. There are many more with the fitted waist than has been the fashion for some years, and the favorite style is the tightly fitting back with the loose blouse front. One gown has the upper part of the blouse laid in a yoke of narrow long tucks; below the tucks are three rows of black Cluny lace entre-deux, which go around the entire figure, but in the back meet in V shape. The blouse front hangs full over a narrow belt of bias black satin. On the skirt are three rows of the lace entre-deux.

Exceedingly smart and becoming as is this gown, it cannot be recommended for a journey of any length, for constant laundering would be fatal to its freshness.

Again the skirt and coat fashion is the best, and made as simply as possible. A gown with skirt made with carefully fitted front and side breadths, the fullness all in a small space at the back, is quite without trimming. The jacket has revers that are wide at the top, but taper in at the waist line to give a long, graceful effect. These revers are not faced. A shirt of bright blue Madras linen is worn with this gown, which is extremely pretty and becoming, and most useful as well.

Blue serge has always been associated with long journeys, for so many hundreds and thousands of women have found it the best of materials to travel and live in.

There are many reasons in favor of serge for traveling gowns. It does not crumple like linen or mohair; and then there is a great advantage in the extra warmth it possesses, for, though the day may be cool when one starts off, by evening the weather may change, and a serge jacket seems most comfortable to slip on over the shirtwaist.

Emphatically the best and smartest gowns in this material are those made quite plainly, and with coat and skirt. There are many styles in coats and jackets, and the most becoming is the best. The Eton is easiest to carry, but the longer coats are the more generally becoming. Rows of braid and milliners' folds are seen on many of the new skirts, but so long as it is possible to wear the plain ones it is well to do so. The jacket should be lined with some bright but not too heavy silk, and the narrow revers faced with black silk give a smarter look than when they are made of the material. Blue serge is more satisfactory for general wear than black.—Harper's Bazar.

SHOT THE WRONG MAN.

A Cornwall Baker's Peculiar Experience in Running Deer's Hotel on the Boundary Line.

Cornwall, Ont., July 27.—(Special.)—James Carpenter, a baker, who for some time past has been doing business on the south side of the St. Lawrence, with headquarters at Hogansburg, N.Y., arrived home to-day with a bad bullet wound in his arm near the shoulder. Carpenter tells a peculiar story. He says that on Saturday night he went to St. Regis, intending to cross the river from the reservation to Cornwall, but as the night was very dark he changed his mind and decided to stay at the hotel kept by an Indian known as Running Deer. This hotel is situated on the boundary line and during the evening there was a rather rough crowd about the place. During the night, Carpenter says, he was aroused by Running Deer, who informed him that some one was trying to get into his window. Sitting up in bed, Carpenter raised the blind and discovered a man outside, and Running Deer, who had a revolver in his hand, fired. The bullet, however, instead of striking the man outside, went through Carpenter's arm near the shoulder. Running Deer went for a doctor, who dressed the wound.

EIGHTY MORE POLICE

To be Sent by the Government of Canada

TO THE FAR-OFF YUKON COUNTRY.

The Question of Royalties Being Discussed at Ottawa Klondike is About the Only Topic at the Capital—Steamers Leave Seattle With Full Loads.

Seattle, Wash., July 28.—The steamship City of Topeka sailed to-day from Seattle with 240 passengers. She goes only as far as Juneau, where a majority of the passengers will branch out for the mines. The steamer Islander will sail from Victoria for Juneau with over 200 passengers. Nearly all those going on the Islander are from Seattle. The next vessel sailing from Seattle for Dyea will be the steamer Rosalie, chartered last Saturday for two trips. Already the 150 passengers allowed by the inspectors have been booked for the Rosalie, and twenty more are hanging anxiously about the office, awaiting the chance of someone dropping out at the last moment.

The steamer Edith, chartered by the same parties, and also scheduled to sail July 31, will take north 60 horses at $222.50 a head.

MORE POLICE TO BE SENT.

Controller White Will Despatch Eighty More Men to the Yukon—Advice as to Collection of Royalties.

Ottawa, July 28. An order was issued to-day by Controller White of the Mounted Police for the despatch of eighty additional police to the Yukon district. Twenty-five will start at once, and the balance in detachments as soon as they can be properly equipped. Care is being taken to select the best possible men, not merely men of the soundest health and high physical vigor, but handy men, who are familiar with boats, portaging, camping, etc., so as to be able to turn their hands to anything useful.

Regarding the collection of royalties on the gold dust, the advice of the Government officials in the district is being asked. Hon. Mr. Sifton realizes that a general and equitable collection will be difficult, but he expects to arrive at a satisfactory system.

The Yukon question seems to be the all-absorbing one with the Cabinet at present. Sir Henry Joly and Hon. Messrs. Scott, Paterson and Sifton have devoted their attention to the matter for some days, and other Ministers have been in constant communication by wire. Some important regulations have been announced as a result. One is a very radical move, namely a decision to reserve as Government property every alternate claim in all placer grounds. Every time a miner gets an allotment of territory the work on an adjoining location will be reserved for the Government. It is also decided to collect a tax or royalty upon the output of the placer diggings. Under the new mining regulations, established last May, upon recommendation of Surveyor Ogilvie, the cost of registering a claim was increased from $5 to $15, while an annual assessment of $100 was to be paid by the holder. What the Government has now decided to do is to charge, in addition to this, a royalty of 10 per cent upon the output of all claims yielding $900 a month and under to each claim, and a royalty of 20 per cent. upon each claim yielding over that amount per month.

A strong customs and police post will be established just north of the British Columbia boundary, beyond the head of the Lynn Canal at 60 degrees of latitude. Estimates will be at once obtained for the cost of building a wagon road and of a narrow gauge railway from the coast to this post over the mountains, a distance of 70 to 80 miles, about 40 of which is over mountains. This post, which will be where Chilcoot and White Passes converge, will command the southern entrance to the whole territory. Mounted Police posts will be established from here on at a distance of 50 miles apart, up to Fort Selkirk. These will be used to open up a winter road, over which monthly mail will be sent by dog trains, also to give help to traveling parties. If possible a telegraph line will be constructed over the mountains from the head of the Lynn Canal to the first post.

The consent of the authorities of the United States will be asked to a modus vivendi, under which Canada will have the right of way over the disputed territory from Lynn Canal to the first Mounted Police post. No difficulty is anticipated in securing the right of way through the little piece of disputed territory the road and telegraph line will have to cross to reach the head of Lynn Canal, as that territory, although now in the United States' possession, is as much ours as theirs.

Two tons of glittering [illegible] what an Ottawa boy [illegible] the gold fields claims to have seen. Mr. Walter M. W. Woodburn is on his way down the Yukon River, and writes [illegible] the purser of the Alaska Company's steamer Alice showed him two tons of the glittering metal in his cargo. Not a man on the boat he says had less than $5,000. Mr. Woodburn, who was recently in the drug business here, and who was sent out by the Throw Duck Mining and Exploring Company, Limited, wrote to Mr. J. P. Dunne, the secretary of the company.

Rich and Beautiful Country.

Moncton, N. B., July 28.—A letter has been received here from Dr. P. J. Leblanc, a Moncton man, who left Dawson last January, with a friend, for the Klondike country. It took them six months to reach their destination, from Juneau they travelled partly by boat and partly by dog trains. The weather was dreadful and the trip rough and cold. They had to keep their eyes covered constantly. Dr. Leblanc's imagination cannot picture the richness and beauty of the country. He raved and claimed and spoke encouragingly of the prospects. He claims that the 15 tons of provisions which he and a friend took with them they cleared over $15,000.

IT'S NOT SO COLD.

Seattle Hears of a Miner Having a Sunstroke on the Way From Dyea to the Gold Fields.

Seattle, Wash., July 28.—Those who have an idea that cold weather prevails exclusively in Alaska will be surprised to know that Archie Burns, a miner, was affected by sunstroke while crossing the pass from Dyea. He recovered and proceeded after two days' rest.

The report up to last week of tonnage of provisions which have gone into the Yukon country by the overland route was 5000, and in addition to this there is about 5000 tons of live stock.

Dr. John Brown, a grandson of the famous Abolitionist, who was hanged at Harper's Ferry, was one of the prospectors who started from here on the Dawson Alki for the Klondike gold fields. The doctor is a dentist, and was in several years after his grandfather's death. He took his wife with him intending to remain until he "struck it rich." He practised dentistry in this city for four years with more or less success. Last year he went up Cook's Inlet, and returned with all he had struck anything, but with the recklessness of his grandsire he declared that he proposed to keep on prospecting until he found enough gold to satisfy him.

Mrs. Bessie Thomas was the first woman to start from this locality for the gold fields of Alaska. She goes on the steamer Excelsior from San Francisco in order to get to Dawson City by the easiest route. In order to secure sufficient capital for her venture she sold all her furniture and jewelry. She said she intended to start a restaurant at one of the most prosperous camps, unless she found the business overdone, and thought, in that case, she would easily discover some other chance of making money.

"I don't see why a woman who has her living to make should not have just as good a chance in a mining camp as a man," she said before she started.

GOING WITHOUT SUPPLIES.

Tonawanda Young Men Think They Can Pick Up Enough Gold to Keep Them Over Winter.

North Tonawanda, N. Y., July 28.—The Klondike gold fever has reached this city. It was announced to-day that Oliver Lawson, a well-to-do merchant, would start for the gold fields as soon as he could arrange his business affairs to permit his departure. He will take with him an abundance of cash, with which to buy a claim, if necessary.

William Rhodehouse, E. C. Smith and Chester Lefevel will start for the Klondike region in about a week. They have the financial backing of a wealthy citizen, who says he is not able to send the whole city to Klondike, and for that reason he does not wish his name to become known.

Another party that will leave for the gold fields this season is composed of Thomas Ryan, William Vandre and a half dozen others, who are now trying to get the necessary $300 to pay for their transportation. The question of food supplies does not seem to carry any weight with some of them, and they are determined to start immediately, regardless of advice to the contrary. They contend that they can find enough gold to carry them through the winter before snow flies, if they are only able to get to the Klondike.

THE C. P. R. IS IN IT.

Will Build the Road to Athabaska Landing if the Excitement Over the Klondike Continues.

Montreal, July 28.—(Special.)—"All on board for Athabaska Landing and the Yukon" is what will be heard before very long, as Sir William Van Horne told your correspondent to-day that the discoveries in the Klondike would probably lead to the extension of the Calgary and Edmonton branch to Athabaska Landing, thus reducing the land route from that point to Fort Macpherson, near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, to one portage of less than twenty miles. It is stated that by a direct route from Edmonton the Landing can be reached by forty miles of track, but, as it is not probable that the Saskatchewan can be crossed at Edmonton, the president of the Canadian Pacific is under the impression that from fifty to sixty miles of railway will have to be built. This, however, is not a flea bite for a company with the resources of the Canadian Pacific, and there can be little doubt that if the Klondike continues to show up well, the rails of the C. P. R. will reach Athabaska Landing by the end of next summer.

Gold Seekers Warned.

London, July 28.—The Colonial Office has warned intending gold-seekers that it will be useless to start for the Klondike before spring, as the journey is only possible in the summer time.

Scrofula

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this:

"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards,

A Sore

two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My is now well and I have been greatly benefited otherwise. I have increased in weight and am in better health. I cannot say enough in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. H. BLAKE, So. Berwick, Me.

Nature's Grains.

To the stomach suffering from the daily dose of tea and coffee and the undermined constitution, Madden Cereal comes like a blessing. To its use thousands of stomachs owe their recovery after years of distress. It is made of Nature's grains and heals the system that has been drugged by the poisonous alkaloids of coffee. Aftermath of the Rain.

A gentleman who came to town to-day from Keene reports that one farmer in Otonabee had 400 stooks of fall wheat out in the field during the rain and that the grain is sprouting freely, which will of course destroy it for flouring purposes. In the good old times a stook of a dozen sheaves was good for a bushel of wheat, and at anything like this rate the loss of the farmer mentioned will be serious.

The Pedagogues Return.

A party composed of Messrs. G. P. Porter, D. Eason, S. G. Cowan, F. McFarlane, J. R. H. Dixon and D. M. Hunter, who have been rusticating among our northern lakes for two weeks, returned to town last evening well pleased with their trip. They spent the time cruising around the lakes, touching at Sturgeon Point, Juniper Island, etc. They sailed from Juniper Island to Lakefield yesterday, then walked to Bridgenorth, where they had left their bicycles and wheeled in to town last night, well satisfied with their outing, although Jupiter Pluvius made things rather disagreeable for them at times.

The American Motograph Co.

The following reference to this interesting exhibition, which will appear in the Opera House July 29th, 30th and 31st, is taken from the Lindsay Post:—"We can with confidence recommend the above company to our amusement-loving citizens. The rain last evening interfered with the attendance, but the company carried out the programme faithfully and delighted everyone. The Motograph views are alone worth double the price of admission, and are immeasurably superior to anything of the kind ever witnessed here. Perhaps the gems of the collection are a couple of railway scenes and a morning turn-out of a fire brigade, but all are wonderfully realistic. The concert portion of the programme is admirably arranged and rendered. Those of our citizens who wish to spend a really enjoyable evening should see this company." Regular performances to-night, to-morrow night and Saturday night; matinee for ladies and children Friday and Saturday afternoons, at 2.30. Admission, 10c. and 20c. 2-1

FELL FROM A WAGON.

Two Little Girls Meet With an Accident on McDonel Street.

Little Zetta Jameson, daughter of Mr. F. J. Jameson, Harvey street, met with an accident of rather a serious nature a few days ago.

Together with a little companion she was taking a ride on Mr. Robert Duncan's cart. The horse starting up rather suddenly, however caused both to fall off on the road. Zetta was badly bruised and scratched by the sudden contact with the hard road, but her companion escaped with a severe shaking up.

Both children are around again to-day all right, although it was feared at the time that Mr. Jameson's little girl was badly hurt.

TO QUASH THE JUDGMENT.

In the Case Against Murray alias Conlin, the Pickpocket.

Mr. D. O'Connel, counsel for Jas. T. Murray, alias Patrick Conlin, the pickpocket, who was sentenced on Tuesday last to three months in goal, by Judge Weller, on a charge of picking a woman's pocket at the C.P.R. station, will apply for a habeas corpus and endeavour to have the judgment quashed.

Mr. O'Connel will move on the ground that the preliminary hearing of his client was held by the police magistrate on July 1st—a public holiday.

The motion will probably be made at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, this week.

THE SUICIDE OF MICHAEL O'DONNELL.

He Took a Dose of Paris Green This Morning.

A CORPORATION LABOURER FOR FORTY YEARS.

The Old Man had Been Drinking Hard Lately and it is Thought That During a Fit of Melancholy he Took his Life—He had Threatened to do Away With Himself Before.

The report that "Mick" O'Donnell had suicided spread over the town this morning very rapidly.

O'Donnell was a corporation labourer for over forty years and everyone knew him and knew his one fault. It was this fault, the widow states, which was responsible for his death, as the old man had been drinking hard for the last week or so, coming home every night, more or less under the influence of liquor. When in this state he has frequently stated his intention of "dowing away" with himself, and in consequence Mrs. O'Donnell hid his razors, but never gave a thought to a large which had been purchased for the garden.

Yesterday afternoon O'Donnell came and handed his wife a package of tea and another of sugar, remarking at the same time that this was the last she would ever receive from him. As he had been talking in a peculiar strain for some days past, she paid no particular attention to the remark, and endeavoured to keep him around the house until bedtime. She retired at nine o'clock, and all through the night heard him walking about the house. As he had been sleeping nearly all day she thought it was but natural that he should remain up late. Along about four o'clock in the morning he relieved his stomach, and Mrs. O'Donnell attributed the vomitting to the action of the liquor of which he had been partaking. He came to bed shortly afterwards in the same room with his wife, and she arose and pulled down the blind at the same time. No words were exchanged.

At six o'clock the wife got up to light the fire and afterwards went back to the bedroom to awaken her husband, but found him lying stone dead with his mouth and eyes open. Running out to

ALARM THE NEIGHBOURS

Mrs. O'Donnell found the package of Paris green lying opened on the steps and saw evidences of the same poison in the vomit which her husband had discharged from his stomach the night previous.

Dr. Moher was called and by the appearance of the body stated that death was in all probability due to poisoning, although positive information on the subject can only be obtained in the event of a post mortem.

The deceased has lived in Peterborough for upwards of forty years, and has during that time worked almost continually for the corporation. He was an Irishman by birth and was between sixty and seventy years old. He was known to almost every citizen in the town, and was a general favourite, being always ready with a grip or a jest. He leaves a widow and four children. A son and a daughter are in the United States, another daughter is married to Mr. John Shearer, of Orillia, and one resides at home. A large number viewed the remains at the family residence Patterson street, during the day.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Three conductors have been dismissed by the Grand Trunk Railway for non-compliance with the rules with regard to the handling of tickets. Two of the conductors were on trains running out of Montreal and one running out of Toronto. One of the number was caught by a spotter in a simple manner. The spotter possessed a mileage book, and when the conductor came round to collect tickets the spotter handed over his mileage book, having previously deposited $2 between the leaves. The conductor took the $2 and returned the book without extracting the necessary number of mileage tickets. The next day his services were dispensed with. Spotters were sent out between Toronto and Montreal, covering the ground several times.

The opening of the new Grand Trunk bridge across Niagara Falls, which will take place about the middle of August, will be fittingly celebrated by the railway magnates. The proceedings, which will be of quite a festive nature, will last for three days, and prominent railway men from all over the continent will gather to do honour to the occasion. Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk Railway, will be the central figure. The programme has not yet been completed, but it is probable a large number of Canadian railway officials will attend, and the probabilities are that two special trains with railroad men will leave Toronto for the Falls to be present on the occasion.

SANCTUARY BOYS' OUTING.

They Enjoy a Day at Chemong Park—The List of Sports.

The Sanctuary Boys were given their annual outing yesterday by the clergy of St Peter's Cathedral.

At nine o'clock in the morning two 'busses containing about thirty of the boys left for Chemong, and although the weather was unpropitious, a most enjoyable day was spent at the park.

Hop, step and jump—1, F. McGrath, book from Dr. Letellier; 2, — Delaire.

The gift of Mr. J. C. Sullivan, consisting of 10 pounds of candies, was competed for in multifarious ways and was won by: 1, T. O'Riley, 2 V. Corkery, 3 F. Kearns, 4 F. O'Connor, 5 — Deroche, 6 G. Coughlin.

The winners in the various events for whom no prizes are mentioned, were also given candy by Mr. Sullivan.

During the afternoon the boys enjoyed a game of lacrosse, and the rain was not allowed to interfere with the pleasure.

A ROUGH TRIP.

The Great Storm on the Lake Damages the Vessels of the People's Coal Company.

Mr. Arthur McClelland, local agent of the People's Coal Company, has just received a communication from the Company's headquarters, stating that the recent storm on Lake Ontario was the severest experienced since 1871.

The People's Coal Company's vessels had a rough time of it. The schooner "Jamieson," 300 tons, bound for Oshawa, went ashore near that point. Her cargo, however, may be saved. The schooner "Trade wind," 300 tons, also bound for Oshawa, made Whitby harbour for shelter. The schooner "Eliza White," of Oshawa, 250 tons, found safe anchorage near Toronto Island. The schooner "Picton," 300 tons, met with heavy seas when making Cobourg harbour. She got into shelter but struck the pier, carrying away her upper works. The schooner "White Oak," 400 tons, made Toronto harbour safely.

All these vessels were loaded with the People's Coal Company coal.

Surprised His Doctor.

"A little over a year ago I was laid up with bronchitis," says Stanley C. Bright clerk of Kingston. "My doctor's pills came to $42 and altogether my illness cost me $125. This fall I had another attack. I came across an advertisement in a newspaper for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for throat troubles. I thought I would risk a quarter and try it. It cured me. After this I intend to treat my own ills."

REVOLUTION IN BREAD-MAKING.

Wheat Ground into Dough Instead of Flour.

According to an English correspondent of the New York Country Gentlemen, millers and bakers in the old country are looking anxiously to see what effect the new bread-making process will have upon their business. The novelty of the process (which is indeed a revolution in bread production) consists in the means of grinding the whole grain of the wheat to a dough of the finest texture. The wheat is washed and then steeped for some time in water, afterwards ground by a machine that resembles a huge coffee mill, and has a disintegrating, rolling, grinding and dissolving action which reduces the whole grain of wheat by one operation to a fine dough, in which not a trace of fibrous substance or bran remains visible. Bread made from this dough contains necessarily all the nitrogenous matter and all the phosphates of the grain of wheat, and all its properties are thus made available for perfect assimilation and advantageous use. The peculiar aroma of ripe wheat is also preserved in it, while the agreeable flavour speaks for itself, and does not become stale and tasteless, and can be kept for some days without deteriorating; in fact, it is rather better a day or two old than when newly-baked.

[The first and most natural question of the thrifty housewife in respect of the new system is how the dough is to be preserved sweet; or will a grist mill adapted to the production of wheat dough have to be a part of the kitchen equipment? We have used dry flour for about 4,000 years, and it will be something like a wrench to discard it at this late day—be rather throwing a wet blanket over the old system. All the old romance about the dusty miller, the upper and the nether millstone, etc., will have to be relegated to the past if the new system is to bring in our daily bread through the damp medium of a bran mash. But many old customs and practices have had to stand aside for new methods, and there seems to be no good reason why the old system of bread making should not have had its day also.—ED. EXAMINER.

The Great Attraction This Week.

Gough Bros'. hurricane sale of summer clothing, hats, boots, gloves and furnishings for men, youths and boys will doubtless prove a great attraction this week. A shrinkage of $10,500 on the prices covered by their whole stocks in both stores since last week should be inducement enough to bring crowds to their counters. The prices represent their great reductions in summer stocks, including that portion of the clothing left over from their great sale of the E. A. Small & Co.'s mammoth purchase in Montreal. Everything that cannot be carried over is to be got rid of. The goods cannot be marked any lower, and in order to have the benefit of a fairly good selection they advise all to call early to get the pick of the choicest. The changed prices will probably clear out all the summer goods in about a couple of weeks. dtf

LACROSSE.

The committee of the C. P. R. employees' picnic at Havelock, on August 10th, was very anxious to arrange an exhibition match there between Peterborough and Port Hope and offered liberal inducements, but no answer can be had from Port Hope respecting the matter.

Mr. C. T. Hayden, Secretary of the Port Hope Lacrosse Club, passed through town on Saturday and hung out the bluff that the Ontarios were willing to play the Peterboroughs in Toronto, man for man, the same teams a played in Port Hope on the 12th, for a side bet of $200 a side. If the Port Hopers have money to squander in that fashion the Peterboroughs will be only too happy to accommodate them and the secretary is writing to-day to ascertain where the $200 can be found to be covered. If the match can be made a cheap excursion will be run up to Toronto in order that a big crowd may be taken up to see the game.

It is possible that the Tecumsehs may be brought here for a game on civic holiday—August 19th.

The following letter, which speaks for itself, has been received by the secretary of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club from a young lady in Uxbridge:

UXBRIDGE, July 27th.

To the Peterborough Lacrosse Club:

GENTLEMEN,—Allow me to express my thanks to you for your kindness to Harry Chapman during his short stay in Peterborough; also for respect shown to the remains after death. I remain,

THE WHEEL.

Too long a reach on a bicycle is dangerous, while too short a reach causes cramp. See that your wheel is properly adjusted and "fits" you perfectly.

Some people have stopped eating grapes for fear of appendicitis, and it is now said that the bicycle is a prolific cause of that disease. Stop eating bicycles.

The prohibition of the Archbishop of Paris against bicycle riding by priests refers only to garb, priests being allowed to ride in mufti, but not in the clerical cassock.

Those cycling bells, those cycling bells!
How many a tale their language tells
Of people gone before their time
Who heeded not their startling chime.

A bicycle room has been set apart in a new high school building in Detroit that will provide accommodation for not less than 300 bicycles.

Instead of a band covering the trousers which is so much objected to for the reason that it wrinkles that important garment considerably, a peculiar arrangement has been made by a Detroit man which is fastened to the pedals of the machine. It is light, looks something like an enlarged egg-beater, and works on the principle of a shield.

Don't ride a bent crank further than the first repair shop.

Don't jump curbstones because horses race in steeplechases.

Don't let the tires become so much debated that you can feel the jolts as the rim strikes the pavement.

Don't fail to inspect every bolt and nut at least once during the week. They wear loose and the machine is easily racked and strained if they are not properly adjusted.

Don't pour a gill of oil into the bearings as often as you start for a ride of five miles. A little oil once a week is enough for any bicycle, and some need oiling but once a month.

Don't skip the teeth of the sprocket wheels when you clean every other part of the bicycle. The grit that accumulates at those points is enough to wear out the best chain ever made.

LADIES AWHEEL.

A little zone of silk or satin with the fewest possible bones is the newest corset. "For this decrease in the size and strength of stays," says an amiable French corsetiere, who boasts that she imports and makes only for ladies of very high degree, "the new passion for the sport is directly responsible, madame, and the same thing is becoming the case in Paris. Why, I should say the wheel and the golf club ought to bear what we might call the blame, for let me tell you a little secret. The ladies who come into my shop for fitting and measures demand less and less whalebone, fewer steels than ever before, and some of them wish they needed to wear no corset at all.

"Par example, look here, if you please, and here," and the plump little woman laid two pairs of stays side by side. The first was a shapely affair, measuring 17 in. from top to bottom of the front steel, compounded of the stiffest coutil and fifty choice whalebones, six side steels, and 10 bust braces; three strips of satin ribbon and 10 whalebones about 6 in. long composed the second.

"This," indicated the Frenchwoman, was the approved corset, according to the pattern of which we made thousands two years ago, and this is what we are making for '97. Let me tell you, it is sad, but the old corset is done for. Your wretched sport is ruining our trade. There is just half the number of stout people to make for that there used to be. With golf and bicycling they are reducing themselves, and you see what they now demand. The perfect corset for this spring must be cool and short, very light, have few bones, and above all, give freedom to the waist.

"Here is what we make for the golf course—a perfect baby of a corset, in which count just twelve bones, and the length 9 inches. Instead of coutil, silk or satin, a cotton net doubled is the material we use. You would hardly call that a hand of steel in a glove of velvet, especially as there are only two steels instead of six any longer used in our best corsets, and those must very thin and very flexible. The idea of this mere belt, as you can see, is but to give the figure slight support, and leave hips, waist and arms free for the grand swing and the great twist necessary for using the golf stick.

Sometimes instead of net we employ a kind of flat basket work, made of narrow bobbin, and again we build the same sort of little corset out of strips of ribbon half an inch wide and running round and round the waist. They are cool and light and pliable, yet we have patrons who catch cold easily and adopt these, the new woollen corsets. They have no laces in the back, you see, and are woven of pure wool, in one piece, that measures only 12 in. across the waist line. That 12 inches, through the elasticity of the wool, is easily drawn out to fold close about a 22 or 25-inch waist, and this woollen girdle hooks up in front in a perfectly orthodox fashion.

"The women like them because they are so easily put off and on. When off they spring back into the smallest compass, and they really keep one cooler, as woollen underwear always does on a warm day. Besides, for delicate persons of course, they are safer than the openwork ones. All the corsets I've been showing you here, however, are meant for stout women.

TAKE A HOLIDAY.

The Advice to Merchants and Businessmen of the Dry Goods Review.

As you are not a mere machine, but a human body with a nervous system, sensitive to long and weary labour, be sure and freshen up by a vacation, however short. It is poor economy to do without one. You may save twenty dollars by staying at home, and lose fifty in the process.

Your clerks are equally entitled to a rest. They will work all the better for a change. These are times when a man must keep bright and up-to-date, and summer is the best period for a vacation. When taking one, do not feel that you are robbing the business by so doing. It is as good an investment as any you can make. In deciding to let the clerk away also, arrange it so as to make him feel that you want him to go and are pleased that he will be the better for it. A dog is the only creature that will take a bone thankfully when it is thrown at him. The rest of us like a concession to be extended in a friendly way.

The merchants who talk about the "good old days" when no holidays, except a month about once in fifty years, were permitted, seem to forget that times change. The Dry Goods Review sometimes listens with amusement to the stories of old wholesalers who recall the days when, as employes, they had to get down to the warehouse at four or five a.m. in the busy season, and when the head of a firm looked a customer over when he came in to buy as if he were a burglar. Those were abnormal conditions and can never return. You must meet the new conditions, or, commercially speaking, you are a dead man. One of the new conditions is the necessity of a rest in these days of hurry, noise and hard work.

THREE THOUGHTS.

Their Application Solves Many Problems of Disease.

How important it is to everyone that the blood should be kept in good condition, and yet how few people there are to whom this subject seems to give any concern. We wish here to emphasize three points.

First, the situation: Health depends on the state of the blood. The blood conveys all the elements which go to make up the organs of the body, and carries away all dissolved and useless material. Every bone, muscle, nerve and tissue lives upon what the blood feeds to it. Moreover, every beating of the heart, every drawing of the breath, every thought flashing through the brain, needs a supply of pure blood, to be done rightly and well.

Second, the Necessity: The human race as a whole is in great need of a good blood purifier. There are about 2400 disorders incident to the human frame, the large majority arising from the impure or poisonous condition of the blood. Scrofula, a disease as old as antiquity, has been inherited by generation after generation, and manifests itself to-day virulent and virtually unchanged from the ancient forms.

Third, the Remedy: In Hood's Sarsaparilla is found the medicine for all blood diseases. Its remarkable cures are its loudest praise. No remedy has ever had so marked success, no medicine was ever accorded so great public patronage. Scrofula in its severest forms has yielded to its potent powers, blood poisoning and salt rheum and many other diseases have been permanently cured by it.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 80; 1889 at 54; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, ideal consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

BATTLE WITH RATTLESNAKES.

Four Young Men of Niagara Falls Went to Fish and Came Across the Nest of Reptiles All in a Bunch.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 27. Four young men of the town named Heck Connoly, John Whitty, Oscar Booth and Thomas Wilkinson, while on their way down to the water's edge in the lower river, below the whirlpool, near Foster's Flats, early this afternoon to fish, ran up against a ball of rattlesnakes sunning themselves on a rock. When the party approached the place they were startled with the noise of the rattling, which almost deafened them. When within ten feet of the snakes, the reptiles began to loosen themselves out and scurry off in all directions, many of them showing fight by springing and slashing at the young men, who armed on the reptiles with sticks and stones, and a terrific battle took place. Witty was struck in the legs several times, but luckily, having on a pair of rubber boots, escaped injury. The other three kept at a respectful distance from them. There were at least thirty of the snakes, and the whole locality seemed to be alive with the reptiles, scurrying in all directions. They managed, in the excitement, to kill two of the largest. One of them measured 4 feet 2 inches in length and bore 15 rattles; the other 3 feet 1 inch and 12 rattles. The two reptiles, which are 5 inches in circumference in the thickest part of the body, and estimated to be 18 and 15 years old, respectively, have been placed in alcohol and were on exhibition in town late this afternoon. They will be placed on exhibition at the whirlpool point on the Niagara Falls Park and River Railway, where Connoly manages a curio and refreshment booth.

UP AGAINST THE TARIFF.

William Young of Wiarton, Ont., Could Not Get His Lumber to Detroit in Time to Escape It.

Detroit, July 27.—William Young of Wiarton, Ont., has already come up against the new tariff with a $700 claim. He chartered the steamer Swallow to bring 250,000 feet of lumber into Detroit before the tariff bill should pass. The Swallow was promptly on hand, but Mr. Young was over his fright a little and allowed her to lie three days at Wiarton before she began to load. By the time the cargo was aboard his anxiety for haste was once more registering high temperature, and the Swallow went out to sea in a gale to please him. But to do her best she could not make Detroit until yesterday. To-day she is unloading at the foot of Twenty-fourth-street with a United States inspector aboard and Mr. Young will have to pay $2 on every thousand feet measured out.

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local-application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness.

THE BENHAM CASE

Lawyer Mackey Talked All Monday and the Greater Part of Tuesday in the Prisoner's Defence.

Batavia, N.Y., July 27.—Mr. Mackey resumed his address to the jury at 9.30 this morning. He was hoarse and spoke with considerable difficulty. All the way through Mr. Mackey's address it has been his purpose to throw doubt upon every point established by the prosecution. No effort has been made by Mr. Mackey, actually, to establish Benham's innocence, but to throw doubt upon his guilt. That is the plan of the defense.

Mr. Mackey said if Benham was a guilty man, why did he not have his wife's body cremated? It would have been an easy thing.

Mr. Mackey went over the medical testimony, pointing out the contradictory features of the people's testimony. The men who made the first autopsy, he said, did not know whether the heart was full or empty. It was the most bungling job ever confessed by men who claimed to be licensed physicians.

JAPAN MEANS BUSINESS.

She is Sending Trained Soldiers to Honolulu Dressed as Ordinary Citizens

Los Angeles, Cal., July 27.—A letter written by a Japanese official in Japan to a former Japanese officer living in this city conveys the information that the Japanese Government will forward to Honolulu, in the latter part of July, 1500 Japanese emigrants. These individuals are now in the garrison at Meegata, being soldiers in the Japanese service, and will go on shore in Honolulu as simple citizens, but drilled and ready for military duty at once. The steamers have been chartered by the Japanese Government, and carry in addition to the 1500 passengers, arms, ammunition and military stores of sufficient quantity to make it interesting for any party trying to prevent their landing. In addition, three large men-of-war are already prepared to leave Yokohama, to arrive at Honolulu at about the same time as the landing of the so-called emigrants will take place. The correspondent, who has been educated in the United States, used the expression, no doubt acquired when here: "We will get there, and don't you forget it," and remarked further: "I cannot write this in my own language, but you understand English predictions conveyed in previous letters from this official were verified."

A Threat to Resist.

London, July 27.—The St. James' Gazette, commenting upon Japan's protest in the Hawaiian matter, says: "According to European usage it amounts to a threat to resist the transfer of the archipelago by force, and is equivalent to warning the United States that they must give up their views as to Hawaii or prepare for war. It does mean just so much in the mouth of Japan, though the Americans do not seem to think so. But they have such odd ideas of diplomatic language that they are no great authorities."

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "We have said from the first that it is no concern of Great Britain whether the United States annexes Hawaii or not; but Japan's protest should give the American jingoes something to think about. It remains to be seen whether American opinion will ratify the annexation policy. If it does, the matter will become important, for Japan has a powerful navy, and if it does not, Secretary Sherman and, at any rate, President McKinley, will think twice before inviting the Japanese navy to do the mischief it undoubtedly could."

The Globe, after referring to the "cynical insolence of the American Minister," says: "Should it be our misfortune to engage in a quarrel with our kin beyond the sea, we must seize Hawaii immediately, but the state of things against which it is necessary to take precautions now is the by no means remote contingency of a war between the United States and a European power able to take Hawaii, which would then become a strategic point of great importance against ourselves. If Japan abdicates or commutes her rights, it is the clear duty of this country to interfere, even at the risk of another abusive despatch from Sherman."

What Will Uncle Sam Do?

New York, July 27.—A special to The Herald from Paris says: The Herald's European edition publishes the following editorial under the heading: "What's Japan got to say about it, anyhow?"

"We publish a special despatch confirming one printed in The Temps, relative to the protest of Japan against the annexation of Hawaii by the United States.

"We do not think that the United States can ever entertain the protest concerning its policy from any non-Anglo-Saxon race. England is an Anglo-Saxon race, pure and simple, and has for the last two hundred years governed the world by its common sense, force, and civilizing instincts, and to-day 83,000,000 of the Anglo-Saxon race across the water find themselves confronted with one of those Mongolian, Indian and Australasian continents. We know very well what England would do under the circumstances, and we trust that the Anglo-Saxon United States will do the same.

"P. S.—A few American warships in Japanese waters would do no harm."

As Bad as Wooden Nutmegs.

Havana, July 27.—The Ward Line steamer Seguranca, which arrived here from New York on Sunday, brought a consignment of 150 hollow logs, about 15 feet in length, with the ends although closed, showing clearly that they had been painted red for the purposes of disguise. The logs have been deposited at the Tallapiedra Wharf in the custody of the police.

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by the Doctors in the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

OTTAWA, July 28th.—It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent of this city with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills has definitely decided the objection as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine, and has been accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no question raised to the statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

MRS. STERNAMAN'S CASE.

One More and the Final Effort Will Be Made to Keep Her from Canada.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 27.—The attorney for Mrs. Olivia Sternaman has arranged with Col. D. R. Alexander to present her case to Hon. John Sherman, Secretary of State, for review. Secretary Sherman will be asked to reverse the decisions of the courts and to decline to order Mrs. Sternaman extradited to Canada for trial on the charge of murdering her husband, George H. Sternaman. The Secretary's decision will be final and the appeal to him to deny extradition is the final move that can be made in Mrs. Sternaman's behalf. The case will be presented to Secretary Sherman this week. The Canadian Government will urge that Mrs. Sternaman be extradited for trial.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Montreal, July 27.—About 1500 rooters saw Montreal play the hottest game of ball yet in this city. The game was exciting from start to finish. Several sensational plays characterized the game, the most noteworthy of which was Lynch's running catch in left of Egan's line ball, with three on bases and two men out. Score:

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia---Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—so says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

You sometimes hear men talking with foolish conceit of how hard they overwork and that they neglect their health in the pursuit of money. There are thousands of men who admit these things with a sort of pride, and slap themselves on the chest and laugh at the idea they will some day regret their recklessness and neglect. They laugh at Death, but in a short while, a very short while, the laugh is on the other side. Death waits while they laugh. He who laughs last, laughs best and in due time Death dances on the prostrate body of the laugher. There are many funny things in this world but death is not one of them. Neither is ill-health for it is one of Death's weapons and the most effective.

When a hard-working man feels out of sorts, and has a poor appetite, and doesn't sleep well, and goes to work in the morning tired out and heavy headed, he should take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the best health bringer and health keeper known. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver, restores the appetite and keeps it hearty and keen. It drives impurities from the blood and disease-germs from the body. It builds healthy flesh, firm muscles, steady nerves and active brain cells. It brings restful sleep and restores ambition. It cures nervous irritation, nervous exhaustion and nervous prostration. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It is the discovery of an eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now and for thirty years past, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS. Good temper is largely a matter of good health, and good health is largely a matter of healthy activity of the bowels. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are safe, sure and speedy, and once taken do not have to be taken always. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

JIMMIE IS A WONDER.

PHENOMENAL BICYCLE SPEED OF YOUNG MICHAEL OF WALES.

Compared to an Engine, He Only Weighs 103 Pounds and is Five Feet and Half an Inch Tall—The Welshman Rides the Highest Gear.

He is hardly more than a red faced youngster, and he weighs 103 pounds. Yet this "Jimmie" Michael can ride a bicycle with the swiftness of the wind. He has, in his well trained muscles, more power in proportion than a steam engine. "Jimmie" Michael is the world famous bicyclist who on June 17 reeled off fifteen miles in twenty-nine minutes and twelve seconds at the Charles River track in Boston.

A railroad train has made seventy-six miles an hour, or, in other words, has traveled 111 feet and two inches in one second. The wheel which "Jimmie" Michael rode traversed fifty-one feet of track with every second. The diameter of the wheel of the bicycle is twenty-eight inches. The driving wheel of a locomotive is five feet and a half in diameter. To drive a locomotive at the rate of sixty miles an hour requires a steam pressure of 150 pounds to the square inch or the application of 38,175 pounds of force to the piston ten times a second. The driving wheel would be making five revolutions a second.

Nobody knows exactly the number of foot pounds which this little giant of bicycledom applies to his racing wheel. That would be a matter of almost endless calculation. Allowance must be made for the length of the crank, the distance of the pedal from the axle and the grade of the gear. "Jimmie" Michael in making the phenomenal run at Charles River track used a machine geared to 112. The front sprocket wheel, as you may see by the picture which is herewith given, seems out of all proportion to the machine. It has thirty-two teeth, while the rear sprocket wheel has eight teeth. This high geared wheel is no easy thing to set in motion. It is like riding your bicycle up a steep hill on a sandy road. When once "Jimmie" Michael has this machine going, however, friction and resistance are set at naught. His legs are like piston rods. He has the limbs of the trained athlete. He never seems to tire, and his endurance has never been known to fail.

The secret of "Jimmie" Michael's success is not in high gearing wheels, however, but in careful and consistent training. There have been those who have equalled him in short bursts of speed, yet as a long distance rider he is without a peer. When others pedal with laggard foot and droop over the handle bars, "Jimmie" Michael appears to be as vigorous as he was in the beginning of the race. In the six years in which he has been before the public—and he is only twenty years old—he has made racing his business. He has permitted nothing to interfere with it. He arises early and goes to bed early. He does not smoke or drink. His diet is simple, and his life is like that of a Spartan. Here is an example of his manner of life at Charles River track, where he is still in training, says The New York Herald:

"I get up in the morning," he said to me the other day, "between seven and eight o'clock. I breakfast on mutton chops, fruit and tea. I then take a good road ride, longer or shorter as my weight goes up or down. I dine at one o'clock in the afternoon. I have roast beef or mutton, toast, tea and fruit. I never eat pastry. For supper my bill of fare is practically the same thing. I ride ten or fifteen miles at a good speed. I have no time to go around in the evenings. I don't go to afternoon teas, and I have no time for society. I don't smoke. I don't drink. I take a glass of ale with my meals occasionally. I sleep about nine hours a day."

"Jimmie" Michael is as simple and unostentatious as is his manner of life. He is a good-natured, vigorous, healthy boy. The world and the evil thereof are sealed books to him. He thinks only of riding and getting ready to ride. His life is possessed with one idea. And his soul is content. He is unassuming in his manner, and never speaks of his work unless he is questioned.

Although he is small of stature, being only five feet and half an inch in height, his form is one of athletic symmetry. His measurements as he gave them to me the other day are as follows:

	Inches.
Chest, deflated	34
Chest, inflated	36
Waist	28
Biceps	11
Forearm	9½
Thigh	19
Calf	12½
Neck	14

"Jimmie" Michael was born in Wales. He has been a bicyclist almost from babyhood. He used to take spins along the country roads near his home. Then, as a mere youngster, he entered the local races and made successes which were a surprise to the community in which he lived. He was then doing no training, and paying little attention to diet. His first race was in 1894. The last victory which he attained as an amateur was in the great hundred mile race in London, in 1894. He covered the distance in four hours and nineteen minutes, winning by a safe margin and breaking the record every mile from forty-nine to one hundred. He lowered the time for the entire distance by ten minutes.

He became rated as a professional shortly after this victory, and began to train regularly. He went to Paris, where he raced for two years. He lost the first three races, and then won twenty-four out of the next twenty-five. He was then training under Warburton. His work consisted of dum bell exercises, walking, work with the pulleys and plenty of riding upon the track or road. It was this first trainer of his who laid out the plan of life for him which has had so much to do with his success. The two great precepts of this system were substantial food and nine hours' sleep.

"Jimmie" Michael has no "bicycle face." His countenance is full of good nature and content. He does not live over the handle-bars as much as most professionals do.

In the Spill.

"I hear that Miss Waity finally sat down on that fresh young Upkyke."

"That's the trouble with this tandem business."

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

Self-Knowledge.

The true reason why we know ourselves so little lies in the difficulty we find in standing at a proper distance from ourselves, in taking up the right point of view, so that the details may help rather than hide the general effect. We must learn to look at ourselves socially and historically if we wish to have an extra idea of our relative worth, and to look at our life as a whole, or at least as one complete period of life, if we wish to know what we are and what we are not. The sat which crawls to and fro over a face, the fly perched upon the forehead of a maiden, touch them but do not see them; for they never embrace the whole at a glance.—Amiel.

Practise Economy

In buying medicine as in other matters. It is economy to get Hood's Sarsaparilla because there is more medicinal value in Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other. Every bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains 100 doses and will average, taken according to directions, to last a month, while others last but a fortnight.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Easy and yet efficient.

THE FIELDS OF CLOVER.

Oh, for one more happy day,
To run and romp and play,
Out in the fields, where over and over
I could roll—once more in the fragrant clover!
For never was joy
Like being a boy,
Out in the fields of clover!

Oh, for once more barefoot to run,
After the long hot day is done,
Down in the fields of fragrant clover,
While by my side my old dog Rover
Runs after the cows
Who stop to browse
Out in the fields of clover!

Oh, for one more vigorous swim
In the deep old pool where the light is dim,
Where down I plunge, over and over,
And when I come up I smell the clover
As the wind blows fresh
On my naked flesh
Out from the fields of clover!

Oh, for one more rest at night
With a heart as free and light
As [illegible] days long passed over
When I played in the fields of fragrant clover!
For never was joy
Like being a boy,
Out in the fields of clover!

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

JAPAN IS FOR PEACE.

Has Never Thought of Hobnobbing With Spain Against the United States.

New York, July 28.—A despatch to The Herald, from Paris, says:

If war should break out between the United States and Japan it will be in spite of Marquis Ito personally, as well as politically.

"In the first place," said Marquis Ito, "I wish you would contradict a statement that I am here, charged with an official mission to strongly protest in the name of my Government against a usurpation fraught with peril.

"Nothing could be further from the truth. The statement is inexact in every particular. Not only have I no official mission in Europe now—I never even had any, nor was I ever charged with such duties by the Japanese Government since I have been in Paris until to-day.

"I firmly believe that the Hawaiian question will be settled without the peaceful relations between Japan and the United States being disturbed in the least.

"I came to Europe as one of the suite who represented the Emperor at the Jubilee ceremonies in England. That commemoration being over, my duties, only nominal at any time, are now entirely at an end. So I am at liberty to avail myself of the permission the Emperor accorded me to take a holiday in Europe.

"It has been stated that I have been to Spain to arrange terms for mutual support in the attitude of Spain and Japan vis-a-vis the United States. This is quite untrue.

"When I was Prime Minister the Emperor bestowed an order on the King of Spain. The insignia were never sent, and it was not convenient at the time for anyone of sufficiently high rank to leave Japan. But the visit of Prince Arisugawa to Europe gave the Emperor an occasion he had been looking for, and so, taking advantage of the opportunity, the Prince went to Spain to present the order to the King, and I, as a matter of course, went also.

"But, although I met the Foreign Minister and all the other officials, the relations of Japan with America were never alluded to, and I never broached the subject of Spain's difficulties in Cuba, and similarly my visit to the Due de Mandas was only prompted by politeness, and was an acknowledgment of the courtesy he showed me at San Sebastian.

"I do not think it possible that any opposition manifested in Japan to the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands by the United States will take any more extended form than a mere protest made—remember this point—made in order that the interests of Japan in those islands may not suffer injury.

"Japan is simply seeking to protect herself and her subjects, and this she has a perfect right to do, this she is in duty bound to do; but that she will look after her interests in other than a dignified diplomatic way is absurd.

MANITOBA CROPS PROMISE WELL.

The Yield is Expected to be Larger Than That of Last Year—A P. E. Island Man Died on the Train.

Winnipeg, July 28. (Special.) Speaking of Manitoba crop prospects to-day, Manager Whyte of the Canadian Pacific said the returns from all grain-growing districts, both in the province and the territories, spoke hopefully of a bountiful harvest, and everywhere farmers were anticipating a much bigger yield than last year. Even grain buyers were looking forward to larger quantities of wheat this fall, as was evidenced by the number of new elevators being erected west of Winnipeg. The storage capacity of interior points would be increased by fully a million bushels, as 40 new elevators were being built at different stations.

Three large oil warehouses of the Standard Oil Company in the western part of the city were burned to-day. The loss will be heavy.

Wallace McLeod of Charlottetown, P.E.I., who was returning home from the Kootenay country for medical treatment, died on the train at Brandon.

SUNK IN A FOG.

The Captain's Wife and Four of the Crew of the Florence Lost.

Boston, Mass., July 28.—The British steamer Scandinavian, from Glasgow, reports running down and sinking the barkentine Florence, while in a dense fog, 20 miles south of Cape Race last Saturday. The captain's wife and four of the crew of the Florence were lost. The Florence was bound from Sydney, C. B., to St. John's, N. F.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars. — G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

Shortness of Breath.

"Since last year I have had serious heart trouble caused by malaria. Shortness of breath, smothering spell on retiring, violent palpitation, etc., often made me gasp for breath. On procuring Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I found to my surprise and delight that they gave almost instant relief. I get healthy, restfull sleep, my heart troubles disappeared, and I now feel very well and strong indeed," Mr. Hugh Moore, Ingersoll, Ont., makes this statement for the public good.

LONDON CONTINUES TO WIN.

London, July 28. Increased interest in the ball games since London went to the front is evidenced by the large attendance, fully 1,500 people were present to-day at the London-Guelph game. WHERE THE SHOE PINCHES.

Wearing Shoes does not afford much pleasure to people who buy the factory made kind. How can it be otherwise? All feet are not alike, any more than all faces. Unless made to your measure, they pinch your toes, press your favourite corn, squeeze the ingrowing toe nail, inflame the heels, and make your feet sweat, swell and ache.

CAREY'S SHOES don't do that—they fit your feet, give you everlasting comfort, make walking easy and cost less. They are not stamped on the soles, but stamps don't improve the fit or wear.

A SERIOUS SITUATION

Second Attack of Tribesmen on Camp Malakand.

THIRTEEN BRITISH TROOPS KILLED

And Thirty Wounded—Government Hurrying Reinforcements Forward Turkish Minister Ordered to Sign the Peace Preliminaries—Latest Cable News.

Bombay, July 29.—The situation at Camp Malakand has become very serious. Word has been received that the natives in large force made a second attack on the fort yesterday. The fighting was very severe. Thirteen of the British were killed and 30 wounded, the latter including Lieut. Castello. The tribesmen lost 100. The worst feature of the situation now is that the garrison is short of ammunition, and it is feared the whole supply will be exhausted before reinforcements arrive. The Government is making the greatest effort to get succor through in time. It is reported that Mad Mullah has mustered at least 40,000 tribesmen.

Details of the Attack.

Simla, July 29.—The north camp at Malakand was abandoned yesterday afternoon, the troops concentrating on Kotal.

The attack began at 8.30 on the previous evening, and lasted until daybreak yesterday. Desultory fighting continued throughout the day, the tribesmen driving in the picket, of whom 13 Sepoys were killed and 42 wounded.

The Punjab infantry, led by Lieut. Climo in a succession of brilliant charges, drove back great masses of the tribesmen, killing 90. The enemy are collecting in large force and severe fighting is anticipated.

Reinforcements have been sent to Dargai.

LATEST FROM THE GROUND.

The Fighting Was Bloody and the Tribesmen Suffered Severely.

London, July 30.—The Times this morning publishes a despatch from Simla, saying that the road from Mardan to Malakand seems free, as an officer with an escort of only four men passed safely along the road to the camp on Wednesday.

In the fighting on Monday the tribesmen were repeatedly repulsed, but always returned to the attack and finally succeeded in penetrating to that part of the camp where the commissariat sheds, the engineers' field park and the bazaar are situated. The native losses must have been severe, as thirty bodies were found at daylight when the attackers retired into the valley.

The Daily News prints a despatch from Malakand, showing that the rising of the natives is on a large scale. Each night, the despatch says, a determined attack has been made, lasting until daybreak, while during the daytime the garrison is harassed by parties on the hills within range of the British pickets. These tactics proved a severe strain to the troops, who, fatigued with night fighting, cannot assume the offensive.

Following is a description of the British position:

On a ridge is a fortified position, which is held by the main body of the garrison, with outlying posts on the Buddhist road to the right and on the hill to the left. Down below, on the Chakdara road, is an open space called the Crates, which is overlooked by a rocky eminence.

The North camp, which the troops evacuated Wednesday afternoon in order to concentrate upon the ridge, is a mile distant, and owing to a lack of camels the troops were compelled to abandon their tents. These were set on fire by the tribesmen, and the conflagration must have been visible many miles away, and will, it is believed, be taken as evidence of success, which will be likely to bring thousands of tribesmen flocking to Malakand.

On Tuesday Col. Meikeljohn was busy with his command, moving the stores to the ridge and building breastworks there. While this was being done the tribesmen assumed a threatening attitude, but did not attack. A reinforcement of 500 men arrived at the camp yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon.

A later despatch from Simla says on Wednesday the enemy returned with reinforcements and at 10 o'clock at night renewed the attack with equal determination, charging, as on Monday night, right up to the breastworks. They were repulsed, however, at all points. The British losses were much smaller than on the previous night, being only three officers wounded and two native soldiers killed and eight wounded. The enemy retired at daybreak, carrying off their dead, but the British soldiers were too much fatigued to pursue them. A renewal of the attack is expected to-night (Thursday), but the troops are so strongly intrenched that no anxiety is felt as to the result.

Large supplies of ammunition are en route by railway to Nowshera.

Major Taylor has died from his wounds. The list of casualties well illustrates the necessity for an increase in the number of British officers in the native regiments. Heavy losses are almost inevitable in this sort of fighting, and the officers are bound to expose themselves while leading their men.

As the operations will be carried on on a comparatively large scale, all the forces, including reinforcements now en route, will be formed into a division of two brigades, with a complete staff, the whole under command of Col. Sir Bindon Blood. The first brigade will be commanded by Col. Meikeljohn and the second by Col. Jeffreys.

Insulted the Queen.

London, July 29. — A despatch from Lucknow, India, says that on Saturday Maulvi Sidayat Rasoul was arrested on a charge of having insulted Queen Victoria and the British Government at a recent meeting of Mohammedans held to congratulate the Sultan upon his victories over Greece. It is alleged that at this meeting, Maulvi declared to the assembly that "but for the Sultan's forbearance, the old woman's ribs would have been broken years ago." The case was adjourned.

An Editor Arrested.

Bombay, July 29.—The editor of the newspaper Vaibhav, published at Poonah, has been arrested and brought here on the charge of sedition.

Sent Out of Harm's Way.

Sridar Balwantrao Natu and Huropant Ramahunder, who were arrested yesterday on a charge of disloyalty and escorted outside the limits of the Poonah Collectorate, have been deported, under the act empowering the Viceroy to issue a warrant for the arrest and deportation, without trial, of persons known to be engaged in disloyal practices. The power of deportation has not been exercised for many years.

TEWFIK TOLD TO SIGN.

And the Greco-Turkish Peace Negotiations Advance Another Stage.

London, July 29.—A special despatch from Athens says the Sultan has instructed Tewfik Pasha, Minister for Foreign Affairs, to sign the peace preliminaries on Saturday next.

At a meeting of the Ambassadors today, an indemnity clause in a form satisfying the views of Germany was agreed upon. It now awaits the approval of the respective foreign offices.

Another meeting will be held on Saturday, when, so far as the Ambassadors are concerned, the negotiations will be concluded.

British Troops for Crete.

London, July 29.—A despatch from Malta says that the First Lancashire Battalion has been ordered to get itself in readiness for duty in Crete.

Sixty-Seven Men at Work.

London, Ont., July 29.—There are, all told, 67 men now at work in the London car shops. Of this number about half have been taken on since the shops at Brantford and Toronto closed down. The majority of the new men came from those two places, and are experienced hands.

The Financial Problem.

Constantinople, July 29.—The demand of the German Ambassador, Baron Saurma Jeseltsch, that a provision be inserted in the treaty between Greece and Turkey for a European control of Greek finances, meets with disfavor among the other Ambassadors and the Turks as well. They consider that it is not covered by their instructions, but should be made the subject of direct negotiations between Germany and the other powers.

Andree's Balloon Was Leaky.

Stockholm, July 29.—Dr. Ekholm (Ekhola), who was associated with Herr Andree in his projected balloon voyage last year, writes to The Aftonbaladet that he declined to join in the present attempt because the impermeability of the balloon was unsatisfactory. He says it lost 51 cubic meters of gas daily from the time of inflation. In his opinion, it would not float longer than from 22 to 24 days.

Chinese Statesman Dead.

London, July 29.—The Times' Pekin correspondent says that Li Hung Tsao, Grand Councillor and member of the Tsung Li Yamen, is dead. He was a believer in a strong anti-foreign policy and was the chief opponent of Li Hung Chang, who will probably be promoted.

The Irish of It.

An Irishman whose orchard had been invaded by some picnickers, was arraigning the poachers with no mild form of vehemence, when one of the party said to him:

"There, my friend, don't get yourself into such a state of excitement; we'll compensate you."

"Compensate me!" returned Pat. "Be jorra, ye ought to pay me!"—Richmond Dispatch.

HE KILLED HIS WIFE

So the Jurors Decided in the Benham Case.

SENTENCE IS NOT YET DELIVERED.

The Sensational Case That Has Agitated All New York for Some Time is Now at an End. A Speculative Genius Who Wanted a Plaster Cast of the Prisoner.

Batavia, N.Y., July 29. Nothing had been heard from the Benham jury at 9 o'clock this morning.

Hundreds of people remained up all night in the hope of hearing from the jury. The excitement, though not up, is intense. At an extremely early hour this morning the streets were thronged with people, and the one question asked was: "Has the jury come in?"

At 10 o'clock the jury notified Justice Laughlin that they wished instructions as to the manner of rendering a verdict. The Justice immediately proceeded to the court house and ordered Benham brought in. The latter soon appeared, looking far from well. His face had a drawn, haggard expression, showing that the suspense was telling upon him. His eyeballs were constantly moving in their sockets, and he moved uneasily in his chair.

The jurors entered the court room ten minutes later. They were a solemn-looking lot of men, and their night's deliberation had left its mark upon their faces. Justice Laughlin then read the communication he had received from the jury, signed by Grove D. Whitney of Pavilion, as foreman, and imparted the information asked for. He said it was a simple matter to present a verdict, and then gave instructions as to the form to be used in any possible finding. The jury again retired, no indication being given as to how they stood.

Later—Benham has been convicted of murder in the first degree.

The verdict of the jury came like a thunderbolt and at a time when no one expected it. The jurors had just finished their dinner at the Richmond Hotel, when word was sent to the Justice that a verdict had been agreed upon. The jurors went at once to the court house, taking their places in their seats at 1.15 o'clock. Three minutes later Justice Laughlin entered. At 1.20 o'clock the foreman announced the fatal finding.

Benham did not seem to fully realize the seriousness of the situation at first. When he was leaving the court room it seemed to dawn upon him, in all its terror. His face grew deathly white, his legs tottered and he seemed about to fall. His attorneys gathered around him and walked with him out of the room.

Benham will be sentenced Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Howard Curtis Benham was born in Byron, Genesee county, N.Y., Sept. 7, 1870. He was employed successively as hotel clerk, clothing salesman, postal clerk and World's Fair excursion agent. On Aug. 4, 1892, he eloped with Miss Florence Taut, also of Byron, a 16-year-old heiress to about $50,000, and was married to her by Justice White of the Municipal Court at Rochester. After a short residence in Byron, Mr. and Mrs. Benham removed to Batavia, where Benham engaged in business as a private banker. On Dec. 19, 1894, Mrs. Benham gave birth to a son, Howard Sidney Benham. Mrs. Benham's death occurred on the morning of Jan. 4. Rumor had it that death was the result of a criminal operation, and to ascertain the facts an autopsy was held, which resulted in ascribing the cause of death to degeneration of the heart. Soon after the burial Samuel Elliott, a drug clerk, acknowledged that he had twice sold Benham prussic acid, and aroused suspicion by telling of the unusual interest shown by Benham in the accounts of the Hooper case, as published in a Port Hope, Ont., paper. This led to exhuming of the body, a second autopsy and chemical examination of the organs, with the result of the alleged discovery of traces of prussic acid in the brain, liver and blood. The facts being presented, a coroner's jury rendered a verdict to the effect that Mrs. Benham came to her death by hydrocyanic acid or prussic acid poison, administered by her husband. Benham was subsequently indicted for murder in the first degree, by the grand jury of Genesee county, and on June 21 placed on trial for his life before Justice Laughlin of the Supreme Court of the State of New York.

Benham had an unwelcome visitor at the jail this morning. The visitor gave his name as J. G. Sullivan, and wanted to get a plaster paris cast of the accused man. Mr. Sullivan said he had procured a cast of Birchall, the Canadian murderer, and made a good thing of it. He said that the exhibition of Birchall's face in the Canadian towns had been a great hit.

Benham looked at his visitor with a suspicious eye. He could not see that there was anything in it for him, and told Mr. Sullivan he had better call again.

"This is my busy day," said Benham, "and when I have more time I will talk with you."

Will the Irishmen be Released?

London, July 29.—As a result of the effort of John Redmond, the Parnellite leader, it is probable that the Government will soon release the five remaining Irish prisoners, Wilson, Burton, Dalton, Flanagan and Featherstone, now undergoing sentence of penal servitude for life in Portland Prison.

THE "SUN'S" REVOLUTION.

The Belleville Sun in announcing that it will hereafter be conducted as a Liberal journal, says:

After noting the statesmanlike manner in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues have carried on the government of Canada the past year, after witnessing the splendid manner in which Canada's premier has represented this country in his official visit to Britain, and for other weighty reasons, The Sun has decided that henceforth it will do what it can to support those principles of stalwart Canadianism of which Wilfrid Laurier has been the leading exponent. Canada has never had as business-like and thorough an administration of all public affairs as we have had in the past year, and one would require to be blinded, indeed, by political prejudice to abstain from encouraging in every possible way that feeling of confidence and revival of commercial prospects which have resulted from the presence of wise and careful men at the head of our country's affairs.

When the Sun was established three years ago, it was announced that it would take practically a neutral course politically and until now it has adhered to that position, but hereafter it will be found on the Liberal side. The news columns of the paper will continue as they have always been—independent, newsy and bright. While special attention will be paid to the political news of the day, we shall give to political opponents the same courtesy and recognition as is extended by such Liberal papers as the Toronto Globe, London Advertiser, Hamilton Times, Kingston Whig, and others, which, although recognized as party papers, have never lost sight of their duty to the public as purveyors of news.

In a fair field, with no political favour, the Sun has secured the largest circulation and best general patronage of any paper in the Quinte district. We trust that, by a manly, straightforward and honest advocacy of Liberal principles, and dealing fairly with opponents, we shall add still more to that hearty support and confidence with which the public have always honoured us.

The Conservative Intelligencer evidently thinks there are no spots on the Sun—it remarks anent the change in question "since the Sun has thrown off the mask," that its circulation has increased. If this be so the Sun had better reconsider its recent decision—the wider circulation of so rabidly partisan a sheet, as the Intelligencer can hardly be regarded in the light of a public benefit in these more enlightened and more liberal times.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A GOVERNMENT that is favoured with the good advice of its friends is in far less danger than when its enemies approve.

SINCE there are no bounds to "Yankee" cheek, one can't be surprised at their difficulty in finding an Alaskan boundary.

WHILE the recent "rainy spell" is rather much of a good thing, it is quite a timely contribution to the Jubilee year, when the longest reign is celebrated.

CANADIAN miners in the Klondyke region are not going to fully observe the old motto—they will doubtless "hew to the (boundary) line," but they will take care that the "chips" fall into Canadian territory.

IN seventeen counties of North Carolina tramps and other criminals are employed on the public roads. The system has been in operation with excellent results for six years. There is a poetic justice in thus employing the criminals — if they won't mend their low ways they should be made to mend our highways.

C. P. R. shares have been going up by leaps and bounds. Four months ago they were selling at 46. Yesterday they sold at 73. That, the Ottawa Journal says, is an excellent sign for British and foreign confidence in Canada's standing and progress, intimately bound up as the C.P.R. is with the general welfare here.

RESPECTING the bellicose breeze now springing up between Japan and the United States, Mr. Goldwin Smith writes in the Farmers' Sun:—"That there will be a war between the United States and Japan is most unlikely. If there is, Japan will have an advantage at the outset, her fleet in those waters being ready, while that of the United States is not. In the end the United States would win. But they will have added to their financial troubles and committed themselves to another pension list, beside the sinister effects of war politically on Republican character and institutions. To most onlookers, it must appear that no nation was ever more manifestly lured into a false path of ambition than the United States will be if they are bent on the annexation of Cuba and Hawaii. In the annexation of Hawaii they will make a mistake. The annexation of Cuba may prove more than a mistake. Its consequence may be deadly for the Republic."

JUBILEE POINT NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Jubilee Point is very popular with anglers, who find good sport at the docks. It is now considered among the most notable resorts in Central Ontario in this respect. Rice Lake is one of "Nature's beauty spots." It would be difficult to find anywhere a more beautiful stretch of water than the one presented for the enjoyment of those who make the trip by boat. Rice Lake is particularly known as being famous for 'lunge and bass. The Otonabee, Ocse, Indian and the far famed Trent rivers supply the fish with ample breeding grounds.

The Point Hotel is a quaint and most picturesquely situated building overlooking the lake. The grounds are shaded by maples and other ornamented trees. The cuisine is in the hands of Mrs. Arkles, a lady well calculate to please and entertain, while Mr. Arkles looks after the anglers and sportsmen. Mr. Adam Davidson, of town, has been appointed to look after the modern and handsomely fitted up sample room.

Among the many pastimes indulged in are boating, bathing, fishing, dancing and duck shooting in season. The boat livery at the point is well stocked with skiffs and canoes for the sole use of the hotel's guests.

Mr. F. Faint captured ten bass while sitting on the piers at the Forks, which is only one mile from the Point, in a sing e hour's duration of time. His friend, Mr. Choate, went out to the mouth to try his luck and succeeded in landing several huge 'lunge, the largest of which tipped the beam at 32½ pounds, whilst the smallest weighed 6¾ pounds. These gentlemen say that the fishing in and about the east and west channels is exceedingly good.

Master Gordon Logan, of Galt, who is only twelve years of age, caught a 'lunge, while trolling directly opposite the hotel, weighing 18¼ pounds—almost as large as himself. The spectators on the bank were considerably amused to see the little fellow being towed away by the monster, but Gordon struggled hard and finally brought his catch to shore. It took several good cracks from a cord wood stick to lay the big fellow out. Gordon is quite an angler. Being so young, it took him half an hour before he got through with his job.

Among the guests at the hotel are Mrs. Macfarlane Wilson and daughter and Mrs. Rush. They are highly delighted with the place.

Commodore Calcutt and his daughters, Misses Addie, Maggie and Katie, accompanied by Miss Susie Calcutt, of Chicago, and Miss May Ward, of Woodstock, are spending the balance of the summer months at their cottage on the Point.

There are fifteen guests registered at the hotel, and rooms are spoken for by ten Americans for the first of August.

Mrs. Arkles learning that other resorts had cut hotel accommodation rates, has reduced hers to within reach of all. The bill of fare is at all times of the daintiest character.

DOES BRITAIN OWN PALMYRA?

The Washington Correspondent of The New York Herald Says an American Discovered the Island.

New York, July 29.—A special to The Herald from Washington says: In support to their claim to Palmyra Island, which has been taken possession of by the British Government, the London authorities refer to the fact that the British flag was hoisted over this territory in 1889.

Even if the official records of the Hawaiian Government fail to show the title of the Dole regime to the Island, the United States claims that the island belongs to this Government by virtue of its discovery by an American citizen. This fact is recognized by the British authorities in an official publication, which contains a reference to its discovery and the action of the British in placing their flag over it. The publication in question is the official sailing directions of the Hydrographic Office of Great Britain, issued by the Admiralty. In regard to the Palmyra Island the volume says:

"Palmyra was discovered by Captain Sawle of the American ship Palmyra, in 1802, and was formally annexed to Great Britain by Commander Nichols, in Her Majesty's ship Cormorant, on May 28, 1889. There were no inhabitants on the island at the time of its annexation, although Messrs. Henderson and MacFarlane of New Zealand contemplate cultivating it."

A high official of the State Department said last night that an investigation regarding the rights of Great Britain and Hawaii to Palmyra Island would be made.

Dr. CHASE CURES FATHER AND CHILD

Both afflicted with Eczema of a very troublesome type and cured in a remarkably short while by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

"I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg; the itching was something terrible; would scratch until the blood came. How I came to know the value of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT, I have a little girl two years; when she was one year old the same disease began to show upon her face. It wasn't long before her face became literally covered with it. In order to keep her from scratching it we had to bandage her hands up. I tried several doctors, but got no relief. Seeing DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT so highly advertised I made up my mind to purchase a box, which I did from one of our leading druggists. The first application I noticed a change. It was then I began to think about myself. With four or five applications, to my surprise, I am completely cured, no sign of the disease, and my little girl's face to-day is clear of all the scabs. I am only too glad to inform any person what a blessing DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT has proved itself.

THE TRAIL IS OPEN

And a Fleet of Boats Will be Ready in Spring

FOR PASSAGE TO THE KLONDIKE.

The British Chartered Company Will Supply Means of Transportation—Hardships Somewhat Exaggerated

Temperature Averages 40 Below Zero During Winter.

Montreal, July 29.—Mr. C. H. Wilkinson, Canadian representative of the British Yukon Company, confirms the report that the White Pass pack trail, over the summit to the pass, was opened for travel on July 16. Not only was the pass opened for pack travel, he said, but the company had completed arrangements for placing a fleet of between 10 and 20 steamboats on the Yukon River as soon as the river opens next spring. The boats have already been contracted for and will be in readiness for the first opening of navigation. They will be flat-bottomed with stern wheels, much the same style as the Mississippi and Ohio river craft. They will draw when light only some eight inches of water, and when loaded about 2 inches. The lakes along the Yukon are quite deep, but the rivers are shallow in places, necessitating light draught boats. Half this fleet will ply between the point where the trail over the White Pass strikes the head waters of the Yukon and Miles Canyon, in the heart of the Klondike district. This distance is 650 miles. The other half of the fleet will ply on the lower Yukon between Miles' Canyon and the mouth of the river on Norton Sound. Communication will thus be established by the two principal routes by which the gold fields are reached, by way of the White Pass and around the Aleutian Islands and up Norton Sound. Mr. Wilkinson says that it is now altogether probable that the British Yukon Company will begin the construction of a narrow-gauge road over the White Pass as early next spring as operations can be begun. It was first the intention of the company to build only a wagon road next summer, to be followed by a railroad if a subsidy could be obtained from the Federal Government. In view of the great rush to the gold fields, the British Yukon Company had practically decided to build the railway at once.

HARDSHIPS ARE EXAGGERATED.

G. W. F. Johnson Writes an Interesting Letter From Dawson City, N. W. T.—The Boom is Big.

G. W. F. Johnson of Dawson City has written a lengthy letter to parties in Seattle. Mr. Johnson was for several months the Seattle representative of the Juneau merchants. He gives an interesting and detailed account of the Klondike country. Following is the text of his letter:

Dawson City, N.W.T., June 20.—I started from Juneau, March 28, arriving here on June 1, having lost 19 days on the way, 6 in a snowstorm at the foot of the summit, 2 through being snow blind, and 11 at Lake Le Borge, waiting for the ice to run out ahead of us. The trails and lakes broke up this year one month earlier than usual, catching many who were bringing in large trading outfits. The trip is not hard or difficult to one at all used to roughing it. After the boats are constructed it is one continual trip of pleasure; no difficulties excepting the canyon, which can be run without danger if a little knowledge of boating and care is used. The White Horse Rapids are dangerous, more especially at a low stage of water, and under no circumstances should be run. At this place the portage is short and easy, and little time or labor in transferring is lost. We, of course, were compelled to take it all in, so made the run with 4000 pounds in our boat. We were successful in getting through, but struck a rock and all got a good ducking. The Five Fingers simply need care and judgment. The Hunk Rapids are not bad.

The hardships of the trip are much exaggerated and misunderstood by the outside world. Of course, on the trails from Dyea to Lake Linderman a man's patience, nerve, and strength are taxed to the utmost. Just from the ship, stores, offices, and homes of luxury, or at least comfort, many find their strength almost unequal to the occasion; many have been seen sitting on their burdens, weeping, swearing, or in silent despair, as their natures may prompt. After a few days' hardening they are found more cheerful, and ere long they take up their loads and smile at the next "newcomer" who is going through the same course of training.

Some fail utterly and return. Of this class there are few. The portage from Dyea to Lake Linderman is the most difficult part of the trip, the distance being 21 miles. Transferring one's outfit over this piece of the route consumes as much time as the remaining portion of the trip from Juneau to Dawson City, about 600 miles.

Up to this date this year 2000 people have crossed the summit, and about the same number wintered here. The majority of these people are at Dawson City, or in its immediate vicinity.

Dawson City is now three weeks old. It is growing rapidly just as fast as the circle saw mill can cut lumber, or logs can be rafted. Common lumber is worth $150 per thousand on the "take it or let it alone" policy; town lots the same. They are now being sold by a crowd of men who located them, and are held from $10,000 down to $250, with no title.

The Alaska Commercial Company and the North American Transportation and Trading Company have concentrated their forces and supplies here. The Alaska Commercial Company is in charge of a young man full of push, and who evinces a desire to accommodate and serve the people. Every effort is being made this year to have provisions in store for the coming winter. The steamers Bella and Alice, with barges, will make five trips each from St. Michael's, bringing about 150 tons each trip, making about 4500 tons for this company alone.

Daily labor brings $10 per day, miners $15, mechanics $15. It costs $1 to get your shirt laundried; your cigar costs 10 cents, your meal $1.50, a little toddy 50 cents; moose meat is 60 cents per pound, canned goods 75 cents per can (all kinds, both fruit and vegetables). Flour is $12 per hundred, sugar 30 cents per pound, bacon 50 cents, shoes and clothing not so high in proportion. The companies have adopted the cash system; no man can get a dollar's worth of goods without money. The North American Transportation and Trading Company, under the management of Capt. Healy, have two large steamers, the Portus B. Weare and John J. Healy, on the river, making about five trips each per year. They carry a large stock of general merchandise and adopt about the same policy and prices as their rival.

There is no sickness to speak of, and few accidents on the trail. Everybody is well and glad they are here.

The mines are probably the richest and cover a larger field than any ever discovered before. The gold is coarse, nuggets going as high as $300 each. Dirt washed out goes as high as $800 to the pan, one man offering to wager he could pick and wash out $1000 to the pan. Of course, this is an exception. Eldorado Creek so far has shown the richest, although Upper Bonanza shows very high. Hundreds of miles of unexplored country are ready for the prospector.

The country is governed by a gold commissioner and captain of the Mounted Police. They are courteous and adopt a liberal policy. The Episcopal and Catholic Churches are establishing missions here. New enterprises and businesses are springing up every day. The saloon predominates.

The piano fiend is here, and all through what should be night (although it is dark as pall "Chantrey all" and "Caiman left" is heard floating over the slumbering hills. Circle City and Forty Mile are virtually deserted. This is not on account of the failure of mines in that vicinity, but the Bonanza mines are much richer and easier of access.

As the country fills up and the prospectors scatter about that country will be repopulated and flourish as in its old-time glory, when Klondike was considered no good.

There is room in this country and that portion of Alaska around Circle City for 50,000 people. Taking in view the general business depression all through the country, this section offers great inducements to the man sound in body and equal to a rough life. He should come with at least one year's supply of provisions, when sobriety, industry and health, his success is almost assured. The possibilities and probabilities are great for a competency.

The output of Bonanza and Eldorado Creeks last winter probably exceeded $1,500,000. This next season it will be quadrupled on these two creeks alone, with all the other located sections to swell the amount to an enormous sum. From $1 to $2 per pan is the average. As it takes six pans to make a bucket, two men can take out and put on the dump about 200 buckets per day. The pay is enormous. Many of the claims on Bonanza and Eldorado Creeks are being "ground sluiced," thus making summer diggings. Others are mined by drifting on pay streaks with fire, making continuous work the entire year, something heretofore unknown in Arctic mining. The temperature is high here in summer. It has been 100 in the shade for the past week.

The character of the soil is a marshy muck, which thaws down for ten or twelve inches, then there is solid ice. There is a heavy coat of moss all over the country, sometimes a foot thick. The woods are full of moose, caribou and bear.

Stampedes to new discoveries are taking place almost daily. At present Dominion Creek, a branch of Indian River, and Henderson Creek, emptying into the Yukon near the mouth of Stewart River, are attracting considerable attention. Two hundred people left here last night for Henderson Creek. Although it is a little early, prospecting is being vigorously carried on, and new finds are daily expected.

The new man is curious as well as ambitious, and we oftentimes see "the old timer" trailing him. The mosquitoes are not bad here. On the creeks and in the woods they make things lively for one, but do not interfere with work or traveling.

TELEGRAPH TO THE KLONDIKE.

A Company Has Been Formed to Stretch a Wire From Juneau to Dawson City, N. W. T.

San Francisco, July 29.—The Klondike is promised close communication with the rest of the world in a short time. At least a telegraph company has been incorporated which will get to work immediately, its promoter says, stringing the wires. Articles of incorporation of the Alaska Telegraph and Telephone Company have been filed with the County Clerk of San Francisco. The directors of the new company are C. W. Wright, Theodore Richart, D. E. Robenon, J. W. Wright and J. F. Fassett. The capital stock of the organization is $5,000,000, of which $100,000 has been subscribed by the directors.

The proposition is to construct telegraph lines which will connect Dyea with the town of Dawson, and branch lines connecting Dyea with Juneau and Dawson with Circle City. The estimated length of the proposed line is 900 miles. The plan of construction will be after the style of military systems used in war time. A wire a quarter of an inch thick, covered with krite insulation, will be used.

The wire will be laid along the ground instead of being stretched on poles; trees or poles will be used only when it is necessary to cross a gulch. The promoters of the novel enterprise expect to go to work laying the wires in three weeks, and to have them laid six weeks later. The company does not intend to have any telegraph communication south from Juneau unless some of the larger companies construct a line north from Puget Sound.

The Dog Train Mail Service.

Ottawa, July 29.—J. J. McGee, Clerk of the Privy Council, left last evening for Cascapedia with several Orders-in-Council requiring His Excellency's signature. Among them were the Yukon orders and a number of money Orders-in-Council, which must be signed before Saturday.

It seems probable that the road selected by the Government for the establishment of the dog train mail service to the Yukon during the winter and for the erection of the shacks will be from the head of the Lynn Canal to a point west of Tustin Lake, going up the White Pass, thence to Fort Selkirk, and so to Fort Cudahy.

If the Government regulations regarding the collection of a royalty upon placer mining are not enforced it will not be for any laxity in the penalties. By the decision arrived at yesterday any miner who defrauds the Government will be made liable to the confiscation of his claim and the withdrawal of his right to have any holding in the future.

Freely Spend Advice.

London, July 29.—The Emigrants' Information Office has, through the Colonial Office, issued urgent warning to persons contemplating the journey to the Klondike, pointing out that "both routes are long and expensive, and can only be used during the summer. Intending gold seekers should not start before April."

Few people, indeed, show any inclination to do so. A lot of mushroom companies are springing into existence to participate in the work of gold field exploration, but individuals confine their enthusiasm to talk. Most will wait and see how matters pan out.

Friendly Tribes at Abu Hamid.

London, July 27.—A despatch to The Daily News from Cairo says it is rumored that the friendly tribes have occupied Abu Hamid without any resistance having been offered.

Peterborough People Talk About the New Conqueror of Kidney Trouble.

Mr. Jas. Sloan, well-know employee of the Canadian General Electric Company, who resides at 451 Stewart street, Peterborough, Ont., says:—"I have been seriously afflicted for the last three years with severe pains in my back, caused undoubtedly by wrong action of the kidneys. Headaches, sleeplessness, dizziness and kindred kidney troubles also had their share in adding to my misery.

All the remedies I took did me no good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Lynch's Drug Store. To put it in a few words I can say without hesitation that it only took two boxes to make a complete cure.

I am very grateful to this remedy for rescuing me from the painful and distressing afflictions which had troubled me for such a long time.

The specific and direct action of Doan's Kidney Pills on the kidneys always restores them to healthy natural action, thus curing all diseases arising from disorder of the kidneys, bladder or urinary organs.

Backache, weak back, diabetes, Bright's disease, gravel, etc., all yield readily to Doan's Pills. Full directions with each box. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all druggists. 196

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. A Collision.

On Thursday night Mr. W. Wilson, of Douro, met with a severe accident. It appears he was going to his home on his bicycle, and just when he got to his gate a horse and buggy collided with him, the night being so dark that he could not see far ahead. The shock threw him off, and the buggy passed over the wheel twisting and bending it badly. Mr. Wilson escaped with a few bruises, but felt worse over the condition of the wheel.

The American Motograph Company.

There was only a fair audience at the Opera House last night at the opening entertainment of the American Motograph Company. Those who did not attend missed a great treat. It is the best exhibition of the kind that has visited Peterborough for many a day. Not only the pictures and views shown were superior in character, but their presentation was far ahead of anything that has been seen here. The songs descriptive of some of the views were a unique feature. The variety programme—singing, dancing, musical specialties, etc., was excellent, and on the whole a delightful entertainment was given. Doubtless there will be a large attendance to-night, for the exhibition is worthy of it. To-night and to-morrow night, with matinee at 2.30 to-morrow afternoon for women and children.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT ISSUED.

For the Production of Murray alias Conlin in Court on the Application of Mr. D. O'Connell.

Mr. D. O'Connell has returned from Toronto, where he moved yesterday before Judge McMahon for the issue of a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Murray alias Conlin, the pickpocket.

The writ was granted and the gaoler ordered to produce the body. Argument will be heard at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, probably next week.

As mentioned before in the EXAMINER Mr. O'Connell is moving on the ground that the First of July, on which day the prisoner received his preliminary hearing, is a public holiday, and therefore being a non judicial day, a judicial act performed will not hold.

It is probably the first time that a writ of habeas corpus has been applied for on those grounds, and the authorities do not bear on the question. The result of the motion will be awaited with interest by the bar of Ontario, as a new precedent may be established by the ruling of the Judge in the matter.

A YACHTING PARTY.

The boys expect to cruise through the entire chain of lakes, and will spend about ten days on the back waters. This cruise is their annual outing, and they are well known to the cottagers. To-day they were busy in the purchase of yachting caps, bathing suits, etc., in town.

A MONTH IN GAOL.

For Stealing a Watch From a Fellow Boarder on the T.V.C.

John McCann, the T.V.C. labourer, who was convicted of stealing a watch in Murphy's boarding house from Alexander Trotter, was this morning sentenced to one month in gaol.

McCann was arrested some time ago on suspicion of being connected with the theft of the watch. The evidence which was brought against him failed to convict him, and he was on the point of being discharged, when he foolishly went into the witness box himself and was soon condemned out of his own mouth.

The watch has not yet been recovered.

Those who have not exhibited at or attended past exhibitions in Ottawa, should not fail to do so this year.

Walked in His Sleep.

A serious and probably fatal accident occurred at the well-known farm of Messrs. R. S. Holdsworth & Sons about four o'clock Wednesday morning. A young man named Samuel Rowe, of Perrytown, who has been working here this summer, and who is addicted to somnambulism, got up in his sleep and jumped out of a second story window. Mr. Holdsworth's son heard the fall and ran down and succeeded in getting him to a couch. Dr. Waters, of Cobourg, was sent for, and was there in a very short time. He says there is little hope of recovery. He was a sober, steady and industrious young man, of irreproachable character.

The Great Attraction This Week.

Gough Bros'. hurricane sale of summer clothing, hats, boots, gloves and furnishings for men, youths and boys will doubtless prove a great attraction this week. A shrinkage of $10,300 on the prices covered by their whole stocks in both stores since last week should be inducement enough to bring crowds to their counters. The prices represent their great reductions in summer stocks, including that portion of the clothing left over from their great sale of the R. A. Small & Co.'s mammoth purchase in Montreal. Everything that cannot be carried over is to be got rid of. The goods cannot be marked any lower, and in order to have the benefit of a fairly good selection they advise all to call early to get the pick of the choicest. The changed prices will probably clear out all the summer goods in about a couple of weeks. dtf

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS.

The Market Building to be Repainted and Other Changes Made.

A number of improvements are under way at the town buildings on the corner of George and Charlotte streets.

The back wall of the foundations has been rebuilt and closets, etc., put in. The cellars have been considerably enlarged.

An iron railing now runs up the centre of the staircases ascending from the arcade to the market hall, and iron gates are about to be erected at the foot in order to prevent loungers ascending the steps when the market is not open. Mr. Adam Hall has the contract for this portion of the work.

A 32 candle power incandescent light has been placed in the arcade.

The exterior of the building is to be repainted by Contractor McGrath and his men are already at work on the tower.

The Commissions complain of the way the tenders for the work were sent in. Although the advertisement plainly called for them to be sent to M.. James Stevenson, chairman, a number were sent to Mr. John Belcher, County Engineer, and as he was out of town, they were never received by the Commissioners for consideration. Again after the tenders had been opened, several of the tenderers wished to amend their figures. In fairness to the others this had to be refused.

WEDDING BELLS.

Celebration of the Fanning-Browne Nuptials in Lindsay.

The words of the marriage service fell with solemn accent from the lips of the Rev. Joseph Kilgour, of Millbrook, as in the presence of a small gathering of friends from Port Hope, Orangeville, Peterborough, Roseneath, Belleville, Newcastle and Chicago, he performed the beautiful ceremony that made Walter N. Browne, of Orangeville, and Jennie Richards Fanning, husband and wife. The residence of Mr. Moore Fanning, 56 Lindsay street, was tastefully decorated with sweet peas in honour of the occasion, and as the bridal party entered the drawing room the wedding march was rendered by Miss Olive Johnson, of Belleville, cousin of the bride. The bride was gowned in white organdie with trimmings of satin and lace, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Browne left on the 6 o'clock train for their home in Orangeville.—Lindsay Post.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

The Stony Lake cottagers who utilize the Lakefield train service are pleased to see that Conductor Haskill is able to take his run again. He has been recuperating up the Huntsville District and speaks highly of the scenery.

A couple of Indianapolis citizens have invented a simple arrangement by which a train running on a railroad may be in telegraphic communication with all other trains on the road and also with the stations.

The life of a locomotive is not as long as is generally supposed. Investigations in this direction recently made in Germany shows that the average locomotive has to be withdrawn from service after travelling about 500,000 miles. This does not include the time the locomotive is under her own steam without pulling a train. During the period a locomotive is in service a number of parts have to be repaired or renewed. For instance, the boiler and fire-box have to be renewed three times, the tires of the wheels five or six times, the driving cranks from three to five times. After a half million miles of active service the average locomotive is no more worth repairing and is entirely withdrawn.

Mr. John A. Cheer, G. T. R. bridge inspector, and Mr. G. A. Mitchell, G. T. R. Road Superintendent, of Allandale, were both in town this morning.

Mr. Tiffin and Mr. A. White, of the Grand Trunk official staff, left for the west last evening after spending a few hours in town.

Registered Letters.

The Ottawa Journal points out that if you register a letter in Canada and it goes astray, you lose your money. The only value of registering is to help the Government catch the thief. Whether the thief is caught or not makes no difference to your pocket. It suggests that Canada should adopt the regulation which has just gone into force in the United States, under which the Government will pay any amount up to ten dollars lost in registered letters. There is something a little one-sided in paying 5c for a register stamp to help the Government to catch a thief. In England a similar law to that in the United States has been in force for some years.

The American Motograph Co.

The following reference to this interesting exhibition, which will appear in the Opera House July 29th, 30th and 31st, is taken from the Lindsay Post:—"We can with confidence recommend the above company to our amusement-loving citizens. The rain last evening interfered with the attendance, but the company carried out the programme faithfully and delighted everyone. The Motograph views are alone worth double the price of admission, and are immeasurably superior to anything of the kind ever witnessed here. Perhaps the gems of the collection are a couple of railway scenes and a morning turn-out of a fire brigade, but all are wonderfully realistic. The concert portion of the programme is admirably arranged and rendered. Those of our citizens who wish to spend a really enjoyable evening should see this company." Regular performance to-night, to-morrow night and Saturday night; matinee for ladies and children Friday and Saturday afternoons, at 2.30. Admission, 10c. and 20c. 2d

GREATEST BRIDGE OF MODERN TIMES.

NEW NIAGARA G. T. R. SINGLE ARCH A GRAND SUCCESS.

The New Single Span Arch Bridge Over the Niagara Stood all the Weight that Could be put Upon it.

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 29.—The test of the strength of the steel arch bridge this afternoon was in every particular a grand success. Sixteen large consolidated locomotives, representing 1,750 tons, and 18 cars loaded with the heaviest kind of material for ballast, representing 1,080 tons, stood over the main arch on the upper or railway deck and 500 tons of heavy material were distributed on the lower or carriage floor, making a total of nearly 3,000 tons of burden, and when the measurements were taken at the crown of the arch this immese weight only indicated a deflection of one inch, which proved to the engineers in charge of the construction and the railway more than a gratifying result. Twelve of the large engines stood over the crown of the arch, six on each track; the other four engines and 18 cars of ballast were distributed over the balance of the bridge that rested on the arch. When the result of the test was announced the sixteen engines opened wide their whistles and screeched and tooted for fully 15 minutes, making the result known to thousands that witnessed the test on either side of the river. Amongst them were many prominent railway men and bridge engineers, including the following:—F. H. McGuigan, general freight superintendent, Montreal; E. H. Fitz-Hugh, superintendent, Montreal; Joseph Hobson, chief engineer, Montreal; C. C. Cunningham trainmaster, Hamilton; H. Ferguson, general roadmaster, London; P. Nelson, roadmaster, Hamilton; W. Crawford, master of bridges, London; R. J. Crowley, civil engineer, Toronto; L. S. Buck, bridge engineer; R. S. Buck, assistant; Thomas Reynolds, superintendent of the bridge.

OBITUARY.

Funeral of the Late Harry T. Chapman, who was Recently Drowned in Chemong Lake.

The North Ontario Times, of Uxbridge, publishes the following obituary notice of the late Harry T. Chapman, who was drowned under such sad circumstances in Chemong lake, on July 21st:

"Harry C. Chapman was the youngest son of Henry Chapman, Esq., and was born in Uxbridge Township, near Goodwood, 22 years ago. While but a mere child he came to Uxbridge with his parents, and has grown to manhood in our midst, being absent the town about a year and a half only. For the past three and a half years he has been employed in the clothing and gents' furnishing department of Mr. J. F. Brownscombe's store; of which department he has been head for about a year.

In the line of sports he always took his part, and was a most valued member of the Uxbridge lacrosse club. He was a gentlemanly player, and made friends wherever he went. He was also a prominent member of the Young Canadian Club.

Deceased bore an exemplary character, being an active member of St. Paul's church, and one whose every motion gave promise of a bright and prosperous career; had it not been for the unfortunate accident which sent him to a premature grave, he would undoubtedly have made a mark in the world which would have been a credit to himself and his scores of friends. Always willing to "do unto others as he would have them do unto himself," none could help but admire and respect his straightforwardness and honest principles.

Friday afternoon the funeral took place to the Uxbridge cemetery, and the long line of sorrowing friends plainly testified the sincere respect in which our mourned young friend was held by one and all. Shortly before 2.30 the cortege left the home on Marietta street in the following order:

The Young Canadian Club, numbering about twenty-five, wearing badges of white silk ribbon, tied with a knot of red ribbon, and having printed thereon a photogravure of their deceased comrade, and a suitable motto, Then came the non-playing members of the Uxbridge lacrosse club, wearing similar badges to those of the Y.C.C., only being tied with a black bow—making black and white, which are the club colours. Following behind these and immediately in front of the hearse, were the remaining eleven active lacrosse players of the lacrosse club, with draped sticks, the twelfth stick being draped and placed on the hearse, and a vacant place left in the line of march for the one who will never again help to win honour for himself and the club.

WALKER SHOWS UP WELL

Amongst the Fast Canadian Racing Men at Lindsay.

Messrs Walker, Rickey and Gordon went over to race at the Lindsay bicycle meet yesterday and found themselves in fast company, as the best of the Canadian cracks were there.

Milt. Walker made a fine showing in the amateur mile (open), being second only to Axton, and beating out Archie McEachran, the well-known racing man. It was no chance work either, as the race had to be ridden over a second time through not being inside the time limit set.

The following despatch from Lindsay gives the summary of the races:—

Lindsay, July 29.—The bicycle races of the Lindsay Club took place this afternoon in which were offered about $300 in prizes. Owing to the wet weather the attendance was small and the track heavy. Professionals from Toronto, Brantford, etc., were here in numbers. The greatest interest was taken in the professional races, which were well contested. The rain came down in a pour during the two-mile handicap and the last race was given up on this account. Mr. R. J. Wilson of Kingston was referee and found it necessary to warn the riders several times on account of their loafing during the first part of the races. Pacemakers were afterwards appointed and then the time improved. The amateur open mile race was run twice, owing to the time being too slow on the first attempt. The riders leave to-night for Belleville and Kingston. The following are the results:

First race, amateur, 1 mile, novices—J. H. Power, Toronto, 1; Nattress, Millbrook, 2; W. E. Benson, Toronto, 3. Time 2.50.

Second race, amateur, 1 mile, boys under 16—D. Wilson, Toronto, 1; M. Sylvester, Lindsay, 2; R. Bell, Lindsay, 3. Time 3 minutes.

Third race, professional, ½ mile heats: First heat—A. McLeod, Toronto, 1; T. B. McCarthy, Toronto, 2; C. Greatrix, Toronto, 3. Time 1.30.

Second heat—T. B. McCarthy, Toronto, 1; McLeod, 2; Greatrix, 3. Time 1.22.

Third heat—McCarthy, 1; McLeod, 2; Greatrix, 3. Time 1.10.

Fourth race, amateur, 2 mile, handicap—A. J. Parkin, Lindsay, 1; Robert Bell, Lindsay, 2; N. S. Houghton, Lindsay, 3. Time 6.22.

Fifth race, amateur, mile, open—J. A. Axton, Brantford, 1; M. G. Walker, Peterboro, 2; A. McEachern, Toronto, 3. Time 2.45.

Sixth race, professional, 1 mile, open—A. McLeod, 1; T. B. McCarthy, 2; C. Elliott, 3. Time 2.45.

Seventh race, amateur, 3 miles, handicap—A. Axton, 1; D. Wilson, 2; A. McEachern, 3. Time 9.20.

Eighth race, professional, 2 miles, handicap—E. Houghton, Lindsay, 1; A. McLeod, Toronto, 2; T. B. McCarthy, Toronto 3.

A BOBCAYGEON DROWNING.

Death of a Little Son of Mr. A. E. Kennedy, of That Village.

A sad fatility occurred at Bobcaygeon on Saturday afternoon. After taking dinner the three little sons of Mr. A. E. Kennedy, set out to go fishing at the upper wharf. They played and fished at the wharf for some little time, when Edgar, always a lively little chap, slipped off the wharf into the water that is about three feet below.

Charlie shouted to Fred, who at that moment was in the Park some distance away, and hanging to the wharf, lowered himself to reach his brother with his feet, Charlie having but one hand was at such a disadvantage that he was quickly pulled in. There he struggled bravely to save both himself and Edgar who was too young to swim.

Fred got over just in time to give his hand to Charlie and get him out, but little Edgar had gone under. They ran home and gave the alarm and a number of people hastily arrived at the spot. Some half dozen commenced diving, among them the unhappy father, and in about fifteen minutes the little fellow was brought out with a pole from under the wharf.

Drs. Bonnell and Baker tried the usual means for resuscitation, but without avail. The little fellow was buried on Sunday, and the parents have the sympathy of the neighbourhood.

MRS. TRAILL'S ACCIDENT.

She Falls and Sustains Severe Injuries to her Arm and Back.

On Wednesday morning last Mrs. Catharine Parr Traill met with a severe accident.

She was walking across the floor in one of the rooms of her residence in Lakefield, when she slipped and fell and was unable to rise.

Medical aid was summoned, when it was found she had sustained severe bruises on her side and back, besides being shaken up. Owing to her great age, being over 95 years old, it will be some time time before she will be able to be around again.

THE BATHING NUISANCE.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—There is not a night that a canoeist goes out on the Little Lake but he comes back with a complaint of boys and men, who ought to know better, making themselves offensive on the piers and the shores of the lake. Both the Peterborough and Ashburnham councils ought to take action and unite in providing a bathing placing so that those who delight in spending a quiet evening in their canoes can do so without suffering the annoyance which now exists. If some of our councillors will only take the first step they will confer an everlasting favour on scores of others as well as

Yours respectfully,
A CANOEIST.

[In warm weather, especially, bathing is a necessity in relation to the preservation of health, and it is particularly youngsters (who are not overburdened with sense or fine feeling, in some cases) that do the most bathing. Toronto takes the trouble and goes to the expense of giving free passage daily to boys under 16 to a secluded bathing place in the bay, where they can enjoy the luxury, either with or without trunks. As our correspondent suggests, it would be a good thing if our council took some measures to regulate bathing—to regulate it, not to suppress it, but the rather to encourage it. At the same time it will not do to have hoodlums destroy the pleasure of canoeing by indecent exposure and vile language.

STONY LAKE PARAGRAPHS.

High Water—A Fine Crop of Clergymen—Other Notes.

The water in Stony Lake is unusually high at present—from fourteen to eighteen inches higher than at the corresponding period last year. The wharves of several cottages are under water, entailing great and unnecessary discomfort to residents—unnecessary, for there is no necessity of the water being maintained at so high a level. It is easily regulated and should be regulated. The water should be let out at once. The water traffic is for the public convenience, and the reduction of the level by about fifteen inches would not interfere with the traffic, but would remove a decided inconvenience to the dwellers at the lakes.

Rev. Dr. Burwash, Chancellor of Victoria University, with his wife and two sons, are guests at Mr. Donel's. Dr. Burwash will take both services at the pavillion next Sunday.

There are also several clergymen of different denominations residing at different cottages, and next week there will be a wholesale influx of divines—the Deanery meeting at Mr. Tait's.

The presence of so many clergymen at the summer resorts seems to affect the fishing. Perhaps their presence has a restraining effect upon the narrative powers of the fishermen.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Davis have taken possession of their beautiful cottage at Stony Lake for the balance of the season.

Mr. Dumble's Island, Ballyragit, is quite a noted place. His sea serpent is a source of continual mystification to new arrivals who require some time to "size-up" the curiosity. A pile of bones in front of the jaws of the beast give an air of realism—testify to the vigourous appetite of the megalosauruan monster. A martin house on Ballyragit is well tenanted by these interesting birds. The other day a dove alighted on the verandah and has since remained. It was first thought that it was one of Balloonist Andree's pigeons, but as it had no tag that theory was abandoned for the assumption that the dove was sent to carry forth a message in case of the flood that the recent downpour of rain threatened.

Surprised His Doctor.

"A little over a year ago I was laid up with bronchitis," says Stanley C. Bright clerk of Kingston. "My doctor's pills came to $42 and altogether my illness cost me $125. This fall I had another attack. I came across an advertisement in a newspaper for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for throat troubles. I thought I would risk a quarter and try it. It cured me. After this I intend to treat my own ills."

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL is CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

A CHAMPION SWIMMER.

F. Kniese, Who Holds the Amateur Honors of Germany.

There are few swimmers who have confidence enough in their own prowess to cross an ocean and compete alone against all the experts of another nation. F. Kniese, the German champion, is the plucky natator who will endeavor to take the United States national swimming championships to the continent. His coming has added much to the events held at Lincoln Park, Chicago, July 3. It gave to the races something of an international aspect. The visitor now holds three world's records, and is qualified to give new world contestants a close contest for the events he enters. His world's performances are as follows: Five hundred meters, German time 10.34, July 13, 1890; 500 meters, German time, 17.26 2-5, July 30, 1892; 150 meters, German, on back—time, 2.05 1-5, Aug. 11, 1889. The Teuton did not decide what events he will enter until he reached Chicago, and tried the water of the park lagoon. His stroke is said to be not unlike that of Dr. Neumann, who will swim under the Chicago Athletic Association colors. The latter is a citizen of Austria. The presence of Kniese and the New York representatives gave the local men plenty of work to get away with a fair share of the prizes.

CHAMPION AMATEUR SWIMMER OF GERMANY.

He Tumbled.

In a certain regiment noted for its numbers hailing from London a private one morning found himself a prisoner for breaking out of barracks and not returning till brought back by an escort. When asked by the commanding officer what he had to say the man replied:

"I took my canteen, do you twig? cut half a brick in my haversack, do you savvy? told the sentry I was taking a man's ten to hospital, do you tumble?"

Commanding officer—Yes. Well, two days' pay stopped, do you twig? seven days' regimental cells, do you savvy? fourteen days to barracks, do you tumble?—Tit-Bits.

Meats and Their Relishes.

Here is a list of meats and their relishes: Roast pork and roast goose, apple sauce; roast beef, grated horseradish; roast veal, tomato or mushroom sauce; mutton, roast, currant jelly; boil, caper sauce; lamb, mint sauce; boiled chicken, bread sauce; roast turkey, cranberry sauce; venison or wild ducks, black currant jelly; broiled fresh mackerel, stewed gooseberries; boiled bluefish, white cream sauce; broiled shad, boiled rice and salad; compote of pigeons, mushroom sauce; fresh salmon, green peas, cream sauce. To make a mistake in serving meat relishes is to offend the taste of an epicure beyond the hope of pardon.

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local-application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness."

STARVATION WAGES.

Cloak Makers of New York Preparing for a Strike Sixty-Three Hours for a Dollar and Thirty-Five Cents.

New York, July 28.—Local union No. 1 of the United Brotherhood of Cloak Makers met last night to complete arrangements for the strike of the organization scheduled for Aug. 15 next. All present were in favor of the ordering out of the cloak makers in this city. As an instance of the wages now being paid, Jacob Silverman stated that for a week's work of 63 hours in the employ of Meyer Jonasson he had been paid $1.35. It was said that operators who were formerly paid 65 cents for jackets now get 18 cents, and operators on capes are paid 7 cents. They formerly got 35 cents.

Long and Bitter Struggle.

Scottdale, Pa., July 28.—All indications point to a long and bitter struggle between the Scottdale Iron and Steel Company and its employes, who are now on strike. The company claims to have enough men here to start the mill today. The crowds are quiet and orderly and no demonstration of any kind has so far been made, but when the attempt is made to start the mill with the new men it is greatly feared there will be trouble.

THE BIG RAINSTORM.

Beaver River on the Rampage—Farmers are Very Despondent

Clarksburg, Ont., July 28.—Beaver River is making a grand effort to break all previous records in doing damage. Last night, after the rain had fallen 30 hours, the danger to property became very alarming, and to-night the prospects are that it will go beyond the highest point it has ever attained. It is impossible to estimate the amount of damage to follow from to-day's heavy rain. The dams and banks of the river are weakened a great deal by the fierce current. Washouts have occurred on the G. T. R. between Thornbury and Meaford, and the trains were greatly delayed. The wheat and hay crops are destroyed to a great extent and the farmers are very despondent.

Tremendous Fall of Rain.

Picton, Ont., July 28.—The rains of Sunday and yesterday are unprecedented in this section. The heft of hay in this section is housed. Wheat, barley, rye and early oats are more or less damaged. The raspberry crop is seriously damaged. At Bloomfield, five miles from here, including Sunday's rain, nearly seven inches of water fell in 72 hours, and six inches of it fell in 16 hours.

ACCIDENTS AT GUELPH.

T. Waldron Loses an Eye and an Ear and F. J. Franks' Head is Out of Order.

Guelph, July 28.—Because George Mallott pointed his gun at T. Waldron while showing him how it worked, Waldron lies in the General Hospital minus an eye and an ear.

The trigger snapped by mistake, and the unfortunate man received the entire charge in the side of the head. He may die.

Shortly after this accident F. J. Franks had his face and arms badly burned by the explosion of a bicycle enamneling oven. He was thrown across the room and his forehead badly cut by the iron door of the oven.

Could Not be the Balloon.

Christiania, July 28.—Dr. Nansen, referring to the letter from Capt. Lehman of the Dutch steamer Dordrecht, who says that on June 17 he saw a curious object, resembling a balloon, floating in the White Sea, declares that it would be impossible for Andree's balloon to have reached the White Sea so soon after the ascent.

Anything to Please Charley.

She sailed into the telegraph office at Fourth and Vine streets and rapped on the receiving clerk's window. The receiving clerk remembered that she had been there about ten minutes before as he came forward to meet her. He wondered what she wanted this time.

"Oh," she said, "let me have that telegram I wrote just now. I forgot something very important. I wanted to underscore the words 'perfectly lovely' in acknowledging the receipt of that bracelet. Will it cost anything extra?"

"No, ma'am," said the clerk as he handed her the message.

The young lady drew two heavy lines beneath the words, and said:

"It's awfully good of you to let me do that. It will please Charlie so much."

"Don't mention it," said the clerk. "If you would like I will put a few drops of nice violet extract on the telegram at the same rates."

"Oh, thank you, sir. You don't know how much I would appreciate it. I'm going to send all my telegrams through this office, you are so obliging."

And the smile she gave him would have done any one good, with the possible exception of Charley.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by the Doctors in the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

OTTAWA, July 26th.—It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent of this city with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills has definitely decided the objection as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine, and has been been accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no question raised to the statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

FRANCOIS COPPEE

The French Poet Who Ranks Next to the Great Victor Hugo.

Francois Edouard Joachim Coppee, who has been reported critically ill at Paris, has been ranked since the death of Victor Hugo as the greatest of French poets, but he has also won distinction as a dramatist and a romancer. He was born in Paris in 1842, being the youngest child of a poor clerk in the war department. His father dying, he took the modest clerkship in the war department at the age of 21 and became the head of the family. He was not an apt student as a boy, but began writing verses early in youth. Coppee burned his juvenile verses, but made his literary debut in 1866 with a volume of poems published at his own expense under the title of "Le Reliquaire." A second volume was entitled "Les Intimes," but less than 200 copies of both works were sold. The first golden gleam of fortune came to him in 1869.

FRANCOIS COPPEE.

"Le Passant," a little one-act comedy in verse, was presented one night at the Odeon, and Francois Coppee awoke in the morning to find himself famous. During the Franco-Prussian war he did his duty in the ranks of the army, like many another artist in letters and with the brush. He wrote war songs during and even after the short conflict, some of which were very popular. He was elected to membership in the French Academy in 1884.

High-Grade Cemetery Work AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

A healthy woman will always find Love, Health and Beauty are twins that do not have to seek far or long to find Cupid. It is the woman who suffers from ill-health as a result of weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism, who leads a loveless and childless life. It is in every woman's power to be healthy and consequently attractive. The main-spring of woman's nature is in her distinctly womanly-self. When she suffers in that part of her organism, she suffers in every nerve and fiber of her body, and her suffering is pictured in her face, and reflected in her disposition and temper.

It is easy for a woman to be well and strong in a womanly way. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription acts directly upon the important and delicate organs that constitute womanhood. It makes them strong and healthy. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and gives the tortured nerves rest and tone. It prepares for wifehood and motherhood. Taken during the expectant period it banishes the usual discomforts, makes the coming of baby easy and painless, and insures the health of the newcomer. Thousands of women have said so. All good druggists sell it.

"Please accept my thanks," writes Mrs. Maud Pearce, of Stoutsville, Fairfield Co., Ohio, "for the good your medicines have done me. I truly believe that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription saved my life. It is a sure and certain cure for 'female troubles.' I am having perfect health. Nothing did me any good until I heard of you. My good health pleases me and pleases my husband. Every invalid lady should take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

One line in a good, practical, home medical book will sometimes save a life. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is the best book of that description published. Over a million women own copies and thousands of them have written testifying to its great value. A new edition is ready and will be given away FREE. For paper-covered copy, send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover the cost of customs and mailing only, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y. For cloth binding, 50 stamps.

THE PRUDENT HUSBAND.

The Precautions He Took Before Entering the August Presence.

He was about five feet tall, had light hair and looked meek.

He was making strenuous but unnecessary efforts to reach a knot hole in a high board fence round the garden of a house on the outskirts of Sheffield.

A tall man was passing, and the small man glided up to him, plucked him timidly by the coat, and said:

"Hate to trouble, sir; but would you mind doing me a favor?"

"Not at all," replied the tall man.

The small man took him by the arm and led him over to the fence.

"You see," said he, "I promised my wife I'd be home four hours ago and beat a carpet, and—well, I just want you to look through the knot hole up there and tell me what is going on inside the garden."

The tall man looked surprised, but complied.

"What do you see?" asked the meek man presently.

"Why, I see a woman——"

"Sh! Not so loud! Tall woman with auburn hair, red face, and a wart on her cheek?"

"That's her."

"Beating a carpet, isn't she?"

"Yes."

"Look warm?"

"I should say so."

"Kinder excited, too, isn't she?"

"Well—yes."

"Um—got her skirt up around her knees, and her sleeves rolled up to her shoulders?"

"Exactly."

"Has she got a black bonnet with a white feather stuck hind side before?"

"That's just the way she's dressed."

"What's she using—carpet beater or a broom stick?"

"A copper stick."

"Great Scott! She's worse than I thought."

Just then came from the other side a crack, a rip and a snort.

The fence shook, and the tall man almost stumbled from his post.

"Gee whiz!" said the other trembling, "but she's got 'em bad this time. Did she smile when she hit that whack, stranger?"

"Smile; she sniggered."

"That's all right. Much obliged to you sir. That will do. I don't think I'll go in yet."—New York Tribune.

Repeating Alarm Clock.

Repeating alarm clocks are among the new inventions, the rod on which the spring is wound being controlled by a toothed wheel to prevent its unwinding beyond a certain point at each interval, the rod being released again as soon as the wheel completes its revolution, thus repeating the alarm an indefinite number of times or until stopped or run down.

May Be So.

"Doctor," asked the seeker after knowledge of the clergyman, "why do people get on their knees to pray, instead of standing?"

"They want to save their soles," replied the clever minister.—Harlem Life.

The confidence of the people in Hood's Sarsaparilla is due to its unequalled record of wonderful cures.

A NEW ARCHBISHOP.

MGR. FABRE'S SUCCESSOR CHOSEN AND ANNOUNCED FROM ROME.

Rev. Canon Bruchesi, of the Episcopal Palace at Montreal, a Trusted Advisor of the Late Archbishop, Chosen as His Successor.

The news has been received at Montreal that Rev. Canon Bruchesi, of the Episcopal Palace, and one of the late Mgr. Fabre's most able and trusted advisers, has been appointed Archbishop of Montreal. The papacy has evidently arrived at the wise conclusion that the Episcopal sees of Canada are quite safe in the hands of young prelates, as Mgr. Bruchesi is only 42, and is probably the junior of the French episcopacy. The new archbishop will be the ideal of the younger clergy of the Province of Quebec and his splendid administrative powers and deep piety will command the respect of the older members of the Montreal priesthood.

Louis Paul Napoleon Bruchesi was born in Montreal, Oct. 29, 1855. He entered the Montreal College at an early age and, after a full course of classics, went to complete his studies of philosophy in the Sulpician College of Issy, France. He afterwards entered the Grand Seminary of Paris to commence the study of theology and remained there for two years, after which he proceeded to Rome, there to attend the lectures of the great theological faculties. Having obtained the degrees of Doctor of Theology and Licentiate in Canon Law, he was ordained a priest on Dec. 21, 1878, and returned to Canada shortly afterwards. Upon arriving in Montreal he was called to the Cathedral and served there as chaplain for one year, after which he accepted the chair of Dogma in the theological faculty of Laval University in Quebec. After remaining four years in the Ancient Capital, he was again called back to Montreal, and, after a short stay in the parishes of St. Bridget and St. Joseph, definitely returned to the Cathedral, of which he was made one of the canons when Archbishop Fabre reorganized his chapter. Among other positions at present held by Canon Bruchesi are those of president of the Catholic School Commissioners, chaplain of the Societe des Artisans, spiritual adviser of the Sisters of St. Ann, professor of Christian Apology in Laval University. He represented the Government as commissioner for the Educational Department of the province at the Chicago World's Fair, and accompanied Archbishop Fabre as secretary during one of his voyages to Europe. Besides being a learned theologian, Canon Bruchesi is a brilliant pulpit orator, and has many times been chosen to preach special sermons on solemn occasions.

Psalms Free Hebrew Intil Scottis.

Albert T. Bell of the university has lately been sent a curious book, published in Edinburgh, of interest to students of Biblical lore or to devotees of the modern Scotch movement. The book is entitled, "The Psalms frae Hebrew intil Scottis." The preface states: "The Buik ca'd o' Psalms or Lilts or Kirk-sangs maun be mair nor feckly David's. Twal, ye fin', o' Asaph's; two wi' Solomon's; name are spiece wi' Heman an' Ethan's name an' are wi' roses; ane or mae by wha's no kent; mistlike, frae the sugh o' them, by David. They gaed a' till songs or sughs i' the Maker's time, wi' harps an' wi' soundsbrods, or wi' fifes an' thairms; the blythest o' them like some heigh lilts o' our ain, an' the dulest like some pibroch."

The well-known Psalm XXIII. appears in this fashion:

"The Lord is my herd, nae want sal fa' me.

"He louts me till lie amang green howes; he airts me atowre by the lown waters.

"He waukens my wa'-gaen saul; He weises me roun, for His ain name's sake intil right rodline.

"Na! tho' I gang thro' the dead-mirkdall; e'en thar, sal I dread nae skaithen; for rounsel are nae by me; yer stok an' yer stay had me baith fu' cheerie."

The translator, the Rev. P. Hately Waddell, promises that if he receives sufficient encouragement for his translation of the Psalms into Scotch, he proposes to proceed with the translation of the rest of the Bible.—Nebraska State Journal.

LIFE'S PATHWAYS.

If in life's prosperous paths we tread
With glorious sunshine overhead,
Or in the ways of want and care,
With danger from lurking near;
In joy or sorrow, weal or woe;
His endless happiness to know,
Or smooth or rough or rude or cold,
It maketh yet most peace untold.

Along the great highways of earth
Are heard full oft the sounds of mirth;
Upon the wilds of wild despair
Are echoes caught near the ambient air.
Life is a swiftly changing scene,
Now mystery dark, then golden sheen,
But even through mists hap beckons on,
For past the clouds still shines the sun.

Oh, rest and peace! Oh, faith sublime!
Our weary feet may scarce keep time
To those sweet strains that emanate
To cheer the soul from heaven's gate.
Yet onward now, home is in sight,
And though there still is night,
And though the course be marked with strife,
We gladly choose the path of Life.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

Mrs. T S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitaliser Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent 389 George Street.

"GATEWAYS OF TOURIST TRAVEL."

The Splendid New Guide to Tourist Travel Issued by the Grand Trunk Railway.

The Grand Trunk Railway has issued one of the most beautiful specimens of railway literature yet published. It is a large pamphlet with a magnificently illuminated title page, and the contents are superb half-tone reproductions of scenes of beauty to which its lines lead. The descriptive text is as high in literary value as the splendid illustrations are in an artistic sense. While indicating by magnificent illustrations and graphic description, the pleasure possibilities of its lines, this beautiful brochure gives one a grand idea of the great area and territorial inclusiveness of the Grand Trunk system, which embraces 4,300 miles of line under one management, "a system vast in the extent of its territory and mileage, international in the character of its commercial relations and thoroughly modern in all its appliances for the comfort and safety of the travelling public." What is thus generally expressed is treated of in detail in the book mentioned. Travellers in search of beautiful scenery, and who wish to travel at leisure or enjoy the maximum of pleasure en route will find on no other line on the continent a greater variety and greater beauty in variety of scenery and objects than are to be reached by the Grand Trunk and its numerous travel tributaries. These include, merely mentioned, Niagara Falls, the Thousand Islands, St. Lawrence Rapids, Montreal, Quebec, the Lower St. Lawrence, with its magnificent natural scenery and its historic associations, and the shores of the sounding sea; besides the lateral lines reach the Stony and Chemung Lakes districts, and the countless tributary lakes, the Parry Sound region, the Georgian Bay, the Muskoka Lake district, and, in the far east, the Saguenay and the White Mountains. Of all these and of their sylvan, rural and urban beauties and interests, the "Gateways of Tourist Travel" treats. The little book—not very little, either, 100 large pages—gives numerous and splendidly illustrated photo-engravures of the scenes the districts indicated contain, accompanied with well-written descriptive details, making the book valuable, apart from its special object, as an artistic and literary work worthy of a place on the drawing room table. In a word, amongst railway publications, "The Gateways of Tourist Travel," issued by the Grand Trunk is a veritable edition de luxe. It is a guide to the most delightful regions in Canada and, therefore, on the continent, adapted to every taste, embracing the scenic, historical, commercial, sylvan, urban, rural, picturesque, piscatorial interests of the country, and none who propose travelling for pleasure and with pleasure, should fail to procure and peruse it.

A special feature of the book is the space devoted to that celebrated palace of travel, "The Seaside and White Mountain Special." Elaborate plans and descriptions are shown and given of this magnificent train, replete with every contrivance and expedient of modern railway luxury, that sweeps from Chicago to the sea; with full details as to rates, etc.

In issuing "The Gateways of Tourist Travel" the Grand Trunk has excelled itself, and that is saying a great deal.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

THE WHEEL.

In case our volunteers are to be mounted on bicycles, the choice of make should, the Montreal Star thinks, be left entirely with themselves. Soldiers ought to know all about the "right wheel."

It is beginning to look as if the smaller bicycle dealers and manufacturers were hard hit when the Pope Manufacturing Co. decided recently to reduce the price of their wheels. During the week there have been three failures in this line in Ontario. The New Barnes Cycle Company, of Woodstock, was incorporated in March, 1896, with a capital of $25,000. It seems the management spent considerable of the company's means in buying patents, and in this way locked up any surplus cash there may have been. Of late maturing obligations have not been well provided for and the company has gone into liquidation with liabilities amounting to $70,000, and assets about $10,000 less.—The Cannon Ball Bicycle Co., behind which were Jones & Durkee, was started at Thorold only last March. Jones was formerly a tailor at that place, and Durkee was a hotel-keeper, etc., at St. Catharines. About $1,000 was invested in the business, which has been lost and now they have assigned. Another failure in this line is that of Cutler Brothers, Toronto. In April last they bought the machinery and tools of the Wanderers' Bicycle Company, amounting to $3,000, but on what terms they refuse to state. Competition has been strong against them, and not having made much headway, they assigned; with liabilities of $600, and claiming assets of $1,500.

LACROSSE.

At Hastings yesterday the home team defeated Marmora by 5 goals to nothing. Good for you Hastings.

The Twin-City team plays the Tecumsehs on Toronto Island on Monday. The result of the match will be awaited with interest in Peterborough, as the players on both teams are all well known here.

Orillia, July 29.—The Gravenhurst lacrosse team, accompanied by a large number of supporters, came to Orillia today. The match throughout was fast and clean and the Orillia team, by its splendid combination, won with a score of ten to two, in one hour and a half. The winning gait of the Orillias will be hard to stop and the people here have every confidence of winning the championship again this season.

THE TURF.

Domino, one of the most famous of American race horses, died at the Kentucky farm of James R. Keene yesterday morning of meningitis. He was foaled in 1891 and won about $100,000 in stakes and purses.

Neither Robert J. (2.02½) nor John R. Gentry (2.00½), the famous pacers, was able to lower his record or that of the track (2.01½) at Motford, Mass., Wednesday. The best that Gentry could do was 2.07 flat, while Robert J. made the mile in 2.03½.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator. It is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is more profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars. — G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 361; Telephone, 92.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

STARS BEAT TAIL-ENDERS.

Syracuse, July 29.—The Stars won from Wilkes-Barre to-day. In the first game the visitors had their latest find, Johnson, in the box and he pitched a good game, but his support was ragged. Shannon had to get out of the game because of an injury, caused by being hit in the head with a batted ball. In the second game Mr. Mason put Hannon sit of the game at the beginning of the second inning for talking back to him. Kissinger pitched a good game, but "Black Jack" Keenan was an easy mark for the home team, retiring in the eighth inning in favor of Odwell, who did much better. Score:

TWENTY HITS FOR PIRATES.

Chicago, July 29.—The Pirates batted Griffith's name all over the lot in the first, second and ninth and won a fruitless game in his favor. Callahan's batting and Donohue's pitching were about the only signs of life on the part of the Colts. Score:

										R.	H.	E.

WILL PROBABLY BACK DOWN.

New York Herald Thinks the States and Japan Will Arrange Matters.

New York, July 29.—The Herald's European edition publishes the following: The Figaro has an article on the Hawaiian question, which concludes as follows: "It is very probable that an amicable agreement will be made between Japan and the United States, and that this agreement will recognize the previous rights of Japan in the archipelago. The United States will most likely back down on the most important points.

"But what are we to think of the sacrifices the Americans would have to make if it should ever happen that the ranting of their jingoes or the calculations of their speculators should give rise to a real conflict with a European power, even of the second rank?"

America Yielding.

Paris, July 29.—The Figaro says: "An amicable settlement of the Hawaiian question will be reached, America yielding on the most important points to Japan."

Shortness of Breath.

"Since last year I have had serious heart trouble caused by malaria. Shortness of breath, smothering spell on retiring, violent palpitation, etc., often made me gasp for breath. On procuring Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I found to my surprise and delight that they gave almost instant relief. I got healthy, restfull sleep, my heart troubles disappeared, and I now feel very well and strong indeed," Mr. Hugh Moore, Ingersoll, Ont., makes this statement for the public good.

FIGHTING CONTINUES

British Troops at Malakand Still Harrassed

BY THE MAD MULLAH'S TRIBES.

Repulsed by the Britons—Additions to the Fanatical Hordes Greet Must Fix a Time for Payment of Indemnity Before Turkey Gets Out of Thessaly.

Simla, July 30.—A despatch from Camp Malakand reports another night attack by the tribesmen last night (Thursday). The natives fought desperately for several hours, but were repulsed at all points by the British. Bonfires had been lighted around the camp and in the glare the tribesmen were easy targets for the British riflemen. Many fell and in the light of the flames the natives could be seen removing their dead. It is reported that the Mullah was badly wounded and that several of his principal chiefs were disabled.

The British lost one killed and 17 wounded, among the latter being Lieut. Costello, who was wounded the second time. He had received a slight wound during the day attack on Wednesday.

The forces of the Mullah have been augmented by a strong gathering of the natives on the hills to the right of the British position. The theory is that the Boserwals have risen. The situation is now somewhat relieved by the arrival of reinforcements under Colonel Reed from Nowshera.

Chief Disciple Killed

London, July 30.—A despatch to The Times from Simla says that the losses of the enemy in the fighting Thursday night are believed to have been heavier than on any previous occasion. The fact that the Mullah was wounded and his chief disciple killed, will dishearten the fanatics. The Mullah posed as divinely inspired and as able to capture Malakand.

It is reported that the leading headman of the rising has absconded.

GREECE MUST PAY UP

Before the Turks Will Begin the Evacuation of Thessaly.

Paris, July 30.—A despatch to The Temps from Constantinople says that the signing of the preliminaries of peace awaits only the reply of the Greek Government fixing the dates for the payment of indemnity. Besides providing for a rectification of the frontier in accordance with the plans of the European military attaches and for an indemnity of £4,900,000, the treaty directs that a mixed commission of delegates of the powers and of Turkey shall fix the compensation due Ottoman subjects for losses through the war. The question of the capitulations is left to be settled by Greece and Turkey before the conclusion of a definitive peace. The evacuation of Thessaly is made conditional upon the full discharge of the indemnity.

As soon as the treaty is signed, says The Temps correspondent, the European military attaches and members of the Ottoman staff in Thessaly will meet there to delimit the frontier.

British Ship Sunk.

Auckland, N.Z., July 30.—The British ship Tasmania, Captain Grahn, from Calcutta, ran upon sunken rocks off Cape Maria, at the northern extremity of this island, this morning and sank immediately. All on board were saved.

The Tasmania was a four-masted iron ship, built in 1886, and registered 2083 tons. She hailed from Glasgow and was owned by P. Denniston and Company.

Emperor Will to Meet Bismarck.

Berlin, July 30.—A sensation has been created in Dresden by the publication by a newspaper of that city of the assertion that on his return from Norway, Emperor William will meet Prince Bismarck at Altona at the house of Count Von Waldersee.

Andree and His Balloon.

Paris, July 30.—M. Machuron, who superintended Herr Andree's preparations for his expedition in search of the North Pole, has returned here. He says that all the preparations were entirely successful and that it is impossible that Andree's balloon could have fallen into the White Sea. Herr Andree, M. Machuron adds, regarded it as quite possible that he might not be heard of for a year.

Britain Accepts the Conference.

London, July 30.—The British Foreign Office notified Ambassador Hay this morning that Great Britain accepted the proposition of the United States for an international conference on the question of pelagic sealing in the Behring Sea, to be held in Washington during the coming autumn.

Chulalongkorn in London.

London, July 30.—Chulalongkorn, King of Siam, arrived off Spithead this morning in the Siamese Royal yacht Macha Chakri. The British warships Inflexible, Alexandra, Calliope, Hero and Victoria received His Majesty with the royal salute.

Six British Sailors Drowned.

London, July 30.—Cable despatches from Melbourne state the steamer Tasmania, bound from Wellington to Sydney, N.S.W., struck a rock off Cape Mahia, between the towns of Napier and Gisborne, New Zealand, and sank in three hours. Three boat loads, containing passengers and crew who escaped from the wrecked steamer, have arrived at Melbourne. Six of the crew were drowned.

JUDGMENT RESERVED.

The Lawyers Have Got Through Talking to the Judicial Committee.

London, July 30.—The hearing of the appeal against the judgment entered by the Supreme Court of Canada in October, 1896, in proceedings between the Attorney-General of Canada, on the one side, and the Attorney-Generals of Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia, on the other, relative to the jurisdiction over writers within the limits of the provinces was concluded to-day. Judgment was reserved.

MRS. SAMUELSON'S DEATH.

London Hair Dressers Directed Not to Use the Petroleum Wash in Future.

London, July 30.—The coroner's inquest in the case of Mrs. Samuelson, daughter-in-law of Sir Bernhardt Samuelson, who was burned to death in a hair-dresser's shop in Conduit-street a few days ago, while having her hair treated with a petroleum wash, was resumed yesterday. An expert chemist who had analyzed the wash reported that it was composed of a light petroleum spirit of an extremely inflammable nature, the vapor from which could readily be ignited by an electric spark. This the chemist practically demonstrated to the court, illustrating the highly dangerous character of such preparations.

The jury returned a verdict declaring that the deceased woman came to her death from burns caused by the ignition of petroleum. It was added that there was no evidence to explain the ignition.

The coroner warned hairdressers against using the petroleum wash in the future, declaring that they would incur the gravest responsibility in the event of a disaster occurring.

SIR WILFRID FURTHER HONORED.

May Now Wear the Insignia of a Grand Officer of the French Legion of Honor.

Paris, July 30.—(Montreal Star Cable.)—Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been honored by the French Government, and hereafter may wear the insignia of a grand officer of the Legion of Honor. This distinction was conferred upon him in connection with his visit to President Faure at Havre yesterday.

The Canadian Premier and the Canadian Commissioner in Paris, Mr. Hector Fabre, were entertained at luncheon by the President at his Havre residence.

The conversation between the President and the Premier was of the most friendly nature and Sir Wilfrid has expressed himself as delighted with his visit to the French ruler.

MARRIED HIS SISTER

And Suicided When He Found It Out—A Tragedy of Epsom Downs.

London, July 30.—Henry Lee, a tailor, aged 55 years, committed suicide here the other day upon learning that he had inadvertently married his sister. Lee's sister was sold by her parents in her infancy to the Golden Lees tribe of gypsies, and was subsequently transferred from tribe to tribe until her identity was practically lost. In the meantime, according to Lee's confession before his death, he had, when 15 years old, stabbed a woman to death by his father's command, and afterwards learned that the woman whom he had killed was his own mother. The murder was committed on Epsom Downs.

Lee met his sister, who was a widow, in October last, and married her in November. The identity of his wife was revealed to Lee about a fortnight ago by gypsies, who furnished proof of their revelations.

Is There a Corner in Wheat?

Philadelphia, July 30.—The Record today has the following: "Forty steamers were yesterday chartered to load cargoes of grain at Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore and Newport News for ports in the United Kingdom and Europe, making a day's record, which, it is claimed, has never been equalled.

"To fill these vessels will require over 4,000,000 bushels of grain."

Penitentiary Vacancies Filled.

Kingston, July 30.—The following appointments to positions in the Kingston Penitentiary are announced: Deputy Warden, Daniel O'Leary, Ottawa, at present Inspector of Dominion Police, who has had military training, salary, $1800; Surgeon, Dr. Daniel Phelan, Kingston, $1800; Storekeeper, Thomas M. Bowie, Mount Forest, $700; Assistant Storekeeper, Thomas A. Keenan, Glenburnie, $600; Steward, Charles H. Martin, Kingston, $900; Engineer, William H. Derry, Kingston, $1300.

ZOLLVEREIN TREATY

Called Off by the Government of Great Britain

IT WILL CEASE ONE YEAR HENCE.

London Papers Compliment Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Canadian Government The First Fruit of the Jubilee Germany can Take it as She Pleases, They say.

Berlin, July 30. The commercial treaty between Great Britain and the German Zollverein, which has been in force since May 30, 1865, was denounced today by Great Britain and ceases to be operative a year hence.

The Reichsanzeiger says that the supplementary conventions which were concluded when the treaty was extended to the German states joining the Zollverein, will expire with the main treaty next summer.

What Lon. ol. Papers say.

London, July 31. With reference to the denunciation of the German commercial treaty, The Times this morning again compliments Canada and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier, upon paving the way for further consolidation of the Empire, and expresses the hope that the German friends of the Empire will not be angry enough to refuse to negotiate another treaty. If, unhappily, they should do so, they may rest assured that the deprivation will be borne with fortitude. British exports from Germany were never large, and have increased very little in the past forty years. Even if Germany should retaliate by increasing her duties Great Britain must regard it as a moderate price to pay for the advantages promised from the movement which Canada has initiated with so much happy audacity.

The Standard expresses views and says: It would be to the interest of both Germany and Belgium to meet us in a business-like spirit for the negotiation of fresh treaties.

The First Fruits of Jubilee.

The Daily News calls it the first fruits of the Jubilee, and congratulates the Government heartily. It says: This event alone would make the year memorable in the history of the Empire. Other remarkable demonstrations of the unity of the Empire are the offer of an ironclad by the Cape Colony and the admission of colonial judges to the English Supreme Court.

As for reprisals Germany can do little more than she has done already. We are her best customer, and although the Germans may not love us they are shrewd business men.

HOW IT STRIKES GERMANY.

It Came Unexpectedly and Therefore Caused a Great Sensation.

Berlin, July 30.—It had been believed here that the danger of Great Britain denouncing the commercial treaties with Germany and Belgium was past, and, therefore, the news that the treaties had been denounced caused all the greater sensation, though it is believed that official circles had full knowledge of the matter, and that King Leopold of Belgium, during his recent visit to Kiel, exchanged views with the Emperor. The event lends great interest to the attitude of the Government towards the agrarians, who will seize the chance to demand that a tariff war with England be waged, as they have already demanded with regard to the United States.

An article published in the Hamburgische Correspondenz seems to indicate that the Government is not in favor of a war on the tariffs. Various Berlin papers print comments upon the action of Great Britain in denouncing the treaties.

The Freisinnige Zeitung, the organ of Herr Richter, the Radical leader, expresses great surprise, but otherwise contents itself with indicating the bearings of the question, noting that in 1895 Germany's exports to England amounted to 19 per cent. of her total exports, while her imports from England amounted to 13 1-2 per cent. of her total imports.

Brussels Excited.

Brussels, July 30.—Le Soir publishes a special edition, announcing that the British Government has denounced the commercial treaty with Belgium. This announcement has caused much excitement in commercial circles.

THE STORS AT NEWPORT.

Cornelius Vanderbilt is a Grandpa and the Magnate is Tickled.

Newport, R.I., July 30.—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney yesterday. The event was somewhat unexpected, as Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, the mother of Mrs. Whitney, is now on her way home from Europe and has hoped to be present at the birth. The announcement of the arrival of the grandchild was wired to Cornelius Vanderbilt at Lucerne, Switzerland, and a congratulatory message was received, with an inquiry as to the health of the mother and child.

Decapitation on the Rail.

Chicago, July 30. — Homeless and hungry, an unidentified man begged a shirt to die in, as he said, at the door of Clarence W. Dickerson, No. 3648 Madison-avenue, last evening and after spending two hours in wandering around the vicinity proceeded to the Illinois Central tracks, where he laid his neck upon a rail. The southbound suburban train came along at the time and a another second the wheels of the engine had cut off the man's head. The body was taken to the morgue.

SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1897.

LARGE GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES.

The Conservative press and "Liberal" papers opposed to the government strive to make a point against the latter, in the form of assertions of large increases to the public debt. True, the public debt has increased and the one question is whether that increase is or is not justifiable. Getting into debt on the part of governments is, in the abstract, not wrong; it only becomes wrong when the expenditure which causes the creation of the debt is not justifiable on the grounds of public and national interest. Of the public debt increase about four and a half millions was devoted to the enlargement of our canal system. This enlargement is not a new theory. It has long been recognized as a necessity in order to give cheap transport to the illimitable (as time goes on) agricultural products of the illimitable West.

This is a matter that affects the entire country. It means adding millions to the profits of the western farmers. Their prosperity means the attraction of additional population, which will receive the benefits of the increased prosperity, creating in turn, and not in a very long time either, a large population, which will demand the manufactured products of the older provinces. Thus all classes and all sections will be benefitted.

If, therefore, the enlargement of our canals is a necessity, and both parties in Parliament are unanimously of that opinion, thus the sooner the work is done the better, for the sooner shall we receive the benefits. But this enlargement cannot be done without adding to the public debt, and it seems there is no reason to deny that the increase of the public debt in this respect is a national benefit.

INCREASING (?) EXPENDITURE.

The Conservative press is great on generalities. The assertion is made in general terms that the Liberal Government at Ottawa is in practice outraging all the theories of economy it advocated in Opposition. But these same Conservative journals do not condescend to particulars—details would be undignified. Concerning this matter an Ottawa despatch to the Globe says:

"The Opposition press, including such "Liberal" papers as are are opposing the Liberal Government, have been declaring that the Government has increased the expenditure instead of reducing it. This statement has been repeated from day to day, and has had the effect of leading some daily papers, which are not opposed to the Government, into giving it currency, and supplies that sort of mild criticism which some people imagine furnishes evidence of independence and impartiality. If a statement is repeated only often enough there are a great many persons who finally come to take it for granted. There is almost no original inquiry among the critics of the Government. Two lines of type which can be set up while a man would light his pipe can convey a falsehood or circulate a slander, but a little research would take time, and the readers of some papers are credited with that peculiar sort of intelligence which is unable to distinguish between an irresponsible position and information based on facts and figures. What evidence is there that the Government has increased the expenditure? The expenditure for the first year of the present Administration is not yet known even to the Minister of Finance, so what good ground could there be for the assertion that the expenditure had been increased? When in the course of a few weeks, the accounts are all in and the announcement is made it will be seen that the Government have kept down the expenditure in a way that will satisfy everybody save and accept those who will not be satisfied until the name of the Administration is changed from Liberal to Conservative. The first year's expenditure was made on estimates prepared by the late Government, but it will be found that those estimates have not all been used, and that economy has been exercised consistent with the carrying on of Government and the execution of contracts and the discharge of obligations entered into by the Government of Canada when it was in the hands of Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir Charles Tupper. The estimates for the second year of the present Administration, that is for the year beginning July 1, 1897, showed a reduction of a million and a half of dollars in the ordinary expenditure. Taking account of the fact that the controllable expenditure is probably less than twelve or fourteen million dollars, this record is pretty good. The critics of the Government who assert that the expenditure has been increased will kindly furnish the figures in support of that assertion, and by so doing set up a good defence to the charge which is here and now made, that they have been wilfully and recklessly circulating false statements.

RECESSIONAL.

Rudyard Kipling's Contribution to the Victorian Jubilee.

God of our fathers, known of old—
Lord of our far-flung battle line—
Beneath whose awful hand we hold
Dominion over palm and pine—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

The tumult, and the shouting, dies—
The Captains and the Kings depart—
Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart.
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

Far-called our navies melt away—
On dune and headline sinks the fire—
Lo, all our pomp of yesterday
Is one with Nineveh and Tyre!
Judge of the Nations, spare us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

If, drunk with sight of power, we loose
Wild tongues that have not Thee in awe—
Such boasting as the Gentiles use
Or lesser breeds without the Law—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!

For heathen heart that puts her trust
In reeking tube and iron shard—
All valiant dust that builds on dust,
And guarding calls not Thee to guard—
From frantic boast and foolish word,
Thy mercy on Thy people, Lord!

Amen.

Used Up and Worn Out Men and Women.

Renewed and Invigorated by Paine's Celery Compound.

With the coming of hot and sweltering weather we see around us—on the streets, in the office, in our homes and in the homes of others—men and women who are listless, tired, used up and worn out.

Look well on the faces of such mortals! They are hollow cheeked, emaciated, nervous, sallow, unsteady in gait, with sunken and heavy eyes. They are unfitted for business cares and home duties, and as a rule they help to make the world miserable and gloomy.

Such people stand in need of pure, red blood, renewed digestive vigour, with nervous system well and truly balanced.

Paine's Celery Compound supplies every element of true physical manhood and womanhood to the used up and worn out in body and brain; it gives buoyancy to the spirits, and power to withstand the enervating effects of the hot weather.

Will you remain in your present weak and used up condition when you are positively assured that nature's medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, will make you what you should be—healthy and strong? You surely cannot treat with contempt the strong testimony given by thousands who have found new life through the best of all earth's medicines. The effects that one bottle will produce will convince you of its mighty power to strengthen and cure; it will induce you to speak of Paine's Celery Compound to other afflicted mortals.

ONTARIO'S HEALTH.

The Year 1896 Was on the Whole a Very Healthy One Throughout the Province.

Toronto, July 31.

The fifteenth annual report of the Provincial Board of Health for Ontario is a voluminous affair. It states substantially as follows:

The year 1896 has been marked in Ontario by an exceptional freedom from the presence of any of the communicable diseases dealt with under public health laws. Only one case of smallpox of a mild character was reported. Scarlet fever present in a number of localities to a limited degree was of a mild type, and caused but few deaths. Measles and whooping cough were locally prevalent in a few districts, but were similarly mild in type. Diphtheria, the too prevalent disease in the northern portion of the American continent, has shown a marked decline, notably since 1893.

La grippe, during 1896, was not present in epidemic form in the province, and the statistical returns give very few deaths stated to be due to this cause.

Typhoid fever, owing to the dry season in certain sections of the province, showed as usual in rural districts and those towns and villages not supplied generally with a public water supply.

The year must be regarded as an important one in the development of water works and sewerage systems, those works of public utility which may be considered as being the most correct index of the progress of municipal sanitation.

As another index of the growth of municipal sanitation, the increased number of medical health officers, appointed at the beginning of 1897, may be referred to. Thus in 1896 there were 375, while in 1897 549 have been reported.

BRIDGET WAS IN GREAT LUCK.

P. R. Weare's Cook Captures a Klondike Miner She Got a Husband With it in the Bargain.

Chicago, July 30.—P. R. Weare of the North American Transportation Company says some women do well in the Klondike region. A year ago he and Mrs. Weare rejoiced in the possession of a cook, whose name was Bridget. One day Bridget announced her intention of going to Alaska. Mr. Weare remonstrated. "You can't mine," he said. "That's true," answered the woman, "but there's them that can."

A woman of stylish appearance and haughty demeanor swished her silken skirts past the admiring office boy in Mr. Weare's office last Thursday and extended a primrose-gloved hand to the stout man who sat at the desk. Looking up he recognized his old cook.

She told him that before she had got fifty miles up the Yukon she had received 125 proposals of marriage, and that she had held off until an engaging compatriot with a Kerry brogue and a mine that panned out at the rate of $50,000 a month swore that he could not live without her. "I am now on my way to Europe," said Bridget, "and I thought I'd like to see you as I went through. You mind what I told you when I left?"

The eager crowds before the counters of the Alaska steamship agencies are as large as ever, and the agents as they deal out occasional tickets and answer perpetual questions, sigh for arctic solitude themselves. Some of the questioners have a real and personal interest in the things they ask about, but the majority seem to want to give the agents a chance to draw their salaries or commissions, with a feeling that they have conscientiously earned them.

CORUNNA, July 4th.

Dear Sirs:—I received the medicine all right, and am much obliged for it. I had Erysipelas every summer for five years, sometimes so bad my face, arms and body would swell to an enormous size, and my eyes would be shut for days at a time. I tried two doctors but they did me no good, and I even went for change of climate, but all to no avail, until I got your TONIC. After taking one bottle the swelling ceased, and I improved every day, and am now entirely cured.

Inspector Strickland on the Way to Ottawa

BY DYEA AND THE CHILCOOT PASS

In the Route for Poor Men to Take, He Says Some Information About the Weather in the Yukon Country—Canada Collecting Duty on Goods Brought In.

Winnipeg, July 30.—(Special.)—Inspector Strickland of the Northwest Mounted Police, who has just returned from the Yukon, arrived from the west to-day and goes to Ottawa to-morrow. To a reporter Mr. Strickland spoke at length of the country that is causing such a sensation. Regarding the best route to reach the country, he said that he would advise a poor man to go by Dyea and the Chilcoot Pass. The season is getting late and he would not advise anyone to start now, as no one would have time to pack the amount of provisions that he would need over the summit. Before he could do it the river would be frozen up. Last year it froze at the first of October, but it does not generally freeze until the middle of October. It is hard to get into the country and anyone who goes there must be prepared to go through some rough experiences. There is plenty of gold, but it is not lying around waiting for any one to pick it up. It is gotten only by hard work.

EXTRA VESSELS FOR MINERS.

The Willimette Will Sail From San Francisco This Afternoon With a Big Load of Gold Hunters.

San Francisco, July 30.—So great has the demand for transportation to the gold fields of Alaska become that the Pacific Coast Steamship Company has decided to send another steamer to the far north. The company selected the Willimette, an immense steam barge, for that purpose, and has chartered her from the Oregon Improvement Company. She is a collier and arrived from Seattle yesterday with a cargo of coal. It was immediately discharged at the Beale-street bunkers. Preparations were then begun to reconstruct the vessel to accommodate passengers.

She was taken to Broadway wharf and a large force of men are at work night and day fitting her with bunks. The captain said:

"I sail for Juneau and Dyea to-morrow at 4 o'clock. She will carry about 400 passengers from here and a quantity of freight. At Puget Sound points about 750 passengers will be taken on, and also 200 horses, intended for work on the trail and at the mines. At present there are only accommodations for 60 cabin passengers, but when the vessel is altered she will be able to carry about 300 first-class passengers. Already 500 second-class tickets have been sold at Puget Sound points, and there is a great demand for tickets on the part of those who are eager to reach the shores early."

Captain Holmes will be in charge of the Willimette when she sails to-morrow, and a large throng is expected at the wharf. The Pacific Coast Steamship Company is also making arrangements to secure other boats to despatch from Puget Sound. Among the vessels that may be engaged is the steamer City of Seattle, belonging to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. She is a passenger boat and has ample accommodations for a large number of people.

WEATHER IN THE KLONDIKE.

Director Stupart of the Toronto Observatory Gives Some Interesting Details Taken From N. W. M. P. Records.

Mr. R. F. Stupart, director of the Meteorological office, Toronto, writes the following, which is of universal interest: "In view of the interest at present taken in the Yukon district, I have much pleasure in furnishing you with a synopsis of temperature observations taken at Fort Constantine, between Nov. 1, 1895, and May 31, 1897; the returns for the last twelve months were only received to-day.

"The contingent of Northwest Mounted Police which left for the Yukon in 1895 was supplied with accurate thermometers by the Meteorological service. The observations were commenced at Fort Constantine in November, 1895, by Staff Sergeant Hayne, who has furnished returns up to the close of May, 1897.

"In the autumn of 1895 the temperature first touched zero on Nov. 10, and the last zero recorded in the spring was on April 20. Between Dec. 19 and Feb. 6 it never rose above zero. The lowest actual reading recorded occurred on Jan. 27, and on 24 days during the winter the temperature was below 50. On March 12 it first rose above the freezing point, but no continuous mild weather occurred until May 4, after which date the temperature during the balance of the month frequently rose above 60 degrees. The Yukon River froze up on Oct. 28, and broke up on May 17. Forty-Mile River broke up on May 11. In June the temperature reached 70 degrees on twelve days, and on one day (the 30th) did it reach 80 degrees. The last frost was recorded on the 7th; the average temperature of the month was 53 degrees, which is three degrees lower than the normal June temperature on Lake Athabasca, and nearly the same as the May mean at Winnipeg. The average temperature for July was 57 degrees; the highest, 82 degrees, was reached on the 1st, and the lowest, 33.5 degrees, on the 27th. Rain fell on 11 days and the amount was 1.71 inches. In August the highest temperature was 76 degrees, and no frost occurred until the 31st, when the thermometer fell to 29 degrees. Rain fell on 11 days. The average for September was only 43 degrees, which is 5 degrees lower than the usual October average in Toronto; rain fell on 12 days. It may be said that winter set in on Sept. 27, and on Sept. 30 the temperature fell to 6 degrees above zero; zero was first touched on Oct. 5, and the average temperature of that month was 27 degrees, or about the same as the December average in Toronto. November was very cold, the average of the month being 7 degrees; the lowest reading registered was 39 degrees. The Yukon froze up on the 5th. December averages was 13 degrees; the temperature fell to 35 degrees on 8 occasions, and 40 degrees was the lowest registered. January was not as cold as in the previous year, the average temperature being but 15 degrees, as against 38 degrees in the previous year; 40 degrees or lower was recorded on 5 days, the lowest reading being 48 degrees. February was also mild compared with the previous year, the mean temperature being 3 degrees and the lowest temperature registered 31 degrees. The average temperature in March was 1 degree, or 8 degrees lower than the previous March, and on two consecutive days, the 16th and 17th, the two lowest temperatures of the winter were registered, namely 54 and 53 degrees. In April the days were mostly mild and nights cold; the average of the month was 26 degrees. The lowest reading was 5 degrees, which was the last zero temperature of the winter. The month of May, 1897, was very similar to the preceding May, the average temperature was 40 degrees; 60 degrees was first recorded on the 20th, and 75 degrees on the 31st; the lowest of the month was 11 degrees, on the 9th. Forty Mile Creek broke up on the 13th, and the Yukon on the 15th."

SCHOOL TEACHER IN LUCK.

He Went to the Gold Fields Over the Canadian Route and Brought Out $30,000 in Nuggets.

San Francisco, July 30.—The latest arrival from the Klondike is Albert D. Gray, formerly a school teacher in Grand Rapids, Mich. Mr. Gray got here yesterday, bringing $30,000 in nuggets.

He says he is the first man who went to Dawson via the Stickeen River route. He predicts that this will soon be the favorite route to the gold diggings. He says that the entire Northwest is interested in the report that the Canadian Government is contemplating the building of a railroad from Telegraph Creek to Lake Teslin. From this lake to Dawson City there would be clear navigation if the rocks on the Yukon 200 miles above Dawson were blasted out.

CANADA EXACTS DUTY.

Customs Officers and Constables Going Up to Dyea to Assist the Mounted Police in Collecting It.

Victoria, B.C., July 30.—There is a crowd of indignant gold-seekers in town. Two hundred of them came from Seattle with their outfits to take the steamer Islander for Dyea. Arriving here, they found that not a pound of goods would be allowed to enter the Klondike district without paying the regular Canadian duty.

Some of them decided upon payment of the duty here, but others are going with the expectation of evading the customs officers. This is hardly possible, as the customs officers are going up on the Islander, accompanied by a force of constables, who will assist the Mounted Police now there to enforce the laws.

Taking Out $1800 a Day.

San Francisco, July 30.—Mrs. Mitchell of this city, sister of Jerome Madden, the land agent for the Southern Pacific Railroad, received a letter to-day from her son, who went to the Klondike recently. He writes that he is taking out $1800 a day from his claim.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

"Since last year I have had serious heart trouble caused by malaria. Shortness of breath, smothering spell on retiring, violent palpitation, etc., often made me gasp for breath. On procuring Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I found to my surprise and delight that they gave almost instant relief. I got healthy, restfull sleep, my heart troubles disappeared, and I now feel very well and strong indeed." Mr. Hugh Moore, Ingersoll, Ont., makes this statement for the public good.

Why We Use Diamond Dyes.

From the tens of thousands of letters received from ladies commending the Diamond Dyes, the following reasons are selected why Diamond Dyes should be used in preference to all others:

"Diamond Dyes are so easy to use that my little girl of ten years can work with them pefectly."

"I have tried three other makes of dyes but find Diamond Dyes so sure and true to colour, that I will never use any other make."

"Your Black, Cardinal Green, Orange and Black Diamond Dyes have been used in our home for many years. The colours are so bright, clear and lasting that I heartily commend them to all families."

"Diamond Dyes forever! They are great economizers and savers of money. I have always been successful in dyeing over dresses, jackets and suits with them."

"I am a maker of home-made carpets, rugs and mats, and always use Diamond Dyes for colouring my wool and cotton rags. Your dyes give lovely colours, and so fast that even sun will not fade them."

CAN IT BE ANDREE?

A Manitoba Farmer Saw a Large Balloon Floating Over His Farm, Going Northeasterly.

Winnipeg, July 30. — A Whitemouth, Manitoba, despatch to The Free Press, received at 9.30 to-night, says: "At sunset on the 29th Andrew Henderson, a farmer who lives three miles from Whitemouth, saw a large balloon slowly drifting in a northeasterly direction. The balloon seemed to be twice the size of his house and had a large boat hanging from it. Can it be Andree? Whitemouth is a lumber town on the C. P. R. about sixty miles from Winnipeg, and has a very limited settlement."

Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." MRS. ADDIE PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." CORA PECK, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Be sure to get Hood's, because

The Y.M.C.A. Gymnasium.

The Furnishing Committee of the Y. M. C.A. intends fitting up the gymasium in a most substantial and modern style. Mr. Ed. Courtney is entrusted with the work.

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of season affects pianos as well as anything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with 28 years experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

Hard on Canoists.

Canoists in portaging the Young' Point locks complain that the rollers have been broken out of the canoe slide. A word to Mr. R. B. Rogers would doubtless result in having the rollers repaired.

For Hot Weather.

Yes, or for picnics, holidays, or everyday use, try Paterson's "Camp" Coffee. It is an extract of coffee and easy to prepare. For a quick dessert use Tapine, a fruit pudding.—E. F. MASON & Co. 1d

Mark Street Methodist Church.

Dr. Barnardo's Home.

A party of girls is expected to arrive at Hazel Brae from England in about a week. Application should be sent at once to the Secretary Dr. Barnardo's Girl Home, Peterborough, when all necessary information will be immediately forwarded.

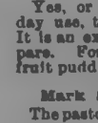
A White Swallow.

Young's Pointers are much excited over the appearance of a white smallow this summer around the locks. The bird is snow white and attracts a good deal of attention, being very conspicuous. Mr. Macfarlane was the first to spot it from the verandah of his hotel.

The Day of Rest.

Appropriate Sunday reading in abundance at the Peterborough Bookstore. The August number of Munsey and other illustrated periodicals to hand. A few copies left of Sunday at Home, Leisure Hour. Boys' Own and Girls' Own at half price. $1.00 each.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

Novelties in Chairs.



Admirers of handsomely designed chairs should visit Clegg's furniture warerooms, Nos. 425 and 427 George street. Nearly every popular selling chair is represented. Complete line of unique designs in chairs on exhibition all the year round. Every new thing quick as it appears. d

Blind Willie LeCombe.

Willie LeCombe, the little blind man who plays the tin whistle on the street corners and on the market place, states that the police have ordered him from post to pillar until he does not know where to go. It seems as though it was far better to allow him to earn an honest livelihood than to bother him until he has to ask the town for charity. Although raised in Ops and Cavan, Willie was, he says, born in Peterborough.

Rates of Assessment.

The Finance Committee met yesterday to consider the estimates. The rate would have been the same this year as last, notwithstanding the big expenditure on streets and sewers, but for the fact that the Board of Education is asking for an amount sufficiently larger than last year as to increase the rate one-half mill. The Finance Committee will try and apply the pruning knife. The rate will be—well—high enough.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT.

A Couple of Norwood Boys Injured on Wednesday Evening.

While Masters Russell Pearce and Willie Convey, two boys about fifteen years, were practising shooting with a 22 calibre revolver on Wednesday evening, in Norwood, both were injured by the accidental discharge of the weapon.

It seems that Master Russell had just fired a shot and laid the revolver down to go and see how near he had come to the mark, and upon returning picked up the weapon again, which it is thought must have been cocked, as it went off, the ball passing through the first and grazing the second finger of Master Russell's left hand, entering Convey's foot about the ankle.

Drs. Moffat and Ford probed for some time for the bullet but were unable to locate it last evening. Convey is the boy who was injured at the exhibition in Norwood last fall. It is hoped that the lesson will be sufficient to deter both from handling such dangerous weapons in future.

WANT A FLAG STATION.

Up Above Smith Street on the Lakefield Branch of the Grand Trunk.

The residents in the North End are agitating for the establishment of a flag station on the Lakefield branch of the Guand Trunk above the grade which begins at Smith street.

They point out that when the line ran up through Ashburnham there were a couple of flag stations for the convenience of those wishing to board the train at the village and that the need is quite as great in the north end of the town.

At present those coming in on the train from Lakefield and residing in the north end are taken directly past their own doors to a point almost a mile below, as the station is fully that distance from Smith street. If it could be arranged for a short stop just above the grade mentioned the favour conferred on the north-enders would be a great one.

CAMP BROKE UP.

The Wet Weather Drove One Party Back to Town Again.

A camping party of six broke up at Stony Lake on Thursday owing to the extremely wet weather.

The tents were pitched on Sawers' Island, near Eaglemount, and the party was composed of Messrs. Reg. Dixon and S. Cowan of Peterborough; Messrs. Porter and Easton of Keene; Mr. Hunter of Norwood and Mr. Macfarlane of Lindsay. All are school teachers, with the exception of the first named.

The boys did not intend to break camp quite so soon, but the continued rain made it too confining to remain in the tents.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD.

The Estimates Discussed—The Amounts Required From the Several Municipalities.

A special meeting of the School Board was held last night to consider the estimates. It was decided to make requisition for the following sums for school purposes for the current year:

Peterborough	$4,000
Ashburnham	312
North Monaghan	51
Otonabee	30
Smith	10
Total	$4,403

TO-DAY'S MARKET.

Abundance of Fruits and Vegetables—Good Prices Realized.

The market to-day resembled a fall show such was the abundance of the vegetables which were brought in from the country.

The summer fruits were also greatly in evidence.

Raspberries brought 6 and 7 cents a quart, apples 25c a peck, black currants 2 boxes for 25c, cherries 40c to 65c a pail, gooseberries 5c a quart, red currants 2 boxes for 10c, white currants 5c per box.

Carrots sold at 30c per doz., beets 40c per doz., cabbage 30c and 40c per doz., beans 20c per peck, celery 30c per doz., radishes 3 bunches for 10c, and lettuce the same.

WILL WHITE RESIGN?

Offered the Management of the National Despatch—Rumour About a Popular Grand Trunk Official.

The changes announced in the freight department of the Grand Trunk Railway are believed to be only forerunner of more important changes to come. There is a rumour that Mr. Arthur White, division freight agent at Toronto, may sever his connection with the Grand Trunk system, in order to accept a more important position. Rumour connects Mr. White's name with the general managership of the National Despatch fast freight line, and it would not surprise some of Mr. White's confreres if this should turn out to be correct.

Mr. White's departure from Toronto would be much regretted, for he is not only an extremely popular official here, but all over Ontario. The change, however, if it does take place, would be a distinct promotion for Mr. White. The National despatch is a fast freight line with headquarters at Boston, and while not a part of the Grand Trunk system, is practically controlled by that road, so that the relations between Mr. White and the Grand Trunk would still continue to be very close. This, of course, is mere rumor so far.

In case of Mr. White resigning his position here, he would probably be succeeded by Mr. J. E. Dalrymple, who is at present chief clerk to Mr. George B. Reeve, the general traffic manager of the Grand Trunk.—Toronto Globe.

YESTERDAY'S RAIN.

A Genuine Cloudburst—Nine-Tenths of an Inch Falls in Forty-five Minutes.

Yesterday afternoon a cloudburst struck the town, and in the short space of forty-five minutes almost an inch of rain fell—to be exact—nine-tenths of an inch. Now an inch of rain in 24 hours is considered by meteorological experts, a large downpour, and given this fact some idea of the way the rain came down yesterday may be formed. It got past the stage of rain drops and developed into streams. The streets were flooded almost instantly, and the circumstances vindicated the wisdom of the street authorities system of grading this year. If the way had not been cleared for the escape of the water, the streets would have been in a terrible condition. As it was George street was for a time inundated, the gutters at the sides were for a few minutes rushing streams, and the space between the car tracks flowed like a tail-race. Where the streams struck the telephone poles the water was dashed into spray by the force of the current. At the corner of George and Hunter streets a couple of miniature lakes were formed, owing to the gulleys admitting storm water to the sewer not being equal to the carrying off of the water as fast as it flowed to these points. At one time the water was flowing across Hunter street on both sides of George street.

Workmen were kept busy keeping the traps uncovered of debris that impeded the flow of water, but the most effective service was done in this respect by a boy, who, with his trousers rolled to his thighs, with his feet kept the trap he was working at clear. The town engineer says the gullies hadn't a fair chance or they would have carried off the water as fast as it came. They have not, he said, been cleaned for a long time, whereas, he says, they should be cleaned out once a month. Whose duty is it to see that they are attended to? Before the water could be got to flow off into the sewers it backed up, flowed under the sidewalks, and in pouring through the windows, flooded the cellars of Messrs. H. S. Macdonald and J. D. Tully on their respective corners. In the former the water was about a foot in depth and in the latter two or three inches. The water has not left Mr. McDonald's cellar dry enough to discover what was the extent of damage to goods.

In all parts of the town flowers, garden corn, tomatoes and other crops were flattened and great danger done.

In the country where the storm struck great injury was done to the crops left standing after the big rain. Oats especially suffered. In some cases they were so badly beaten down by the rush of rain and strong wind that farmers are cutting them with a view to converting them into feed, similar to hay.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—The huckleberry season is in full swing.

—Millbrook's civic holiday is on Thursday next.

—Berries and cherries are very plentiful this year.

—A big mud-turtle in a tub in front of Winch Bros. shop attracted a good deal of attention to-day.

—The Children's Aid Society wish to acknowledge the receipt of $4 donated by a Jubilee Day prize winner.

—A case against Frank Anthony for selling tobacco to a minor was dismissed this morning by Magistrate Dumble.

—A woman, who was arrested last week when drunk and remanded for a week, was discharged this morning in the police court.

—Madden Cereal has the indorsement of the best physicians in the country. Doctors prescribe it, grocers sell it, good cooks serve it, and health-loving people drink it.

—The J. A. Gould property on Ottawa street, Havelock, was offered for sale at the Graham House, Havelock, on Tuesday by Mr. T. Fraser, auctioneer, and sold to Mr. F. S. Hall for $800.

—Messrs. Wm. Payne and S. Adams vouch for the fact that a mudturtle weighing about a pound and a half fell from the clouds yesterday and into the brewery yard, Ashburnham.

—Notwithstanding the dampness of the grass there was a big crowd in Victoria Park last night to hear the band play. Last season the band played 17 times in the park, but this year Friday seems to be a bad evening, as it generally rains.

—The storm yesterday afternoon almost completely destroyed Mr. James Head's fine bed of dahlias at the Nicholls' Hospital. The big rustic baskets which two men cannot lift were also overturned. Mr. Head's dahlias were too far on for the fall show, but they will be greatly missed if they fail to revive.

—Mr. W. Metcalfe, of Elgin, near Norwood, met with a very peculiar accident one day last week, which nearly proved fatal. He was cutting some grain in the orchard when the cradle caught some dry limbs and a piece of one flew and struck him in the ear, breaking the drum and injuring the nerve connecting with the brain. He is now out of danger.

Robertson's Mixed Floor and House Paints still lead all other makes in giving perfect satisfaction. They are never sticky, nor do they peel off, but dry hard, bright and glossy. If they require thinning use only the oil sold by the agents. Poor oil, as well as poor paints, never dry satisfactorily and will not wear. Robertson's Paints that were used two years ago, look better to-day than other paints used this year. 2aw-w

The Great Attraction This Week.

Gough Bros'. hurricane sale of summer clothing, hats, boots, gloves and furnishings for men, youths and boys will doubtless prove a great attraction this week. A shrinkage of $10,500 on the prices covered by their whole stocks in both stores since last week should be inducement enough to bring crowds to their counters. The prices represent their great reductions in summer stocks, including that portion of the clothing left over from their great sale of the E. A. Small & Co.'s mammoth purchase in Montreal. Everything that cannot be carried over is to be got rid of. The goods cannot be marked any lower, and in order to have the benefit of a fairly good selection they advise all to call early to get the pick of the choicest. The changed prices will probably clear out all the summer goods in about a couple of weeks. dtf

Hendren's livery barn on Sunday, 18th inst. The defendant elected to be tried by jury, but after hearing the testimony of Mr. T. The Motograph Company's Entertainment.

Last night the American Motograph Company gave an excellent entertainment. Considering the fact that all who can accomplish it are out of town, there was a good attendance. The entertainment is in two parts; the first a variety entertainment of first class merit, bubbling over with fun and very good singing. In the excellence of the performers and their presentation this part of the programme was well worth the price of admission, not to speak of the fine motograph exhibition that followed. The lady trombonist is an artist, and the duet between her and the flautist was a treat, being a very good production indeed of a classical selection—"Ah che la Morte," from Il Travatore. The first part of the performance was excellent, but not more so than the splendid motograph pictures presented, which were excellently projected and full of interest. The picture of the Grand Trunk "Seaside and White Mountain Special," rushing over the rails at the rate of 70 miles an hour, was thrillingly realistic. A cheaper and better two hours of fun and enjoyment has not often been presented in Peterborough than that of the American Motograph Company. In the Opera House again to-night.

ANOTHER CONTRIBUTION ON CIVIC AFFAIRS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

When your correspondent, "Pro Bono Civitatis," in last Saturday's issue undertook to draw attention to the subject of municipal ownership of public franchises such as waterworks, gas, electric lights, etc., he had no idea that his efforts would be so ably assisted as they were in the way of a fair criticism by one so well qualified as yourself.

While you admit the convenience and justice of the proposition in theory, you express a well defined doubt of the ability of a municipality to conduct the operation of the scheme successfully.

At the same time you very plainly suggest the remedy—the only change in municipal government necessary to make the project workable by a municipality, namely to place the administration of these departments of municipal business "under the control of permanent commissioners not subject to annual change, etc.

Now this plan of administering public business has been adopted in the election of school trustees and is being slowly but surely followed in municipal government as found in the change in election of county councillors so lately, and in the new constitution adopted for the government of of the city of Toronto. The only thing necessary to do is to extend the system to all municipalities having these institutions or desiring them, as soon as they undertake the work of acquiring a system of waterworks, gas or electric lights. Where have the results of such a system been better illustrated than in the successful issue of the operation of our school system, where only one Trustee is elected yearly out of three, and the stability of the system maintained thereby? And has not our system of education become the backbone of all our advancement after all? Through it we have the material at hand to make these reforms in our municipal system workable. It has resulted in a fairly well informed electorate, a large and ever-increasing number of technically skilled persons ready to undertake the management of any of those systems for private or public employees, and for the public as faithfully and effectively as for any others. Who would doubt the ability or integrity of the present staff of employees on our waterworks, for instance, under municipal ownership more than under the present proprietorship?

It seems to the writer that the time has now come for a full and free discussion of this subject and the gradual application of this principle to the needs of city and town life, which with a little of the staid and hard-headed common-sense of our cousins of Glasgow, will be just as productive of good results with us as with them. Surely there is enough of good, sound sense, and of Scotchmen, too, if needed, to direct it in the way of the improvements suggested, and surely this Canada of ours is the natural soil for municipal reform—municipal reform, where municipal institutions have been propagated, and local self government has reached the highest state of advancement, has attained in the British Empire. And why should we wait for light from Glasgow, or any other place?

But, perhaps an answer to this question would suggest itself if we but stopped to enquire, why have not our municipal fathers ceased being concerned about the way in which our worthy townsmen see fit to jubilate over our Gracious Sovereign's delightful unwillingness to cease reigning and devote a few minutes to discuss ways and means to prevent the total destruction of our beautiful shade trees from the almost certain recurrence of the ravages of the insect pest—the caterpillar? The efforts of correspondents and newspaper men to call attention to this matter should long since have resulted in our council devoting some time in trying to discover some way to prevent it.

But public opinion and municipal legislators—and all legislators for that matter—are very much like a balky horse. They have often to be led round and round in a circle before they will move in any particular direction. Whether it be towards moral, social or political improvement, it makes but very little difference.

With many thanks, Mr. Editor, for this further favour, I remain,

Yours truly,
PRO BONO CIVITATIS.

There are people who have a mania for medicine—quack preparations. They try every kidney, liver pill, sarsaparilla, stomach bitters, dyspepsia cure, etc. Suppose you try a regular physician. You may learn from him that your trouble comes from improper food and drink. You may be one of those who should never touch tea or coffee. Try leaving off coffee for 10 days, it may solve your problem when medicine fails. Many stubborn diseases yield when the daily dose of coffee is abandoned. In nine cases out of ten the body will feel the unmistakable sensation of getting well—a heaven to many a poor soul. Then the body should have food that will furnish the albumen gluten and phosphates which nature requires to rebuild the gray matter in the nerve cells in the brain and all over the body. This is furnished in Madden Cereal food coffee, which is made from those parts of the cereals that furnish these elements in their purity and strength.

LACROSSE.

The Orillia Packet says,—Markham at the last moment disappointed the Peterborough lacrosse club, and the latter at telegraphed Orillia to send down a team for an exhibition match on Friday last. The Orillians did what was possible to oblige their Peterborough friends, and got together the best team available. The result was a very interesting match, in which some exceedingly pretty lacrosse was played, the Peterboroughs scoring seven games and the Orillias two. The Orillia players speak in the highest terms of the treatment they received both on and off the field.

The appended circular letter is being sent out to-day by the Peterborough lacrosse club to the teams in Hastings, Norwood, Tweed, Campbellford, Marmora, Millbrook, Madoc and Port Hope:

PETERBOROUGH LACROSSE CLUB.
Peterborough, July 31, 1897.

DEAR SIR,—We are considering the advisability of holding a lacrosse tournament on a big scale here on our civic holiday in August. We thought of trying to have eight clubs enter the tournament, and by beginning play at ten o'clock in the morning and allowing 1 1-2 hours to each game, the finals could be played off at six o'clock and the whole tournament completed in one day.

The clubs we would like to see entered are Hastings, Norwood, Tweed, Campbellford, Marmora, Millbrook, Madoc, Port Hope and Peterborough.

We will try to arrange for single fares on the railroads and will be pleased to entertain the visiting teams during the time they are in town.

If eight of the clubs mentioned enter, we thought of giving twenty dollars each to the four winning clubs in the first round. The two winners in the second round would receive $30 each, and the winner of the final $59. The prize money would therefore amount in all to $190.

We should be glad to hear from you as to whether your club would be willing to enter such a tournament and would also be pleased to have you let us have any suggestions which your experience may suggest.

Yours very truly,
ALF TERRILL,
Secretary P. L. C.

P.S.—The Peterboroughs would of course give all visiting clubs hotel expenses.

The letter is sent out as a "feeler" to get the opinion of the various clubs of the district respecting the scheme. If it meets with their favour the Peterborough's will put their shoulders to the wheel to boom the affair. It would be quite an event in lacrosse circles and would tend to promote a feeling of good fellowship.

The members of the Lacrosse club will please turn out regularly each evening next week, as the semi finals are liable to be played off at any time now.

FOOTBALL.

Last evening on the grounds of the East Nicholls Park, two teams, representing the Canadian General Electric Works and the Templars respectively, played a keen and exciting game of football, resulting in a victory for the Templars by a score of 5 to 1, thus demonstrating the superiority of cold water over electricity as an article of diet. The first half was very close, the Templars scoring their first goal near the beginning of the play on a swift kick from Munro. The second half was the Templars' game throughout, the second goal being scored off a kick from Simpson, which the Electric back tried to stop, but instead turned through the goal. Then Simpson and Munro each scored a goal, making the score 4—0. The Electrics then got in some nice rushes. Brick and Coventry played a pretty combination and finally scored. Just before time was called Might again scored for the Templars, making the score at the finish, 5—1 in favour of Templars.

The teams were as follows:

CANOEING.

Next week one of the greatest sporting organizations in America, the American Canoe Association, will open its annual meet at the popular resort on Grindstone Island. The meet this year promises to be the largest in the history of the Association, both in regard to the number of members present and in the number of entries for the races. This has been due greatly to the energetic efforts of Commodore J. N. McKendrick, of Galt, and also to the fact that last year's meet on the same spot was one thoroughly enjoyed by the members, being easy of access by both Canadians and Americans. The war canoe race is going to be a feature. So far five entries have been made. The paddling trophy contest is going to be an especially interesting number, as nearly all new blood will be in it, and it is said a dark horse will appear from the neighbourhood of Detroit. Several local gentlemen will be in camp—Messrs. E. B. Edwards, W. J. Montgomery, W. L. Allen, A. A. McNee and Walter English.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL is CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy in for investment and purchase can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

BRITAIN MOVES AGAIN.

Establishes a Protectorate Over Jarvis Island and the Phœnix Group.

London, July 29.—According to the official colonial list Great Britain has established a protectorate over Jarvis Island and the Phœnix group, comprising Phœnix, Birnie, Hull, Gardner and Sidney Islands, and over Washington for New York) Island, and Palmyra and Johnson Islands. After the words "Johnson Island" is an asterisk, referring to a footnote, which reads as follows: "Since withdrawn and acknowledged to belong to Hawaii, on condition that the right to land a cable is conceded if desired."

The asterisk, however, does not clearly indicate whether the footnote refers to the last named island (Johnson) only, or to all.

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by the Doctors in the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

OTTAWA, July 26th.—It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent of this city with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills has definitely decided the objection as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine, and has been beem accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no question raised to the statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

Pretty Summer Capes.

The latest thing in summer capes is made of lace over a colored taffeta lining well fitted to the shoulders. It may be black or cream lace, as you prefer, and it is gathered a little around the neck to make it fit. It is finished at the neck with a ruche of lace and ribbon, and on the edge with lace ruffles over one of taffeta. This little bit of frivolity is very short, extending only half way down the arm, and the whole effect is very fluffy.

If you would have your mull grenadine and net gowns quite complete you must have a little cape made of the same material to match each one. Rows of white Valenciennes insertion alternating with bands of tucked chiffon over a yellow lining form one little confection of this kind, and the edge is a ruffle of lace with one of silk underneath. Pique gowns have little capes as well as jackets to match, and the heavier guipure lace and Irish point embroidery are used for trimming. Some very pretty capes of black net are seen among the brighter varieties and they are trimmed with jet and ruffles of the net, with several rows of narrow black satin ribbon sewn on each one.

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local-application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness.

STRAW HATS IN THE LEAD

Light Effects in Millinery Succeed the Gorgeousness of the Spring.

In general appearance the latest summer millinery is much less fantastic in character and coloring than it was in the early spring, now that white and yellow straw hats have the lead, and white wings, white lilies and dainty chiffon are the favorite trimmings. Light transparent effects are sought after in millinery as in all other departments of dress, and Neapolitan and zephyr braids are the prettiest of all. But there are all sorts of fancy braids, and then the old-fashioned leghorns trimmed lavishly with white feathers, are worn again with pale ecru panamas, trimmed with various flowers, tulle, and wings bringing up the end of the line. Black hats are quite as much worn as ever, but the straws in vivid greens, brilliant reds, and gorgeous purples worn early in the season look out of place with the dainty light gowns.

One of the special features of the summer millinery is that the hats should be in one line of color, with as much white as may suit the fancy. The motley combinations of two months ago have worn out their popularity. Turquoise blue or yellow chiffon, with white wings and white lilies on a white Neapolitan hat, makes about the daintiest headgear a woman can wear. White corn flowers with blue centres an blue forget-me-nots are very popular just at the moment. One rather striking leghorn hat has a wreath of green oats, a bow of green antique satin ribbon, and two black ostrich feathers standing up on one side. White chiffon and tulle hats, with white ostrich feathers, are worn with thin white gowns, and pretty little toques are made of black lace over white tulle, and trimmed with pale blue chiffon rosettes, a white ibis wing, and a black aigrette. Another very dainty toque is made of yellow silk straw and lace insertion, radiating from the crown in alternating bands, and black ostrich feathers, yellow and white rosettes of chiffon and tea roses are the trimming.

Strings of velvet and lace ribbon or tulle are a feature of some of the latest hats and toques, and all the newest hats have higher crowns than were shown in the early part of the season. Very pretty and simple hats of yellow straw, in the round shape, turned up at the back, are trimmed with yellow or pink roses and a bunch of black quills at one side.—New York Sun.

WRAPS FOR SUMMER WEAR.

The Handsomest Are Made of Lace and Silk.

With the dainty gowns for summer, particularly for midsummer wear, it is occasionally necessary to have some sort of light wrap, while even many of the heavier costumes which are worn on cool days require an outer garment that has a little weight.

The handsomest of all the wraps made up this season are those of lace, and the soft, beautiful fabric never shows to greater advantage than when it is used for this purpose. Colored linings of taffeta silk throw out the pattern in bold relief, but even a black lining is powerless to destroy the design. The length of these capes is entirely a matter to be decided by personal taste, but a long-waisted woman can wear a longer cape than one who is short-waisted; and the capes made with a point in the back and front give much longer lines than those which are of the same length all around. Flounces of point-lace that have been laid away are excellent for these lace capes. They must first be carefully looked over to see that they are in good condition, and, when they have lost all their stiffness, a bath in alcohol or beer sometimes works wonders. But it is best always to send them to some place where laces are renovated, as the extra expense thus incurred will show to great advantage. The method of making these capes is very simple; the lining should be well fitted over the shoulders, and a full ruffle sewed around the edge; then the lace itself is gathered around the neck full, and rows of shirring are put on to give it some fit just about the neck. A ruche around the neck is also necessary to finish it off, and this is prettiest when combined with chiffon and ribbon. A bow at the throat with ends is also necessary, and some have the bows of sash ribbon, and the ends are allowed to fall to the foot of the skirt.

White lace is used quite as much as black laces, and is more beautiful for wear with elaborate summer gowns. This is a summer when lace is used galore, and the handsomer the quality the better.

A HELPLESS WOMAN.

FURIOUS FIGHTING IN BRAZIL.

Three Thousand Government Troops Slaughtered by the Fanatics—Ground Strewn With the Dead.

New York, July 29.—A despatch to The Herald from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, says that authentic information has reached that city to the effect that more than 3000 soldiers have been killed in a big battle near the site of Canudos.

The fanatics, numbering more than 10,000 men, all well armed, attacked the Government troops. Whole brigades of the soldiers were swept down and destroyed and trampled under foot as the victorious fanatics with wild shouts of triumph passed over them. The full extent of the loss of life cannot be told. There is no reasonable doubt, however, that the loss in killed on both sides is more than three thousand.

For miles the ground around Canudos is strewn with the dead and dying, the Government troops being compelled to leave their dead on the field and flee to save themselves from complete destruction by the avalanche of the fanatics.

When the report of the awful battle reached Rio Janeiro it was considered by the President and Ministry, and it was decided to send the Minister of War to the scene next week with 4000 men, who are now gathering. They will carry with them a store of ammunition, and will endeavor to dislodge the fanatics from the positions they now hold. Fighting has been in progress at Canudos for several weeks. In the meantime, while the fanatics fought apparently with little heart, they have been gathering their forces from all directions. The result was the final attack on the Government troops, which led to such awful results.

Death of a Methodist Minister.

Toronto, July 30.

Rev. Thomas S. Keough died at his residence on Dupont street yesterday afternoon at the age of 73. He has been in ill-health for over two years, but was only laid up during the past fortnight. In 1851 he became accountant for the firm of John Macdonald & Co., and left that position to study for the Methodist ministry. Up to the time of his death he was accountant for Rev. Dr. Griffin, superintendent of the Superannuation Fund of the Methodist Church. For the last four years Mr. Keough has been occupying various pulpits as an emergency preacher, with very great acceptance. He was highly respected, and leaves a widow and ten children to mourn his loss.

The measurements of death are a few inches of trivial disorders, multiplied by many feet of neglect If a man o. woman will take care of the little trivia disorders, there is no need to fear the big maladies, and long-life and happiness will be the reward The little disorders tha. cause the majority of big sicknesses, are the trivial derangements of the digestion that most people pay no heed to. Good digestion feeds and builds up a man; bad digestion starves him in every tissue, muscle, nerve-fiber, and brain-cell.

Bad digestion leads to consumption, blood and skin diseases, and nervous exhaustion and prostration. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver and prevents and cures consumption, blood and skin diseases, and nervous troubles. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder, and nerve tonic. Druggists sell it and have nothing else "just as good."

"I have lately given Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a trial," writes Miss C. M. Mallette of Houston, Harris Co., Texas, "and it has completely cured me of very serious and obstinate disorders in which the heart's action was impaired. I took it for two weeks. I began to experience less discomfort from my illness, after about the fourth dose, and in four or five days still less, and several days after I was surprised to find that I was actually better. Two weeks having passed every symptom had disappeared."

The man or woman who neglects constipation is storing up in the system a store of disorders that will culminate in some serious and possibly fatal malady Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a safe sure, speedy and permanent cure for constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Druggists sell them.

EXPERIMENTS ON LIVE ANIMALS.

What the British Return Contains Upon This Subject.

A return was issued on Saturday, showing the number of experiments performed on living animals during the year 1896, under licenses granted under the Act 39 and 40 Vict., c. 77. It relates to England and Scotland. The number of persons who held licenses was 236, of whom 70 made no experiments. The names of all licensed places are given in a table, and tabular evidence is afforded, establishing these points: (1) That licenses and certificates have been granted only on the recommendation of persons of high scientific standing; (2) that the licenses are persons who, by their training and education, are fitted to undertake experimental work, and to profit by it, and (3) that all experimental work has been conducted in suitable places. There is also a table showing the number and nature of the experiments performed, and specifying whether these were done under license alone or under any special certificate, so that the public may judge which experiments, if any, were of a painful nature. From previous reports it has appeared that the only experiments performed without anaesthetics are of the nature of inoculations or hypodermic injections. These, says the Medical Inspector for the Home Office (Dr. G. V. Poore), are now in order to lessen any chance of misapprehension, placed in a class by themselves. According to the report the process of inoculation is adequately provided for in the Act of Parliament.

"It would be cruel rather than otherwise to anaesthetize an animal before subjecting it to the trivial operation of a prick with a needle, and yet the wording of the Act is such that the administration of anaesthetics can in no case be dispensed with except by a certificate (A) stating that insensibility cannot be produced without necessarily frustrating the objects of such experiments. Notwithstanding that the wording of Certificate A is not wholly applicable to the circumstances, it is nevertheless allowed for inoculations."

"The large increase of inoculations and allied experiments which has been noticeable for the last few years is, says the report, likely to continue. The discovery of anti-toxins has necessitated a large number of inoculation experiments, as these remedies cannot safely and effectually be used upon human beings without being previously tested on rodents. In one class (Table A) the total number of experiments was 1516, and in the other (Table B) 5984. Nearly all the latter were inoculations (made, under an anaesthetics, upon rodents,) with the object of diagnosing rabies. The licensees have been loyal to the spirit of the act, and there were only two cases in which the letter of the law was doubtfully complied with, and these are quoted as showing the difficulties of interpreting the Act in relation to inoculation:

"The first case was that of a licensee who holds a Certificate A (dispensing with anaesthetics) for the inoculation of guinea pigs with tuberculous matter. In his annual return he reported four inoculations (as performed under A.) for which an anaesthetic was administered. It was necessary to take notice of this, because Certificate A is never allowed except for proceedings so slight as to cause no appreciable pain. This gentleman has explained to me that anaesthetics were used because it was necessary to insure perfect tranquility while a minute incision was made in the skin, but that after the recovers from the anaesthetic the animal never afforded any evidence of discomfort. This being the case it is possible that the experiment might have been performed under the license alone, but it clearly could not be allowed under Certificate A, as used in relation to inoculations. The second case was that of a gentleman who holds a license only, and who returned four experiments, which consisted in the attempt (which failed) to give ringworm to four mice by applying the fungus which is the cause of the disease to the backs of the animals by a few bloodless scratches without anaesthetics. It would be cruel, rather than otherwise, to administer an anaesthetic for such a proceeding. No experiment under the license alone, however, can be performed without an anaesthetic, and the licensee held no certificate enabling him to dispense with anaesthetics. It might possibly be contended that such a processing is not an experiment calculated to give pain within the meaning of the Act. This, however, is a question which has to be decided by the licenser and those who sign his application for a license."

Secrets of the Stars.

It was rather an unhappy assertion of Comte in his "Philosophical Positive," when he said that to discover the materials of which the heavenly bodies were made was obviously a problem which lay utterly beyond all possibility of solution, says a writer in The Washington Post. In 1859 Kirchhoff and Bunsen, following the line of reasoning which had been previously suggested by Sir G. G. Stokes, obtained the true interpretation of the Fraunhofer lines in the solar spectrum. In this way they falsified Comte's dictum, by announcing on evidence which cannot be refuted the actual nature of many of the elementary bodies of which the sun was composed.

A striking illustration of these important principles has been given recently. In 1868 Professor Norman Lockyer discovered during an eclipse the presence of a substance in the sun which, being at that time unknown on earth, was named the sun element—helium. For 25 years this element was known only in the heavens. It had been detected in certain stars, and Professor Copeland discovered that it was found in that splendid object, the great nebula in Orion. Quite recently this mysterious helium has, however, been discovered to be also a terrestrial substance. In 1895 Professor Ramsay obtained a gas from a rare mineral named clevite, which is found in Norway. The spectrum of this gas proved it to be identical with that of the helium of the heavens. For 30 years Professor Lockyer has devoted himself to the spectroscopy of the sun with unremitting assiduity. He shares with Jansen the fame of finding a method of observing solar prominences without an eclipse, and he is to be specially congratulated on this last triumph, which will ever associate his name with helium.

Many other astromers have also devoted themselves to the study of the constitution of the sun. I may specially mention the important discovery of Dr. Johnstone Stoney that the luminous clouds which give to the sun its brightness consist of particles of glowing carbon.

A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.

Mr. T. Hazelhurst of Brantford, Uses a Specific Remedy with Great Effect.

Brantford, July 19.—Interest has been revived here, through the published despatches about the Kent case in Ottawa, in the extraordinary recovery from diabetes of Mr. T. Hazelhurst, an esteemed resident of the town. This gentleman suffered very severely from the complaint, losing a great deal of weight, and trying a number of remedies without success. At last when completely run down he determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and in an incredibly short time recovered his health and strength. He attributed his recovery entirely to the use of this valuable remedy and has recommended it in several cases with marked success.

A Green Denim Carpet.

A young housekeeper with more taste than means at her command, recently furnished an apartment according to her own idea and after no hard and fast rules.

"What a unique carpet!" exclaim her friends on entering. "Is it a carpet?" they inquire, after inspecting it longer; "but I never saw one so pretty."

"It is not very costly," explains the hostess. "It's denim."

"Denim! This lovely green! The tone is so good. Did you have it made to order?"

"It is ordinary plain denim that can be bought for 25 cents a yard at most of the dry goods stores. The breadths are sewed together evenly, and it is put down over a carpet lining."

The conversation veers to other topics, but the unobtrusive green expanse underfoot is regarded narrowly, and now and again some question is put as to what made the hostess first think of using it; does it wear well? and so on.

Advice to New Riders and Pointers for all—The Gear Question Discussed—It Increases With the Age of the Owner—Some Judicial Decisions.

Another unicycle has been invented. This one consists of a wheel without spokes, to be ridden from the outside. The rim is in the form of a girder, a forked frame is suspended to the inside of rim by a bearing, through which the rim revolves, the seat and handlebar being attached to a forked frame. A bar across the centre is fixed to the outer edge of the rim on either side, in the centre of said bar is a hole, through which the bearing rod is cranked, and attached to the forked frame at the lower part of the wheel. It is propelled by chain, or other gear by the feet. A guard brake consists of two rods, which are bolted to the frame forks at the top, the lower ends being attached to a small roller, which revolves on the lower quarter of tire, and thereby keeps the frame and forks perpendicular.

Oil is being discarded by a good many riders as a lubricant for bearings because of its tendency to thicken or become rancid and vaseline used in its place. The latter substance is less likely to make wet bearings, and so does not gather dust about them as readily. It also has the advantage of lasting longer. Many riders use it for their chains, but this is a doubtful experiment, as vaseline has the same fault, though in less degree, as the oil, namely, that it produces a sort of emery joint between links when the chain becomes dusty, thereby making the joint work loose, and thus putting the chain out of true.

Half the riders who complain of uncomfortable saddles are victims of ignorance of the correct attitude. They do not use their pedals properly. Almost any decently modelled saddle can be used without discomfort if the rider will put a fair share of his weight on his feet. To do this effectively toe-clips are necessary. It is a mistake to suppose that these useful appliances are dangerous. The feet are disengaged from them mechanically, and the record of accidents fail to show that they have been responsible for any harm.

A judicial decision has recently been rendered at Nantes in France, which is of interest to bicyclists here in view of cases which have occurred to the one it bears on. The decision in question related to a suit brought by the owner of a bicycle against the proprietor of a cafe from which the rider's wheel was stolen while he was in the place. The judge decided for the defendant, on the ground that although the plaintiff had notified a waiter that he had deposited his bicycle in the vestibule whence it was stolen he had not formally consigned it to his care. Moreover, although many visitors of the cafe were in the habit of leaving their bicycles in the vestibule afore mentioned the plaintiff must have been aware that it was open to the street and consequently an unsafe repository for the bicycle, and, finally, the sole duty of the master of such an establishment is to furnish food and drink, and he therefore assumed no responsibility as to the safekeeping of his customers' property unless it was directly committed to his care.

In these midsummer days the bicyclists may greatly profit by the caution which a physician utters as a word of needed warning. He charges the tired wheelman never to take a cold bath; while in that condition the heart may not prove strong enough to exert the necessary reaction, and internal congestion may follow. It certainly would seem as though a tepid bath, at least, would be required to throw off the bodily waste. A rider after a long spin should not indulge in a cold bath, nor should he trust to his own record of his pulse beats. He should wait a long enough time, if adverse to a tepid bath, to recover from his exertion.

The German military authorities are already taking precautions against the cicylists of their future enemies. Althousand large dogs are being carefully trained to fly at, pull off, and otherwise assail cyclists dressed up in various military uniforms. When the dogs make a mistake and assail a friendly uniform they soon find it out, as they are well beaten to teach them proper discernment. The revolver or the magazine rifle will give the dogs a poor chance.

The practice habitually followed by a large number of cyclists of passing other cyclists whom they overtake as close as they can, without giving any warning, should be made a criminal offence. It was responsible the other night for a bad spill in the park, and many accidents are daily caused by it. There is no way of knowing when the rider in front will turn out, or to which side he will turn, but if properly warned he would make room for the cyclist behind to pass on his left. This would prevent many collisions and save much loss of temper on the part of the rider passed. As a rule it is the younger riders who do this thing, but there are some of mature age who are also victims of the habit. A few arrests and subsequent fines might have a healthy effect. Another foolish trick of many cyclists is the passing on the right from the rear when the space between the rider ahead and the curb is very narrow and there is plenty of room on the left. Even when there is plenty of room on the right, care should be taken in passing on this side from the rear. It is a violation of the rules of the road.

Ten thousand chainless wheels will be put on the market next year. A manufacturer who has tested his chainless wheels over 8,000 miles of roads in all sorts and conditions, says the wheels will be of higher gear than the chain wheels and records will be smashed by them galore.

The gear question, like the poor, is always with us. The latest theory advanced is that the most suitable gear in any case depends very much upon the age of the rider, and in support of this an old wheelmen says:

I am just 50 years of age, of average height and weight. Though enthusiastically fond of out-door exercises, my opportunities for taking such have always been very limited and I have never been able to acquire, though I formerly eagerly aspired to it, anything like condition or training. When the safety bicycle came in, having previously for many years ridden the 56-in ordinary, I think I began with a gear of about 60 inches, but when I had turned 40, and could seldom ride oftener than once a week, I found that when I did a fast ride of, say, a couple of hours each way out and home, under favourable conditions, I often suffered afterward from slight palpitation, and my hand would shake perceptibly for a day or two. These symptoms were the more noticeable the more favourable the conditions of my ride. But if I did a similar ride under adverse conditions, say through heavy mud, or against a stiff wind, though the work involved seemed, of course, much harder; these symptoms were generally quite absent. This led me to evolve my theory that gear is largely a matter of age. I reasoned that, with my increasing years, fast pedaling became a great effort and heavy pushing a less one, comparatively, than formerly. Since then I have gradually increased my gear, and have always found advantage, under average riding conditions, in doing so. I have for short periods ridden 72-inch and 76-inch, but for about a year I have been riding 70-inch, until a machine came to me, by the advice of a friend, geared 84-inch. I hesitated much whether to ride it, fearing, from all I had seen in print about gears, that I should find the 84 inch gear very fatiguing for long journeys over hilly routes. A few turns I took on the new machine, however, so charmed me with it that I determined to use it, and chance the necessity, if I were too played out by the ride, of having to return by train. I found it better and easier in every way, and so I say gear depends upon the age of the rider.

TORONTO EXHIBITION.

Canada's Greatest Celebration of the Jubilee Year.

Fully alive to the times the management of the Toronto Exhibition, or as the title runs this year, "Canada's Great Victorian Era Exposition and Industrial Fair," is to be conducted on a scale, from August 30th to September 11th, that will even transcend any former effort made to promote this, the most popular, the most comprehensive and most attractive annual show held on this continent. Already a sufficient number of applications for space and of notifications of entries have been received to warrant the highest expectations. The management have increased the number of medals to be awarded and have made many improvements to the building and grounds, showing that they are resolved to leave nothing undone that will enhance the pleasure and comfort of both patrons and exhibitors. They have also determined on a special feature that promises to prove the greatest outdoor spectacle in the way of entertainment that Toronto or any other city has ever known, outside the world's metropolis itself. This wonderful spectacle will take the form of a reproduction of the wondrous Diamond Jubilee procession in London. Agents are now across the water hiring and buying the necessary property and costumes, which will be an exact replica of the uniforms and costumes worn by the soldiery, the sailors, the nobility and the yeomen of the guard in the magnificent procession. Scenes will also be reproduced of the ceremonies at Buckingham Palace, St. Paul's Cathedral and other places along the line of route. Many interesting specialties will also be introduced, while at night the effect will be heightened and magnified by brilliant illuminations and fireworks. Not only will spectators have brought home to them the grandeur and unity of the empire, but they will be practically taken home to Old England. While dwelling on this grand feature the material aspect of the Exhibition must not be lost sight of, therefore it is well to mention that entries of live stock, and the majority of the departments, close on Saturday, August 7th. Programmes containing all details of the attractions will be issued about the 10th of August. 1d1w

NOVA SCOTIA CROPS.

The Weather During July Has Put Everything in Good Condition.

Halifax, July 30.—B. W. Chipman, Secretary of Agriculture, in a review of the crop prospects in Nova Scotia, issued to-day, says that the fine weather of the present month has promoted vegetation in a most remarkable manner and justifies the hope that the crops of this year, with the exception of the larger and more important fruits, will come up to the standard. The hay crop, which is of prime importance, is an exceptionally large one, and is being harvested in splendid condition. The fruit crop will be the smallest for many years. The apple crop will probably not be more than half what it was last year. Pasturage, taking the province as general, has been excellent, and live stock is in a capital condition.

THE BISPHOTIL RECORD.

Toronto, July 31.

Small scores were in order yesterday in the Eastern League, and the three losing teams only scored one run. That was Scranton's tally against Toronto on the Island diamond, while the Irwinites could only send around a couple.

It was a perfect clean batting game, that resolved itself into a battle between the pitchers. Both Norton and Harper were in fine form, and base hits were hard picking.

ECZEMA TEN YEARS

Suffered Untold Agonies. Limbs Swollen so Could Not Get About.

Ablest Physicians Signally Failed. Was Absolutely Disheartened. Had Lost All Hope.

Gave CUTICURA a Trial Which Resulted in Absolute and Perfect Cure.

For ten years I suffered untold agonies from that dread disease Eczema, my lower limbs most of the time being so swollen and broken out that I could hardly go about. I had to wear slippers so that I could move about at all. My brother, a physician of thirty years' practice and extensive experience, had tried in vain to effect a cure and signally failed. I tried other physicians of splendid ability with like results, and had reached that point where I became absolutely disheartened, and felt that I had lost all hope, when a friend after long and continued persuasion succeeded in inducing me to at least give CUTICURA REMEDIES a trial. I shall never regret that I took it, and until my dying day I shall sing the praises of them. I used two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP and two boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), and it resulted in an absolute and permanent cure. I feel that I owe suffering humanity the debt of at least, in my feeble way, calling their attention to my case and its absolute cure. I am now, I feel, perfectly cured, sound as a dollar, and the sweets of life are still mine, thank God, and to CUTICURA REMEDIES I attribute my almost miraculous cure. I refer all interested to the People of this place, any of the ministers, the different business men, and all of the citizens of our vicinity indiscriminately, and refer them to my friend, John A. B. Shippey, attorney-at-law, who succeeded in persuading me to try CUTICURA REMEDIES a trial. With profound gratitude, I remain your most enthusiastic admirer, DAVID M. SAPP, Plymouth, Ind. HOT FIGHT IN AFRICA

British Victory in the Langeberg District.

THE ENEMY'S POSITION CAPTURED

Rebel Chief and a Lot of His Followers Killed—Reinforcements Arrive at Dargai in India With Plenty of Ammunition—Albanians Making Trouble—Cable News.

Cape Town, Aug. 1.—Serious fighting took place on Friday in the Langeberg district. The British loss was trifling. The enemy's position in the Gamaslep Valley was captured and the rebels fell back in confusion toward Twaiskloof.

A later despatch says the Government troops have captured all the enemy's positions north of Twaiskloof. Among the British losses were Sergt. Hill and Sergt. Mercer, who were killed.

Chief Lukojantjes, who led the rebels, was killed, with many of his followers.

A general surrender of the rebels is expected.

THE OUTBREAK IN INDIA.

Reinforcements With Plenty of Ammunition Have Reached Dargai.

London, July 31.—The India office has received a telegram from Simla saying that word has been received there that Chakdara was attacked by the natives about 2 o'clock p.m. on Thursday and that fighting continued until 8 o'clock a.m. yesterday (Friday.) The English lost five wounded. The native loss is not known, but it is believed to have been heavy.

The Government is also informed that the British force sent to reconnoitre in the direction of Chakdara with a view of pushing through if possible was unable to effect its object.

Reinforcements Arrive at Dargai.

Simla, Aug. 1.—Despatches to the Government show that reinforcements with abundant supplies of ammunition arrived at Dargai at noon to-day.

The march was forced and very rapid, and 19 Sikhs died from sunstroke on the way. Col. Reid, with large reinforcements, has reached Camp Malakand.

Further Details.

Simla, Aug. 1.—In consequence of the rapid spread of the revolt, from 12,000 to 15,000 natives now being under arms, the Government has ordered the reserve brigade to assemble under the command of Col. Wodehouse. The British regiments will await events at Rawalpindi and the native regiments at Mardan. The staff will remain for the time at Nowshera. Fort Chakdara is strong enough to resist any attacks, and it has a good supply of ammunition. The only fear is that the garrison may become exhausted by constant fighting. The tribesmen are sending forward fresh relays continually.

The reconnoitering column yesterday found the enemy in great force blocking the road to Chakdara. During the fighting a hundred of the enemy were killed and the British had fourteen wounded, among them Captain Baldwin, who was severely wounded, and Lieut. Keyes, who received a slight wound.

The enemy followed up the retiring column and attacked the camp in a half-hearted manner, being easily repulsed by the garrison. Gen. Blood, with every available man, will start to-morrow for the relief of Fort Chakdara, and the garrison has been notified of his intention by heliograph. Heavy fighting is expected at Arambama.

FROM LONDON TO PEKIN.

The Canadian Route Will be Distanced if Predictions are Realized.

London, Aug. 1.—The directors of the Siberian Railroad are already figuring upon the timetable from London to Pekin, which will go into effect in July, 1901. The journey will occupy less than 15 days, as follows:

The train, four hours from London, will leave Ostend for Warsaw, distance 1562 kilometres, and will reach the latter place in 19 hours, and at the rate of 80 kilometres, over 49 miles an hour. The distance from Warsaw to Batraki, 2210 kilometres, will be accomplished in 34½ hours, at the rate of 64 kilometres an hour. Russian trains are much slower than those on the west European systems.

From Batraki to Chelybinsk, where the new Siberian line actually commences, the distance is 1127 kilometres, and it will be made in 21 hours, at the further reduced speed of 53 kilometres an hour. From Chelybinsk to Vladivostock, the distance is 6283 kilometres, and it will be made at a mean speed of 42 kilometres, and will take 221 hours. Thus the entire journey of 14,131 kilometres will occupy 296 hours, or 12⅓ days.

The present time is 38 days by the Suez Canal, and 28 days by the Canadian Pacific Railroad. If the 80 kilometre speed on the Ostend Warsaw section could be maintained throughout the journey it might be accomplished in 7½ days.

Making every allowance for the difficulties of high speed across the Siberian steppes, there is a large margin for improvement on the estimated 42 kilometres or 26 miles an hour from Chelybinsk to Vladivostock. From the latter city Pekin will be reached by the Manchurian road.

RESTLESS ALBANIANS.

They Have Been Harassing Servians and Trouble is Probable.

Constantinople, Aug. 1.—The incursions of the Albanians who attacked almost simultaneously seven Servian frontier blockhouses along the stretch of frontier between Madliza and Rashka have led the Servian Government to make a formal protest to the powers, and it is believed that this is part of an organized plan to provoke Servia. The matter is being discussed by the Ambassadors in conference with a view of getting an explanation from Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Word has been received here from Van, the capital of the Vilayet of Van, Armenia, that Armenian revolutionists are preparing to cross the Persian frontier.

WILL KING GEORGE ABDICATE?

The Idea of European Control of Finances Does Not Meet With Favor.

Paris, Aug. 1.—It is rumored that the possible abdication of the King of Greece has inspired the following despatch from Athens: "It is stated on good authority that in the event of a proposal looking to the establishment of foreign control of Grecian finances being adopted by the powers, the King will make a declaration of exceptional gravity."

Will Help Herself.

Berlin, Aug. 1.—The Post says: Russia and Germany having counselled Greece to submit to the conditions imposed by the powers, M. Ralli, the Premier, replied loftily that Greece would never accept the idea of financial control proposed, and that she would help herself.

The Sugar Appeal Allowed.

London, July 31.—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has granted leave to appeal in the case of the Canada Sugar Refining Company v. The Queen.

A large consignment of sugar arrived at the time the tariff was altered, and the dispute is whether the old or the new duties are applicable.

Japan Draws a Million and More.

London, July 31.—Two hundred and fifty thousand pounds in Japanese money was released from the Bank of England to-day. This neutralized any effect of the extra demand for money at the end of the month. I understand that the first portion of the Japanese bonds recently issued here have just been shipped from Japan to London. Coming thus in instalments, it looks as though the four million odd may be removed gradually from the market and not suddenly, but I cannot say definitely.

The Austrian demand for gold is still strong. All arrivals of sovereigns for next Tuesday from Australia have already been bought up.

Natives Slaughter Each Other.

Cairo, Aug. 1.—The Egyptian Intelligence Department has received word of heavy tribal fighting up the Nile between Dervishes and the Jaalins. The Dervishes, under one of the Generals of the Khalifa, defeated the Jaalins in a pitched battle, and occupied Metemmeh on July 1. The losses on both sides were very heavy. The Jaalins are said to have lost 2000 killed.

Portugal Won a Fight.

Lisbon, Aug. 1.—Official despatches from Lourenzo Marquez, South Africa, confirm the reports of recent fighting between the Government troops and rebellious natives in Gazaland. The battle took place on July 21, near Chimbutu, capital of Gazaland. The Governor of Portuguese East Africa, Colonel Albuquerque, with a small Portuguese force routed 7000 rebels. The Portuguese losses were two killed and ten wounded. The natives lost 300.

NO PEACE SIGNED YET.

Tewfik Wants Hand Written Amendments for Everything and Delay Resulted.

Constantinople, Aug. 1.—The peace conference held a three hours' session yesterday, and the result is a further postponement of the actual signature of their preliminaries.

The Ambassadors presented the remaining sections of the draft, including those providing for a limited control of Greek finances and a new article defining the time and method of evacuating Thessaly.

Tewfik Pasha, in turn, true to his well-worn methods of delay, presented a series of amendments to all the articles previously suggested. This will necessitate further discussion.

The Sultan has instituted a new naval commission, with himself as president, to project a scheme for the reconstruction of the Turkish navy, in accordance with modern ideas.

Fresh Trouble Brewing.

Canea Island, off Crete, Aug. 1.—The foreign admirals held a conference on Thursday last, and decided to oppose by force the landing of any additional Turkish troops. In reply to their notification to that effect, Ismail Bey said he could not accept such a decision. It is believed that fresh trouble is brewing.

A CASE OF SMALLPOX.

Causes Considerable Excitement in Toronto.

STEAMER PASSPORT QUARANTINED

Anchored in the Bay Half a Mile From Shore and No Passengers Allowed to Land Dr. Sheard, the Health Officer, Got the Tip from Belleville.

Toronto, Aug. 2

At 10.30 on Saturday night Dr. Sheard received a message from Bel le by telephone, informing him that a man who was suspected of having smallpox had boarded the steamer Passport of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company, bound for Toronto. Instantly the Doctor realized the necessity for prompt action. Not a minute was to be lost. He was at the Island when the message was delivered to him, but in fifteen minutes he was in the city and had commenced making arrangements to stop the steamer before she reached the harbor, and, if necessary, inspect every living soul on board. Assistance was needed at once to complete all arrangements. Professor Shuttleworth was summoned, and in a very short time every official of the Health Department was on the jump. Steam Inspector Hawthorne and an assistant were despatched to the Isolation Hospital to make all necessary arrangements for the reception of a smallpox patient should one be found on the steamer. The next thing to be done was to make every provision to prevent the steamer landing her passengers or in any way making infection possible. Dr. Sheard was determined to take most extreme measures if it was found necessary to do so, but he wisely decided to attain his purpose with the least possible trouble or display of authority.

With some difficulty he located Joseph F. Doran, agent for the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, of whose fleet the Passport is one of the oldest and most popular steamers. Mr. Doran was informed of the circumstances, and to his credit it must be said that he readily consented to give the health officials every assistance.

To secure a tug on which to go out and meet the Passport was the next necessity. Dr. Sheard and Prof. Shuttleworth walked up and down the waterfront for two hours before they secured the kind of boat they wanted. It was Sunday morning and every boat was tied up. At about 4 o'clock, just as the dawn was breaking, the officials spied a tug towing a schooner into the harbor. It proved to be the W. F. McRae, Captain Jackman, with the schooner Keewatin. As soon as she left her tow Dr. Sheard secured her, and accompanied by Mr. Doran, Prof. Shuttleworth, Inspector John Jackman and Ambulance Driver Hague, he proceeded to the eastern channel, there to await the coming of the Passport.

It was just 6.45 when the old side-wheeler turned her nose towards the eastern entrance. There lay the little tug with her party of officials. The signal was given to stop and in a few moments Dr. Sheard had stepped on board and informed the captain of his mission. The sailing master was greatly surprised when informed that he had a smallpox suspect on board. Only one passenger, he said, had got on at Belleville. Dr. Sheard demanded to be shown that passenger, but an inspection showed that he was not the man who was wanted. A general inspection of the passengers and crew was in progress when one of the deck hands remarked that a man was sleeping in the boiler deck forward covered with an old grey coat. Dr. Sheard went forward, and walking up to the sleeping man, removed the overcoat that covered his head. The fellow started up, and looking at Dr. Sheard, he asked:

"Are you a doctor?"

"Yes, I am," replied Dr. Sheard, "and I want you to come along out of here at once."

Smallpox marks covered the unfortunate man's head, and a terrible fever was burning him up. Dr. Sheard ordered one of the life boats to be lowered. The man walked to the side of the steamer and, unassisted, got down the ladder into the boat. Without the slightest signs of fear or reluctance Inspector Jackman and Ambulance Driver Hague had obeyed orders and taken their seats in the life boat. Then R. H. Whitney, for that proved to be the name of the sufferer, seated himself in the stern.

"Now, I want you to row that man across the bay and up the Don to the Isolation Hospital as fast as you can get him there," said Dr. Sheard, and away they went, while the steamer's crew and a few of the passengers who had been awakened stood on the deck, astonishment pictured on their faces. The alacrity with which everything was done surprised them.

Across the bay and up the Don went the life boat. Few citizens saw it, and those who did were unaware of the reasons for that early morning pull up the sluggish waters of the Don. Whitney was a very sick man, but he managed to sit up until the hospital was reached. Here perfect management and arrangements were again in evidence. Everything was in readiness to receive the patient. Dr. Sheuttis, two nurses, a male attendant and a cook were there, and in two or three minutes the smallpox patient was resting comfortably in bed, totally isolated from all but his physician and the nurses, the smallpox hospital being entirely distinct from the main building. He had never set foot in the city except to walk up the hill from the boat to the hospital.

The man's clothes were burned and the lifeboat was sunk.

When notified that the patient was safely in the hospital, Dr. Sheard and Prof. Shuttleworth made arrangements to thoroughly disinfect the whole steamer and her contents and to vaccinate the passengers and crew. The officers of the steamer exhibited a creditable willingness to assist Dr. Sheard in all his efforts. The anchor was dropped in the eastern part of the bay about half a mile east from Ward's, and there she will

A Comfortable Stock.

The soft stock is the newest neckwear. A wide and sometimes padded collar, from two and one-half to three inches wide, with soft ends, that cross at the back and tie in a four-in-hand in front, makes the soft stock. As a rule, this stock matches the material of the bodice, and in some cases is a permanent collar. White satin shirt waists, with white satin soft stock, are very stunning for the semi-tailor girl. These stocks will be shown in piques and ginghams, but in all cases stock and tie are one, of one material. The very latest form of this accessory is black chiffon, knotted well below the neck, after being wound about the throat. Above it at the sides and back, is a lace collar.

Fair Cycling Brigands.

"Tyrolean hats of the brigand shape" are considered by Englishwomen to be the best and most becoming for cycling, and the brims and crowns are often of contrasted color. Canvas hats, too, are very much favored.

Stuff for Heavy Gowns.

The embroidered cloths and cashmeres remain popular for heavy gowns; that is, popular in an exclusive sense, for, as all the work is by hand, the price of these dainty gowns is not a small one.

stay until further orders. During the morning a cargo of disinfectants was sent out, consisting principally of sulphur, carbolic acid and bichloride of mercury. A large quantity of vaccine was also sent out, and Prof. Shuttleworth spent a good part of the day vaccinating the passengers. He used all the vaccine on hand, and more will be sent out to-day. Steam Disinfector Hawthorne assisted the Professor in the work of disinfecting the steamer and her contents. The part of the steamer that Whitney kept himself in was thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, and the whole steamer will be overhauled before she is allowed to leave port.

On board the Passport are 29 passengers, one deck passenger and a crew of 49, making 79 in all. Among the passengers are a number of American tourists and several Torontonians. One or two of them induced the officers of the boat not to give the press their names, fearing that their relatives would be too much shocked and excited if their unenviable position were made known. Their detention in quarantine is, of course, not relished, but they are making the best of their misfortune, and spent the day as comfortably and happily as possible. They had divine service morning and evening, conducted by Rev. Mr. Worrell, who is among the unlucky passengers. In the afternoon Dr. Sheard again visited the steamer, and in response to many anxious enquiries he informed the isolated company that they would have to stay on board until Wednesday morning, when they would probably be taken off and transferred to tents on the sand bar, where they would have to remain for ten days. They accepted the Medical Health Officer's verdict very philosophically, one joker remarking: "That's easy."

The present intention is to complete the disinfection of the steamer by Wednesday and allow her to leave port, while the passengers will be detained for nine or ten days longer.

The man who caused all this trouble is R. H. Whitney. He is about 30 years of age, short, stout and not very prepossessing. As far as can be learned he landed in Montreal on the 27th ult., and got as far as Belleville, when his cash ran out.

WHITNEY AT BELLEVILLE.

He Was There All Day Saturday and the Rash Had Appeared.

Belleville, Aug. 2.—A young man named R. H. Whitney arrived in the city on Friday morning. Yesterday morning he appeared ill, and when in a telegraph office waiting for a reply to a message to his people in Toronto the chief operator noticed a slight rash on his face. Later in the day he was examined by Dr. Tracy, Medical Health Officer, who considered the case suspicious and placed him under surveillance whilst endeavoring to get a suitable place for his detention. In the meantime he received money by telegraph, and almost immediately disappeared. On Dr. Tracy learning that he had boarded the Passport for Toronto he telephoned Dr. Sheard that the case was a suspicious one and to watch the Passport.

Whitney said he came to Montreal from Glasgow by steamer Amaryuthia, arriving July 27, being there two days, and when he arrived here was apparently well.

A CLERGYMAN'S LIFE

Has More Worries than the Public are Aware Of—Nervous Exhaustion the Frequent Outcome.

There is more worry connected with the routine life of the average clergyman than most people imagine. His duties are multifarious, and it is little wonder that he frequently becomes the victim of nervous exhaustion, insomnia, etc. In this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act more speedily upon the nervous system than any other medicine, and promptly restore the user to a normal state of health. Rev. Wm. Clarke, a rising young Methodist minister stationed at Orono, Ont., says:— I have derived great benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I found that when I attempted to study I would become drowsy and could not apply myself to my work. My digestion was very bad, and my nervous system seemed to be out of gear. At first I paid but little attention to the matter, but found myself growing worse. At this time I was stationed at Fort Stewart, Ont., and was boarding at the home of a storekeeper, who advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to do so, and thanks to this medicine I am again restored to good health. Under these circumstances I feel it my duty to say a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapping bearing the full trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

APPROVED AT HOME

Is Britain's Denunciation of the Zollverein Treaty.

FIRST STEP TOWARDS PROTECTION

In What the German Papers Say of the Abrogation—London Papers Head Their Editorials "Our Release From Germany"—New York Tribune Comments.

London, Aug. 1.—The St. James' Gazette of yesterday said: "The denunciation of the treaty is rather interesting as a species of farewell to the generations of what we now know to have been mistaken policy, in obedience to sentiment, masquerading as common sense. We have tried to make all our neighbors friendly. We have pressed our good offices upon them. We have tried with tears in our eyes to convince them that we should be so much happier if we only did more business. To keep them in good humor we have restrained our hands from what we might perfectly well have taken, and have even hurried to make gratuitous promises not to accept good things if they were offered to us. The end of it is that the much courted foreigner is less in love with us than ever.

"No wonder, then, that we hear, undisturbed, of the denunciations of the treaties. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, with a way he has of going to the root of the matter, stated the prevailing opinion among us when he dismissed Mr. Courtney's appeal to the foreigner the other night as absurd, since the judge is always sure to find us guilty. But it is a change when the Chancellor of the Exchequer can say these things and nobody disapproves except Mr. Courtney, who has lived into wicked times when men are falling away from virtue on all sides."

AS SEEN BY AMERICANS.

New York Correspondents All See the Move as a Very Important One.

New York, Aug. 1.—Correspondents of leading morning papers, in their special cable despatches from London, refer copiously to the denunciation of the Belgian and German treaties by Great Britain.

Mr. H. R. Chamberlain, in his despatch to The Sun, says: It is difficult to exaggerate the importance of the action of the British Government in denouncing the existing commercial treaties with Germany and Belgium. It is the first official act toward the execution of the newly new policy of the so-called consolidation of the British Empire. As such it marks a new departure, which will not fail to have far-reaching effects on the world's commerce. Germany sees in it also an official expression of the unfriendliness which has been growing more and more marked between the two nations for nearly two years.

That there will be reprisals and still further embittering of Anglo-German relations is almost a foregone conclusion, and it is impossible to estimate the ultimate effects of Lord Salisbury's action in this direction.

Germany is already attempting to couple the notice of the abrogation of the treaty with Mr. Goschen's announcement of the building of four new battle ships.

It is assumed in Berlin that the British Government has adopted an offensive policy against Germany, and it is presented accordingly.

The chief practical effect of cancelling the treaty will be the lapsing of the most favored nation clause in all the agreements between the two countries. Germany is thus at liberty to engage in an open tariff war against Great Britain if she chooses. The London newspapers believe that little will be done in this direction because the consequences would be worse to the Germans than to the Englishmen. The newspapers of both parties are practically unanimous on this point and also in approval of the denunciation of the treaty. Unfriendly sentiments have been most openly expressed in the German press recently, but now London is reciprocating with interest.

"Our release from Germany" is a typical caption over the London comments to-day.

Mr. Harold Frederic says in his special to The Times: The notion of hitting Germany in any way, especially in a trade way, is too pleasing to the English public not to be immensely popular, and this result of what is here called the Imperial instinct of Canada is welcomed almost with more enthusiasm than the paper gift of an African war vessel.

This triumph of free trade is, of course, an extraordinary victory for Sir Wilfrid Laurier and is the exact fulfilment of a prophecy made by him in the first speech he made in this country. How Germany will meet this thing and what serious form her reprisals will take is quite another matter. Doubtless there will be plenty of angry German press comment, which rather amuses than alarms the people of this country. The power of reprisal on Germany's part is of course strictly limited by the necessary regard to be paid to her interests. Meanwhile it is a very instructive fact that it was from Berlin and not from home official sources that the news was first received in London.

Mr. Isaac N. Ford, in his special to The Tribune, says: To-day's despatches from Berlin and Brussels record Canada's triumph in securing a formal denunciation of the commercial treaties with Germany and Belgium. Mr. Chamberlain seemed so lukewarm on this subject when the colonial premiers conferred with him that this result causes much surprise. The present Ministry is evidently in a mood for trying economic experiments.

It has adopted an exceptional method of encouraging special conditions of trade with Canada, even at the risk of sacrificing the interests of a much larger commerce with Germany, where resentment will be excited and some means of retaliation devised. The total volume of trade between Canada and the United Kingdom is only one-third of the aggregate trade between Great Britain and Germany. Since the Cobden Club has sanctioned this renunciation of the most favored nation treaties the Government have entered upon a policy of encouraging preferential tariffs, and have seized the opportunity for making an important concession to Canada. The most favored nation treaties, which have always been regarded as a logical sequel to free trade, are now doomed, and the fair traders' contention that the tariff could be made a useful lever for opening new markets has been formally approved. The Jubilee was not outside the range of practical politics, after all. The gift of a battleship has been received from Cape Colony, and the commercial treaties with Germany and Belgium have been abandoned. There will be some shrill music by the German bands in Berlin and elsewhere and the tune will not be "God Save the Queen."

The Tribune comments on the action of Great Britain in denouncing the Belgian-German treaties as follows: That means that henceforth the British Empire is to be a commercial unit, distinct from the rest of the world. Great Britain may make whatever bargains she pleases with her colonies, without letting anyone else in under the "most favored nations" clause. For commercial purposes the colonies are no longer separate states. They are members of the one great state, nation, empire. Great Britain may still maintain the part of "Athanasius contra mundum," but it is an Athanasius bestriding the whole world. Commerce with other nations is to be sought, but commerce with the Empire it to be preferred, and whenever the interests of the two clash the former, not the latter, is to be sacrificed. For the sake of increasing trade within the Empire the risk of a tariff war with allll outside is unhesitatingly incurred. Truly the Mother Country might well adopt the motto of Australia and inscribe upon her banners "Advance, Britannia."

ALL EUROPE TALKING

On the Denunciation of the German-Belgian Treaty—French Press Shows Satisfaction.

London, Aug. 2.—The denunciation by Great Britain of the commercial treaties with Belgium and Germany is the chief theme of discussion in the European newspapers.

The Daily Chronicle says: "It is the first triumph of free trade on a great and imperial scale. It is a curious irony of fate that it should be the work of a Ministry permeated by the fallacies of protection."

Discussing the effect of Great Britain's action upon the United States and Germany, The Chronicle expresses the opinion that the former will certainly not be the gainer, while Canada cannot lose by the new condition of affairs, adding, "Nor is it likely that Germany's natural wrath will last long."

Other papers express similar opinions. All are agreed that a great step has been taken which will bring England nothing but gain. It has been a long time since an important act of government has met with such universal approval in Great Britain.

The chief Belgian organs receive the announcement without protest. Belgium annually exports to England £3,000,000 sterling more than she imports. It is not likely, therefore, that the Government will place any obstacles in the way of the proposed new treaty.

The French press displays undisguised satisfaction at the prospect of a tariff war between England and Germany, a conflict from which it cannot but derive some advantage.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c. 50c. and $1.00.

THE FEELING IN GERMANY.

Great Britain's First Step Towards a Protectionist System, Says One Paper.

Berlin, Aug. 1. — The Kreuz Zeitung says that the denunciation of the commercial treaty with the German Zollverein is Grea Britain's first step toward the protectionist system, and adds: "But there is no ground for serious alarm, because she has her carrying trades to protect and retaliation to fear. Moreover, a one-sided preference shown Canada might provoke a conflict with the United STates.

The National Zeitung says that Great Britain is herself the nation most interested in the conclusion of a new treaty, and that Germany maw gain much by skilful, cold-blooded diplomacy.

The Vossische Zeitung says: "So far as Germany's relations to ngland are concerned it is a matter of indifference whether we have a treaty or not."

The Berlinger Tageblatt says: "Great Britain's intention to join the mother country and the colonies in a customs union will not induce her to restrict British trade with Germany any further than is necessary to attain this object."

The Tageblatt, The Vossische Zeitung and The National Zeitung all agree that it is quite out of the question for England to adopt protection.

Officially Announced at Brussels.

Brussels, Aug. 1. The Moniteur officially announces the fact that Great Britain has denounced the commercial treaty with Belgium, but adds that the British Government han intimated its readiness to negotiate a new treaty.

AN OTTAWA LADY

SUBJECT TO VERY SEVERE NERVOUS HEADACHES

Gives an account of her rescue from the constant torture.

Mrs. A. E. Enright, 454 Lisgar street, Ottawa, Ont., spoke as follows to our reporter. "I have for a long time been subject to very severe nervous headaches, and was also affected by general nervous prostration. My rest at night was much broken, and I arose in the morning almost as tired as when I went to bed.

I have taken a number of medicines which did not help me to any great extent. I am thankful to say, however, that I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using them for a few days became very much better.

Now I am free from nervousness; the headaches have disappeared; I sleep well, and arise in the morning refreshed and reinvigorated for the duties of the day. I am better in every way, and think that aside from being the best heart and nerve remedy I ever used, that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as a general systematic tonic excel any other medicine in existence.

President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength.

"I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very good medicine, especially as a blood purifier. It has done me good many times. For several years I suffered greatly with pains of in one eye and about my temples, especially at night when I had been having a hard day of physical and mental labor. I took many remedies, but found help only in Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me of rheumatism, neuralgia and headache. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself a true friend. I also take Hood's Pills to keep my bowels regular, and like the pills very much." ISAAC LEWIS, Sabina, Ohio.

A Wicked Runaway.

What the spectators describe as a "wicked runaway" took place on Hunter street Saturday night. Mr. John Sullivan, of Emily, led his horse by the halter and attached to a top buggy to the watering trough in the Carew House yards to drink, before the bridle was put on. Something startled the animal and away he plunged. He rushed out of the yards through the archway and as he turned west overturned the buggy and dashed up the street diagonally colliding with the Gladstone of Mr. Hugh Bertram, fortunately without doing any serious damage. Caroming on this he rushed across to the opposite side of the street and mounting the sidewalk rebounded from the brick work and again across the street; at Mervin's corner on the sidewalk horse, buggy and all fell in a heap. The buggy was demolished but strange to say the horse was not much hurt and stranger to say though there were many on the street about nine o'clock nobody was injured.

The Best of Them All.

For cheapness, speed, comfort, enjoyment, and seeing something worth seeing, the Foresters excursion on the Civic Holiday easily leads the procession. By the splendid coaches of the C. P. R. the excursionist is whirled on his way to Toronto. Here the splendid steamers, Chicora, Chippewa and Corona are taken for Queenstown, a fine sail across the lake and up the beautiful Niagara to the historic battle ground. Here the electric cars on the Canadian side are taken, and the excursionist skirts the Canadian bank of the river, which, with its magnificent scenery is always in sight, the open cars halting at all points of interest, such as the stupendous whirlpool, the bridges, Victoria Niagara Falls Park, etc. Those who wish can linger at the Falls, where the beauty of the surroundings will take all the time at their disposal. Those wishing to go to Buffalo can take the splendid steamer Columbian to that city. This is only a hint at the attractions of the route. Now for cheapness! Return tickets for the trip are: To Toronto, $1.75; to Niagara Falls, $2.25; to Buffalo, $2.75. Tickets good for three days. Leave Wednesday evening, Aug. 18th, if you like; stay until Saturday midnight. How's that?

A SUMMER IDYL SHATTERED.

The Tramp and the Stone Heap—Men that won't Mend their Low Ways Improving our Highways—The Prisoners at the Jail at work Breaking Stone.

This morning the picnic for the professional tramp and criminal, which a term in the county jail has previously represented, came to a close in a most practical manner. A passer over Court House Hill heard the unaccustomed clickety-click of steel hammers descending on stone. If he or she could have seen through the jail walls they would have seen five sturdy prisoners in charge of Mr. Edward Finney, and clad in the picturesque pantaloons of canar and butternut brown, wielding stone hammers and beginning the work of converting fifty cords of corporation "hard heads" into corporation metal, and for the first time in many a day earning the "skilly" and other comestibles that constitute the menu of the jail.

It will be remembered that on Feburary 1st Mr. J. B. McWilliams introduced a resolution with a view of having the muscle of persons sentenced to jail at hard labour, utilized in breaking stone for the use of our streets. Subsequently a resolution was passed by the County Council endorsing the scheme on condition that the town furnish a man to oversee the work.

Since the resolution was passed there has been a scarcity of persons available but this morning five men were set to work upon the fifty cords of stone that the town had placed in the north gaol yard. These men had been at work about a couple of hours when the Examiner looked in to report progress which is cheerfully done. Before each man lay a tidy heap of broken street metal and all were as deligently working as though their "time" would be worth a dollar at 6 o'clock. But such evidence of industry is not to be regarded as a test of the capacity of work or industry of the striped toilers. It must have been a new experience and a relief to many of them to get into the open air even with the dreaded certainty of work before them. Their zeal will in all probability cool before the day cools and they will need the spur. Indeed one stalwart "road agent" seemed so anxious to do justice to the corporation that he called attention to the inferiority of his hammer, he couldn't do justice to his work and it evidently grieved him to see the city fathers robbed of a fraction of his skill by inferior implements, especially when the elaborate statement he made involved an equally elaborate rest for himself and an excellent opportunity of taking the kinks out of his spine.

Heretofore we have been moving heaven and earth to get rid of the tramp nuisance—but we will not be inhospitable to these gentry any longer. We extend them a cordial welcome—not only a welcome but a stone hammer and a heap of stones—also a bath—and a steaming tin tureen of "skilly." Hard work and plenty of it, "skilly" and a bath. In what more attractive guise could any town garb its hospitality? Come gentle tramp, nomadic vagrant, come.

Large congregations greeted Rev. J. E. Moore at both services yesterday. At the evening service the attendance was unusually large. In the morning his text was found in Ephesians v, 15-16: "See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, redeeming the time because the days are evil." The evening text was from Nehemiah 6 3: "I am doing a great work, so that I cannnot come down; why should the work cease, whilst I leave it and come down to you?" In the evening a very pleasing duet, "The Prayer of the Wanderer," was given in excellent style by Miss Mackenny and Mr. Armstrong. Mr. Moore's excellent sermons are creating a very favourable impression. All who have heard him are well pleased with Ashburnham's new pastor.

SUNDAY ON STONY LAKE.

HOW THE COTTAGERS COMBINE PIETY AND PLEASURE.

Sunday Services at the Pavilion—Camp Fire Services on Otter Island—Notes of the Fishing and Other Items of Interest.

The population of Stony Lake is not all a madding crowd and giddy throng given over entirely to pleasure seeking, fishing, flirtation and keeping cool. They remember in the midst of their holidaying higher responsibilities than gratification of the flesh, as the sacred day of rest comes round.

On Sunday (yesterday) service was conducted in the Pavilion, on Juniper Island, by Rev. Chancellor Burwash, of Victoria University. The assembled worshippers filled the pavilion and overflowed upon the surrounding grounds. The reverend gentleman preached a very thoughtful and highly appreciated sermon. The entire service was exceedingly pleasing. The physical relation of the hearers to the preacher was very gratifying, so that there was no distraction of attention from personal discomfort. The people were so seated that the view upon three sides looked out upon the placid of the lake. The "gathering of the clans" was an interesting sight. Flotillas of canoes with their animated cargo, puffing little steam launches, with their long tows of other and more lazy canoeists. The audience was of a very high average as to intellect, being largely leavened with professional men, ministers, lawyers, doctors of divinity and doctors with drugs, college professors et hoc genus omne, who are seeking at Stony Lake recreation, rest and relaxation from the strain, wear and tear and vexation incident to the conditions of their several vocations. The congregation entered very heartily into the services, particularly the singing, which was quite enthusiastic—the sweet sounds of concerted vocal praise floating out over the waters of the lake — with far-reaching effect. Those who were unable or unwilling to attend the service could be noticed sitting on the shores of the islands catching the strains of song that filtered through the ambient air.

Next Sunday the services at the pavilion will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Lindsay, of Pittsburg, Pa.

Every Sunday evening a delightful camp fire service is conducted under Y. M. C. A. auspices on Mr. Provincial Secretary Cole's Island (Big Otter). The attendance was large last night and Rev. Orr Bennett delivered an excellent address very appropriate to the occasion. The paddle to the island through the beautiful lake gloaming is particularly charming.

A GRAND CONCERT

will be held at the pavillion next week (12th and 13th), the proceeds to be applied to the purchase of an organ for the pavillion. The programme which will be contributed by the amateurs at the lakes will consist of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, readings, etc., etc.

The fishing at the lakes is reported to be first class notwithstanding the high water which is fully two feet above the normal level at this time of the year. This morning two barrels and a large box of fish were shipped at Young's Point for the United States. Local fishermen regret to see these fish sent out of the county, as the process is suggestive of the depletion of the lakes as regards fish.

As the steamer came down Katchewanooka lake this morning several parties were observed fishing and with good success apparently, as several large lunge were held up to the admiring gaze of the passengers as the steamer swept past.

All the boarding houses at the lakes are fully tenanted, but as the occupants come and go the cottages are not filled beyond their capacity. The steamer service is excellent and the free exchange of tickets between the several steamers

GIVES GREAT SATISFCTION.

This morning there was a dense fog on the lakes, and the skill with which the Majestic got through the maze of fog-veiled islands was admirable. Here and there some one fearful of being left raised the alarm by blowing a horn or ringing a dinner bell. This sound was a guide to the pilot. The islands looming up in dim weird shapes through the filmy curtain of fog was a beautiful sight. A large company of Americans or rather Columbians, came down this morning on their way home from the lakes to New York State, while some of them came down merely for the day to do some shopping. The usual number of Peterborough citizens came down in response to the calls of business. These were Messrs. E. B. Edwards, J. A. Cameron, D. W. Dumble, Clarence Dumble, Clarence Bell (of Toronto), Clarence Bell, jr., Thos. Barrie, W. D. Parker, A. McNeil, C. B. McAllister and G. M. Roger.

Daniel McAllister, who has been deputy collector of customs at Cobourg for 20 years, has been notified of his retirement from the service with a superannuation allowance of $225 per year.

Rev. Father Condon, of the order of the Holy Cross, of Paris, France, who is home on a visit to his mother in Peterborough, said the early mass in St. Peter's cathedral yesterday. The many friends of the reverend gentleman in this locality are pleased to see him visiting his old home.

THE RAIN AND THE GRAIN.

The Second Growth too Much of a Good Thing.

The rain that has visited us in such lavish superabundance (according to our way of looking at things) has done more damage than bleaching and blacking hay and flattening standing grain. The continuous wet, conjoined with heat, has caused a damaging growth of cut grain, and to an extent seldom before experienced. A gentleman who visited the vicinity of Roache's Point, Otonabee, on Saturday, reports that he saw with his own eyes wheat grains sprouting in the stook, wheat grains sprouting in sheaves lying on the ground, and wheat grains actually sprouting in the standing ears. This latter is something almost unprecedented. In another township it is reported that peas still attached to the vines yet in the ground are sprouting in the pods. This is a bad state of affairs. Not only has the damage to grains, if this state of affairs is at all general, been enormous, but the damage to hay has been great. The rain that has blackened and bleached it has greatly reduced its selling qualities, and its feeding qualities has been seriously deteriorated. Bleached hay is about as good compared to well-cured, sound, well-housed hay as tea-grounds are to good tea before steeping.

NOTES OF THE RECENT STORM.

On Friday last during the severe thunder storm that passed over this district, Mr. Cornelius O'Connor, ex-Reeve of Ennismore, had a narrow escape. While engaged cutting the harvest his horses took fright at a sharp thunder clap and ran away the full distance across a field. Fortunately Mr. O'Connor, who stuck to his post, managed to guide the horses to a corner of the fence where they were stopped. Further than some injury to the machine, which can be repaired, no other damage was done.

On Friday afternoon Mr. Jas. Duffis, who resides on the farm of Mr. Joseph Redmond, Otonabee, had a strange experience. During the storm a stroke of lightning entered the barn, hitting the south cupola, splitting the main rafter into match wood, and also the upright post between the doors, broke both doors and entered the ground a few feet from where Mr. Duffis was standing. These valuable barns had a narrow escape, and also Mr. Duffis who was considerably dazed by the shock.

THE PILGRIMAGE TO BEAUTIFUL STE. ANNE.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SHRINE AND ITS SURROUNDINGS.

The Peterborough Pilgrimage—Notes of Cures—Impressions of a Visitor.

A member of the recent pilgrimage from Peterborough to Ste. Anne de Beaupre has kindly furnished the EXAMINER with the following interesting account:

Beautiful Ste. Anne! It would take an abler pen than mine to describe the beauties of this sacred spot.

The Peterborough pilgrims who left for the shrine on the morning of July 20th arrived there at 9 o'clock on the morning of the 21st. One cannot but be struck with the beauties of the surroundings. The hand of nature has lavishly bestowed her favours upon this ideal spot. The very atmosphere about the place seems to charm one and immediately one feels as if he had been transported into a quarter where all is holiness and peace.

There was no time lost in making our way to the church, for hardly had we arrived when the beautiful chimes in the Basilica rang out a joyous welcome.

On entering the Basilica the first thing that attracts attention is the two large pyramids of crutches and various surgical appliances that have been left by those who have found relief from their sufferings through the powerful intercession of St. Anne. A number of additions were made to the pyramids during the days the Peterborough pilgrims were at the shrine.

Grand high mass was celebrated for the pilgrims by one of the resident priests, after which the relics were venerated. It was indeed a touching sight to see the blind, the maimed and the halt kneeling at the foot of the shrine, kissing the relic, and imploring good St. Anne to intercede for them, and cure them of their afflictions.

The miraculous statue of St. Anne stands in the centre aisle near the high altar. She is surrounded by a golden sunburst and bears in her arms the infant Virgin. One is immediately struck by the expression of her face, which is one of mingled sweetness and compassion. The statue stands upon a pedestal, the base of which is encircled with crutches, bandages, etc., left by those who have been cured.

In the afternoon Benediction was sung in the church and an eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. Father Grogan (Redemptorist) Toronto, after which the clergy blessed the beads, scapulars, rosaries and other emblems of devotion.

After the services in the Basilica the pilgrims visit the other places of worship, especially the old church. With this church rests the history of St. Anne de Beaupre. A very pretty tradition relates that about the year 1610 some sailors of Breton, whilst sailing on the River St. Lawrence were caught in a terrible storm. As was their practice in their youth, they immediately implored their patroness, St. Anne, to save them, promising, if their prayer was heard, to build a church in her honour wherever they should land. When morning came they touched the shore at what is now St. Anne de Beaupre ("beaupre" meaning beautiful meadow) erected a wooden chapel, which has since made the shrine famous throught the world.

In 1658, however, the second chapel was erected. In 1878 it was pulled down as it threatened to fall into ruin. The material was used and the present chapel built, which contains the same old furniture, and old steeple and bell of the chapel of 1658.

Another building of great interest is the Scala Santa, situated some distance up the hill from the Basilica, and reached by wide flights of steps on each side. On entering the door one faces the sacred stairs, in which are set

STONES FROM THE HILL OF CALVARY.

No one ever ascends these excepting on their knees, reciting at the same time some suitable prayer, and kissing each step as they go. In this building are noticed lifesize figures representing sorrowful scenes in the life of our Blessed Lord—scenes so realistic that pilgrims could be seen standing before them, weeping as they meditated on the sufferings of our Lord. To the left of the entrance can be noticed our Lord receiving the cup from the angel. On the right Judas can be noticed in the act of imprinting the infamous kiss on the face of Jesus. At the top of the stairs to the right Christ is being flagellated at the pillar, and on the left he can be seen on his march to Calvary, and before him kneels Veronica. Descending to the lower chapel one witnesses the Crucifixion, with the Blessed Virgin and St. John. On the right a Mater Dolorosa, Mary, holding our Lord in her arms, with a look of inexpressible sadness on her countenance. On the left, and beneath the altar, our blessed Lord is asleep in death. Above this is represented the resurrection, and Mary Magdalene is noticed among the group with the vessel containing spices. Near her is the risen Saviour with His right hand extended towards heaven, and his left resting on a spade. One never forgets a visit to this building.

Further up the hill is the beautiful convent of the Franciscians, where a number from Peterborough stayed while on the pilgrimage. The scene from the convent balcony is indeed a beautiful one.

Outside the Basilica and surrounding the church are stalls where beads, medals, rosaries, scapulars, etc., can be purchased. Whilst the pilgrims from Peterborough were at the shrine, several other pilgrimages arrived by boat and train. Several hundred members of the Epworth League also visited the shrine on their way home from the convention, and the good Redemptiorist Fathers took them in charge and showed everything of interest. One cannot help but notice the different religious orders represented at St. Anne's. Members of the Jesuit Order, Redemptorists, Oblat Fathers Sulpicians, etc., mingle with the pilgrims, together with the sweet faced Sisters of St. Joseph, Sisters of Mercy, Dominican and Franciscan nuns. On Thursday evening, July 22nd, the pilgrims had the honour of assisting in a ceremony, which has only taken place twice since the shrine was established. Hundreds of pilgrims with lighted tapers ascended the winding path up the mountain, the ceremony being called Via Crucis, (the Way of the Cross). Prayers were recited and suitable psalms chanted, after which an instructive sermon was delivered. The scene from the village street was a grand one, and the eloquent preacher's words seemed to echo down the mountain side as they were carried to those below.

Now a word or two about the village of St. Anne de Beaupre. The village consists of one street which winds up the mountain, and on both sides are situated the pretty white cottages of the villagers and the large hotels for the accommodation of the pilgrims. These hotels differ in many respects from those in Ontario. No liquor is sold in the village, whatever, and it is as scarce here as serpents are in the Green Isle. A long pier projects from the railway landing into the St. Lawrence, and a walk out on this will give one an opportunity of taking in the grandeur of the surroundings. But if one wishes to drink in the beauties and charms of this delightful spot, he must climb the mountain. The writer, accompanied by a young friend, made the ascent Thursday afternoon, and was obliged to rest before reaching the top. We were amply repaid for our labour however, as the scene before us

WAS INDESCRIBABLY GRAND.

The village of St. Anne and the towers of the Basilica had disappeared from view. Below us lay the mighty river St. Lawrence, winding its way to the sea, itself at this point only a lesser sea, encircling the Isle of Orleans, which is said to be fully thirty miles long and divided into seven parishes. This pretty island is dotted with farms, and here and there could be seen the white houses of the farmers. In certain places, however, it was densely wooded, and the growth appeared from where we stood to be nothing more than fields of velvety green. Far in the distance could be noticed the smoke of an ocean liner. To the left of where we stood stretched the Ste. Anne Mountains, a branch of the Laurentian range, covered with a dense growth of forest. These hills, which pierce the clouds, seemed only a few hundreds of yards away, but imagine our surprise when a French habitant informed us they were several miles from where we stood. The view is one of surpassing beauty, and a never-ending panorama of the beauties of nature. On a clear day one can see the glittering roofs of Quebec city, twenty-one miles distant.

The bells in the Basilica tower rang out for Benediction, and we were obliged to quit this lovely spot and make our way down the mountain.

The Peterborough pilgrims who happened to visit the Basilica in the evening, witnessed a sight far more impressive and more lasting in its nature than the scenery surrounding Ste. Anne de Beaupre. Little Liza McManus, of 80 Argyle street, Toronto, was present in the church all day, praying at the shrine of Ste. Anne and asking her intercession that she be cured of her affliction. The left side of her body had been paralyzed for ten or twelve years, and she had to be assisted to the high altar to venerate the relic. Shortly before nine o'clock, whilst praying before the the high altar, the young girl suddenly raised her left arm and opened the palm of her hand, an act which she had not been able to perform since infancy. There was no cry of joy from the young girl's lips, but the expression on her innocent young face spoke volumes. It was a picture of extreme happiness. Mrs. McManus, who was present with her child, was overjoyed at the cure effected, and with that fervour and sincerity which characterizes the faith of the Irish people, turned to the altar and thanked Almighty God for His favours, and asking Heaven's blessings on all present. Many of those present were visibly affected, and after prayers of thanksgiving had been said, Miss McManus was accompanied to the hotel by her friends. Next morning at 5.30 she attended high mass in the Basilica, and walked with apparent ease through the village street. This is only one of the many cures which took place during the week.

It would take a volume to describe the beautiful Basilica and everything connected with it. This magnificent structure was opened for public worship in 1876, and took the place of the old chapel which, as stated above, still stands on the side of the mountain. The erection of the Basilica was rendered necessary owing to the increasing number of pilgrims that visited the shrine of St. Anne. The edifice is of Corinthian architecture and measures two hundred feet in length with a height of fifty-six feet interiorly, by one hundred and five feet in breadth. The towers are one hundred and sixty-eight feet high. In the facade there are three entrance doors, in the Doric style, flanked by fluted columns with pediments. The whole is surmounted by a colossal statue in carved wood, copper gilt, measuring fourteen feet in height. This statue is the work of a Belgian sculptor. On entering one is struck with the

GRANDEUR AND RICHNESS OF THE INTERIOR.

The decorations are religious in character. In the sanctuary are three beautiful marble altars. The main altar is a ciborium (semi-circular). On the right is the altar of our Lady of Perpetual Succor, on the left that of the Sacred Heart. These altars are surrounded by costly paintings of a religious character. The vaulted ceilings are of azure blue, studded with gold stars of various dimensions. The ceiling is a masterpiece of art. Sixteen magnificent Corinthian columns support the roof. These are painted so as to represent different coloured marble. Leading from the church on each side are lateral chapels, sixteen in number, each of which communicates with the church as well as with one another. They are dedicated to different saints. Over the entrance to the Basilica is the choir loft. A magnigcent new organ has recently been placed in at a cost of $7,000. The music rendered by the choir is the plain or Gregorian chant, such classical compositions as Mozart's or Millard's masses never being used. This chant is certainly the proper music, as it is devotional in its character. I am unable to describe the beautiful paintings in the interior of the church and their history. They must be seen in order to get an idea of their grandeur.

Mixing up with the villagers one cannot help but notice the piety and reverence of the French Canadians. Everywhere evidences of contentment and happiness are noticed, and no trouble seems to cross their path or to rob them of the smile that beams over their faces. The boys and girls, too, are polite and intelligent looking, and their modest bearing and courteous manners, as well as their respect and reverence for everything sacred, clearly demonstrate the result of careful training.

The saddest feature, however, in connection with the pilgrimage was our bidding good-bye to Ste. Anne de Beaupre. We all felt that we could live in this favoured spot forever, and it was with considerable reluctance that we boarded the train which took us from a spot where all was peace and happiness to mingle with the humdrum and confusion of everyday life. Ste. Anne de Beaupre is truly a spot where

The calm of holy life and joy hovers on wings of peace,
And bids the turmoil of the world, its strife and discord cease.

THE TERRIBLE TENT CATERPILLAR.

A Second Crop Making its Unwelcome Appearance.

On an elm tree on Park street this morning a colony of tent caterpillars were busy completing the destruction of the leaves of an elm. Those who thought we were rid of this pest for the season are doomed to disappointment, according to this. The rain must have brought a second crop. If our trees are to be saved something should be done, and the majority of our trees being on the streets, and, therefore, in the custody of the town, it is the duty of the corporation authorities to take action—and now is the time—not after the trees are destroyed. The EXAMINER recently pointed out the importance of destroying the cocoons into which the caterpillar transferred itself, but so far has no knowledge that a single coccoon, which represents a batch of about 500 caterpillars, has been destroyed. The ravages of the caterpillars, if they should begin now, will have worse effects than earlier in the season. The trees then stripped of their leaves, have apparently recovered and put forth fresh foliage. But a tree now stripped of its leaves will not have sap enough to repeat the process of leafing—leaving the ranks of growing trees will be about all the leaving it can do.

The Great Attraction This Week.

Gough Bros'. hurricane sale of summer clothing, hats, boots, gloves and furnishings for men, youths and boys will doubtless prove a great attraction this week. A shrinkage of $10,500 on the prices covered by their whole stocks in both stores since last week should be inducement enough to bring crowds to their counters. The prices represent their great reductions in summer stocks, including that portion of the clothing left over from their great sale of the E. A. Small & Co.'s mammoth purchase in Montreal. Everything that cannot be carried over is to be got rid of. The goods cannot be marked any lower, and in order to have the benefit of a fairly good selection they advise all to call early to get the pick of the choicest. The changed prices will probably clear out all the summer goods in about a couple of weeks. dtf

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices:—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 15; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 59; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 per every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

PRINCE EDWARD OF YORK.

The Surest of the Direct Heirs to the British Throne.

This young gentleman is in the direct line of succession to the English throne. Nothing but his own death or the establishment of a republic can prevent his wearing the crown of his country. The crown of England descends to the nearest heir of the last wearer, be that heir male or female. Daughters are, of course, postponed to sons. There are certain personages in the succession to the throne who would obviously, from motives of public policy, never be allowed to ascend it—for instance, the German Emperor. But foreign nationality does not, of itself, vitiate their right. Parliament could, and in the case of the throne passing to a foreign sovereign undoubtedly would, bar the claim—save, perhaps, in the case of the Duke of Coburg. Here are the names of the first thirty persons in the order of their succession as it now stands: 1. Prince of Wales; 2, Duke of York; 3, Prince Edward of York; 4, Prince Albert of York; 5, Duke of York's infant daughter; 6, Duchess of Fife; 7, Lady Alexandra Duff; 8, Lady Maud Duff; 9, Princess Victoria of Wales; 10, Charles of Denmark; 11, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha; 12, Hereditary Prince of Saxe-Coburg; 13, Crown Princess of Roumania; 14, Prince Carol of Roumania; 15, Princess Elizabeth, of Roumania; 16, Grand Duchess of Hesse; 17, Princess Elizabeth, of Hesse; 18, Hereditary Princess of Hohenlohe-Langenburg; 19, Infant daughter of the Princess of Hohenlohe-Langenburg; 20, Princess Beatrice of Saxe-Coburg; 21, Duke of Connaught; 22, Prince Arthur of Connaught; 23, Princess Margaret, of Connaught; 24, Princess Victoria Patricia of Connaught 25, Duke of Albany; 26, Princess Alice of Albany, 27, ex-Empress Frederick of Germany; 28, German Emperor; 29, Crown Prince of Prussia; 30, Princess Eitel Fritz of Prussia.

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local-application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness.

Baby Bonnets.

Baby bonnets are almost too pretty and dainty to wear. Fancy a baby's rosebud face peeping out from a frame of frilled white muslin caught up here and there by little bunches of pale pink rosebuds and knots of forget-me-nots. Such a bonnet is displayed in one of the shops that devotes a large department to the wear of little folks. Another delightful bonnet is a mixture of straw and satin. The principal part of the bonnet is formed by a piece of broad white satin ribbon. On either side of this is a band of crumpled, coarse, yellow straw. The front is framed in a frill of white chiffon, while the flat piece in the back is of white satin, encircled by the yellow straw. A frill of white chiffon to fall over the neck and strings of white mull complete this very Frenchy little bonnet. Blue and pink mull trimmed with loops of gauze ribbon are very pretty and one beautiful bonnet is of white silk, covered with point d'esprit and adorned with white satin loops and bouquets of pink rosebuds.

FRANK AND MANLY.

Col. Fred Grant Resigns His Position Because He is Opposed to Duplicity in Collecting Evidence.

New York, July 30.—Col. Fred Grant to-day gave out a statement in part as follows:

"I have forwarded to Mayor Strong my resignation as Police Commissioner. I will not recede one step by acquiescing in the methods of obtaining evidence against disorderly houses, which the majority of the board favor and have decided upon. I believe firmly that the methods must eventually make sneaks and liars of men, who, to be proper guardians of the life and property of our citizens, should be trained to do only what is honorable and upright. Believing this I placed before the Board of Police on July 23, the resolution which my three colleagues voted down on July 28.

I will not approve bills for services of policemen when those bills tell plainly of degradation and debasement and give such a disgusting array of details as to prove that the existing system should be made impossible. My colleagues say that the present methods of gaining evidence have always been used. That is true, and the result has been much corruption on the force. Commissioner Moss says that there is blackmailing going on now by officers in citizens' clothes. This indicates no abatement of evils. These present methods, therefore, must be deemed ineffective, and I believe that a change should be made and more decent methods adopted. I decline to be a member of the board as an obstructionist, neither will I remain as a dissenting minority when methods are enforced to which I am conscientiously opposed."

TORONTO MARKETS.

On the live stock market yesterday there arrived 55 car loads of stock, composed of 1050 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 75 calves and 1200 hogs. This is not counting the 14 cars reported on Thursday or any part of them. The general tone of the market was a little more likely, but we cannot say that there was any advance in prices whatever. Some of the dealers had space engaged on the boats that had to be filled, and this made some difference in the export trade. The market was a little stronger, and the bulk of exporters were sold at $4.25 to $4.50 per cwt.

Messrs. Yapp and Hanley of Brantford sold two cars of exporters to Mr. Fronsden, 40 cattle in all, averaging 1230 lbs., at a trifle over $4.40 per cwt. D. O. Leary sold to James Eakins one load of export heifers, weighing 1200 lbs. each, for $4.35 per cwt.

Good butcher cattle sold from $3.50 to $3.75, and they had to be choice. Common butchers ranged from $2.50 to $3.00 per cwt. William Levack bought a large number of butchers ranging from $2.75 to $4.25.

W. H. Stacey, Chatham, sold 28 head butchers' cattle, 4 cows and 24 heifers, to William McLennan for $3.40 per cwt. A. W. Maybee, 23 butchers, averaging 1090 lbs. each, at $3.35 each. S. Halligan bought six car loads butchers for Montreal, ranging from $3.00 to $3.40 per cwt. Charles Rose of Essex sold his butcher cattle, 9 cows, heifers and steers, weighing 1000 lbs. each, at $3.40 per cwt.

A good business was done stockers and light feeders and the demand seems to be increasing. A. W. Maybee was buying light feeders for points in Western Ontario; for 22 of these, weighing 900 lbs. each, he paid $3.00 per cwt.

George Robinson, Orangeville, sold to A. Ruck one car load of young steers (light feeders), weighing 700 lbs. each., at $3.00 per cwt.

Mr. Crealock bought 30 stockers for the Chicago market, weighing 600 lbs each, paying from $2.75 to $2.85 per cwt. T. Holden, York County, sold one car of stockers, weighing 647 lbs. each, to Mr. Lunness at $2.95 per cwt. J. McDonald sold 9 light feeders, weighing 900 lbs. each, to P. Campbell, for $3.00 per cwt.

Bulls were scarce and quotations remain the same. Milk cows—The market remains about the same; 15 were offered for sale and brought from $20 to $35 each.

Of sheep there was a fair supply and all were sold at $3 per cwt. for export ewes and $2.50 per cwt. for bucks.

Calves were more plentiful and sold at $3 each for common, to $6 for good; and one extra good brought $8.

Hog market remains firm at $6 for the best. Some more of the Essex corn-fed hogs were on the market, but this kind is reported a good deal lower than those fed on peas and barley.

LAVIS CAUGHT IN TORONTO.

The Alleged Montreal Absconder Picked Up on King Street Last Night by Detective Davis.

Toronto, July 31.

William I. Lavis, the alleged Montreal absconder, was arrested by Detective Davis on King-street west last night.

Lavis was formerly a produce merchant in Morrisburg, but of late has been in the employ of Langlois & Co., commission merchants, of Montreal. It was reported in a despatch to The World from Morrisburg yesterday that he was missing, and that $2000, drawn by means of a letter of credit from the Langlois Company upon the Merchants' Bank at Morrisburg, and a draft for $1000 on the firm through the Union Bank at Winchester or Smith's Falls, were missing with him. Another suspicious circumstance was his statement that he had been robbed some months ago of $1400.

J. Frank Karah, Chief of the Montreal Secret Service Department, notified the police here last night. Detective Davis was put on the case, and arrested his man. Lavis is a clean-shaven, ruddy complexioned man of about 38 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighing 150 pounds. He will be taken to Montreal to-night.

ANOTHER MOWAT VICTORY.

It Looks as If the Province Possessed the Right to Appoint Queen's Counsel.

Toronto, July 31.

It looks as though the province was a winner in the case before the Privy Council regarding the dispute as to jurisdiction of provinces and Federal Government in the appointment of Queen's counsel. The following cablegram was received by the Attorney-General yesterday:

Queen's counsel case. Dominion counsel heard. Provincial counsel not called. S. V. Blake.

The arguments submitted by the Dominion counsel have apparently sufficed to disprove their case.

It will be remembered that some time ago the Supreme Court of Canada decided that the Federal authorities had power to appoint gownsmen to their own courts. It is possible that the Privy Council may reverse this decision and deprive the Dominion Government of such powers entirely.

Mounted Police May Shoot.

Ottawa, July 28.—An order has been passed which will allow the Northwest Mounted Police to compete in the D.R.A. matches this year. It will be the first time they have ever taken part, and it is likely a contingent of 15 or 20 will come to the city to compete.

"O woman! lovely woman! nature made thee to temper man; we had been brutes without you." Woman more than merits all the good things that have been said of her by the wits and poets of all times. When man lauds woman and her charms and virtues, he has in his mind's eye an ideal. That ideal is always a healthy woman. No man makes pretty speeches and witty toasts about woman, with the picture in his mind of a weak, sickly, nervous woman, tortured by pain, and suffering from depression and despondency. It is in the power of every woman to be some man's ideal if she will but build up and guard her womanly health.

The best of known remedies for all forms of disease peculiar to women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It works directly on but one set of organs in a woman's body. It allays and eradicates pain. It soothes inflammation. It invigorates and purifies. It restores complete health to the organs distinctly feminine and banishes weakness, depression and despondency. It is the discovery of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalid's Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. If you wish to know more about it write to him.

"This is to tell you," writes Sister Eliza L. de Falcon, of Corpus Christi, Nueces Co., Texas, "that I had been ill for twenty-one years and was finally cured by your medicines, the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription.'"

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines.

HOW TONY KEPT THE BAKERY.

"I 'clar to goodness I'se mos' afraid to leab dat Tony to min' de bakery, fo' he's de keerlessest chile! Sat'day night, too, an' all de beans to bake, an' my ole man can't never git home till twelb o'clock. But de jedge done send an' say can't had no dinner party widout Aunt Lucy to serve up de dinner. So I mus' go. Tony, now 'member which end you's on, an' don't let nuffin happen to de money drawer, nor de beans, nor Patra, by yo' keerlessness!"

Tony stood on his woolly head with delight when the door closed on his mother. He felt very proud of being left to "min' de bakery." But he was very soon obliged to reverse his position and attend to business, for people were beginning to come with their bean pots. Everybody in the neighborhood sent their Sunday beans to be baked in Aunt Lucy Crumples' great brick oven.

Aunt Lucy was a famous cook. She had been the cook at Judge Carlisle's, in the next town, until she married Peter Crumples, the barber. Peter did a flourishing business, but Aunt Lucy could not be happy unless she was cooking. So she set up a bakery, which was patronized by both rich and poor, for her goods were of a delectable flavor, and she was so neat that one might eat off her floors.

Tony was of great use in the establishment. He was strong and willing, and his mother had already discovered in him a genius for cooking, but his carelessness was a great drawback.

Tony lamented it, but didn't seem able to help it.

"I d neber git cured ob bein' keerless, till my wool done come straight, fo' sure!" he always said.

People began to come in with their bean pots, as I said. The great oven was heating slowly. It took a long time for it to get hot. Tony put the first installment of bean pots into it.

"Here, Patra, you done climb in dar an' poke de pots way back. I reckon dere's gwine to be heaps ob pots to-night," he said.

Patra, a small morsel of humanity, with her wool tied up into little knobs with red ribbons, obeyed. She thought it was great fun to climb into the big oven, which was not yet hot enough to burn her. She arranged the pots carefully and was in no hurry to come out.

Tony was preparing their own pots of beans, for they sold beans Sunday mornings. Tinkle! tinkle! went the bell of the shop door, and he hurried out.

As he went by the oven he shut the door. That oven would never get hot with the door open. He had quite forgotten Patra!

Patra screamed with all her small might. It was dark, suffocating, horrible, in the oven! Moreover, it was growing very warm.

She kicked frantically at the door, but it was impossible to open it from the inside.

Meanwhile Tony, who had gone into the shop and shut the door behind him, was putting on very grand airs of proprietorship to Billy McGrath, who had come to buy a cent's worth of yeast and two cents' worth of gingerbread.

"What's that noise?" asked Billy suddenly. "It sounds kind of queer and far-off, as if it was in the walls."

"Nuffin but rats," replied Tony. "Beans jest in time, sar," he continued to a customer who had just come in. "Dat ovah is gittin' fearful hot. More beans! See 'em come in now. Yo'd know what it was to have yo' hands full of business if yo' was me, Billy McGrat)."

The counter was covered with bean pots.

"Now, I'se gwine to shove dem in de oven," said Tony to himself, Billy McGrath having departed, manfully concealing his envy, and there being a lull in the rush of custom. "I wonder whar dat Patra is? Patra, chile, what mischief is yo' in? Patra!"

No answer. Silence in the great baking-room, except for the roaring of the fire.

An awful recollection flashed upon Tony.

"De good lan'! Dat chile neber done come out ob de oven! An' I shet de do'. An' den noises dat I reckon was rats was Patra a-kickin' an' screamin'. An' hear dat fire roarin'! Neber was sich a fire as I built under dat oven dis night! Patra done burnt up!"

Tony's black face actually turned pale, and all his strength left him. But at length he forced himself to open the oven door.

There was a smell of burning leather. Tony drew forth one little shoe. Was it all that was left of Patra? No, there was a knot of red ribbon, with a bit of wool caught in it, the wool scorched and crumbling to ashes in his fingers as he drew it out.

These relics brought a rush of tears from Tony's eyes; but tears could not lighten his weight of woe.

"'Pears like I'se dreamin' a mos' orful dream," he murmured.

Ting-a-ling! went the shop door, and Tony started up.

"Yo's gwine to be hung, Tony Crumples, as su' as yo' born!" he said to himself.

He hid the little shoe and the ribbon, and hurried as fast as his trembling limbs would let him into the shop.

There was a customer with a bean pot, and behind him came the "Posson Amos," a colored preacher, who lived next door.

"I jist drap in to see how yo' is gittin' 'long, boy," said Posson Amos, kindly. "Yo' must take good care ob yo' charge, an' put yo' trus' in de Lord!"

That sounded very solemn. Posson Amos probably observed his guilty looks and his trembling, thought Tony. And he kept sniffing as if he smelled something burning.

"But he would'n't 'spect de Lord to have nuffin to do wif me if he knew 'bout Patra," reasoned Tony to himself.

Then he bethought himself that he must put the beans into the oven, and wait upon the customers as if nothing had happened. It was terrible to go near that oven, but "it won't bring Patra back, nor be no consolation to puppy and mammy if I'se hung," thought Tony.

At ten o'clock he shut up the shop, as he had been directed to do, and went to bed, but there was no sleep for him.

What should he say when his mother asked him, as soon as she came home in the morning: "Whar Patra?"

"I 'clar' to goodness I'll hab to run away!" decided Tony, after he had tossed upon his sleepless bed until after midnight.

He opened the skylight—his room was in the top story—and looked out. The roof was flat, and he could easily climb down to the little ell, and so to the ground. As he was taking a survey, the skylight of the next house in the block—Posson Amos'—was lifted, and a small, white-robed figure appeared from it, and came toward him. It had a little, black face, shaded by a white nightcap.

Tony screamed with terror, and tried to close the skylight over his head, but it had become fastened in some way and wouldn't shut.

"Tony! Tony!" called a plaintive voice.

And the white-robed figure proceeded to wriggle itself in through the skylight.

"Patra, is it yo' ghos'?" demanded Tony, with chattering teeth.

"Don' know nuffin 'bout ghoses!" responded the small figure with decision. "I'se cole an' scared in Mis' Amos' big bed, an' I cry an' cry. Den I hear yo' ope' yo' winder, an' I done come home."

"Patra, how come yo' dar?" asked Tony.

"Mis' Amos done come in de back way an' pull me out ob de oven, an' her take me home to scare yo', so yo' neber be keerless no mo'."

Tony hugged and kissed Patra—an attenion so unusual that it surprised her not a little, and carried her down in his arms to her little bed beside "Mammy's."

"Pappy" had come in at 12 o'clock, and was snoring loudly, and did not wake.

"Yo' is a good boy, Tony, if yo' is keerless," Patra drowsily said, as he left her. "But I done los' my shoe and my ribbin, an' I neber gwine to fix de beans no mo'."

Tony made a call at Posson Amos' very early the next morning.

"I reck'n yo' is gwine to tell pappy an' mammy 'bout Patra?" he said, very gloomily.

"Tony Crumples, is yo' cured ob keerlessness?" asked Mrs. Amos, severely.

"I is, an' as yo' born!" answered Tony, solemnly.

"Den so long as I neber hear no mo' ob yo' keerless doin's, I ain't gwine to tell how yo' baked Patra long ob de beans."—Golden Days.

"I can't take that half dollar, madam. It's a counterfeit."

"Why, I got it here yesterday morning."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes, sir. I bought a pair of shoes for $3.50. I handed you a $5 bill. You gave me a dollar bill and this half dollar in change. There can't be any mistake about it. I haven't had any other 50-cent piece in my possession since."

"Let me look at it again. Hm—the coin's all right. It looks a little suspicious, but on closer examination I find it's only a little battered. I'll take it."

"O, I beg your pardon! Now that I think of it, I didn't get it here at all. A fruit peddler gave it to me in change this morning when I bought some berries of him. I had forgotten it, so it doesn't make any——"

"Hm—on looking at it still closer, ma'am, I find my first impression was correct. It's a counterfeit and a bad one. I shall have to refuse it, ma'am."—Chicago Tribune.

"DOING UP" CHERRIES, ETC.

A Way that is Said to Preserve the Natural Flavour.

The following is given by the Kingston News as a good way of doing up cherries and other fruits. Do not stone them, but fill your jars with the raw fruit to within one-fourth of the top; put the jars down in a boiler of cold water, and after they come to the boil let them cook for fifteen minutes. Have a hot syrup made, the proportions are half a pound of sugar to one pound of fruit, and to every pound and a half of sugar add one pint of water. Let this boil until it is clear, and when the fruit has cooked for fifteen minutes, pour in the boiling syrup to the top of the jars, and seal them tightly. After they are cold screw the covers more tightly still, if they have become loose. The recipe is simple and not much trouble, and preserves the fresh flavour of the fruit admirably. The same method will do any fruit, but it makes peaches and gages particularly nice.

Men's Tweed and Worsted Pants, in all wool, good top and hip pocket, regular price $3.00 to $3.00, Grafton & Co's Summer Clearing Sale Price $1.50.

WESTWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The excursion under the auspices of the Good Templars was up to the most sanguine expectations. The day was all that could be desired, the refreshing breeze making everyone enjoy the sail and through the kindliness of Capt. Harris and crew the excursionists were made to feel at home. The beauty of Idyl Wyld was completely in the background owing to the fact that this was the place to fill any hungry vacancies. After satisfaction had been guaranteed the Beaver steamed to Bewdley, where a most exciting football match was played. The result 2—1, in favour of Westwood, showed that Bewdley team were no local men. It has been the toughest match of the season, but our boys seemed to have weathered it so well as to come out on the top. Returning, the boat called at the principal points of interest and reached Birdsall's in good time, giving ample compensation to every one.

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by the Doctors in the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

OTTAWA, July 26th.—It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent of this city with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills has definitely decided the objection as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine, and has been been accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no question raised to the statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

Wrong Heart Action.

Wrong action of the heart causes nervousness, nervous dyspepsia, shortness of breath and other distressing symptoms. Mr. Samuel Yelland, of London, Ont., was cured of these troubles by taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. Yelland says: "They are a remarkable medicine, and I have not been troubled in the least since taking them."

Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, colds, and all throat and lung troubles. Price 25 and 50c.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. John Brown, who taught school here a number of years ago, is registered, with Mr. A. Smith, at the Carleton House.

Miss Kate Leonard, of Peterborough, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. P. A. Kearney.

Mr. William Pope is visiting his cousins here.

The Rev. Father Scanlan, of Peterborough, passed through here this week en route to Chandos.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Farley, of New York, and Miss Farley, are registered at South Beach.

The following guests are registered at Mr. J. Kearney's hotel: Miss Alice Byrne, Mrs. J. T. Young, Miss Lillie Young, Mr. Chas. Young, Mr. George Young, of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stetson, of Tolnesta, Pennsylvania; Mr. G. W. Herr, Mr. A. Petersberger, Mr. Fred Farber, Mr. Richard Salter, of Rochester, N.Y.

The Rev. Mr. Hartley, formerly of the English church here, passed through the village after spending a week at Stony Lake.

The recent rain has done a great deal of harm to the farms in this neighbourhood. The hay is damaged considerably. The roots are an excellent crop around here.

Mr. W. J. Young, Miss Maggie Young, Miss Jennie Kearney, Mr. Lawrence Fanning, Miss Mary Fanning and Mr. Harry Kearney have returned home from the excursion to St. Anne de Beaupre, Quebec.

Mr. Andrew Wilson, who was very ill last week, has, we are pleased to say, recovered and resumed duties in the cheese factory.

Mr. Harry Andrews visited the Point one day this week. He is spending his vacation at Stony Lake.

Mr. Jacob Cummings is dangerously ill. We hope he will soon recover.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk Railway System, sailed from England last Saturday for New York, and is expected in Montreal to-morrow.

A Toronto paper says that for some time past the freight traffic on the G.T.R. has has been falling off, and the officials attach a good deal of blame to some parties who are going around among the freight shippers using the argument that the Grand Trunk are discharging Canadian employees and engaging Americans. The officials deny this, and say that men are only discharged where business will not warrant their being kept.

A Banker's Experience.

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affection of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dawson, of the Standard Bank, now of 14 Melbourne Avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

LACROSSE.

Markham, Ont., July 31—An immense crowd saw the lacrosse match at Stouffville to-day petween Stouffville and Markham teams, for the York district championship. Stouffville were the winners by a score of 4 to 2, after one of the hardest-fought games of the season.

Markham is expected to play here as soon as the above district championship is settled.

A full turn-out of players is requested to-night.

The Berlin-Waterloo team cross sticks with the Tecumsehs on Toronto Island to-day. The result will be waited with interest.

The juniors would like to arrange a game with Norwood, Millbrook or Campbellford.

Regarding a statement in THE EXAMINER respecting Port Hope's failure to answer respecting a match at the C.P.R. picnic, Havelock, and the counter proposal of a match for $200 a side in Toronto, the Port Hope Times says:—

"The Times has made inquiries into the statements and has been informed that the Port Hope club is quite willing to play Peterborough in Toronto for $200 a side, but will not play in Havelock for the reason that they do not expect fair treatment from the Peterborough team at that place. They are anxious, however, to meet them on such neutral ground as Toronto, where cutting and slashing could not be carried on to the same extent as at Havelock. They have written to this effect to the C. P. R. agent at Havelock, but have not replied to Secretary Terrill, of the Peterborough club, nor do they intend taking any notice of any communications they may receive from him. They say that they would not mind what any of the newspapers of that place may have said about them so long as their remarks did not emanate from an official of the club; but when the secretary, in his capacity as a newspaper reporter, has gone out of the way to villify them and misrepresent them in the manner which has been done by Mr. Terrill, they do not feel like having any communication with him whatever. If any other officer or member of the club will write to the Port Hope club, in an authorized capacity, they will be pleased to respond.

[There are various ways of showing the white feather, but the subterfuge implied in the excuse presented by the Times is a knothole of the smallest kind. The secretary of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club as an official never wrote or had printed a line in regard to Port Hope, and as to what appeared in the EXAMINER in criticism of the Port Hope team and its style, it is endorsed by every member and backer of the local club, the members especially who have not yet outlived the physical reminders of rough play presented them at Port Hope. The Peterboroughs have only one official whose duty it is to conduct the club's correspondence. As regards the proposed Toronto match for $200 a side in Toronto the secretary has been instructed it is said to arrange the game. As regards Port Hope's unwillingness the communicate with the present secretary, the latter is satisfactory to the Peterborough club and there is no intention to appoint a secretary-extraordinary to meet the very refined and sensitive feelings of the Port Hopers.

A CONSTABLE TALKS.

Like Ordinary Mortals Subject to Kidney Disease but Easily Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

STAYNER, (Special), Aug. 2.—Mr. James K. Nesbitt, a county constable of this place, having suffered for a long time with kidney disease, he became aware that the doctors called it diabetes and incurable. As he had the good fortune to know that many cases of this disease had been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills this news did not startle him. He says he went straight to Sander's drug store, and commenced to get well on the first box purchased. Now he is going the usual rounds praising Dodd's Kidney Pills to every one who asks the particulars of his recovery.

Cancer can be Cured.

For six years I suffered from cancer, and got no relief until I used Burdock Blood Bitters. I used seven bottles faithfully, when the cancer gradually dried up and finally disappeared. I am now entirely well and rejoice that by using B. B. B. I have escaped death either from the surgeon's knife or from the cancer itself.

WHERE THE SHOE PINCHES.

Wearing Shoes does not afford much pleasure to people who buy the factory made kind. How can it be otherwise? All feet are not alike, any more than all faces. Unless made to your measure, they pinch your toes, press your favourite corn, squeeze the ingrowing toe nail, inflame the heels, and make your feet sweat, swell and ache.

CAREY'S SHOES don't do that—they fit your feet, give you everlasting comfort, make walking easy and cost less. They are not stamped on the soles, but stamps don't improve the fit or wear.

POWER OF MONEY FETCHES THEM

It is Said They Helped the Matabeles Against Britain—The Slippery Turk—Marquis of Salisbury's Remarks to the Lords—Relief of Chakdara—Cable News.

London, Aug. 2.—The correspondent of The Daily Telegraph at Johannesburg says: "Grave charges are being formulated against the Boers. The first is that of supplying the Matabele, before and after the Jameson raid, with large quantities of guns and ammunition bearing the stamp of the Transvaal Government. The second charge is that several high Boer officials, while the Reformers were in prison, accepted large sums of money, aggregating £35,000, from the Reform Committee or from friends of its members.

THE SLIPPERY TEWFIK.

He Wiggles So Much That Another Ultimatum May be Necessary.

Constantinople, Aug. 2.—From present indications the powers will be compelled to send another ultimatum to Turkey. When Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Minister for Foreign Affairs, presented a series of amendments to all the articles of the peace treaty previously suggested, the action came as a surprise to the Ambassadors, and is regarded as meaning a delay of two or three weeks in the signing of the preliminaries of peace.

Paris, Aug. 2.—A special despatch received here from Constantinople says the Ambassadors are determined to maintain the wording of their draft of the treaty of peace without any change.

LORD SALISBURY SPEAKS.

The British Prime Minister Explains the Situation to the Peers.

London, Aug. 2.—The Marquis of Salisbury, replying in the House of Lords to-day to the Liberal leader, the Earl of Kimberley, as to the state of the peace negotiations between Greece and Turkey, said it was no wonder the patience of many people was sorely tried by the delay. Lord Salisbury explained that the territory conquered by the Turkish army was one assigned to Greece by international arrangement, and therefore the powers' voice in regard to its disposal was recognized by the Sultan. The latter was right in demanding security against incursions such as those which brought about the present war. It was also reasonable to hold that the Greek communities should not be placed under Turkish rule. The Premier further asserted that Her Majesty's Minister believed these questions had been settled, and that Turkey had accepted the frontier line traced by the military attaches of the Embassies of the powers.

Speaking of the indemnity to be paid to Turkey by Greece the Premier said: "There comes in the mysterious and difficult question of the German bondholders. We do not think that any international duty lies on Europe to provide for their payment, though I admit they have been long unpaid."

Lord Salisbury further said: "The credit of Greece in the European market will for a long time be exceedingly small, and some form of control of Greek sources of revenue is inevitable. I cannot say that negotiations in that direction have advanced very far, and I must admit that the question may be a source of very considerable delay."

With reference to Crete, His Lordship said there was no use for the powers to attempt to arrange a form of Government until the more important controversy had been adjusted. The present attitude of Crete seemed to be favorable to an agreement, so far as the Christians were concerned, but the two creeds were no nearer than they had been for many centuries.

"The only solution," he said, "seems to be to dig a ditch across the island with the Christians on one side and the Moslems on the other. Our earnest object is to arrange what has been promised, taking care to be just to both sections. We are not inclined to admit, merely because the Mussulmans are in the minority, that their interests are to be neglected."

Lord Salisbury said he fully agreed with Lord Kimberly that Crete was in a dangerous position. The element of danger, however, did not arise, he insisted, because the island was mixed up in the affairs of the Ottoman Empire, but rather from the terrible division among the creeds, a division which might yet require a power greater than all the sovereigns of Europe to banish.

CHAKDARA RELIEVED.

British Force Under General Blood Saved Them From the Natives.

Bombay, Aug. 2.—Fort Chakdara, in the Chitral district, which was besieged by a large force of insurgent natives, has been relieved by the British force under General Blood. The fighting was severe and the tribesmen lost heavily. The loss of the British was light. No further details have yet reached here.

Later in the day some details received showed that the relief forces under General Blood advanced in two columns, commanded respectively by Colonels Goldney and Meiklejohn, at dawn today, and brilliantly attacked and routed the enemy surrounding the fort.

The Report Confirmed.

London, Aug. 2.—The Secretary of State for India, Lord George Hamilton, confirmed, in the House of Commons today, the despatches announcing the relief of Fort Chakdara, in the Chitral district. The garrison of the fort is safe.

SIR WILFRID IN PARIS.

He Predicts a Large Development of Trade Between Canada and France.

Paris, Aug. 2.—M. Cochery, the French Minister of Finance, presided at a banquet given this evening in honor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Lady Laurier. Among the guests were M. Fabre, the Canadian agent, ex-Mayor Beaugrand of Montreal and the rector of the University of Quebec.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, responding to a toast of his health, referred to Great Britain's denunciation of the commercial treaties with Germany and Belgium, which, he said, was at Canada's request, and he predicted an enormous development of trade between Canada and France.

DEATH ENDED HIS PAIN.

Roswell McLean, Aged Six Years, Received Fatal Injuries From His Father's Team Running Away.

Shelburne, Ont., Aug. 2.—A very sad accident occurred here this morning a few minutes after 7 o'clock, in which Roswell McLean, the 6-year-old son of Mrs. John Coleman, lost his life. Mr. Coleman, the deceased boy's step-father, left the little fellow in company with other children in charge of a spirited team of carriage horses attached to a light wagon while he turned to get something he had left in the stable. While Coleman was out of sight the horses suddenly started down the lane with two boys, Roswell and one of his elder brothers, in the wagon. The elder brother jumped out, but Roswell remained in the wagon with the reins, until the corner of Victoria street was reached, where in rounding the corner the wagon turned over, tossing Roswell against a post and severely fracturing his skull. The horses reached Main-street, but were captured without much more damage. The injured lad lived but a short time, when death put a welcome end to his severe pain. The little fellow was a general favorite, and much sympathy is felt for his disheartened mother.

Toronto Best Capitals.

Toronto, Aug. 3.

About 1500 spectators saw Toronto whitewash Tommy Crown's Capital aggregation on the Rosedale grounds yesterday afternoon, and, judging from their game, the Ottawa players had fallen asleep or some one must have bought up the whole team.

After the first game was scored they were never very dangerous, as Toronto outplayed them at every point. Captain Crown's excuse for the slump was that there were four juniors on the team, but the said juniors showed up as well as any of the other fellows.

Biblical Advice.

A man had been up for an examination in scripture, had failed utterly, and the relations between him and the examiner had become somewhat strained. The latter asked him if there were any text in the whole Bible he could quote. He pondered, and then repeated: "And Jesus went out and hanged himself." "Is there any other verse you know in the Bible?" the examiner asked. "Yes, 'Go thou, and do likewise.'" There was a solemn pause, and the proceedings terminated.—Argonaut.

Artificial Almonds.

"Gentlemen," who have just returned to England from the United States start many queer stories of life in Yankeeland. One of them says, according to a British paper, "that the latest Yankee craze is artificial almonds. They are made from turnips and covered with a coating of gelatine. When roasted they are stated to be indistinguishable from the genuine.

GOING TO KLONDIKE

Canadian Gold Hunters Start From Toronto.

SUPPLIES FOR A YEAR PURCHASED.

They Start for Dawson City in the Interest of Syndicates in Guelph and Oshawa Good Work of the Mounted Police in the Yukon Country.

Toronto, Aug. 3.

Three hardy Canadians were last night registered at the Walker House who are leaving this morning for the Klondike gold fields. They are M. D. Campbell and James Finnie, Oshawa, and E. A. Tucker, Guelph. These pucky Canadians take the Hudson Bay route, believing that they will get through sooner this way than by any other route, for the reason that large numbers are going by the other routes. They take a year's supplies with them, much of which they have purchased in this city; the balance, such as furs, etc., they will procure in Winnipeg.

Messrs. Campbell and Finnie go as representatives of an Oshawa syndicate, while Mr. Tucker represents Guelph capitalists. They will proceed direct to Dawson City, and upon arrival there will then decide as to their future movements.

Inspector Strickland of the Northwest Mounted Police, from the Yukon district, accompanied by his wife, are guests at the Queen's Hotel. Mr. Strickland said he had nothing new to add to the news already published in The World, except that half the wealth of the Yukon district is not yet known to the world.

NOTHING BUT KLONDIKE.

The People of Seattle, Wash., Think About and Talk About Nothing Else Nowadays.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 2.—There is a place in Canada called the Klondike. While you are in Seattle you are not allowed to forget this fact for a moment. The name is shouted at you on the street corners and spelled in every conceivable way. It confronts you in all the show windows. From the moment you land in town you are classed as one of the gold seekers. The question is not "Are you going?" but "What boat are you leaving on?"

The people of Seattle, in their friendly way, are doing all they can to help you along. You will need many things in that remote and inhospitable country. They have thought it all out for you in advance. Even while you were in St. Paul or Chicago or Muskegon they have been lying awake nights planning for your comfort and relicitation. They knew you would want warm clothes and good things to eat. They provided in advance all these things in abundance, and they went a good deal further. They thought of a thousand things that you will need and that you alone would never have dreamed of. For instance, how can a man hope to succeed in that frozen country without a frost-extractor or a miner's prospecting auger? You will need, all told, a half-dozen guide books and if you are credulous you will buy maps of the Yukon that give one another the lie at every turn of the great river. You will need shirts a half-inch thick and boots that weigh fifteen pounds apiece, and here are all these things by a happy forethought already provided.

You will need horses. Who would think of venturing into the country without horses? You will need four or five. Some apparently disinterested people intimate that the best kind of horse to take is a dirt-colored cayuse, with plenty of white in his eye, that has just been caught up off the range. This kind of horse can pick up his living anywhere. But I am sorry to note that there are conflicting opinions in regard to horses. Some will tell you to buy a good, reliable, gentle horse. That is the main thing—a gentle horse. You don't want, they say, to spend a lot of money for an unbroken plug that will run away and jump off a precipice and kill his fool self. You want one that is already broken. It doesn't matter how old he is or even if he has a few odd lumps distributed over him. Nobody looks at style up in Alaska, and at the worst you can get for your horse, they tell you, 15 cents a pound for dog meat. There are people, it is true, who say you want to leave horses alone and take dogs. Dogs don't cost much for their transportation and they can forage their own living. And then to own a dog or a team of them in Alaska gives a man a standing in the camp that nothing else can. They say any kind of dog will do whether he is old or young, big or little. You couldn't miss it much by buying live dogs in bulk, by the pound. They will all be worth the money when you once get them to Alaska.

The greatest demand for any particular thing is for boats. People, to save time in getting down the river, should take their boats with them. A half-dozen carpenters or planing mill establishments have caught the idea and are working night and day turning out knockdown boats. One that will carry a ton coats about $18 and weighs about 200 pounds. It is taken apart with no pieces more than six or seven feet long and packed for shipping. The demand is so good for these boats that the builders are several days behind with their orders. The principal objection to them is that the Indians and packers dislike to contract to carry them over the mountains on account of their awkward shape. One builder has now worked out a model for a galvanized iron boat that can be carried in sections fitting together like a "nest" of custard dishes, and can be put together with small bolts. As a suggestion to those coming from the east, I would say that a canvas folding boat that will carry two tons and is constructed on good lines would be very available for the Yukon. A

A GOOD YUKON POLICY.

The Ottawa Government are taking commendably energetic measures to extend Governmental supervision and administration over the Yukon district. A provision road is to be constructed at once, a telegraph line run into the country, and customs and police arrangements made sufficient for immediate needs. A royalty is to be exacted upon all present claims, and—what is probably the best feature of the Government's policy—in regard to all future claims staked out, every alternate claim is to be retained as the property of the Government and reserved for public purposes, to be either sold or worked by the Government for the benefit of the revenue of Canada.

This is, remarks the Montreal Herald, certainly a most advanced policy. That it is a common-sense one and a proper policy will not be questioned by the several taxpayers of the country. While governments have been devising new means of raising taxation and of filling their treasuries, none has ever before adopted the rational policy of retaining and working for the public benefit, mineral deposits which may be discovered within its territory. A royalty has been the furthest, in this direction, that has been gone. As to the mines and mineral deposits themselves, they have been free to be grabbed up by every adventurous individual who might happen to run across them, and the utmost that a rich mining district has done has been to make a score or so of millionaires, without otherwise adding to the general wealth.

In this case, as in the case of the reservation of coal lands in British Columbia, in connection with the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, the Government at Ottawa have put into practical effect principles which, whether they be called socialistic or not, are calculated to secure to the whole community a share of those sources of public wealth which in the past have benefitted only individuals. Judging from the vigour and sagacity with which the Government have so far dealt with the new needs of the Yukon district, the people of Canada may be assured that a large share of the profit from the situation of the mines on Canadian soil will be reaped by the Canadian public.

SIR WILFRID'S VICTORY.

The Montreal Star, Conservative, says:—The denunciation by the Imperial Government of the Belgian and German commercial treaties is the greatest achievement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's political career. This is the first time that a British colony has successfully asserted its right to a voice in a matter of great Imperial concern and few Canadians of either political stripe will feel disposed to belittle Sir Wilfrid's victory.

HISTORY FOR U. S. CONSUMPTION.

The Ottawa Journal thus deals with the falsification of history by our Yankee cousins:—

The Gorge Railway Company, whose road runs on the American side at Niagara Falls, publishes a guide book which tells of the battle of Queenston Heights thus:

"Queenston Heights, as seen across the river, and marked by a noble monument erected by Canada to the brave English officer, Gen. Brock, was the scene of a noted battle, in which the American forces fought against tremendous odds, and fought desperately. The Americans crossed the river under the guidance of Asahel Sage, a pilot and guide, early on the morning of Oct. 13, 1812. The British, under Gen. Brock, attacked them and he was killed."

The account is a sample of the way history is written for United States consumption. The American forces fought bravely at Queenston, but they sustained one of the most crushing defeats in the history of the war. The story of the battle in brief was that 600 American troops crossed the Niagara river in boats at night to surprise less than 300 British and Canadians. They made a gallant attack which at first was successful, and in the firing General Brock was killed, about 2 o'clock in the morning. The British temporarily retired, more Americans crossed until twelve hundred or so reached Queenston. About 7 o'clock, the British being reinforced to the number of 800, attacked the heights again, and in an hour every man of the American force was killed, wounded or captured. The British took 960 prisoners, and the American loss in killed and wounded was about 300. The total loss on the British side during the night was 16 killed and 60 wounded.

Of course a guide book is not an affidavit but it ought really not to ignore appropriate facts.

ONTARIO CHEESE BOARDS.

Monetary Times.

The offerings of cheese at Ontario board meetings are well maintained. We have received reports from sixteen boards at which 25,323 boxes were offered as compared with 33,000 boxes boarded at eighteen meetings a week ago. The decreased movement is no more than would be expected from the advancing season and unfavourable weather. Prices were steady and firm, ranging between 7⅞ to 8⅛ cents per pound, with the majority of transactions at a fraction over 8 cents. Exports from Montreal for the week ending July 24th were 73,908 boxes as compared with 66,252 boxes for the corresponding week last year. We append our usual table:

THAT SMALLPOX CASE

Which Caused Such a Stir in Toronto on Sunday Night—No New Developments as Yet.

Toronto, Aug. 3:—The smallpox scare of Sunday has almost petered out. The developments of yesterday were almost nil. Some physicians asserted that Whitney had not smallpox at all, but Medical Health Officer Sheard affirms most positively that the man is sugering from that disease. The patient remains in about the same condition, and the citizens in general are not by any means panic-stricken. The steamer Passport still lies at anchor in the bay, and the unfortunate passengers are making themselves as comfortable as possible. There was a great deal of talk about the case yesterday among the citizens, and the prompt action of the Health authorities was endorsed. Close investigation shows that Whitney contracted the disease in Glasgow, and not in Montreal.

After a Severe Cold.

Undoubtedly the Best.

GENTLEMEN,—I wish to say that Dr. Fowlers Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. GOING TO KLONDIKE.

keel, mast and some additional bracing could be added after reaching the interior.

It is not known here whether one can buy lumber for boat building at the head of Lake Bennett or not, but it is assumed that the rush has exhausted the supply, and the late comers unprovided with boats would have to saw their own lumber. The Skagaway, or White Pass, now being opened for horses, nearly all the people are turning that way. Lake Linderman, Lake Bennett or Lake Jakisk may be reached by this route, at from twenty-four to thirty-one miles. As many as 100 horses are either on the way to Skagaway or will be started within a week. This number will relieve the accumulation of freight at both passes within a week or two. Packers who are taking horses will be able to earn the entire cost of their animals in ten days. One man who shipped thirty horses on the Edith for Skagaway last night had eight or ten tons of freight contracted at 15 cents a pound. It is assumed, however, that the packers' harvest will not be of long duration. With the coming of snow, which will permit of using sleds most of the distance across the pass, prices should go down to 2 or 3 cents a pound. But this condition of things can hardly come about until the river shall be frozen and the season shall be too late to reach the mines before spring.

SERVES THE YANKEES RIGHT.

Charge Them the Last Cent at the Klondike—This is Just the Way They Treat Canadians.

New York, Aug. 2.—A special to The Sun from San Francisco says: "The British consul here has notified steamship agents that Canadian Custom Houses will be established in the mountain passes to the Klondike and duties collected on clothing and supplies to the miners. It is predicted here that if the Dominion Government persists in its efforts to fleece Americans at the mines on every possible pretext it will have a small sized insurrection on its hands before the winter is over."

THE N. W. MOUNTED POLICE

The Fellows Who Patrol the Alaskan Border Have Eyes Equal to an X Rays Apparatus.

New York Press: Of all the hard, tough work to be done in the Klondike region the Canadian Mounted Police will have the hardest and the toughest; but they are used to that, and no one who has seen them will doubt that better men could not be found.

There is a boundary line of 2000 miles long to patrol, besides innumerable mining camps to watch over, where the men who have staked out claims have failed to comply with the requirements of the mining law and are daily growing angrier over rumors that tremendous taxes are soon to be imposed upon them.

There are increasing numbers of Indians, too, who are gathering near the white settlements, attracted by the opportunity of large wages for little work and the chance to beg, steal and perhaps get drunk. The combination of Indian and fire water is disapproved emphatically by the Canadian Government, and for years the most difficult work that the Mounted Police have attended to has been trying to keep whiskey out of the country. They cannot well prevent it reaching the mining camps. Indeed, at Forty Mile saloons have flourished for the last ten years; but an Indian must not be served in one of these, nor may prospectors carry more than an emergency flask with them when out for mineral. The mounted policeman has a keen eye, with an X-ray attachment that can detect whiskey inside of anything, from a watermelon to a sealed tomato can, and as soon as he discovers it cut it pours on to the ground.

There is so far but one company along the Alaska boundary, but in view of the Klondike developments several new companies may be mustered in. The distance to be patrolled makes it impossible to inspect a place more than twice in a season, and it gives in many instances tremendous stretches for a single man to travel and to report upon. Not only are the distances enormous, but the changes in climate are great. A party starting out on an inspection tour may ride for days with the thermometer at 105 or 110 degrees, and on the way back have to endure a temperature of 40 degrees below, or, as has happened, 60 degrees below. It rains, too, along the coast for months at a time. So with dust and heat and sleet and rain the elements do all that is possible to make the riders earn their pay.

The Mounted Police owe their beginning to the late Sir John Macdonald. They first appeared in Manitoba in 1873, and have been growing ever since. There is not in the world a finer body of horsemen nor another organization that has kept order over such wide territory with so few in numbers. They are of the best blood, too, not excepting the crack London or Berlin regiments. Indeed, many of the men have served with distinction in the British army in many parts of the world, as their decorations bear witness. Many of them are of gentle birth, and some have legal right to handles to their names, though they never mention it while in service.

GOLD FEVER IN SCOTLAND.

Emigration Agents Doing Their Best to Check the Rush on Account of the Lateness of the Season.

London, Aug. 2. The Glasgow emigration agents are inundated with letters of inquiry on the subject of the Klondike gold fields, but in all cases they do their best to dissuade the writers from starting on account of the lateness of the season.

Party Going From Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 2. (Special.)—"On to the Klondike" is still the watchword, and Messrs. R. H. Pope, M.P., A. L. White & Co. and others here are sending out a party of three experienced prospectors, who take a canoe carrying two tons, and supplies sufficient to last the trio about two years. They leave to-morrow, and will go by Edmonton, Athabasca Landing and the Mackenzie River. They purpose wintering at Fort MacPherson, and will go over the mountains to Klondike, a distance of 200 miles, as soon as spring opens. The little party is headed by an old California miner, who has also been in the Yukon.

Working for Business.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 2.—The Northern Transportation & Trading Company have let a contract to Moran Bros. of Seattle for the immediate construction of three new river steamers, to ply on the Yukon River from St. Michael to Dawson City, and for a tug to be used in the vicinity of St. Michael. The same company acknowledge that it would bring three steamships around the Horn from the Atlantic coast this winter to Seattle and use them on the run to St. Michael.

Arrived From the Yukon.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 2.—The steamer Alki arrived in port yesterday. She brought four hundred passengers from Juneau, Sitka and Fort Wrangle. Her cargo was light. Her officers report having left a large colony at Dyea, all the members of which were in the best of health and spirits. The steamer brought no information from the interior. Juneau is fast becoming depopulated. Stocks of goods have been so reduced by the purchases of those leaving for up the Yukon that it would be difficult to secure an outfit.

Started for Alaska.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Under orders issued by acting Secretary of War Meiklejohn, Captain P. H. Ray and Lieut. Richardson, Eighth Infantry, have started from Fort Russell, Wyoming, for Alaska. Their orders are to go as far as Circle City at least, and make as much of an investigation of the conditions of the gold fields as the short time remaining of this season will permit. Upon the report by Captain Ray will depend the action of the War Department in the matter of establishing a post and a military force in the vicinity of the gold fields.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

An Ideal Spelling Course.

First, as to oral and written, column and sentence spelling. I shall say only this, that the wise teacher will acquaint herself with as many methods and devices as possible, and change from one to the other, in order to relieve the tedium and to meet the needs of individual children. Before all, she will beware of running off at a tangent with any particular method, because none yet discovered has proved a panacea. Second, under no circumstances should more than fifteen minutes daily be devoted to the subject. Whatever benefit the pupils receive from their lessons in spelling will be obtained during this period. Third, I would recommend that the words be carefully graded, not only in regard to orthographical difficulties, but in accordance with the vocabulary of the child as well. In this way the course in spelling might become as systematic as in other subjects. Fourth, precedence should be given to common words, while technical and unusual words should be taught incidentally. By excluding words of the latter classes, the course would be materially abridged, and the chances of producing good practical spellers proportionately increased. Fifth, the course should be further abridged by excluding words that contain no catch, i.e., words which naturally spell themselves. My researches on this point would indicate that more than half the common words belong to this category, and consequently need not be studied. The ideal ground to be covered in spelling would be represented, therefore, by a carefully graded list of the common words most liable to be misspelled. The number of words in this list, according to my estimate, would be between six and seven thousand.—Dr. J. M. Rice, in The Forum.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world employ exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that but disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Here the spinal cord, which is the connecting of these nerve centres with the [illegible] together.

There is the first principle. The treatment with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organs which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

The Oddfellows' excursion to Rochester on Civic Holiday, Aug. 19th, is one of the prettiest tripe an excursionist can take. The sail across the lake at this season of the year is delightful. A Deserving Case.

A woman with two little boys applied to the Children's Aid Society yesterday for some help towards paying the board of the boys whilst she was at service. The most she could earn was not sufficient to do this, and as it was a most deserving case the society, though very low in funds, strained a point to help her. There are many applications where a little help is all that is wanted, and it is a pity that there is not more money at the disposal of this or some other society for the purpose.

A Run for Life.

A correspondent writes: When the Grand Central 'bus left the yard yesterday to meet the morning train, one of the highly-bred black Spanish hens thought the time suitable for a run and started in hot pursuit of the horses. When opposite the market Mrs. Hen decided to take the street car track. Just then No. 3 car came along, and evidently there was a difference of opinion as to right of way, and after a long run the sprinting fowl resigned its claim, and as she left her dangerous route, all the spectators drew a sigh of relief.

The Visit of the Wanderers.

Sixteen of the jovial members of the Wanderers Bicycle club, Toronto, went home by the early train this morning after a pleasant three days in town and vicinity. They came down on their wheels from Port Hope on Saturday, and spent Sunday at Chemong, enjoying the many delights that this charming spot affords. Yesterday they spent the day on the lakes and at Bobcaygeon, returning in the evening, which was spent in town with the boys, the local bicyclists showing them the hearty hospitality that Peterborough sportsmen are far-famed for extending to visitors. The Wanderers returned highly pleased with their run to town.

A Gruesome Holiday.

Mr. Winslow, teller of the Traders Bank, Port Hope, was a passenger on the steamer Passport with a smallpox case on board. He left on the steamer for his holidays, and he is now spending them on board a steamer that has been fumigated and disinfected, and is detained and will be detained, beyond the period of his holidays, in Toronto Harbour. If everybody was vaccinated as soon as he or she came into the world, there would not be need for such rigid precautions. In that event smallpox would soon become as unknown disease—in fact smallpox would have to be cultivated to permit of the preparation of vaccine.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING.

Gallant Deed of Percy Graham and Harold Lovekin.

The Otonabee has claimed more victims of indiscretion or misfortune than perhaps any stream of its size in the country. Yesterday it came very nearly claiming another and would have succeeded but for the heroism of two lads, who, at great risk, plunged in to the rescue of a companion.

The names of the two rescuers are Percy Graham, son of Mr. James Graham, of 116 Dublin street, and Harold Lovekin, grandson of Mrs. Ann Graham, 547 Water street. It appears that the third boy, aged about nine years, mistook the depth of water on the outside of the boom below the Electric Power Co's. house at the Dickson dam, on the town side, and as he could not swim he sank at once and ran the risk of being carried away by the current of the river. Percy Graham ran out along the boom but failed to catch him as he came up and at once plunged in after him. As the drowning boy seized his rescuer tightly about the neck as drowning people do, young Graham was unable to raise him and they both sank. Seeing that one, if not both, would be drowned young Lovekin came along the pier and jumped in. By repeated divings on the part of both boys the rescue was accomplished after an exceedingly close shave. The unselfish gallantry of these two boys, Graham being about 11, and Lovekin about 13 years of age, deserves the utmost praise, and the father of the rescued lad intends bringing the affair to the notice of the Humane Society of Canada. There are, we understand, many such rescues every summer, and it speaks volumes for the manliness and courage of our young and rising generation. Heretofore too little notice has been taken of these things, chiefly because the boys frequently wish to shield a companion, and say nothing, and also because there is not the least spirit of blow about the brave.

FISHING AT STONY LAKE.

A Big Catch at Stony Lake.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy was in town from the lakes to-day and tells THE EXAMINER that everything is lovely at "Kilkenny Lodge," Mr. J. R. Donel's cottage. Even fish, as well as fishers, are to be found in abundance. Yesterday seven gentlemen from among the party went out for an hour or so to fish, and one may fancy their success when one of the party had to be sent for the steam yacht "May Flower" to bring home the spoil. Several of the bass from among the large quantity weighed from three to four pounds. As this party consisted of Mr. George Davis, Rochester, the Messrs. Merrick, Mr. Bagge and Rev. Dr. Burwash's two sons, of Toronto, together with Mr. Kennedy, the story can be relied upon. Mr. J. B. Oke, we understand, has given Mr. Kennedy an order for a barrel out of the next "catching."

GREAT ROAD RACE AGAINST TIME.

Mr. Charles LeGros Rides to Chemong Park and Back in Less Time Than One Hour and a Quarter.

Alive C. LeGros, the popular tobacconist, has proven himself worthy of his name. Although it is his business to furnish other people material for blowing, he does not do much blowing himself, but claims to be able to carry out what he says he can perform.

Yesterday an old grudge was fought out between the sporting tobacconist and the sporting saloonist, Mr. Carese LeBrun, of LeBrun & Felcher. The wheeling ability of Mr. LeGros has been a subject of discussion between himself and Mr. LeBrun, the latter expressing decided doubt of Charley's ability cover the distance between the town clock and Chemong Park Hotel and return in the space of an hour and a quarter. Charley was not disposed to tamely submit to doubts of this kind cast upon the powers and speed of a member of a race that held Europe under the terror of his military genius, and yesterday the matter was brought to a climax. Mr. LeBrun pledged his cheque for $30 in evidence of his belief that Mr. LeGros could not do the trick and Mr. LeGros put up $30 worth of confidence in his ability to pull off the distance named within the time stipulation—an hour and a quarter.

The cheques were deposited with a stakeholder, the timekeeper was selected, and at five o'clock Charley mounted his wheel and sped away northward like an amateur whirlwind, two or three other amateur whirlwinds giving him the pace. He reached the Park in 37½ minutes after the start from the town clock, and returned to the same spot in what he claims to be one hour and fourteen minutes after the start. And he submits that that is pretty good going for a heavyweight that tips the scales at 218 pounds, riding an ordinary wheel, without special training. Others also say that Charley covered the distance in the specified time. But Mr. LeBrun submits that the time limit was exceeded. The timekeeper that was officially appointed only took the time of the start and thus the way is opened to disagreement as to the result and of complications.

Under the circumstances the stakeholder sticks to the cheques and unless an amicable disposal of them is arranged the bets will have, it is thought, to be declared off.

It is a little hard on Mr. LeGros that, after pumping his 218 pounds of avoirdupois over about thirteen miles of distance, he should not have the pleasure of pocketting the pot.

Charley still maintains that he went to Chemong and back in seventy-four minutes, and submits the following declaration in support of his claim, a document that speaks for itself:—

DECLARATION.

I, Louis Houedry, grain buyer, do solemnly declare that on the 2nd day of August I timed Charles LeGros, in order to know what time he would occupy on his bicycle race against time, he starting from the market square and going to and returning from Chemong Park Hotel, to the said market square. That in such race he left the market square, went, as I believe, to the Chemong Hotel, and returned to the said market square, all within one hour and thirteen minutes. That I timed the said LeGros according to my own watch and also according to the town clock.

And I make this solemn declaration, believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath, and by virtue of the "Canadian Evidence Act, 1893."

(Signed) LOUIS HOUEDRY.

Declared before me at the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, this 3rd day of August, 1897.

AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

A Yachting Party has a Narrow Escape From Drowning in Lake Simcoe.

Dr. Lake, Will. Galbraith and Alf. Wilkes, of Barrie, and J. Bryce, of Toronto, have been camping at Carthew's Bay, in Lake Simcoe, and on Thursday of last week they experienced a very exciting adventure, which included a narrow escape from drowning, and the severe buffeting they received from the elements of wind, hail, rain and a raging sea will be memorable in the lives of the quartette. On the afternoon in question the party left camp for Hawkestone, per J. Carley's schooner-rigged Dauntless, under full sail. The start was pleasant, a steady breeze blowing, but while they were still one and a half miles from shore a heavy squall swooped down, keeling the craft over, her lee gunwale dipping till she took in half a barrel of water. The jib sail was torn off entirely except the haul in lines. Every movable article on the deck was washed into the foaming deck, and the dingey fastened to the stern broke loose and set off on a trip on its own account. The mainsail was torn, and was taken down, the foresail reefed and the drenched crew put into Shingle Bay and landed. Tue waited for the dingey, which was now drifting toward them; but not for long, for the wind now veered around and carried the boat out to sea again. There was nothing for it but to man the schooner and give chase. With main and foresails close hauled they soon overtook the runaway, but almost immediately another squall struck them, the dingey was snatched from their hands and was never seen again. The sailboat was now scudding before a terrific gale, a heavy rain was accompanied by a severe hailstorm, while the wind was a perfect hurricane, and the sea running mountains high. The masts were stripped off all but a rag of canvas four and a half feet in dimensions, but the boat tore along with incredible velocity before the wind shipping water at every wave. The storm carried them past Grape Island to the Narrows, where the crew landed and proceeded to Gaudaur's hotel, where they had lunch, none the worse except for a shaking up and a thorough soaking. At Orillia the party secured dry clothing. Many persons at Orillia who saw the plight of the mariners believed their shipwreck imminent, and none expected them to reach shore safely. Messrs. Galbraith and Bryce returned to camp during the evening, the others sailing the boat back next morning.—Barrie Gazette.

The Serpent Mounds.

The Great Attraction This Week.

Gough Bros'. hurricane sale of summer clothing, hats, boots, gloves and furnishings for men, youths and boys will doubtless prove a great attraction this week. A shrinkage of $10,500 on the prices covered by their whole stocks in both stores since last week should be inducement enough to bring crowds to their counters. The prices represent their great reductions in summer stocks, including that portion of the clothing left over from their great sale of the E. A. Small & Co.'s mammoth purchase in Montreal. Everything that cannot be carried over is to be got rid of. The goods cannot be marked any lower, and in order to have the benefit of a fairly good selection they advise all to call early to get the pick of the choicest. The changed prices will probably clear out all the summer goods in about a couple of weeks. dtf

For six years I suffered from cancer, and got no relief until I used Burdock Blood Bitters. I used seven bottles faithfully, when the cancer gradually dried up and finally disappeared. Who is the Oldest Postmaster ?

A correspondent writing to the Orillia Packet says that the man who has been longest in the Canadian postal service is probably Mr. Robert Grandy, whose commission as postmaster of the village of Metcalfe—now Omemee—was issued by Lord Metcalfe, whose term as Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada expired in 1845. A few years since Mr. Grandy gave up the position of postmaster in favour of his son, whose assistant he has since been. It is claimed that Mr. Grandy is the only official appointed by Lord Metcalfe now living.

SMALL POX IN TORONTO.

Imported in a Passenger Steamer—The "Passport" the Vehicle of Transportation — The Steamer Quarantined in Toronto.

Belleville has some reason to be exercised and excited over the possibility of an outbreak of small pox there. A young man named Whitney came by train from Montreal to Belleville and getting "strapped" there, wandered about the town until he developed the disease. While preparations were being made to put him in the hospital the young man got on board the steamer Passport and went to Toronto.

Here is the making of a first-class epidemic of small pox. No better way could hardly have designedly been taken to spread the disease broadcast. The young man's wanderings about Belleville when the disease was all but upon him must have created the risk of infecting a great many persons, while his passage on the steamer with passengers from every part of the country exposed these persons to contracting the disease, and when they went to their homes each one might be a centre of infection in the neighbourhood where he lives.

This is a matter that would not have so serious an aspect if the public generally were protected by vaccination from the danger of contracting this perilous and loathsome disease. But unfortunately, not one person in one hundred is perhaps vaccinated. There is no general system of vaccination as there is in England, where the vacination of school children is compulsory. We know that there is no such practice in Peterborough. Inquiry reveals an almost entire absence of vaccination, and we have a population growing up exposed to the ravages of an epidemic of small pox at any time—at almost any time for facilities for rapid travelling have brought the most distant parts of the world together. Take the case of the young man referred to above. A few days ago he was in the Old Country. He crossed the ocean and en route from the seaboard to Belleville, and from there to Toronto, he presented the danger of infecting many persons, some, perhaps, being in remote and isolated hamlets. Thus, from Scotland to a back township, perhaps, the disease may have been carried in a few days. Medical science has demonstrated that, generally speaking, vaccination is a positive prevention of smallpox, and no civilized community is doing its duty to the citizens, that fails to take most prompt and complete measures for seeing that the entire population is protected by vaccination. The matter of cost is a trifling one compared to the tremendous risk that is run by leaving the population of a community exposed to infection from one of the most loathsome diseases in the index morborum. Our local authorities should take the matter in hand. The motto, "In time of peace prepare for war," is a very apt one, and might be varied to meet our condition, "In time of health prepare for smallpox." There is danger at any time, and because we escape so often that is no reason why we should not take every reasonable precaution.

In conversation with Dr. Clarke, Medical Health Officer, it was learned that the present condition was a standing menace. There is absolutely no vaccination going on. He says that in England every child must be vaccinated before it reaches the age of three months, but in Canada it is only when an epidemic sweeps over the country that any attention is paid to vaccination. In the case of the epidemic of smallpox twelve years ago, which cost Montreal thousands of dollars and thousands of lives, and which cost Peterborough hundreds of dollars for a single case, there was such a rush after vaccination that all the factories on the continent could not supply the demand. This was, the doctor said, very like a man rushing out for an insurance policy after fire had broken out in his house. He concluded a brief interview by stating that this was an extremely important matter which should by no means escape the attention of the authorities.

A Great Inducement.

Now is the time for young men to join the Y.M.C.A. and get the benefit of the baths from now until 1st September free.

THE WATER COMPANY'S CLAIM DENIED.

From Mr. E. B. Edwards, respecting the claim of the Water Company for payment for water used in filling sewers. It does not appear, Mr. Edwards says, that the council ordered or sanctioned the use of the water. It was directed to be done by the street inspector. Mr. Edwards says :

The claims of the Water Company would, therefore, appear to be based upon this : That though not directly sanctioned or authorized by the council, the water was used for the benefit of the corporation. I find that the original bylaw authorizing the construction of the waterworks, No. 427, Section 3, and provides that in any arrangement that may be made with the said Water Company for the supplying of hydrants for fire purposes, it shall be and form part of such arrangement that without further charge any such hydrant shall be used for all such public purposes as the council of the said town may from time to time direct. The company at the same time gave to the town a covenant to observe and keep all the regulations and conditions in the said bylaw contained and set forth.

If therefore the contention be advanced by the Water Company that the water was used for a public purpose, and therefore should be paid for by the corporation, the evident answer is, that according to the original bylaw the charge made for hydrants includes the use of the water for all such public purposes as the council may direct.

I think therefore that it either must be held that the council's then officer, the street inspector, directed the water to be used for the purpose in question—in this case no charge could be made—or else that the council and the corporation are not responsible, because they did not direct the water to be used.

In either case, therefore, I think there is no liability. The subsequent contract with the Water Company does not alter the position of matters.

I return bylaws sent me.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

LIGHTING WOLF STREET WHARF.

From Mr. Edwards as follows :

In answer to the questions submitted to me by Mr. White I beg to state as follows :

1. The steamboat wharf constructed near the foot of Wolfe street is a Government work and is under the control of the Dominion Government.

2. The wharf being used for the landing of passengers and the landing and embarking of passengers and freight is open, as is usually the case, and the council would not in my opinion be answerable for damages in case of anyone falling into the stream off such wharf.

The council is not responsible for the lighting of such wharf and it is not required to light any highway in the town, that being a matter in the discretion and judgment of the council.

The council may, however, well consider that when they are lighting the streets it is desirable that the streets at and adjoining the wharf shall be properly lighted to protect the people against the danger of stepping or falling into the water.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

LACROSSE.

Berlin and the Tecumsehs crossed sticks at Toronto Island yesterday. Large delegations were present from Berlin and Waterloo. The Twin City twelve put up a good game, although the Tecumsehs beat them by 4 goals to 2.

Berlin didn't get seriously into the game for 20 minutes, and then they were two goals behind. Then the blues put up a strong defence and Bradley stopped some sharp ones. Finally Murphy beat him and the score was 2—0.

Big Brierly was doing some capital work around midfield, and the visitors kept the ball well in the Indians' territory for the third game, which went their way, Forrester doing the needful.

Jimmy Macdonald did some fast work in the next game, and went down himself and scored, making it two all, and the excursionists cheered.

Then the Tecumsehs stopped their grand stand work and took the next two and the match.

Tecumsehs (4): Foley, McGibbeny Yorke, Davis, Grimes, Hartley, Gamble, Peaker, Murphy, O'Meara, McVey and German.

Twin City (2): Goal, Bradley; point, Lynch; cover, Morrow; defence, McDougall, Brierly, Jack; centre, Seagram; home, McDonald, Burns, McDonald; outside, Forrester; inside, Johnstone; field captain, Kirk.

Referee—President Craig of the C.L.A. Umpires—J. J. Vance and J. D. Bailey.

Lynch is credited with doing good work at point yesterday. He was hurt but was able to finish out the game.

The Toronto lacrosse team defeated the Capitals of Ottawa yesterday 5 straight goals, in an exhibition game at Toronto.

An excellent practice was indulged in last night by the local team. Every member is requested to turn out again tomorrow night.

BASEBALL.

To-night is "baseball night." What has become of the Park Nine? With such a successful record up to this season they should not drop the game after a couple of excusably lost games. It is to be hoped that they will turn out to practice regularly and arrange some good games, which no doubt would be liberally patronized.

Toronto gave Scranton a double drubbing yesterday, which puts the Queen City nine in second place for the Eastern League pennant.

FOOTBALL.

A game of Association football will be played on the Nicholls Park to-morrow evening at 7.30 sharp between the Electrics and I. O. G. T's.

JULY WEATHER NOTES.

Interesting Details by Mr. Walter Peters, Official Meteorologist for Peterborough.

July was remarkable for the large quantity of rain that fell during the month, and also for a long-continued very hot period, from the 3rd to the 11th.

There was rain on 13 days to a total depth of 4 inches and 95 100 on the level. This is about double the quantity that we are usually favoured with in July. The following has been the July rainfall in Peterborough for the years named : 1896, 2.58 ; 1895, 1.44 ; 1894, 2.06. The following were the days on which rain fell during the month and the amounts :

July 11	.02 of an inch

25	.01 "
28	.72 "

The rain on the 27th takes rank with the big rainstorms on record. That of the 30th was an exceedingly severe thunderstorm, and for 45 minutes the rain fell in torrents.

The temperature was above 90 degrees in the shade on 6 days. The hottest day was the 5th—96 degrees. The lowest temperature was on the 30th—57 degrees. This minimum of 57 degrees is a high one for July, 40 to 45 being the general figure. The average temperature of the month was 72.83, being two to three degrees warmer than usual. The daily range of temperature was 20.90 degrees, 5 degrees less than customary. There was thunder on 7 days of the month.

WALL STREET HAS THE FEVER.

Financial Magnates Ready to Put Up Money to Send Agents to the Klondike Region.

New York, Aug. 1. — Wall-street has been seized with a genuine "forty nine" gold fever as the result of the discoveries in the Klondike. More than half a dozen banking concerns and as many individuals in Wall street, whose standing in the financial world is the very best, have actually turned away from $50,000 to $125,000 each which clients and customers wish to invest under their guidance and supervision in the great gold fields of Alaska. The prejudice against mining is wearing off, and the best concerns are beginning to deal in mines.

Among the various down town banking and business houses who either are interested in the Klondike, who have sent a representative there for themselves, or customers, or who have made up their minds to do so are: R. L. Loundsberry & Co, M. Guggenheim Sons, Kean vanCortlandt & Co., Nichols Chemical Co., H. B. Hollins & Co., H. L. Horton & Co., Charles Head & Co., Seligman & Co. In many instances the firm or company is sending a representative, and in other cases a certain member of the firm with clients, friends and customers who are detailing an expedition to the Klondike. Burrill A. Smith, Washington E. Connor and Stephen V. White are each, with their coterie of friends, fitting out such expeditions. It was learned on the best authority in Wall-street that "The Exploration Company, Limited," of London; the controlling interest in which is held by the Rothschilds, and whose chief expert is Hamilton Smith, wired this week to Henry Bratnoeber, one of the best and most widely known engineers in the country, at San Francisco to visit the Klondike in their behalf.

A BLOCKADE OF SUPPLIES

Said to be Fearful on the Dyea Trail to Chilkat Pass Many Prospectors May Starve.

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—Several thousand people gathered at the wharf yesterday to welcome the steamer Walla Walla, expected to bring several lucky miners and their treasure from Klondike, but they were disappointed, as all the passengers from Alaska were simply from Juneau and neighboring places. They told a story of a fearful blockade of supplies on the Dyea trail to Chilkat Pass, which, if not exaggerated, shows that not half the prospectors who are starting now will reach Klondike this fall. The Indians are charging heavy rates for packing outfits, but they can make little headway with the hundreds of tons dumped by steamers at Dyea. Harry Fitzgerald, theatrical manager, who has been in Juneau since last fall, arrived to-day, and predicts great suffering and loss of life on the Chilkat Pass trail, and says that most of the prospectors are not prepared to endure the fierce snow storms which may come upon them by the middle of September. Juneau is deserted. Everybody has gone to the Yukon, and the quartz mines cannot get enough men to run their mills. Wages are $2.50 to $3.00 per day with board, but only fifty or sixty men are working at Trondwell, where 300 were working six months ago.

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local-application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness.

Wrong Heart Action.

Wrong action of the heart causes nervousness, nervous dyspepsia, shortness of breath and other distressing symptoms. Mr. Samuel Yelland, of London, Ont., was cured of these troubles by taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. Yelland says: "They are a remarkable medicine, and I have not been troubled in the least since taking them."

BALD BEAT THE CRACKS.

Great Field of Flyers at Manhattan Beach —Loughead Beat Mertens at Buffalo.

New York, July 31.—The big men failed to enter for the seventh annual meet of the Riverside Wheelmen until the last moment, and the club was much properly to boom the National circuit meet at Manhattan Beach to-day, given under its auspices. New Yorkers did not attend as liberally as they would had it been definitely known that Bald, Cooper, Kiser, Gardiner and all the great Eastern riders would meet in the races. Perhaps 15m people were present, and the many finishes of the day were loudly cheered.

Bald and Kiser rode off the great $1000 match race left over from Bay City, Bald winning the credit of a first at that meet by his clever win of the mile open here. Karl Kiser attempted the mile to-day. He rode in heat, semi-final and final of the mile, open, in the heat of the two-mile handicap, and also in a half-mile exhibition in :52, breaking the track record.

The great race of the day came last, and Chairman Mott would not excuse the little fellow from the handicap race, in which neither Bald Gardiner nor Cooper were entered. The largest field of the season was seen in the mile open race, and, after five heats and two semi-finals, the following field lined up on the pole in order from the inside: Maj. Taylor (the Boston negro rider), Bald, Kiser, Hoyt, Cooper, Gardiner, Titus and Jenny. This was considered the best field of the season. Ray Macdonald paced, and Kiser caught the position, Bald second in line, and Taylor, Hoyt, Gardiner, Cooper, Titus and Jenny in order. The positions remained unchanged until just as the riders entered the stretch for the bell, when Jenny was seen to shoot up and come down off the high bank. Passing the tape he had gained several lengths, and Kiser went after him, with Bald on his rear wheel. The Dayton man pulled the Bison up to Jenny, and they bunched, the field shifting Jenny quickly to last position. Cooper came up to the side of Kiser just as Gardiner jumped round the bunch, entering the last bank. Gardiner led into the straight, with the field in the rear and closing. Kiser worked out to the front, and started his loping sprint, and Bald passed him in sight of the stand, winning by an open length, while Cooper was well back of Kiser. Taylor was fourth and Gardiner sewed back to sixth.

McFarland made two great rides in the heat and final of the two-mile handicap. Hoyt made it so uncomfortably close in the final that the judges did as usual, and probably made an error. The crowd thought so, and would not allow the announcer to tell about the race unless McFarland was given first position. In the contest the lanky Californian rode from scratch, and rode well. He gained the front in the last lap and came well in the stretch, Hoyt jumping up on him when near the finishing point. Summaries:

Mile, handicap, professional: Fred C. Hoyt (60 yards), won; McFarland (scratch), 2; Oldfield (220 yards), 3; Frank Jenny (60 yards), 4. Time 4.18 1-5.

Two-mile handicap, amateur—F. W. Richt (65 yards), won; George Reith (scratch), 2; A. T. Fowler (210 yards), 3. Time 4.51.

Mile, open, amateur: Charles Ertz, won; George Reith, 2; H. Y. Dybell, 3. Time 2.24 2-5.

Mile, tandem, amateur, handicap: Miller and Babcock won; Ertz and Bedell 2, O'Connor and Owen 3. Time 2.07 3-5.

Mile, open, professional: Bald won, Kiser 2, Cooper 3, Maj. Taylor 4, Fred Hoyt 5, Arthur Gardiner 6. Time 2.10.

Half-mile exhibition by Earl Kiser, :52, breaking the track record.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Toronto, Aug. 2.

Toronto won both games at the Island Saturday afternoon. The first was very one-sided, and fielding errors of the visitors helped the home team materially. The second game looked bad for Toronto until the sixth, when hits were bunched for four runs. After that the visitors could do nothing with Dineen, who was well supported. Score:

At Syracuse—Springfield's errors and the Stars' fine work on the bases combined to give Syracuse a victory over the Ponies But one base on balls was given during the game, and that by Mains. At Montreal: About 3500 spectators saw an extremely uninteresting game. The rainy weather which has prevailed left both infield and outfield in a frightful condition. The pitchers were unable to handle the ball, and could only toss it over the plate. Tip O'Neill umpired his first league game, and was eminently satisfactory. Score:

102 IN THE SHADE.

The Terrible Heat That Kansas City People are Suffering Under.

Kansas City, Aug. 1.—All Kansas City and vicinity sweltered again to-day through the third successive day of over 100 degrees of heat. The Government Bureau report shows 100 degrees and over from 2 p.m. until after 5 o'clock this evening, the maximum being at 4 p.m., when 102 degrees was recorded. At 7 o'clock this evening the reading was 95.

Throughout Kansas the same conditions prevailed. The reports as to the condition of the corn crop are gloomy. Hot winds are general throughout the State, and all the southern and western parts, where rain has been needed for many days, farmers are losing hope. Several localities in the southern part of the State report that farmers are cutting their corn in order to preserve it for fodder.

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by the Doctors in the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

OTTAWA, July 26th.—It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent of this city with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills has definitely decided the objection as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine, and has been beyond accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no question raised to the statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

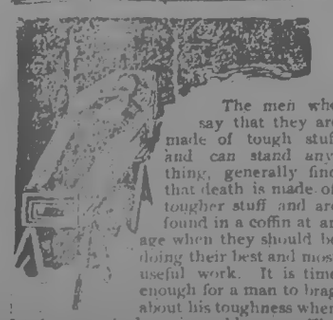
LONG BROS.

[414 and 416 George Street.]



The men who say that they are made of tough stuff and can stand anything, generally find that death is made of tougher stuff and are found in a coffin at an age when they should be doing their best and most useful work. It is time enough for a man to brag about his toughness when he has reached a ripe old age. The men who live long lives are the ones who take care of their health in youth and maturity. They realize the truth of the old saying that "a stitch in time saves nine." The ones who don't do this die off of nervous prostration, heart failure, and consumption.

The best of all health-restorers and health preservers is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It wards off nervous troubles and wasting diseases. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver and restores the appetite. It fills the arteries with the pure, rich red blood of health. It tears down, and carries off old, inert and half-dead tissues and replaces them by new. It builds firm, healthy flesh. It makes the muscles strong and elastic and steadies and tones the nerves. It cures debility and weakness of every description. It is the product of the life-time experience and study of an eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Thousands of men and women have testified to its virtues Druggists sell it.

There is nothing in the world "just as good," although avaricious druggists will sometimes say so for the sake of the greater profit to be made upon the inferior article.

CANTERBURY CELEBRATION.

HOW AUGUSTINE FOUNDED THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

The 1300th Anniversary Now Being Celebrated at the Ancient Seat of Ecclesiastical Authority—Site of the Earliest English Cathedral.

There began on the 30th June, at Canterbury, England, after the most elaborate preparations, the observance of the 1300th anniversary of the landing of St. Augustine, or "Austen th Monk," in Britain. This saint, acting under orders from Gregory I., Bishop of Rome, had gone to Britain for the purpose of Christianizing the Anglo-Saxons, who were living in a state of barbarism.

In this connection it will be well to remark that there were two St. Augustines, one who flourished in the fifth century and was known as the theologian. He lived in Africa, at Hippo. The other St. Augustine was a missionary, and he it was whose hazardous trip from Rome to Britain in the latter part of the sixth century made it possible for the establishment of the Church of England and earned for him an everlasting fame.

When Christianity first spread itself from Jerusalem after the ascension of Christ it went in three directions. One course was to Rome, and thence to Spain and England; a second course was by way of Greece into Gaul or France, and thence to Britain, and a third went northward through what is now Germany.

The branch of the church which was established in Rome became the all-powerful one, and, in the early centuries up to the reformation, wielded a potent and controlling influence in all matters of state and church in the early history of Europe.

In that time all adherents of the church, like the soldiery, were characterized by an indomitable will bordering on ferociousness, and spared neither life nor interests in advancing the cause of the church. At the same time the mode of living practiced by the priests and monks was simple in the extreme. They ate barely enough to sustain life, and the food was of the coarsest. They spent most of the time in fasting and prayer, and underwent all kinds of hardships in order to exemplify by daily action their humbleness and constancy. Of this class was Augustine, of whose early life but little is known. He was educated in a monastery on the Coelian hill, of which his patron, Gregory I., was abbot. He was soon made prior, and became famous for his religious enthusiasm and his devoutness. Nothing was too arduous for him to undertake, and he was never known to complain. His meekness and humility won for him the respect of his confreres, even in a time when nearly everyone was jealous of another's success. The more the honors were showered upon Augustine the more submissive he became to the church and the more humble his manner. His physique also stood him in stead, for he was nearly six feet three inches in his sandals, and was of a commanding presence. Like all Romans, he was of swarthy complexion, and was possessed of a flashing pair of black eyes, which could emit a fiery glow when he was angered, for angry he could become if necessity demanded it.

The circumstances which led to the sending of a missionary expedition to Brittany are best told by a legend which has been handed down, and which has been incorporated in some form in nearly all of the histories of the early church struggles. When Gregory, who occupied the Papal chair from A. D. 590 to 604, was abbot of St. Andrew monastery on the Coelian hill in Rome he happened into the slave market one day in the year 585. Here he saw three beautiful young men of about 18 years exposed for sale. They were different in feature and form from any men Gregory had ever seen. He went toward them with an ineffable smile on his countenance. Their fair hair, which hung in profusion down over their shoulders, and the look of sadness which was enhanced by heavenly blue eyes, reminded the great Gregory of his Christ, and appealed to him as he had never been appealed to before.

Approaching their owners, he said to the merchant:

"Whence come these fair captives?"

"From the Isle of Brittany."

"Are these islanders Christians?" asked Gregory.

"Oh, no! They are pagans."

"It is sad," said Gregory, "that the author of darkness should possess men with so bright faces. But what is the name of that particular nation?"

"They are called 'Angles.'"

"And well they may, for their angel-like faces; it becometh such to be coheirs with the angels in heaven. In what province in Brittany did they live?"

"In Deira."

"Good! They are to be freed 'Dei Ira' (wrath of God). How call ye the King of that country?"

"Aelle."

"Surely alle-lujahs should be sung in that country."

From this time until it was successfully carried out, Gregory labored vigorously for the evangelization of the Anglo-Saxon race in England. After Gregory became Pope, he began looking about him for a suitable person who should head the enterprise, and he could think of none who would answer the purpose better than his old colleague, Augustine. The latter was a prior in the monastery of Coelian hill when he was the abbot. He approached Augustine with the proposition, and was delighted to find that the prior seconded his project, in no unmeaning manner. As it was a perilous journey, fraught with dangers and hardships, it required considerable time to fit out the expedition of love and mercy, and it was not until July, 596, that all was in readiness. Thousands of Romans escorted the cavalcade to the city gates, and bade the members godspeed.

Augustine had with him forty monks and laymen, but no provisions, nor money, was taken with them. They must depend upon God for their sustenance. They went northward, and, crossing the Alps, stopped a few days in Provence, a district in Lower Gaul. Here they were entertained by the metropolitan of Provence, and learned from the priests that the country they were to visit was peopled by savage and brutal races. So wild were the tales told to these simple monks that they became frightened and appealed to Augustine to give up the journey, begging him to go to Gregory and beseech him to recall the excursion. Augustine listened to their appeals and went back to Rome and acquainted Gregory with the discouraging facts. The latter would not hear of any backing out, but, conferring the office of abbot upon Augustine, bade him go on again, and exhorted his followers to obey absolutely in all things their leader.

The winter of 596 and 597 found the party hibernating in Gaul. Here they spent their time in praying and preaching and made many converts out of the fierce Gauls. It is significant that none of their number died, although the rigorous winter of Northern Gaul was in direct contrast to the balmy weather of their native clime. On the approach of spring they went to the English channel, and, after celebrating Easter on the Gallic side of the channel, crossed it shortly after Easter, landing at Ebbe's Fleet, in Kent, June, A.D. 597. Word was sent to King Ethelbert of their arrival and of a desire to interview him for the purpose of converting him to Christianity. Ethelbert agreed to an interview and a day was set. The meeting was to be held out of doors, on account of superstition, since the King was afraid that if held within doors some mystic charms or sorcery might be used, and that he might be trapped into accepting the new religion whether he wished or not.

Upon the day set for the meeting Augustine, preceded by his band of monks, one of whom bore a huge silver cross, and another a board upon which was painted the crucifixion, and all chanting a litany for the redemption of the King and his people, marched to Richborough, where the King and his thanes met him. Augustine offered up prayer, in which he asked God to show unusual mercy to Ethelbert and his people. He then preached to the assembly, exhorting the King to embrace the Christian faith. The latter, while he did not reproach the noble missionary, yet he did not wish to precipitate matters.

"Your words are fair and sound most beautiful," he said. "Still I cannot leave the gods of my father and my people without consulting my elders. Give me time to consider."

He told Augustine to go back to the Isle of Thanet and await his pleasure. Food and shelter were furnished the Christian crusaders and the privilege accorded them of preaching and converting whom they could. In a few days another meeting was held and Ethelbert embraced the Christian faith, being baptized with several of his followers, on Whitsunday, 597. The King's apparently quick conversion has been disbelieved by many, but when it is observed that his wife Bertha was a Christian there can be no doubt that he had been instructed in the doctrines of the Church by his Queen. Bertha was the granddaughter of Clovis of Gaul, and the daughter of Charibert, King of Paris, both of whom were Christians. One of the conditions imposed upon Ethelbert when he espoused Bertha was that she should be allowed to continue in her worship of the God of the Christians and should have her father confessor as her chaplain. Ethelbert also gave the missionaries his wooden palace in Canterbury. Thus was founded the first Church of England.

St. Martin's Church was built by the Roman soldiers, who had occupied England in Kent along in the third century and had been built with Roman bricks. These bricks, which correspond quite closely to the modern vitrified bricks, were made in three sections, two outside portions and a filling of much harder substance. They have dated the ravages of time down to the present and can still be seen in the building in Canterbury.

By Christmastide, 597, Augustine and his followers had baptized 10,000 Anglo-Saxons, who seemed more than willing to accept the new doctrines. On Nov. 16, 597, Augustine went to Gaul, not to Rome, as has been reported by some biographers, and the Archbishop of Arles ordained him "Anglorum episcopus" (bishop of the English). Later on Gregory sent him the pallium of an archbishop; and so was created the first Archbishop of Canterbury. At first the metropolis of the church was London, but the bishop, fearing that the greatness of London's King might overtop the church, had the seat of the church removed to Canterbury. Augustine then began the erection of a church, but before it was dedicated he had died, and his successor, Laurentius, completed it.

Augustine pushed his work into the West of England, going into Wales and Cornwall. Here he accomplished wonderful things for the church.

During all this time he wrote many works for the good of the church, the most important of which were the questions he propounded to Gregory, as to the conduct of the church and clergy, as well as his own. He also made a study of the races about him. He found that the Anglo-Saxons were idolaters and had many barbaric customs. The number of their gods was large, over which Thor was the omnipotent one. It took years of hard labor to turn these worshippers of images and myths to his religious views, but how well he succeeded can be attested by the ecclesiastical history of England.

Augustine died in England, somewhere between A.D. 604 and 613. The exact year of his death cannot be determined.

The celebration of the 1300th anniversary of Augustine's landing will be observed from June 30 until Aug. 2. At the same time the decennial conference of bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church of all parts of the world will take place, instead of in 1898, the year when it should rightfully occur, it having been shortened one year so as to have it simultaneously with that of the Augustine anniversary. Already bishops from every branch of the church, wherever it may be established, have congregated in Canterbury, where the celebration will occur.

REGULAR MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL.

THE MATTHEW'S COMPANY MATTER.

From E. B. Edwards, town solicitor, giving his opinion re the complaint of Messrs. Geo. Matthews & Co., respecting the injury sustained by the washing down of gravel from the creek.

Mr. Edwards said that section 550, subsection 20, of the Municipal Act, states that

"The council of every town may pass bylaws for straightening, deepening, widening or diverting river, creek or other stream for the purpose of preventing injury to any highway, bridge or other structure, by the flow of water of any such river, creek or stream subject to all the provisions of the act regarding compensation for lands taken or injured, but nothing shall authorize the interference with any mill site or water privilege on any such river, stream or creek."

No bylaw, Mr. Edwards stated, as far as he knows has been passed under this section. The council may, if it sees fit in the public interests, pass a bylaw for straightening, dredging, widening, or diverting the creek to prevent the flooding of land or to prevent injury to any highway, bridge or other structure. Where it is simply a question of removing the accumulation such as that referred to in the letter of Mr. Matthews, it does not appear that the owner of the property would be entitled to any compensation, so that probably the only expense there would be would be that of doing the work.

The creek running through the town is not a navigable stream and is the private property of the owners of the land it passes through. The town is not responsible for the removal of the gravel that has been washed down, unless it took the matter up as one of more or less public interest. The matter rests in the judgment and discretion of the council.—Street and Bridge Committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

T. H. G. Denne, Chairman.

Before passing report Mr. Denne brought up the accounts of Wm. Logan for $22 65 for push cart, which was ordered to be paid when certified. Another account, that of Joseph Batten, for sharpening picks, etc., $18.95, was ordered to be paid.

A claim of Thomas Wood for compensation for damage to his buggy by defective street at the corner of King and George streets, was referred to the town solicitor, to ascertain the responsibility of the street railway in the matter, there being some doubt as to whether the town were responsible. The accounts of Kingan & Allen, the Peterborough Hardware Co. and Micks & Cox, were ordered to be paid when certified to, and the report was adopted.

Mr. Robertson, chairman, presented the report of the

which was adopted as follows:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:—

Gentlemen,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report that as authorized they asked for tenders for a supply of coal, and recommend that the tender of the Stevenson Coal Co. be accepted for forty tons of grate coal of first class quality, same as sample, at $6.25 per ton, to be weighed on the market scales and delivered at the town buildings, and that the coal be paid for on the certificate of the Chairman of the Finance Committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. B. Robertson, Chairman.

A bylaw introduced by Mr. Neil, to exempt the farm lands of John P. Higgins from taxation for certain improvements, was withdrawn and referred to the committee of the whole council.

CIVIC HOLIDAY.

On motion of Mr. Denne, seconded by Mr. White, Thursday, the 19th day of August, was set apart as civic holiday.

Moved by Mr. McWilliams, seconded by Mr. Dawson, that the town solicitor be instructed to notify the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., that unless the owners of the lots injured by their freight shed being on Wolfe street are settled with, action will be taken to compel the removal of the shed from the street.

Council adjourned till 2 o'clock Tuesday.

A Banker's Experience.

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affection of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dewson, of the Standard Bank, now of 14 Melbourne Avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good. It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

WHERE IS THE GIRL?

Mysterious Disappearance of Miss Thompson

WHO BELONGED TO KINGSTON.

Her Father Left Her on the Street While He Went Into a Store and When He Came Out His Daughter Was Gone—News From Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 2.—Miss Jessie Thompson of Kingston, Ont., disappeared very mysteriously here to-day. She stood on St. Catherine street, near Henry, while her father, Thomas Thompson, entered a fruit store to make a purchase. When he appeared she was not visible. He became alarmed and notified the detective department. Chief Detective Campbell placed four men on the case, but up till a late hour this afternoon she had not been found. Mr. Thompson says he cannot account for her disappearance.

Miss Thompson is 19 years old. She is a brunette, has dark eyes, and wore a dark blue dress and a white hat.

Robert Donaldson, jr., was arrested to-day on a warrant, issued at the instance of Mr. William J. Common, accountant, charging him with having stolen a security, a certain valuable warehouse receipt, given by Blaiklock Bros. for certain goods and machinery. It is alleged that the goods in question are the property of John W. Donaldson, doing business by the name of Messrs. Robert Donaldson & Son, the said Mr. John W. Donaldson having previously made a judicial abandonment for the benefit of his creditors.

Mr. James Ross, Vice-President of the Montreal Street Railway Company, and Mr. Granville C. Cunningham, general manager of the railway, arrived in the city this morning on their return from England, where they had spent several months in the interests of street railway extension. They visited the principal cities and towns, but Mr. Cunningham says: "The English people are so conservative that they prefer riding on the knife board of an omnibus to riding in an electric car, and consequently we were not able to do very much in the way of arranging to build railways."

There was a small-sized riot to-day at Windsor-street station, where the C. P. R. advertised for 100 men to work on the road west of Fort William. Over 1000 laborers put in an appearance, and each one clamored for work. The police were called out and finally succeeded in restoring order.

Big prices and fat monopolies must go. The People's Grocery Store is doing the business. The public know when they are well served and come in crowds to the store, 323 George street, where they get the good things to eat; nice people to wait upon them. You may smile when you see the piles of Boxes, Barrels, and packages of goods. Our lessor called this week to see us and was surprised to see the store packed with goods, and has intimated to us that he will extend our facilities for doing business. As a result the plumbers, painters and paperhangers are at work. A line of new shelving must go up as we have no place to display goods. All we want is a visit from the people. All are invited—rich and poor come and buy. Quoting prices is a mockery. We will give you the best and cheapest lines of Groceries, Teas, Sugars, Coffees, Spices, Hams, Bacon, Butter, Eggs, Lard, Poultry, Oranges, Lemons, Bananas and all kinds of provisions, &c

WHERE THE SHOE PINCHES.

Wearing Shoes does not afford much pleasure to people who buy the factory made kind. How can it be otherwise? All feet are not alike, any more than all faces. Unless made to your measure, they pinch your toes, press your favourite corn, squeeze the ingrowing toe nail, inflame the heels, and make your feet sweat, swell and ache.

CAREY'S SHOES don't do that—they fit your feet, give you everlasting comfort, make walking easy and cost less. They are not stamped on the soles, but stamps don't improve the fit or wear.

A MILLION IN GOLD

Expected by Steamer From the Klondike.

ALL IN NUGGETS AND GOLD DUST

Transportation Companies Refuse to Take Children—Mounted Police Turning Back Those Who are Not Well Supplied—Canadians on the Way to Hunt Yellow Metal.

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—The next big expedition to depart from San Francisco for the Klondike gold fields will be the 150 men who will sail on the steamer Noyo to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The Noyo was to have started at 5 o'clock this morning, but many of the prospectors could not get ready. Then, too, the list had not been completed, for up to Saturday night there were twenty-five berths unsold. The rush for them was renewed this morning, however, and the promoter of the expedition, D. J. Grauman, announced that the party of 150 would be made up by to-night.

The vessel will go direct to Dyea, where the party will start out over the Chilkoot Pass for Dawson. At Dawson the party will disband and the members will strike out in different directions. A guide, John F. Vidgil, will pilot the prospectors across the pass and down the streams. George F. Adams will be in charge of the expedition en route.

Fifty mules and burros will be taken to transport the supplies of the expedition over the mountains. The miners had a hard time getting the required number of animals, as they are scarce on account of the great demand for them. The last mules bought for the party to-day cost almost double the usual price.

A party of surveyors will be taken up on the Noyo and a newer and more feasible route may be selected across the mountains to the lakes. There is little doubt that travel will be kept up to the mines all winter.

The next shipment of the precious metal from the Klondike and its tributaries is expected to reach Seattle about Aug. 22 by the steamer Portland, which will come direct from St. Michael's. The Portland is expected to bring at least $1,000,000 in nuggets and gold dust.

The Excelsior will be the next steamer from St. Michael's, and she will come direct to San Francisco with a large quantity of gold and a number of miners who are leaving the gold fields for the winter.

The Excelsior is expected to reach port about Sept. 4, though the crew may desert at St. Michael's and go to the mines. The Alaska Commercial Company is in dread of that, so there is no certainty about the time of her return.

The steamer Humboldt, which Mayor William D. Wood of Seattle and other Washington capitalists have chartered for the Klondike trade, arrived to-day from Eureka. As soon as she can be unloaded the work of fitting her up for Alaska will be commenced. She will sail Aug. 9. There is no doubt that every berth will be occupied. The applications are numerous, but the names of the prospective passengers are withheld.

"There has been a very surprising rush," said Mayor Wood to-day. "We were actually overwhelmed this morning, and everyone who called on us decided to go. The berths are nearly all taken.

"The Congregational Society has decided to send a missionary to the Klondike. Rev. Loyal L. Wirt of Oakland has been appointed, and passage for him was obtained this morning. Mr. Wirt will go right to the mines and spend the winter there in religious work.

"This morning a man applied for passage for himself, his wife and two children. We refused to take the children, as I did not think it would be a safe place for them during the winter. We are not encouraging ladies to go, but many are going, and we have arranged for the services of a stewardess on the river portion of the trip."

The going of Mayor Wood to the Klondike is one of the picturesque incidents of the varied lines of enterprise. The official came to San Francisco to attend the Christian Endeavor Convention. While he was here the Alaskan mining excitement broke out. The Mayor saw the commercial importance of the gold discovery, and, securing the co-operation of Seattle capitalists, he chartered the big passenger steamer Humboldt. Passengers and supplies will be taken to St. Michael's on the Humboldt, and from there the expedition will proceed in small river boats, which are to be taken to St. Michael's on the Humboldt in sections. When the Yukon is reached the river boats will be put together by mechanics and ship carpenters, who have been engaged to make the trip for that purpose.

Mounted Police Turning Them Back.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 3.—The steamer Queen, which arrived from Alaska yesterday, brought word that the Mounted Police of the Northwest Territory are meeting all people bound for the Yukon country at the British line and compelling all who have not a year's supply of provisions to return to the coast. Rev. Alfred Kummer of Oakland, Cal., who went ashore at Skaguay, and Captain Carroll of the steamer warn everyone not to attempt to enter the Yukon country before next spring. The captain says not even those who are now at Skaguay or Dyea will be able to reach the interior this winter.

Retaliation Against Canada.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 3.—At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the merchants and shippers of this city, resolutions were adopted memorializing the Secretary of the Treasury to abolish the privilege heretofore extended to Canadians of bonding goods in shipment through American territory, and also to rescind the action establishing sub-ports of entry at Dyea, Skaguay and Circle City. This action is taken in retaliation for what is deemed the harsh and unjustifiable measure proposed by the Canadian Government to levy an import duty on personal outfits of miners and prospectors going from the United States into the new Klondike district.

Another Boat Load.

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—The steamer Noyo will sail to-morrow morning with 140 passengers for Dyea, Alaska. Of the passengers already booked, ten are women who will make the journey over the Chilkoot Pass to the Klondike gold fields. Two others are Mayor A. G. Scott of Springfield, Ill., and his son. Mayor Scott resigned his office to seek a fortune in the north.

SMASH ON THE GORGE ROAD.

Two Cars Came Together With Considerable Force and a Number of People Were Hurt.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 3.—A serious accident took place on the Gorge Road on the American side at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon at Brinker's Point, near the Devil's Hole, midway between Suspension Bridge and Lewiston, in which several people were more or less injured and badly shaken up. It seems a portion of the river side track at this point had been drilled out for repairs, and both up and down cars were using the inside track. Someone blundered in his instructions, and the two cars in the accident, which was a head-on collision, came together near a curve with a crash. Both were loaded with passengers, and had it not been for the prompt tude of the motormen on both cars, who stood at their posts and reversed the current and applied the brakes, the accident would have been more serious and certainly fatal. As it was the two cars came together, sending the people heading over the seats, cutting and bruising several of them.

The following is a list of some of the injured: Mr. and Mrs. McCormick of Baltimore, had bruises on head and limbs; Mrs. McCormick, who is a lady of 50 years, seriously hurt in the back and has a bad scalp wound and cuts on the face.

Miss Spencer and Miss Robinson, both of Toronto, bruises on body and limbs.

Miss Anna Anderson and Miss Anderson of Buffalo, were also hurt. The former's injuries consist of bruises on the limbs; the latter scalp cut and bruises on the body.

Miss Sinclair of Toronto, bruises on the body.

Mr. James G. Lapp, American customs officer of Suspension Bridge, who was on the up car with his sister, Mrs. Day of Lockport, N.Y., with a party of lady visitors from Michigan, were all more or less bruised and shaken up.

One of the party, Miss Craddock, a young lady of 20 years, was badly bruised and had the two bones of her left arm fractured.

Mrs. Lizzie Dunn of 77 Robert-street, Toronto, had two ribs broken, and a scalp wound six inches in length. She was unconscious two hours, but is now resting easily at the Tower Hotel, Niagara Falls, N.Y.; two physicians are in attendance.

Some of the injured people were run up to the Falls, where they could receive medical assistance, and were able to continue their journey home after having their injuries attended to, except Mrs. McCormick, who was taken to her hotel at the Falls.

Who is to blame will no doubt be found out when an investigation is held.

VENGEFUL ITALIAN.

Peter Borcio Shot Frank Cassato, Who Had Slain Borcio's Father.

New York, Aug. 3.—Peter Borcio, an Italian youth, assassinated the slayer of his father, Frank Cassato, last night by shooting him on the spot where the elder Borcio was killed two years ago. Cassato, who was a barber, had been sentenced to 19 years in the penitentiary. He had been recently pardoned by the Governor. Borcio, who is 18 years old, shot him the first time he saw him, and that happened to be in Elizabeth-street, at the very place the father had been killed in a feud that had its origin in Italy.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

The Renounced Treaty is Still the First Topic.

A VICTORY FOR THE GOVERNMENT

United Empire Association Greatly Pleased—The Cabinet Summoned to Meet on Thursday for Consideration of the Treaty and to transact Other Important Business.

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—The abrogation of the Zollverein treaties continues to be the leading topic of conversation here, and although no official information has been received, the ministers generally accept the newspaper reports as correct. Hon. R. W. Scott explains the fact that the news of the denunciation came first from Berlin and Brussels, as follows:

"The British Government not only have to give notice of the denunciation, but have also to serve the notice, and as it would not be courteous to make anything public until they had received word of the serving of the notices there, it would account for the absence of any official announcement in London. The next step will be to wait for the conclusion of the treaties at the end of twelve months."

"What will be the position in the meantime?" he was asked.

"Belgium and Germany will be entitled to the same preferential terms as Great Britain," he replied, "as, in fact, will every country with which the mother country has a most favored nation treaty. France does not come in, under that list. She comes in under our own statute. Our statute contains a clause that France shall enjoy any special privilege granted by Canada to any foreign nation. Possibly France may claim to be entitled to the preferential terms, but in this case Canada does not grant special privileges to any foreign nation. Great Britain grants them incidentally. This is certainly a most remarkable victory for the present Government, more especially as the denunciation came so close upon Sir Charles Tupper's speech beating the whole policy."

The news has caused unbounded joy amongst the members of the United Empire Association here.

Mr. Thomas MacFarlane, in conversation, said:

"It is the best news we have received for many long years. It is what we have been waiting for, and is the first step toward Imperial federation. The next step will be the second item on our program, a tariff for naval defence. We would put a 5 per cent. duty on all goods from foreign countries and let that go for the Imperial expenses."

Summonses for a Cabinet meeting to be held at 11 o'clock on Thursday morning were issued to-day. Important business in connection with the Yukon, and the denunciation of the treaties will, it is said, come up for consideration. The question of the appointment of a judge to the Superior Court of Ontario may also come up for consideration. Several names have been mentioned in connection with this appointment, but up to the present it is uncertain whether any vacancy really exists. No provision was made for the salary during last session, and consequently the first point to be determined is whether any judge can be appointed or not.

Hon. Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia and Defence, returned to the city this morning. He is apparently in good health, and well fitted to resume his official duties.

Rev Robert Eadie of Hintenburgh was to-day elected moderator of the Ottawa Presbytery.

ANOTHER RICH FIND.

Quicksilver Well Discovered in Nova Scotia, the Product of Which is Very Valuable.

Halifax, Aug. 3.—A mine or well of quicksilver has been discovered just outside of Dartmouth, on the other side of Halifax harbor, by a young lady of this city, Miss Jessie Mitchell. A quantity of the mercury was submitted to Prof. Dawson of Ottawa, who pronounced upon it favorably, and an English expert has also declared that the mineral is of a very valuable quality. Miss Mitchell, who is a young woman in ordinary circumstances, has, with the assistance of some friends, secured the property on which her discovery was made, and a company will be organized to develop the deposits. It is unusual to find this metal in such a pure state. It is mostly obtained by reduction from cinnabar, one of its ores. This is the first discovery of the kind ever made in Canada, and there are very few mercury mines in the whole world where the pure element is found. The fact that mercury if not included in the minerals of Nova Scotia proves that no such discovery was ever dreamed of. There is every probability of other minerals being discovered in the vicinity, and hence a number of acres were taken by the discoverer.

RHODES AND BEIT WILL PAY.

It is Said the Two Millionaires Will Cash Up the Whole Indemnity for the Jameson Raid.

London, Aug. 4.—The Morning Post understands that Cecil Rhodes and Alfred Beit, a former member of the board of directors of the British South Africa Chartered Company, have paid the Transvaal Government a quarter of a million pounds sterling as indemnity for the Jameson raid.

It has been believed for several months that Messrs. Rhodes and Beit would bear between them the entire cost of the raid, the legal expenses of Dr. Jameson's trial and the indemnity to the Transvaal. As Mr. Rhodes' profits for the year ending last May are known to have been about £500,000 ($2,500,000), and as Mr. Beit had also one of his best years, neither of them is likely to be ruined if the report stated in The Morning Post is correct.

MUNYON

HAS A CURE FOR EACH DISEASE

With Munyon's Improved Homœophic Remedies in the House, Mothers Can Become the Family Physician.

Professor Munyon is honoured to-day as the leading authority in the medical world. His new and humane methods of treatment have swept away all the old-fashioned ideas of doctoring with poisonous drugs that create a dozen diseases in the effort to get rid of one. He does not claim that he has one remedy that will cure all complaints, but that he has prepared a specific cure for nearly every disease. He does not claim that Munyon's Rheumatism Cure will cure consumption, dyspepsia or any other complaint, but he does assert that it will cure rheumatism. Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure is prepared expressly to cure dyspepsia; Munyon's Cough Cure to cure coughs; Munyon's Catarrh Remedies to cure catarrh; Munyon's Kidney Cure to cure kidney troubles. The same may be said of all Munyon's different remedies. They may be obtained at all drug stores, mostly at 25c a bottle.

ANOTHER MISSING.

And now another county treasurer has disappeared, the gentlemen in this case being Mr. Vanlunen, of Frontenac. There was at first reason to believe that he had defaulted and absconded, but it is now said that only a few days ago he deposited in a bank the sum of $2,000 to the county's credit, and that he could have got away with $9,000 had he so desired. Nevertheless he is gone, and the Ontario Government has been asked to send the Provincial Auditor to make a thorough investigation.

This sending of the Provincial Auditor, moralises the St. Thomas Journal, to investigate after the treasurers disappear, as in the cases of Simcoe and Frontenac counties, seems to partake of the nature of the farce enacted when the door is locked after the horse has been stolen. Why is this official not at work constantly? He should be pursuing his duties in every county treasurer's office in the province, one after the other, and there is no telling what discoveries he might make and what money he might save to the municipalities.

But what are the county auditors doing? And who will be the next county treasurer to disappear?

SIR WILFRED LAURIER IN ENGLAND.

Finance Chronicle.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was born under a lucky planet. Whether it was the "star of Empire," which, a poet said, takes its westward way, we know not, but whichever one it was brought him into a position of historic prominence as the Premier of the Empire's greatest colony. We do not begrudge Sir Wilfred his honours, but as they came to him in the first year of his holding the rank of Premier, he must regard the fates to have been exceedingly propitious when he was raised so recently to that dignity. Fortunately for himself, fortunately also for Canada, Sir Wilfred has those physical endowments, as well as mental accomplishments, which were in harmony with, and increased the prestige attaching to the high office he was called upon to fill as the representative of the Dominion at the Diamond Jubilee. We all know the suavity of his manners, which have in them a touch of the old time courtier. We all know the gracefulness of his diction, which, considering that English is not his native tongue, is a remarkable accomplishment. This indeed created much astonishment in England, where a Frenchman who speaks English with any approach to ease, or accuracy, or literary finish, is an almost unknown philological phenomenon. When to this facility in the use of the English language we add a thorough sympathy with British institutions, and ardent loyalty to the British Crown, we have the two leading causes of the enthusiastic reception given to Sir Wilfred by the British people. Save within a very narrow circle of officials the people of the old land know practically nothing about the French Canadians, and much of what they suppose themselves to know is not so. The idea of a Frenchman in England is mainly derived from some knowledge of the people of Paris, from stage caricatures, from teachers of French, and the characters in French novels. How misleading such materials are we all know in this city and province. When Sir Wilfred presented himself to the English people, they were surprised beyond measure, he was a revelation to them of a new type of British subject, a type which raised their pride in the Empire which could command men of another race, of such brilliant gifts, of such earnest loyalty as participants in its government. The British people are charged with being "insular," but, though they are so in one sense, there is no nation under the sun where such brilliant intellectual and social gifts as Sir Wilfred possesses find such warm appreciation as they do in the old country. The open road to the highest eminences of the State, in the professions, in commerce, in the sphere of politics, on which Great Britain so prides itself, has no racial barriers; "worth makes the man, the want of it the fellow," is nowhere so ingrained a sentiment as in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. On the topmost crest of a wave of this sentiment, impelled by a breeze of loyalty, Sir Wilfrid has been riding triumphantly, and has borne his honours with credit to his country.

THE HAWAIIAN GROUP.

The Hawaiian group, or Sandwich Islands may be said to be the scene where a contest for superiority between the Asiatic and American civilization is in progress, accompanied by periodic rumours of trouble between the United States and Japan. The islands are a long way from the United States; they are not big, and their population is not large. The combined area is much less than the area of the State of New Jersey. The entire population—American, native, Japanese and of other nationalities—is only 109,020. This is equalled by the population of many of what may be called the minor cities of the Union. The one most nearly approaching it is New Haven, Conn., with 108,000. Yet the people on the islands do a great deal of business. The total of their exports and imports last year was $21,578,223. The United States controls 90 per cent. of the entire trade. Of the exports, the United States takes practically all. Of the imports, Canada, Japan and China send a large proportion.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. and Mrs. John Best returned to Peterborough on Saturday.

Mr. John Saddler, of Toronto, was in our village last week.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. John Sutcliffe has successfully passed through an ocular operation. It was performed by a Peterborough specialist.

Miss Mabel Dean, of Port Hope, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Casey.

The necessary rain that was so much desired came last week and we thought it would never get done coming. Hay that stood out in it is scarcely as fit for fodder as straw. Some grain has budded in the shock, and some not yet cut has budded.

Mr. J. D. Denny, our ex-teacher, called to see some of our townspeople a few days ago.

Messrs. James Smith and T. W. McLean enjoyed a few days fishing at Klondike Point. They captured quite a number of the finny tribe.

Mr. F. Wilson, of Springville, township delegate of the S. S. convention, made the annual official visit to the Mount Pleasant Sunday school last Sunday. His remarks were eulogistic of the school and especially of the efficient teaching. He congratulated the school on having so careful and persevering a superintendent, who had served it for a great number of years. The superintendent replied in a few appropriate remarks.

Mrs. Bourdon, of Toronto, is visiting Miss Nellie McLean.

Mrs. George Ewing and her two daughters, of Toronto, are the guests of the Rev. John Ewing.

During the rain and electric storm of Friday a valuable milch cow, the property of Mr. Robt. Boyd, was killed by lightning. The animal was standing near a tree not far from the barn.

Mrs. Wm. Marsh and Misses Ella and Flossie Marsh, of Richmond Hill, are holidaying with the family of Mr. James McLean, father of Mrs. Marsh.

Mr. Wilbert Best, of Lindsay, is home for holidays.

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Owing to the heavy rains of last week considerable hay has been damaged. It also injured some of the standing grain but not to any great extent as some of the grain will rise again.

Berries are not very plentiful here this year, still there is a lot of pickers come from Bobcaygeon, but they meet with very poor success.

Miss Ada Strachan, teacher of S. S. No. 2, is spending her holidays visiting friends in Western Ontario.

They are changing teachers at Taylor's school house on the Buckhorn road, as their present teacher wishes to attend the Normal School. They have engaged the services of Miss Hughes for the balance of the term. She formerly taught in South Harvey.

Rev. R. McKnight has moved up from Peterborough and now occupies one of Dr. McCamus's cottages on the shore of Pigeon Lake. He intends to stay there for the summer. It will be more convenient for him now attending his pastoral duties. Although his congregations are very scattered their spiritual wants have been well attended to by him, both by preaching and visiting from house to house, which has earned for him golden opinions amongst his people and the good will of all.

A CONSTABLE TALKS.

Like Ordinary Mortals Subject to Kidney Disease but Easily Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

STAYNER, (Special), Aug. 2.—Mr. James K. Nesbitt, a county constable of this place, having suffered for a long time with kidney disease, he became aware that the doctors called it diabetes and incurable. As he had the good fortune to know that many cases of this disease had been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills this news did not startle him. He says he went straight to Sander's drug store, and commenced to get well on the first box purchased. Now he is going the usual rounds praising Dodd's Kidney Pills to every one who asks the particulars of his recovery.

Speaks from Experience

Mr. J. W. Tomlinson, Amherstburg, Ont. speaks from experience when he says:—"I am well satisfied with Doan's Kidney Pills They are undoubtedly the best medicine on the market for any one afflicted with urinary or kidney troubles, such as pain in the back, tired feeling, cramps, numbness, etc. They cured me and removed all my pains and aches."

FIXING UP THE COAL STRIKE.

It Begins to Look Now as if the Trouble May be Ended Shortly.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 3. To-day signatures will be appended to the uniformity agreement which has been in preparation for a week. Those members of the committee who are coal producers will sign it, and at once start out to visit the owners or managers of the 141 mines which are named as necessary to be included within the compact to secure additional signatures.

Those who were appointed by the convention of operators are confident the compact will be acceptable and will be signed by the required 95 per cent. of the owners or managers of mines. The agreement shall be filed in the county courts, and thereafter the decision shall have the same force and effect as a rule of the court. It is hoped to have the required number of signatures in time to call them together some time within the present month to perfect arrangements to carry it into effect.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

All told there were 60 carloads of live stock on the market yesterday, composed of 1200 cattle, 700 sheep and lambs, 50 calves and 500 hogs. Trade was decidedly brisk compared with the past month's transactions, and nearly everything was sold in good time. Some of the dealers complain that there are too many cows offering and not enough good cattle coming forward.

Prices were firm for exporters, and if anything a slight advance was made. The bulk of shippers went at from $4 to $4.30 and for a very few choice $4.60 and $4.65 was paid.

P. Foster sold to Mr. Ironsides 3 carloads weighing from 1250 to 1300 each, at $4.45, but they were a choice lot. For butchers' cattle the prices ranged much the same as on Friday last, but a good deal firmer. William Levack bought over 200 head of butchers' and exporters.

Common butchers' cattle were worth from $2.65 to $2.85 per cwt. Medium brought from $3 to $3.25 per cwt. and choice picked lots of butchers' cattle $3.75 to $4 per cwt., but sales of this character were rare.

H. Maybee bought from D. O. Cahahan 26 butchers', heifers, steers and cows, averaging about 900 lbs. each, at $2.80 per cwt. J. L. Itowntree 14 exporters from J. Hamilton, Wroxeter, and H. Harris of Ripley at from $4.25 to $4.60. A. Maybee bought 25 rough butchers' cattle, averaging 900 lbs. each, at $2.60; also 24 cows and heifers averaging 1020 lbs., from R. T. Brown at $3.35 per cwt.

S. Halligan bought four carloads of mixed butchers' cattle, which cost him from $3 to $3.50 per cwt.; these were for the Montreal market.

T. O. Robinson, St. Mary's, sold to Wm. Levack a load of heifers and cows for $3.50 per cwt.

Light feeders, weighing about 900 lbs., were worth from $3 to $3.25, and were in demand for points in Western Ontario, all offered being sold.

Stockers brought $2.75, and some as high as $2.90 per cwt. for Buffalo market.

About a dozen milk cows were offered and sold from $20 up to $35.

Calves sold at $3 to $6 each, according to quality.

Sheep are firm at Friday's quotations. Good export ewes are worth 3 per cwt., and bucks from $2.25 to $2.50 per cwt.

Of lambs there was a plentiful supply and sold at $3.75 to $3.25 each.

Only 500 hogs were offered, which is the smallest number that has been offered on one day during the present year; the market is steady and firm at $6 per cwt. for the best.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Ingersoll, Ont., Aug. 3.—Offerings to-day 2095 boxes; sales 440 at 8 1-16c; 8 1-16c bid all round; market hot, selling for 8⅛c on curb.

LOOKS LIKE TROUBLE.

Turkish Warships Have Left the Dardanelles for Cretan Waters.

Constantinople, Aug. 3.—A despatch from the Dardanelles to-day announces that the second naval division of the Turkish fleet, consisting of seven warships, commanded by Hari Pasha, has sailed for the Island of Crete.

Fears are expressed that the departure of the Turkish division may lead to a collision with the international fleet in Cretan waters, in view of the announcement of the foreign admirals that they have decided to oppose by force the landing of Turkish reinforcements in the Island of Crete.

French Papers Express Opinions—England Has Entered on a Great Struggle.

London, Aug. 3.—(Telegram Cable.)—Major Perry of the Canadian Northwest Mounted Police has been attached to the forces now at camp exercise on Salisbury Plain.

Referring to the recent denunciation of the commercial treaties with Germany and Belgium, The Gaulois of Paris says that England has acted in this matter less with the intention of benefiting Canada than of attempting to stop the onward march of German trade and commerce.

The Echo de Paris thinks that England "has entered upon a great struggle, which may become terribly dangerous."

PORTUGAL IN GRAVE TROUBLE.

A Veritable Reign of Terror said to Prevail in the Country.

London, Aug. 4.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Madrid describes a very grave state of affairs in Portugal. According to this correspondent the Portuguese Government is setting the constitution at defiance and adopting the most stringent repressive measures.

The police without legal warrants enter private dwellings at all hours of the day and night, ransack them, seize property and march the owners off to prison on the most trifling or utterly unfounded charge. A veritable reign of terror is fully established, and it is the popular belief that the Government contemplates passing its obnoxious financial legislation by means of a coup d'etat. So severe are the repressive measures adopted by the Government that, in the opinion of The Daily Mail's correspondent, no outbreak is likely to occur.

Bombay, Aug. 3.—It is announced in a despatch from Simla, the summer residence of the British Indian Government, that the combined casualties of the garrison of Fort Chakdara, in the Chitral district, which was relieved yesterday, and the relieving force under General Blood, only amounted to Lieut. Rattray wounded, seven native British soldiers killed and thirty-five wounded. The loss of the insurgent tribesmen who were besieging the place is not stated. Six thousand tribesmen, with scaling ladders, were preparing to attack the fort, when they were attacked by the first British column, under Col. Meiklejohn, and completely routed.

London, Aug. 3. The Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office, Mr. Curzon, replying in the House of Commons to-day to a question put by Sir Charles W. Dilke, as to whether Her Majesty's Government would at once publish Secretary Sherman's despatch of May 10, and any replies thereto, said papers were in preparation which would include the despatch mentioned and the reply made to it, but the Government did not think it desirable to publish the two despatches alone, because they must be published in conjunction with the previous correspondence on the same subject.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognized this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Directly the spinal cord which is the medium of these nerve centres, and through it runs to every...

Here in the...principle...Nervine...ble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain cure remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

The young lady held on to the lines well and the horse was stopped at the corner of Simcoe and Water streets, by Mr. Clayton Chowen, of Hall & Sons, Mr. Merriat held on to his horse's lines, after it had left the buggy on the market, by breaking the whiffle tree. No one was injured, although the market was crowded at the time.

VERY HIGH WATER.

Cottagers in Stony Lake all Complaining—No Seeming Necessity for the Holding Back of so Much Water—Nearly as High as the Spring Freshet Level.

Considerable complaint, comes from all quarters, of the depth of the water in Stony Lake. At present it is almost as high as it was in the early spring, and there does not appear to be any necessity for retaining it. The stationary wharves that have been erected according to the normal depth of water at this season of the year and allowing for exceptional seasons, are all under water. This inconvenience to the cottagers might be tolerated if there was any cause for it, but why the water should not be more evenly regulated is something that is yet to be found out. The trees along the shores that are not accustomed to finding the water from twelve to sixteen inches deeper at this season of the year are showing the effects. In the spring the water is not so damaging as the present, when the tree becomes overheated and the sap is not dormant as in spring. Cannot the superintendent of the canal take some action looking to the lowering of the water.

The Mayor Saved a Life.

Mayor J. W. Johnston of Belleville, who is well known in Peterborough, has, says the Intelligencer, been making a record for himself as a life saver. There are a number of visitors from the United States camped at Glen Island, and on Friday last a number of them were bathing near the wharf. One gentleman, who was not an expert swimmer, went too far out and got into deep water. He was unable to get back to the shoal and was exhausted by his efforts. Those near by saw him sink and gave the alarm. Mayor Johnson was some distance away at his cottage, but ran at once to the rescue. He did not stop to divest himself of any clothes but plunged in fully dressed and soon had the drowning man in a place of safety. Belleville's mayor is said to be one of the best swimmers in the district.

KENNEDY-WADE SEWER CONTRACT REVISED.

A DAYLIGHT SESSION OF THE TOWN COUNCIL.

The Board of Education Lectured for its Extravagance—A Conference in Respect to Finances Asked for—Consideration of the Estimates Postponed.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Present, the Mayor and Messrs. Best, Denne, Neill, Dawson, Cobb, McWilliams and White.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received—

From John Taylor, asking rebate on peddlers' license.—Granted.

From McDonald, Cartwright & Macdonald, asking a settlement of the claim of Mr. Grant, contractor, for sewers. It was explained that $130 had been offered in settlement, whereas Mr. Grant claimed some $200. The clerk was instructed to forward cheque for $130, and to say that the town solicitor would accept service of a writ in case suit was entered, in pursuance of rejection of the cheque as payment in full.

An account of R. H. Leary for $2 50 was paid.

THE SEWER CONTRACT.

Mr. Best explained that in conversation with Mr. Kennedy, of Kennedy & Wade, in regard to their sewer contract, respecting which the firm had asked reconsideration. Mr. Kennedy had expressed willingness to go on with the contract in case the town furnished the brick for the manholes. Mr. Best thought it would be to the advantage of the town to accept the offer of Mr. Kennedy.

[Last night Messrs. Kennedy & Wade appeared before the committee and explained that in making their tender they had omitted the estimate of the brick for the manholes and requested a reconsideration in some manner. If they had added $500 to their tender for the cost of the brick their tender would still be lower than other tenderers].

Mr. Denne was in favour of a re-tender in case the matter was re-opened. If Kennedy & Wade were not willing to carry out their contract, their tender should be set aside, their cheque for $400 forfeited and a new tender called for.

Mr. Neill said he agreed with Mr. Best that the town should furnish the brick, as the tender of Kennedy & Wade was nine hundred dollars lower than the next lowest. The brick would cost $481.

Mr. McWilliams also agreed with Mr. Best that the town would be the gainer by accepting the present tender and furnishing the brick.

Mr. Best believed that $500 would furnish all the brick for the manholes.

In reply to Mr. Denne's expression of surprise that experienced contractors should make an omission in estimating on so important a branch of the specifications. Mr. Best cited the example of an experienced firm of contractors withdrawing their tender because they had omitted to estimate on far more important items than Kennedy & Wade had omitted.

SETTLING THE MATTER.

Mr. McWilliams moved, seconded by Mr. Cobb, that the contract be given to Messrs. Kennedy & Wade at the figures of $9,916, as mentioned in their tender, the town to furnish pipe, cement, brick and gasket, and that in case Messrs. Kennedy & Wade decline to accept this condition and sign the contract on these terms that their cheque be forfeited and that new tenders be advertised for.

SEWERAGE BY-LAW.

Mr. Best introduced a by-law to provide for the construction of sewers on portions of certain streets which have already been detailed in THE EXAMINER, as follows:—Aylmer, 1,960 feet 12 inch and 4080 feet of 12-inch; and nine-inch sewers on these streets: Aylmer, 253 feet; Charlotte, 475 feet, Simcoe, 220 feet; Hunter, 425 feet; Stewart 4.132 feet 12 inch; George, 910 feet 15-inch; Water, 910 12-inch, and Murray east, 870 feet nine inch.

KEELHAULING THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Mr. Best brought up the matter of the excessive demand made by the school board this year. He thought the style of the school board was too much stand and deliver. It was, he thought, time to take a stand.

Mr. McWilliams in additional comment stated that the expenses of the schools had been increased in a most unaccountable and extraordinary manner, the expense going far ahead of increases in other directions. He pointed out that in 1894 the total number of children of school age was 2,957, and the number in 1897 was but 2,990, an increase of only 33. In 1894 the expenditure for schools was $19,200, while it was $24,800 in 1897, an increase of $5,600. Taking the average of teachers' salaries at $400, this increase would mean an increase of fourteen teachers to meet the demands of an increase of school population of 33. He also generally indicated other extravagance, such as the rental of the Menzies property, which with loss of taxes and rental, meant an addition of $519 a year. Every new inspector had some new fad to introduce, and the last one demanded a separate seat for each pupil, thus decreasing the seating capacity of the rooms and entailing expenditure for increased accommodation. The expenses might well be reduced. The town treasurer could as well handle the school board money as the school board treasurer, and the inspector could be made secretary and the expense of a board secretary saved.

Mr. Denne pointed out the great abundance of teachers available, as shown by the experience of Minden, that recently advertised for teachers and received applications by the score.

The Mayor—Yes, the woods are full of them (or words to that effect.)

A FINANCIAL CONFERENCE CALLED.

Mr. Best suggested that there be a conference between the School Board and the council in reference to money matters.

Mr. McWilliams moved, seconded by Mr. Denne, that the Board of Education be requested to have their Finance Committee meet the committee of the whole council to discuss matters relating to the finances—Carried.

Mr. Dawson called attention to the dangerous condition of the supports under the street gratings on the business streets. The under timbers were decayed and persons were liable to fall through and be injured. He suggested that the bedding of the grates should be of stone and built in a permanent manner.

The Great Attraction This Week.

Gough Bros'. hurricane sale of summer clothing, hats, boots, gloves and furnishings for men, youths and boys will doubtless prove a great attraction this week. A shrinkage of $10,500 on the prices covered by their whole stocks in both stores since last week should be inducement enough to bring crowds to their counters. The prices represent their great reductions in summer stocks, including that portion of the clothing left over from their great sale of the E. A. Small & Co.'s mammoth purchase in Montreal. Everything that cannot be carried over is to be got rid of. The goods cannot be marked any lower, and in order to have the benefit of a fairly good selection they advise all to call early to get the pick of the choicest. The changed prices will probably clear out all the summer goods in about a couple of weeks. dtf

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF ASSOCIATION WORK.

YEARLY MEETING OF THE PETERBOROUGH Y. M. C. A.

A Fairly Well Attended Meeting—Reports of the Secretary and Treasurer—Renewed Spirit of Zeal and Confidence—Expectations for the Future.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association was held last night in the Board rooms. There was a good attendance of the official board and a fair attendance of those interested in the work.

Mr. A. Parker, President, occupied the chair and after devotional exercises and routine, the General Secretary, Mr. G. H. Williamson, presented the

as below:

To the Officers and Members of the Young Men's Christian Association:

The report of the work to be presented by me to-night must of necessity be brief and free from details as my term of office extends but over three months, of the nineteen that have elapsed since the last annual meeting, which was held in January, 1896.

By reason of a combination of adverse circumstances with which all are familiar, the work has, during that period, passed through many trials and seasons of uncertainty. These have affected many interests of the Association and have in the end robbed this report of glowing arrays of facts and figures that always accompany the report of the work of a year—that night—by the presence of them, be characterized as a successful one.

The thought and energy of the Association for the period embraced by this report, has been centred in the planning, construction and furnishing of the new building we now occupy—the arrangement and beauty of which have been the comment of the hundreds of visitors from the town and outside points who have inspected it since the opening. These testify strongly to the men who have directed the project step by step.

In this connection the Association desires to thank Messrs. Hall and McGill, the trustees of the Nicholls Estate, for giving the Board of Directors every latitude in the preparation of suitable plans and superintending the erection of the building as a whole.

The success that marked the days of the opening services from June 24 to 27 need no comment here. The work of furnishing the building proper was undertaken by the ladies of the churches and the gymnasium by the young men. Their respective tasks have not yet been completed, which necessitates the absence of a report at this time. It will, however, be published in full at an early date.

REVIEW OF THE PAST YEAR.

Mr. A. V. Smith, the late general secretary, resigned in February of the present year after a service of a year and a few months. Great praise is due him for his assistance in the preparation of the plans for the building and so well adjusting them to the needs of the young men of Peterborough.

Mr. H. D. Kennedy in an able way filled the office of acting-secretary until the present incumbent of the office was called in May last. Under very unfavourable circumstances indeed Mr. Kennedy, with a fair measure of success held the membership together and sustained the spiritual side of the work.

The agencies employed in this direction have been (1) the men's meetings on Sunday afternoon at 4.15. These have been well attended and have been marked with definite spiritual results. (2) the Saturday evening meetings; (3) a Bible class taught by Rev. J. G. Potter, and in connection with this an hour's study each week in the Greek Testament.

The baths were kept in running order the greater portion of the year, and, considering accommodation, met with fair patronage.

Since our last annual meeting the Board has suffered a loss through the death of Mr. John Moffat, who had always shown a very active interest in this work among young men. His early death was a matter of deep regret on the part of the workers. We have also lost through removals Messrs W. J. Green and E. A. Stanley.

The public reading room was perhaps the greatest attraction and success, in so far at least as number and interest is concerned.

Work for boys was conducted during the autumn and winter months. A Gospel meeting was held every Friday evening with a fair average attendance.

FINANCES.

In view of the fact that all the energy of the Association has been directed towards the new building, the financial side of the work has suffered; and a regrettable feature of the annual meeting is the treasurer's report, which shows a present deficit on current expenses of $64.

Since the building has been completed there has been an increased activity in this particular and I am pleased to report that in connection with our furnishing fund, including that of the gymnasium, over $1,000 has been raised, which makes a total of $1,235 when the amount collected for fees since entering into the new building has been added.

In examining the books of the Association I find many yearly subscriptions are in arrears. This perhaps has been in most cases due to the fact that our friends have not been waited on as in former years by the Finance Committee.

As we begin another year, and taking into consideration our floating debt and the necessary additional expenditure connected with the work, and the extensive facilities which the new building provides, there must be an increase in the subscriptions of at least one-half as much more as has been received in former years.

THANKS.

In this respect we desire to thank all who have assisted in the work. Words will fail to express this. The ladies of the various churches for their faithful work in the furnishings of the building; the young men of the Association and town for their work in connection with the gymnasium fund, which has not been any where surpassed; to the EXAMINER and the Review the Association feels particularly grateful. I know of no town or city where the press have more graciously opened their columns or manifested a deeper interest generally than these papers have done—especially during the past three months.

We stand to-day under favourable auspices, indeed, we trust, at the dawn of a new era. To the late Mrs. Charlotte J. Nicholls we owe a debt that no service can repay. Her memory will ever be cherished by the young men of the present and succeeding generations. It now remains for us as workers and citizens to say by our record of the future year and years what is our measure of appreciation of this magnificent gift. We recognize there are difficulties before us, but we also recognize the Power which we can have at our command. Like Joshua of Old with his army of the children of God, we stand to-day on the borderland of the goodly heritage that has been given us to possess.

With the same spirit that made that old champion stand firm—and trusting to the same Power—the power of the Great Captain of our Salvation—Jesus Christ,

"Shall we not say, "Let us go up and possess it, for we are well able to overcome."

Respectfully submitted,
GEO. H. WILLIAMSON,
General Secretary.

The report was adopted on motion of Mr. Madill, seconded by Mr. J. S. Knapman.

A FINE OPENING

For a Serious Accident and a Serious Action, or Rather Series of Actions, For Damages.

There is a splendid opening for an action for damages on the boundary road between Peterborough and North Monaghan, near the most westerly entrance of Jackson Park. This opening consists of a hole in the culvert, nearly opposite the gate of "Rockland," Mr. E. B. Edward's residence. The hole is quite of a convenient size to take in—in a double sense—a horse's leg, especially from the northern side. It slopes invitingly from this direction, and on the south side the sharp edge of a plank presents an excellent device for breaking a horse's leg about half way between the pastern and the knee.

This is the material for an action for damages, but the situation of the break in relation to the adjacent municipalities, presents an excellent chance for complications. The hole mentioned is, to a casual glance, about the middle of the highway, but, if anything, it looks to be a little on the Peterborough side. It is, however, close enough to the median line to set up a condition favourable to the erection of a plea of divided jurisdiction. Suppose an accident should happen—and it's a mercy that one has not chanced before this—the seeker after damages has his choice between suing the corporation of Peterborough and the corporation of North Monaghan. For without actual knowledge of the law on that subject, it would look to be reasonable that one or the other, or did both corporations, is or are responsible. If action is brought against one and damages be awarded, the defeated corporation might bring action against the other to seek to shift, or if not shift, to divide the responsibility and the consequent expense, for the opening referred to is so nearly in the middle of the road that there is room or rather highway for the prettiest sort of a quarrel to which the recent sewerage arbitration complication between the town and the township would be a tempest in a tea-pot in comparison with a Bahama hurricane.

Of course corporations are fond of actions for damages (and the lawyers are naturally fonder) and it is not probable that any action will be taken in the matter of repair, for in addition to the natural indisposition of corporations to lock the stable before the horse is stolen, the excuse for inaction implied in the condition—"what is two corporations' business is neither corporations' business" would apply. This is attested to by the fact that this hole has existed in its present condition—only growing worse every day—for a long time. It is quite in keeping with the usual tenor of the brilliancy of corporation reasoning to conclude that as no accident has yet happened it is impossible for any accident to happen in the future.

The cost of putting the damaged culvert into a sound and safe condition would be about what is involved in the expenditure represented by 35 cents worth of material, 35 cents worth of labour, and enough common sense to bring common cents up to $1.

The circumstances that have consumed so many words in the telling might have been indicated in one brief sentence, but periphrastic circumlocution has been purposely employed as an object lesson of the complicated and long-drawn out litigation that may arise any day from a horse breaking his leg, breaking his driver's neck, breaking a widow's heart, and breaking the record for a long law suit, over a hole in a culvert on a boundary road which nobody owns and for whose safe condition, judging by the past, nobody is willing to be responsible. This is rather a long sentence, but its the soul of wit itself compared with the litigation that would ensue if two corporations are dunderheads enough to get at loggerheads over a hole that may land both in a hole unless said hole is made whole.

How many people are ashamed to go into company on account of their foul-smelling breath, caused from catarrh or cold in head? If they would study their own interests they would soon have a sweet breath like their neighbors. Their is one sure cure for Catarrh and that is Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. Give one blow through the blower and you get relief immediately. Price, including blower 25cents.

A Big Fish.

Mr. Nelson Nurse, in the neighbourhood of the Jubilee Point docks, caught a huge lunge which weighed 27½ lbs., the mouth of which when opened measured 7 inches. The fish towed Mr. Nurse from one side of the river to the other before he landed it with the assistance of Mr. Adam Davidson, who came to the rescue. During the evening a surprise party arrived from the head of the Lake and Port Hope, which was composed of 15 couples. The huge fish was served out for supper and was greatly relished. The guests were a jolly lot, they having their own orchestra, dancing was indulged in during the evening.

KINGSTON BIKE RACES.

McLeod in Front, With McCarthy Second and Davidson Out of It.

Kingston, Aug. 2.—Delightful weather greeted the Quinte District cycle meet to-day. It was the Civic Holiday, and business was generally abandoned. The Athletic grounds in the afternoon were the scene of the events, and a great crowd greeted the cyclers. A soft, balmy breeze blew from the west. The races were put on in good order, under an efficient local staff.

During the morning hours a 10-mile road race was run. The route was twice around the track of the Midland Central Fair grounds, to Westbrook, and return, and twice around the track again to finish. The route was over the best part of the famous York road. There was a long grade at Cataraqui, requiring hard pumping. Thirty eight took part, but only 28 finished, the balance falling out by the way, some through spills, punctures and lack of wind. There were handicaps of from one to ten minutes. A. Vennels, Toronto, with a handicap of 10 minutes, came home first, covering the course in an hour. His associate, William Grass of Westbrook, finished fourth.

John Davidson, Brantford, and Murray of Hamilton, scratch men, finished 21st and 24th, respectively. R. Stoner and E. Blaylock were second and third men in. Stoner won the time limit prize, covering the course in 58 minutes, and beating the Canadian record by 1.08 minutes. Hitherto Cassidy of Toronto has had the record at 59.08 minutes. R. Westrop of Toronto was second limit man, covering the route in 59.15 minutes, seven seconds behind the previous road record. Both these men belong to the Royal Canadian Club. H. N. Taylor, Perth, was third prize man. His time was 59.59 minutes. A. Blaylock, Royal Canadian Club, Toronto, was fourth prize man in 59.45 minutes. J. A. Porter, Toronto, equalled this time, but Blaylock beat him in. The balance of the men covered the course in from 60 to 63 minutes.

The Royal Canadian Club, Toronto, got the team prize, Kingston Club second and Queen City Club, Toronto, third place.

The afternoon meet was long drawn out. It was 7 o'clock when the end was reached. Time limits were in force, and several races had to be run over twice. Then the professional men were not in good humor, and they indulged in much kicking, and in one case blows are said to have been exchanged. The results were:

One mile, novice (in heats because of number of entries)—Final heat:—Thomas Arnold, Toronto, 1; A. Murray, Hamilton, 2; David Colville, Toronto, 3. Time 2.21 2-5.

Quarter-mile, open (heats by points)—R. Thompson, Tourists, Toronto, 1; R. E. Axton, Brantford, 2. Time 33 1-5 sec.

Half mile, professional, best two in three (run twice, as heats were declared off in the first)—Harley Davidson won, but refused to go a second time. He wanted to run in the third attempt, but McCarthy and McLeod objected. Davidson was ruled out. The race went: Angus McLeod, Brantford, 1; T. B. McCarthy, Toronto, 2; Cecil Elliott, Toronto, 3. Time 1.03.

Two mile district championship—Soon after the start R. W. Johnston (Port Hope), J. H. Boulter (Picton) and J. B. Shillinglow had a spill. Boulter re-mounted, but could not overtake George Smith of Kingston, who took the prize in 5.15 2-5.

Mile, open, professional—The first attempt was no race, as the limit was exceeded. The second resulted: Angus McLeod, Brantford, 1; T. B. McCarthy, Toronto, 2; C. Greatrix, Toronto, 3. Time 2.13 3-5.

Mile, open, amateur (run in two heats)—Final: R. E. Axton, Brantford, 1; R. Thompson, Tourist, Toronto, 2; W. Tuff, Montreal, 3. Time 2.21.

Two mile, open, handicap, professional—Angus McLeod and Cecil Elliott were scratch men, but by the second quarter were up to the others, and the hot race ended: Angus McLeod 1, Cecil Elliott 2, C. Greatrix 3. Time 5.04 3-5.

Three mile, open, professional—McCarthy, Harley David an and Greatrix contested. The first two ended a dead heat. Davidson and McCarthy ran off for first money, and McCarthy won.

One mile, 2.35 class, amateur (run in heats). The final heat was as first run declared no race, as time limit was exceeded. At the second test the result was: J. H. Power, Toronto, 1; David Colville, Toronto, 2. Time 2.23 min.

Two mile handicap, amateur—R. E. Axton, Brantford, 1; H. A. Cousirat, Montreal, 2; D. S. Wilson, Toronto, 3. Time 4.47 1-5. In this race Boulter fell and Powers went over him. Both were hurt.

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local-application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness.

TWO MORE FOR TORONTO.

Toronto, Aug. 3.

The Torontos played two games yesterday with Scranton, and won both rather easily.

In the morning Gaston had the visitors at his mercy, and their only run was unearned, while the Islanders earned seven, besides getting two others. The crowd was only 2000, but they witnessed the better game of the two.

In the afternoon about 8000 saw the lacrosse and baseball double attraction. The feature of the championship contest was Snyder's home run over the left field seats, clear out on the platform. Norton had the visitors well in hand, while Harper was found for a total of 18 bases. The score was 11 to 5.

Montreal, Aug. 2.—Montreal played a double-header to-day with Providence, and suffered defeat in both games. Costly errors by the home team lost the first game. In the second game Hutchinson drove a home run over the centre field fence, it being the longest hit ever seen in this city. Attendance, 1500. Score:

AT BUFFALO AND SYRACUSE.

At Buffalo: Buffalo and Wilkes-Barre broke even in the two games played. The second game required 11 innings to win. Scores:

First game—											R.	H.	E.
Buffalo	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	1	1	-4	11	5
Wilkes-Barre	0	3	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	-5	6	2

Wilkes Barre	3	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	5	8	5

Batteries—Sowders and Urquhart; Keenan and Gooding.

At Syracuse: The Stars batted Korwan rather freely here, while Willis pitched his usual good game, except in the sixth, when four hits were made off his delivery, while the Stars were making three errors. The Foules kicked hard on Umpire Doescher's decisions, and Korwan, Brothers, Fuller and Duncan were fined $5 each, while Green will pay $10. Score:

										R.	H.	E.
Syracuse	1	2	0	0	1	0	0	1	*-	-5	10	4
Springfield	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	1	-4	8	1

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Chicago: The Colts won both games with but little effort. Griffiths' pitching was entirely too much for the Browns in the first, their solitary run at the finish being purely a gift. Grimes was easy for the locals in the second, while Briggs kept the hits well scattered. Pulsch's all round work in both games and Anson's fielding in the second were features. Attendance, 3000. Score:

First game—										R.	H.	E.
Chicago	1	2	3	3	0	0	1	0	*-	-10	12	4
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	-1	5	4

St. Louis	0	1	0	1	0	2	0	0	1	-5	10	2

Batteries—Briggs and Kittridge; Grimes and Douglass.

At Baltimore: The Champions won from the Philadelphias in a game of no especial interest. This was the 22nd consecutive victory for the Orioles over the Quaker City aggregation. The lightning double play of Doyle and Jennings was the only feature worth mentioning. Score:

										R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	0	1	0	0	1	1	1	0	*-	-4	13	1
Philadelphia	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	-2	10	1

Batteries—Pond and Clarke; Fifield and Boyle.

At Brooklyn: The New Yorks won another game from the Brooklyns at Eastern Park. Kennedy again tried his hand against the Giants, but once more he was forced to acknowledge defeat. Joyce played a poor game at third, but Seymour's clever pitching and the New Yorks' timely batting saved the day. The Washington-Brooklyn game scheduled for Friday will be played on Thursday. Score:

										R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	2	0	2	0	2	1	0	1	0	-8	8	4
New York	0	3	2	0	0	2	0	2	0	-9	9	2

Batteries—Kennedy and Grim; Seymour and Warner.

At Washington: Klobedanz was easy for the Senators in the first game, but the Bean-Eaters gave them a scare when they pounded Mercer for six hits in the eighth, one of them a triple. In the second game German was wild, forcing in a run in the third innings, with bases on balls. Swalm then took his place and pitched in better form. Attendance, 800. Score:

First game—										R.	H.	E.
Washington	0	0	3	2	0	4	0	0	*-	-9	14	2

Boston	4	1	3	1	0	0	3	0	0	-9	8	4

Batteries—German, Swalm and McGuire; Sullivan and Lake.

At Louisville: The Colonels won a dull and slowly-played game from Cleveland. Clarke was taken out by Tebeau after the third, and Powell substituted. Outfielder Pickering has not been sold to Syracuse, as reported, but has been given his unconditional release. Attendance, 600. Score:

										R.	H.	E.
Louisville	1	0	3	1	0	0	0	0	*-	-5	8	2
Cleveland	1	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	-3	8	2

Batteries—Evans and Wilson; Powell, Clarke and Zimmer.

GUELPH AND LONDON.

Guelph, Aug. 2.—The baseball game this morning resulted easily in favor of London. The Leafs' pitchers, Bradford and Crow, were hit hard and, together with errors, London scored 18 (three innings. Score:

										R.	H.	E.
London	0	0	1	1	8	0	0	0	4	-20	14	4
Guelph	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	-2	10	12

Batteries—Kershaw and Reid; Bradford, Crow and Roberts. Umpire—Dyson.

A huge crowd witnessed the ball game here this afternoon, notwithstanding the poor game in the morning. Keenan was hit hard from the start and London played a poor game in the field. Doty, for the Leafs, pitched a good game. Score:

									R.	H.	E.
London	0	0	1	0	0	0	2	2	1	-6	8	8

Wise Men Know

It is folly to build upon a poor foundation, either in architecture or in health. A foundation of sand is insecure, and to deaden symptoms by narcotics or nerve compounds is equally dangerous and deceptive. The true way to build up health is to make your blood pure, rich and nourishing by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache.

"Of course you can take a hint," she said, looking at him thoughtfully. He couldn't, and she knew it, and that's why she said it. It wouldn't have been necessary otherwise.

"Of course," he replied. "Have you been hinting at anything?"

"Oh, dear, no!" she answered with suspicious haste. "I was just thinking, you know."

"Thinking of what?"

"Why, suppose—just suppose, you know that I was a hint."

After pondering the matter deeply for several minutes he decided to take her.

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by the Doctors in the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

OTTAWA, July 28th.—It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent of this city with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills has definitely decided the objection as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine and has been been accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no question raised to the statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

Pleasant, Sure and Quick.

GENTLEMEN,—I am pleased to recommend your Laxa Liver Pills for constipation, dyspepsia and sick headache. I have used them for those troubles, and find them a pleasant, sure and quick cure, free from the annoying griping of other pills I have heretofore used.

Signed, H. JAMES,
St. Nicholas Hotel, Hamilton, Ont.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent 389 George Street.

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9th, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Co., Ltd., Ottawa:—

GENTLEMEN,—I hardly know how best to express my appreciation of your valuable rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline. My son Gordon, who is 9 years old, has been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for the past two years; was so bad at times that he had to be carried about on a mattrass; was attended by two city doctors apparently without the slightest benefit; spent 10 days at Caledonia Springs, came home with no marked improvement; took three bottles of a Homeopathic remedy now being extensively advertised, which did not relieve him in the least. I was beginning to give up all hope of his recovery, when by chance I mentioned the case to a friend who strongly advised me to give Phrenoline a trial.

I did so, with the result that when my boy had taken only half a bottle he was able to get on his bicycle and ride like any other boy around the block.

I certainly feel that I cannot say too much in praise of your medicine, and shall do all I can to make known its value to others.

Yours very sincerely,

High-Grade Cemetery Work
AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

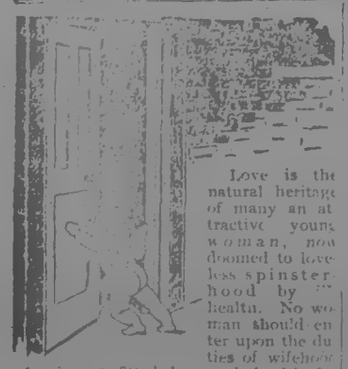
LONG BROS.

414 and 286 George Street.



Love is the natural heritage of many an attractive young woman, now doomed to loveless spinsterhood by ill health. No woman should enter upon the duties of wifehood who is not fitted by good health for that position and for the responsibilities of motherhood. If a woman suffers from weakness and disease of the organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible, she should remedy these conditions before assuming the responsibilities of a wife. Otherwise, she stands little chance of proving a happy and capable wife, and motherhood will always menace her with the terrors of death.

A sure and quick cure for all weakness and disease that unfits a woman for matrimony and maternity is found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly and only on the organs involved. It makes them strong and healthy. It cures all weakness and disease. It prepares for wifehood and motherhood. Taken during the expectant period it makes baby's coming easy and comparatively painless. It insures the health of the child. Thousands of women have testified to its merits. Druggists sell it.

"I have found great relief since taking your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. Henry Barlow of Lonsdale, Providence Co., R. I. "I was all broken down from nervous prostration. Since taking your medicine I have had more relief than from all the doctors' medicines—which cost me more than I could afford."

It is hard work to work when poisoned from neglected constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

X RAY PROGRESS.

The Newest Investigations in Crookes Tube Radiation.

A brief abstract from a German journal, appearing in The Electrical World, as to recent investigations in the generation of X rays, shows that this property increases with the molecular weight of the substances from which the rays are propagated, and that, therefore, uranium salts, especially uranium and green uranium oxide, are better than platinum for the anti-cathode. Comparisons show that tubes thus constructed are very much more active and do not require nearly the same care in adjusting the vacuum.

When the rays of greatest penetrative power are emitted from an X ray tube the production of heat inside of the tube is comparatively small; as exhaustion proceeds the energy previously given out as heat assumes the form of X rays. A large number of experiments made to obtain refraction with the diamond and aluminum gave negative results.

The fluorometer is the name of the latest X ray outfit. The function of the fluorometer is to establish with precision the location of any foreign body within the human organism, which is permeable or comparatively impermeable to the X ray. Another of its functions is to provide the surgeon with absolute and reliable measurements in cases of dislocation, fractures, etc.

Professor Elihu Thomson, of the General Electric Company, has just had issued to him a patent protecting his idea of stereoscopic radiographs, by whose aid a solid form is given to the bones or other objects photographed, and thus showing the relative position of the images. His method consists in exposing the object to be photographed to a source of Roentgen rays in one position, and then shifting the relative position of the source of rays and the object while making a second exposure.

Experiments described in L'Eclairage Electrique conducted to ascertain whether the photographic action of Roentgen rays is a secondary one, due to phosphorescence, or is direct, show that the action is direct.

Sarrazes and Riviere, in L'Eclairage Electrique, state they are unable to find any apparent modification in certain microbes when subjected to the action of X rays; nor could any action be noticed on the heart of a frog by an hour's exposure.

Recent investigation published in The London Lancet appears to have settled definitely in the negative the question whether Roentgen rays exert any influence on bacteria life, at least as far as the tubercle and diphtheria bacilli are concerned.

A brief note from the Italian recently appeared in a French journal in which the author, Capranica, showed that X rays have no influence on organic combustion, the action of the tube being continued four hours per day; no action could be produced on animals inoculated with certain bacteria.

FRANK RODE TO DEATH.

Riding a Bicycle on a High Wire He Was Electrocuted Awful Spectacle in New York.

New York, Aug. 2.—Frank McDonnell of Toronto, who is known as "the champion illuminated bicycle performer of the world," was killed at Ridgewood Park last night.

In the presence of 5,000 people he essayed to ride a bicycle across an electric wire strung seventy-five feet above the ground. He had proceeded but a short distance, when he fell and died almost instantly. Americans of Hessian birth are holding a Volksfest at Ridgewood Park. Wissel, proprietor of the park, and the Brooklyn City Railroad engaged "Professor Acton" as a special attraction. He agreed to repeat the performance he has long been giving in the West for every night in the week.

The most striking feature of this performance was to ride the bicycle across an electric wire. At Ridgewood there is a wire of galvanized iron, an inch in diameter and a hundred feet long, strung at the height of seventy-five feet between two platforms. The current that passes through the wire was derived from the trolley lines outside of the park, and was 500 volts strong.

When it was announced at 10 o'clock last night that Professor Acton was about to appear the thousands of people at the Park deserted the shooting galleries, the bowling alleys and the dancing floor and assembled under the wire. As usual at a Volksfest, very many women and children were in the crowd. McDonnell ascended to the platform at one end of the wire. Then he whetted the appetite of the spectators for the most dangerous feat by performing others not so risky. He made a belt of rubber on the wire and by it, thickly balancing himself. He was dressed in blue tights and wore rubber shoes. Then he walked from one end to the other of the wire and back again, dancing on it while the crowd applauded.

Then for the climax of the entertainment McDonnell's bicycle wheels are grooved. He placed the wheels on the wire. Attached to his was a second wire. On his body were strung 10 electric lights in glass bulbs of various hues, and around the wheels were fixed 30 similar bulbs.

If the arrangement of the wire attached to him had been safe and certain, the electric circuit would have been completed the moment he mounted his wheel. Carefully he got astride of the bike, and, balancing himself, put his feet on the pedals. The electric bulbs were illumined and wheel and man burst into a variegated blaze. As he moved the pedals a tremendous shout went up from a thousand persons who were watching him.

"He's off!" they cried, just as the crowds yell at the race track. McDonnell, on his bike, moved about 10 feet along the wire. Then he lost his right pedal. He swayed and made a desperate effort to regain the pedal. The crowd saw his danger and uttered a horrified cry. Many of the women bent their heads, covered their eyes and ran away from the sight. McDonnell stiffened up in his saddle, leaned backward, threw up his arms and fell.

He never moved or uttered a sound after he struck the ground. Dr. C. J. Hettesheimer, of No. 313 Wyckoff-avenue, Brooklyn, was in the park. He ran to McDonnell, raised his head and supported him. The daring rider scarcely breathed, and died almost instantly. The only injury of which the doctor was certain was that McDonnell's left arm was broken. He suspected that three of his ribs were fractured. So he and most of those who saw the accident had the idea that McDonnell, in striving to regain his pedal, had disarranged the wire attached to him, and that the current had passed through his body, electrocuting him in midair. A post-mortem examination will be made.

Just after he had made his bed on the wire and danced on it last night, he turned to his attendant, a man known only as Jim, and said:

"I wish this thing was over. I hate these Sunday performances."

He became well known on both sides of the border when he made his records walking across the Niagara Gorge, when he was but a boy in 1894. He crossed the gorge on a high slack wire in six minutes and a fraction of a second, being the fastest time made by any wire or rope walker across the chasm. During his engagement at Niagara Falls he crossed the gorge and back 13 times, 26 trips in all, and then walked across enveloped in a sack. After this accomplishment he gave exhibitions in all parts of the country, his latest attraction being the live wire performance. He was a most interesting young man, beloved by all who knew him and had made many friends while here.

The autopsy on the body of Frank McDonnell was held to-day at Newtown, Long Island, and disclosed the fact that death was due to electric shock and not to the fall McDonnell sustained. It was found that the rubber non-conducting suit which McDonnell wore was leaky.

MONCURE D. CONWAY.

The Distinguished Writer Who Is Claimed by Two Nations.

Moncure Daniel Conway, who is visiting in the United States, is claimed by London and New York as a citizen. Whatever right London may have to the distinguished preacher and writer, he is first of all an American of the Americans, says The Chicago Times-Herald, and few of his countrymen can boast of a better pedigree or a more active and useful career than can Mr. Conway. For 20 years he was pastor of Seith Place chapel in London, and Londoners love him. His score of years' life in England did not Anglicize him. He never gave up his citizenship and his apology for remaining abroad was his desire to help the poor of London. The field he found there was not to be found in America. Before starting abroad Mr. Conway did his share toward freeing the black slaves. He is a Virginian, and his father was rich and owned many slaves. Young Conway was early converted to the anti-slavery party, and vied with Beecher in denouncing the "peculiar institution." He was not theoretical alone in his work. He showed that he had the courage of his convictions by taking all of his father's slaves out of Virginia, freeing them, and colonizing them in Ohio. From a boy he was a writer. At first he wrote for newspapers and magazines, but soon found time to produce books. Some of his writings are classic, especially "The Sacred Anthology," published in 1876, and "Demonology and Devil Lore," which was published in 1879. Mr. Conway in his young manhood was a lawyer, but left the law for the ministry of the Methodist church. Later he became a Congregationalist, reaching that faith through Unitarianism, odd as that process may appear. His novels and his historical works are among the most interesting books of their kind to be found in print.

LACROSSE.

Lacrosse practice to-night.

Hastings wants to arrange a game with the senior team, to take place at Hastings on tueir Civic Holiday, Aug. 20th.

THE WHEEL.

Bruce Rickey and Milt Walker left to-day for the races at Port Hope. They are entered in several races and should ride well.

BASEBALL.

A number of the ball team were out last night. The absentees are asked to turn out to-morrow.

The secretary is corresponding with Port Hope for a game.

The boarders of the Oriental would like to play the employees of any shop or factory in town, or the boarders of any other hotel. The captain of the Park Nine stated last evening that the club would be willing to lend their outfit to any parties arranging a game. What is the matter with the clothiers playing the grocers or the printers?

ANOTHER WORD OF WARNING.

Hamilton Times: "Another word of warning. Men not adventurous enough themselves to go to the Yukon, will be found organizing companies to exploit the gold fields of that district. This is not a risky business—for the promoters. Mining in the Yukon, when conducted from a cozy office in Toronto, with the money paid over by the fever-smitten, is not an unpleasant—it may even be for the promoters a profitable—kind of occupation. But somebody takes all the risks. Let us assume that a small proportion of jump-in-the-dark Yukon companies will succeed; it is still desirable that the men who furnish the dollars should know what kind of risk they take. Let the investing public keep cool and carefully examine the many schemes now being put before them. Conservatism in the matter of investing now may save heartaches months hence. Many who have been bitten will appreciate this advice; others will do well to ponder it. Be sure you have a good thing before parting with your hard earned cash. When you buy Yukon gold fields, see that the seller is prepared to deliver the goods."

SCALES LIKE A FISH

Terrible Condition of a Baby from a Scaly Skin Humor.

Our baby boy was born July 1, 1894. In the fall his legs became rough, from some skin trouble, from his knees down to his toes, also his arms, breast, and abdomen. We tried a great many different kinds of remedies, but without success. In the summer of 1895 it became a little better, but in the fall, and all winter, it was a sight to behold. He had scales on his body and arms like a fish, and almost black. In fact we were ashamed with it, but could not help it. We were almost in despair until we had used Cuticura Remedies for about four days, when we noticed an improvement. Every time my wife washed him, her apron became covered with a scale-like skin. To-day it is gone, his skin is as smooth as any child, and we owe it, with the blessings of God, to Cuticura Remedies. If you can use this testimony, we give our full consent.

GEO. HUYSKEN & WIFE,
375 Maple Street, Detroit, Mich.

In all the world there is no other treatment so pure, so sweet, so speedily effective as Cuticura, greatest of skin cures, blood purifiers, and humor remedies. Cuticura Remedies daily perform more great cures of torturing, disfiguring, humiliating skin, scalp, and blood diseases than all other blood and skin remedies combined. A warm bath with Cuticura Soap, gentle applications of Cuticura (ointment), and mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent, greatest of blood purifiers and humor cures, cure all but the most terrible external and internal troubles for all forms of skin, scalp, and blood humor known.

Sold throughout the world. Potter D. & C. Corp., Sole Props., Boston. "How to Cure Every Baby Humor," free.

PIMPLY FACES Purified and Beautified by Cuticura Soap.

A Banker's Experience.

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affection of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dewson, of the Standard Bank, now of 14 Melbourne Avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

NOT ALL AT THE KLONDYKE.

The British Columbia papers say that the official report shows that the exports of ore from the sub-port of Kaslo for the fiscal year ending June 30 amounted to 38,171,185 pounds, valued at $1,657,218. The exports for the different months, as tabulated by Collector McIntosh, show as follows:

Month.	Lbs. Lead.	Oz. Silver
July, 1896	1,040,183	104,276
August, 1896	1,235,879	167,278
September, 1896	793,497	84,624
October, 1896	508,234	72,917
November, 1896	439,126	83,151
December, 1896	1,892,290	274,283
January, 1897	1,906,290	279,315
February, 1897	2,158,435	187,419
March, 1897	3,047,300	376,751
April, 1897	1,439,200	172,741
May, 1897	840,000	79,542
June, 1897	2,049,500	195,092

Only a portion of the Slocan output goes by way of Kalso, the C. P. R, carrying a considerable percentage destined for various smelters. The Kootenaian displays no more than just pride in the district when it says:—"These figures are more eloquent than words, and will do more to convince the world regarding the vast possibilities of this section of the country than tons of talk."

OMEMEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Farmers are very busy with the harvest. The storm did very little damage to grain round here.

A barn belonging to Thos. Bradburn in Ops, west of here, was struck by lightning last Friday. Considerable damage was done the barn, but fire was prevented by the heavy rain. J. D. Thornton, agent for the London Mutual, had just taken a risk on the building, and escaped unhurt otherwise than a sharp shock.

There are quite a few contemplating going to the Derry wall demonstration at Lakefield August 12th.

There are no signs or appearances here now or in the past of the Peterborough desperado, who shot at Constable Stewart. It is reported that he left Giles at Crowe's farm on the corner of Emily and Cavan.

There has been some serious bicycle accidents on our streets lately, and the authorities are on the look out for scorchers.

The Christian Endeavour of the Presbyterian church have a grand garden party in view for the near future.

THE CRAZE FOR GOLD

Still the Rush for the Klondike Continues.

MEN LEAVING GOOD POSITIONS

In Order to Take the Chances of Making Fortunes Quickly—$3,350,000 Deposited in the San Francisco Mint in a Day for Coining—Dyea Glutted.

London, Aug. 5.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail had an interview with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Dominion Premier, on the subject of the opening up of the Klondike region, and he represents Sir Wilfrid as declaring that the reports of the inrush of miners must be greatly exaggerated. Sir Wilfrid would not say whether there would be any trouble over the matter between the Dominion Government and the United States, but at any rate there could be no difficulty on the score of frontier, as this was precisely marked, and the gold fields lay within Canadian territory. There was no doubt, however, he said, that they ran into Alaska, and gold would be found over a vast extent of those regions. For the next fifteen years the locality would be, in his opinion, the great gold mining centre of the world.

Glut of Stores at Dyea.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 4. — John H. Smith of Portland, United States Commissioner for Alaska, writing from Juneau, says: "There are 500 people now at Dyea waiting to get over the pass, and there are several more steamer loads on the way. The Indian packers and the pack animals have all the freight they can carry to the lakes before winter sets in, and hundreds of people will be camping at Dyea and on the lakes all winter, eating the provisions they have taken with them. Prices for packing across the pass have risen to 25 and 27 cents per pound, and the packers are independent at that."

Still They are Going.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 4.—The steamer George E. Starr got away for Alaska shortly before midnight with 90 passengers and 20 horses. On Aug. 9 the steamer Queen goes north. She will carry between 500 and 600 passengers. On the same date the steamer Ajax will be towed to Dyea by a tug loaded with stock. Aug. 8 the ship Klondike, chartered by Tacoma parties, will sail. On the same day the steamer Coquitlan will sail from Vancouver.

Tremendous Deposits for Coinage.

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—All mint records were broken by the receipts yesterday, when $3,750,000 in gold was deposited for coinage. Of this amount, $750,000 was the property of the Alaska Commercial Company, and the balance was deposited by various miners and smelting companies. It is said that this far exceeds any single day's deposits at any one mint.

Made a Fortune in a Year.

Winnipeg, Aug. 4.—(Special.)—H. L. Jenkins, a Mounted Policeman, who went to the Yukon a year ago, passed through here to-day en route to England. He has amassed an independent fortune.

Frank Oliver, Member of Parliament for Alberta, has a letter in The Free Press, declaring that the Edmonton route to the Yukon country is the shortest and safest. He points out many advantages it has over other routes.

A Hamilton Party Going.

Hamilton, Aug. 4. (Special.) Engineer Patterson of the City Hospital has resigned his position to head a party of seven to the Klondike region next week. They will go by the overland route, and expect to reach the gold fields with their supplies before the winter sets in.

Klondike is Certainly in Canada.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 4. A careful examination of all of the reliable charts and maps made far enough back to be free from suspicion of influence from the recent heavy gold finds has convinced the Government officials that so far as the Klondike fields, as defined by the latest reports are concerned, there can be no question that they lie east of the 141st meridian, which defined the boundary line, and so are within British territory by about 135 miles at least. As for the meridian itself it is said that it has been so closely located by the surveyors of the Canadian and our own coast survey that there is not at any point a difference of more than 700 feet in the claimed boundary which, of course, would not substantially affect any controversy that might grow out of the title.

Hundreds Leaving New York.

New York, Aug. 4.—In spite of the warnings which have reached this city of the dangers of a winter trip to the Klondike gold regions, hundreds of fortune seekers have left this city and the neighborhood in the last two weeks and scores more are booked to go before the end of the month. It is only the high rate of fare to the gold districts which prevents an outflow from the east. Several agencies have been opened in this city to provide transportation "direct to the great gold belt of the Yukon by rail, ocean and river," and all are doing a rushing business. One concern guarantees to land passengers in the gold fields for $103. The route is from this city by rail to Seattle, from which point a steamship runs to Juneau, where another vessel conveys the gold-seekers to Dyea, the head of navigation.

Cliff Samson, who was in the Klondike region two years ago securing a claim at that time, headed the party of ten men which left this city a few days ag. for the gold fields. Each man had $500. They entered into an agreement with Samson to surrender to him one-third of their findings for the first three months, after which it will be every man for himself.

Coming Home With $60,000.

Great Barrington, Mass., Aug. 4.—Word has been received here by James Hickey, who lives on the Monument Valley road, that his father, Michael Hickey, has started east with $60,000 which he had taken from Klondike placers in the last eighteen months. Hickey is a widower. He left Great Barrington for Alaska in the spring of 1896. In his letters home he has not complained about the hardships he met. He spent the winter of 1896-97 in the gold regions. He is journeying homeward by easy stages, staying a few days at each of the large cities. He wrote that his fortune of $60,000 in gold dust and nuggets had been converted into drafts.

FIVE HUNDRED KILLED.

The Terrible Effects of a Volcanic Eruption on the Philippine Islands.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—A special to The Chronicle from Tacoma, Washington, says: "Five hundred reported killed up to July is the record of the terrible outbreak of the great volcano of Mayon, on the Island of Luzon, one of the Philippine group. On the night of June 24 this volcano began throwing up ashes and lava in immense quantities and flames were thrown upward considerably over 100 feet above the crater. The next day 5 bodies were recovered at a considerable distance, and the most recent despatches to Hong Kong up to July 8 stated that not less than 500 were known to be killed.

It was probable, said the despatches, that the loss of life would reach into the thousands, depending on the length of eruption. On that date lava streams and ashes had reached the cities of Igaeray, Malibel and Libog, and their destruction was certain. Fifteen smaller towns between these and the volcano had been destroyed and scores of the agricultural population had been overwhelmed while attempting to escape.

THAT SMALLPOX CASE.

It is Really Smallpox That Whitney Has—An Italian Doctor Escapes From Quarantine.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—It appears that the man Whitney, lying at the Isolation Hospital, is really suffering from smallpox. Dr. Richardson made an examination of the patient yesterday and found that the man really had that malady. A mild sensation was created in the city yesterday, when it was found that one of the passengers on the quarantined steamer Passport had escaped. Dr. Pietro Novelli of Rome, Italy, who has been confined in his indignation at being quarantined, is the fugitive. He will be replaced in quarantine if arrested.

Dr. Novelli has all along expressed his desire to be present in Rome on Aug. 12, at an important lawsuit. Hearing that the passage via New York was the quicker he left Montreal, where he had gone on business, by the Passport.

Samuel Henderson, fireman on the tug J. A. McRea, the supply boat for the steamer, reported to the Passport that he had seen the doctor on the railway tracks, going east, about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. When Henderson hailed him the doctor explained that he had arranged with the authorities to leave.

When this story was told on the Passport a search was instituted, and the doctor could not be found. The police patrol, Beatty and a probationer, reported the matter to Police Headquarters.

It is thought that the doctor escaped by one of the small boats that are constantly hovering around the Passport.

The other passengers are making the best of it, but some are getting impatient. It is said the captain of the Passport has gone to take charge of another boat.

SHOT HIS HIRED MAN

Milkman Meech of Back River in Serious Trouble.

WOULD-BE MURDERER ALSO SHOT.

A Detective Got After Him and He Refused to Stop When Ordered to Do So—Two Business Failures in the Metropolis General News from Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 4. (Special.) Take that and see how you like it was the remark made by a farmer named Meech, of Back River, when he fired three revolver shots at the head and body of his hired man, named Bertrand Last, to whom the would-be murderer owed a few hundred dollars. The reports are conflicting, but the victim is in a very low condition, as he has one ball in his head and another in his back. After receiving one volley broadside Last staggered to the tramway and was brought into town more dead than alive. Meech remained around the neighborhood for a while and then made off, but it will be surprising if the police do not put their hands upon him before morning. Last in charge on his ante-mortem deposition that he gave no provocation whatever.

The case was made still more interesting this evening by the fact that the man who committed the deed has been shot in turn, and will probably die. He, in fact, appears to have been a desperate character, although engaged in the peaceful calling of a milk dealer. Meech, it appears, left the Back River and went towards Ste. Rose, closely followed by the city detectives, and when crossing the railway bridge Detective Lamarche called upon the fleeing culprit to surrender. Meech turned around and was about to fire on the officer, but the latter was too quick and discharged a revolver; the would-be murderer drooping at once and falling into the river. He was fished out and found to be very badly wounded in the kidneys. Both men are very low at a late hour to-night.

Mr. A. W. Morris is in receipt of the following telegram from Messrs. C. P. Clough & Co., Spokane: "Le Roi declared a dividend last night of 10c per share, payable to-day." This is the fourth dividend paid by this company since June 3, making a total of $12,000 distributed to the stockholders in that length of time, and is a remarkable showing for a comparatively new camp.

The well-known vinegar firm of M. Lefebvre & Co. assigned to-day, with liabilities placed at about $200,000. At the time of the Banque du Peuple failure the Messrs. Lefebvre were creditors to the extent of $400,000, and they transferred their real estate to the bank. It is now stated that the firm are pretty well clear of that institution and the assets may come up to the liabilities.

Robert Linton & Co., drygoods dealers, have suspended payment, calling a meeting of creditors for the 17th, and it is said that the liabilities will be about $100,000.

The Grand Trunk officials state to-day that they know nothing of the claim that closer relations have been established between their road and the Wabash.

PAST MEN AT PORT HOPE.

McLeod Won From McCarthy and Davidson and Bobby Thompson Beat the Amateurs.

Port Hope, Aug. 4.—It is estimated that between fifteen hundred and two thousand people witnessed the second annual track meet at the Athletic grounds here this afternoon. The grand stand was packed to overflowing. Summary:

Novice race—T. Nattrass, Millbrook, 1; A. Murray, Hamilton, 2. Time 2.57 2-5.

This race had to be run in heats owing to the large number of entries.

Boys' race—Dave Wilson, Toronto, 1; A. Murray, Hamilton, 2. Time 2.42 1-5.

Half-mile, open, amateur—R. Thompson, Toronto, 1; R. E. Axton, Brantford, 2; John Davidson, Brantford, 3. Time 1.12 2-5. This race had also to be run in heats owing to the large number of entries.

One mile, professional—Angus McLeod, Brantford, 1; Harley Davidson, Toronto, 2, McCarthy, Toronto, 3. Time 2.26 2-5. Also entered: R. Miller, Hamilton, and C. Greatrix, Toronto. McCarthy, who was riding strong, would in all probability have made a difference in the finish had he not met with the misfortune to break a rim in the fourth lap.

Three-mile handicap, amateur—R. E. Axton, scratch, Brantford, 1; John Davidson, scratch, Brantford, 2; A. McEachren, Toronto, 3. Time 7.41. Also started: D. Wilson, Toronto, and R. Thompson, Toronto. Limit was 25 yards.

Angus McLeod gave an exhibition mile for track record, paced by Sibbons and Boake on a tandem. Time 2.13.

The team race was declared off owing to the rain.

READY FOR THE L.A.W. MEET.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 4.—The number of wheelmen already registered is far in excess of any previous two race meets, and up to a late hour to-night every railroad train brought additional visitors.

By midnight many of the racing cracks had made their appearance. Most of them went immediately to the track at Willow Grove, 14 miles from the city, and established themselves in their quarters. John Johnson of Minneapolis met with an accident late last night, and may not be able to enter. He was being paced on the Willow Grove track by Jack Lindley, when the latter's rear wheel broke and threw Lindley. Johnson spilled over him and severely bruised his right side. Lindley was slightly scratched. Two entries delayed in transmission were received to-day. They were J. P. Mohler and Andre Bouling of the City of Mexico. They are the amateur champions of Mexico, and are reported to be very fast riders. From the first gleam of daylight until long after midnight the asphalted streets, suburban roads and park drives were dotted by riders of both sexes. Although the humidity was high, the sun was behind clouds most of the day. In the first scheduled run to-day over 1,500 riders, many of them women, covered the ten miles. The Omaha delegation is working to secure the 1898 meet for that city.

Bridge of Whisky Barrels.

The little village of Hertford, on the Perquiman river, in Eastern North Carolina, boasts the possession of the only floating bridge supported by air tight whisky barrels in the world. This bridge was the happy idea of an old inhabitant, half a century ago, and its result still stands a monument to his genius.

If we told you that your baby was starving, that it actually didn't get enough to eat, you might resent it. And yet there are thousands of babies who never get the fat they should in their food or who are not able to digest the fat that they do get. Fat is a necessity to your baby. It is baby life and baby beauty. A few drops of Scott's Emulsion for all little ones one, two and three years of age is better than cream for them. They thrive and grow on it.

THE SEAL MATTER.

(Montreal Star.)

The Americans cannot well escape the knowledge that they are receiving very patient treatment at the hands of the British authorities over this seal question. From the first Britain has shown what may fairly be called an eagerness to arrive peacefully at an amicable understanding with the United States over this difficult business. Of late years, since the Paris award, this conciliatory spirit has been severely tried at times. The long delay in paying the damages awarded the Canadian sealers, who were unjustly captured on the high seas, has not made it any the easier for Canadians and Britons generally to take a kindly view of the American side of the case, nor will it be contended that the Sherman letter was an invitation to tread the path of concession and good will.

But throughout it all the British policy has remained unchanged. It desires to preserve ot once the rights of Canadian sealers, the seal herds and the peace. Plainly the British Government has no notion of going to war with the United States over this seal business, if the utmost patience can win us justice at last. Fool messages from untrained "statesmen" no more turn it aside from this than the buzzing of flies deflects the march of the elephant. There is a conviction in Britain that the great bulk of the American people are as anxious for peace between the Republic and the Empire as are the British people themselves, and it is because of this conviction that they can endure the eccentricities of the politicians who from time to time are in a position to speak for the moment for the American nation. They depreciate a political system which thus enforces the duty of forebearance upon the neighbours of a great people, but they pride themselves on not mistaking the meaning of these flash-pan demonstrations. And it is this attitude of public opinion which enables the British Government to reply to insulting and menacing messages with dignified proposals looking to mutual co-operation.

But it is just as well that the fact should be mentioned that this kind of thing cannot go on for ever. The British public will not always believe that the American people mean peace when their State Department talks war. No European power could pursue such a policy without getting into trouble. The Republic must frankly assume its responsibilities as a great nation, and compel its government to conform to the rules of decency and diplomacy.

As regards the seals, the Canadians, of course, want the herds preserved, but they do not think it fair that this should be accomplished wholly at their expense while all the profits go to the Americans. They are undoubtedly ready for some give-and-take arrangement, however, by which the sealing industry may be perpetuated for the mutual benefit of all concerned.

PROFITS OF FARMING.

(Montreal Herald.)

The profits that lie within reach of the Canadian farmer who farms with his brains are indicated by the experience of a young Ontario farmer who was in Montreal to-day en route to Glasgow with a cargo of cattle. Last fall this gentleman bought on the Toronto market fifty head of lean cattle which he fed during the winter. This spring they came out in fine condition, and a few weeks ago he sold them realising a net profit of $1,850, or nearly $40 per head. In counting the cost the value of the provender was not included, as by finding it on the farm the productive powers of the land were preserved.

This is no doubt an exceptional case, but it shows what the possibilities of intelligent farming are. Stock-raising and cheese and butter-making are bringing millions of foreign money into Ontario and Quebec, and the business will develop vastly if our farmers get out of the old rut and adapt themselves to the new conditions.

BREEDING LAMBS FOR THE EARLY MARKET.

The experienced, well informed sheep growing farmer who proposes to make early market lambs a part of his venture, in selecting his breeding ewes will choose those of medium size, with a short, close fleece, inclined to fineness, rather than the leggy, open wool sort; the latter may the following spring, perhaps, yield more pounds of wool, but it will not sell for as much as the finer grades nor are the ewes as likely to produce a ripe lamb as early in the season or to get fat themselves as readily as a close wooled, compactly built sheep.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Sunday school excursion of St. John's Episcopal church will take place on Friday next, Aug. 6th, per steamer to Sandy Point.

Large numbers have been taking the round trip up the lakes on the steamer Golden City this week—a very pleasant and enjoyable day's outing. The Golden City connects with the morning train this week; next week with the noon train.

Next Thursday, the 12th of August, will be celebrated here. A great many lodges have signified their intention of being present. Ample provision will be made for all who come. The streets will be handsomely decorated for the occasion.

There are registered as guests this week at Viamede cottage, Mount Julian, Stony Lake: Mr. J. W. Binnie, Miss Binnie, Mr. Hazelwood, Mrs. Leyburn, Miss Pamphilion, Mr. F. G. Clarke, Mrs. Clarke, Norman Clarke, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. H. Pollock, Marysville, Kansas; Mrs. Barnes, Rochester, and Mrs. H. Barnes, Port Hope.

Miss McEwan is at Stony lake at the Jeffreys' camp.

Mr. J. H. Sherwin is at Mr. S. Henderson's cottage, Stony lake, for a few days.

Mr. C. D. Crawford and family are occupying their cottage at Stony lake.

Mr. T. H. Knox and family of Toronto are taking their vacation at Mr. S. Henderson's cottage at Stony lake.

Should you require a new suit of clothes, a tie, shirt, white vest or any other requisite to make yourself presentable for the grand demonstration on the 12th of August, go to R. Graham & Son, who will give you a special discount for this occasion.

There will be no meeting of Court Lakefield, No. 43, C.O.F., this week. The next meeting will be on Thursday, Aug. 19th.

Two young men from Peterborough, who had evidently been the worse for liquor, went into the Lakefield cemetery last Sunday afternoon and lay down to sleep off the effects of their booze, and allowed their horse and rig to run loose, when it threw down several of the headstones. Warrants are issued for their arrest.

On Friday we had a very severe storm about 3 o'clock p.m. The rain came down in torrents, while loud peals of thunder reverberated through the air. This was accompanied with a terrible wind storm which did considerable damage. Trees were blown down, skylights blown off, windows smashed, grain flattened to the ground, etc. Among the damage done in the village there was the following: The skylight was blown off the Foresters Hall, and considerable damage done to the carpet, pictures, furniture, etc.; four windows of the Trent Valley flour mill were blown in; four large lights of glass in Mr. T. C. Ridpath's tailor shop were blown in and all broken; the Sons of England Hall had a window broken over the bank, and trees blown down all over the village, making altogether one of the worst storms seen by the oldest inhabitant.

LASSWADE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The hay weather is not very good for the past week. It has rained every day and every night, commencing on Thursday night, the 22nd, and ending Friday, the 30th. Never was such a long spell of rainy weather known in this country. Hay that was left cut in the field is nearly rotted. Some hoe crops are under three feet of water. The heavy grain has been knocked down by the long rain and winds.

Corey Dingman, from the vicinity of Rochester, is here for a few days, and reports the same kind of weather in York state. He says grain that was cut and not in the barn was in a bad shape.

Mr. Jas. Tullock made a flying visit to this place last week.

Our cheesemaker is turning out some first class cheese these days—success to Mr. Pattison.

The roads are in a bad shape after the long rain.

Mr. Sneigrove has some friends on a visit from Toronto—a young lady and a young gentleman. They came on their bikes.

The organ agents are around these parts again. They are not reaping a very rich harvest as the place is nearly filled with organs.

W. J. Daniels is reported to have a very rich mine of free gold on his place. His son, Nelson, is now in British Columbia, working in a mine of the sort; he sent his father a sample from there. In comparison it is just the same as the mineral on his father's place here.

The weather seems to be very cool after the rain.

A CONSTABLE TALKS.

Like Ordinary Mortals Subject to Kidney Disease but Easily Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

STAYNER, (Special), Aug. 2.—Mr. James K. Nesbitt, a county constable of this place, having suffered for a long time with kidney disease, he became aware that the doctors called it diabetes and incurable. As he had the good fortune to know that many cases of this disease had been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills this news did not startle him. He says he went straight to Sander's drug store, and commenced to get well on the first box purchased. Now he is going the usual rounds praising Dodd's Kidney Pills to every one who asks the particulars of his recovery.

Mr. J. W. Tomlinson, Amherstburg, Ont. speaks from experience when he says:—"I am well satisfied with Doan's Kidney Pills They are undoubtedly the best medicine on the market for any one afflicted with urinary or kidney troubles, such as pain in the back, tired feeling, cramps, numbness, etc. They cured me and removed all my pains and aches."

"MY STANDBY."

THAT'S HOW MRS. A. WILSON, TORONTO, DESIGNATES KOOTENAY CURE.

It's a good thing for people getting up in years to know of some remedy they can rely on that will be their "Standby" in the hour of sickness, and when disease overtakes them.

Mrs. Wilson is a lady 68 years of age, residing at 125 John St. Like many another person, advanced in life, an attack of Grippe, which she had five years ago, left her in a bad condition. She tells, under oath, that she had the doctor attend her, but found her kidneys were badly affected, and the cords of her neck had grown stiff. While in this condition she began taking Ryckman's Kootenay Cure, and she declares that she never had any thing before that seemed to hit the right place. She says it has cured her, and is now her standby. It has toned up her constitution, given her a relish for food, and made her feel better in every way.

THE WORKINGMAN...

Made this country. True, the ground was here when he came, but he's made it what it is. From the time that Queen Isabella hocked her jewels in order to "raise the wind," so that Chris. could have a "special sale" across the water in search of Peterborough and the surrounding country, until the present day—not a step has been taken forward—not an improvement has been made in this country—without the aid of the working man. Who is the greatest electrician in the world? Thomas Edison. Who makes the best sewing machines—the best locomotives—the best passengers cars? Who builds the biggest and best buildings, digs the deepest ditches and lays the longest railroads? The workingman. The Peterborough workingman is up to snuff. It did'nt take him long to find out that he could do more days' work in a dollars worth of working man's clothes that he bought here than he'd ever be able to do in any dollar's worth he'd bought before. Where one working man struggled in and bought a pair of Overalls or a pair of Blue Jeans, or a jumper of us in former years, a hundred patronize our workingmen's department to-day. We're proud of it. Are you a working man? Want to buy clothes to wear while you work that will wear while you work? Try us.

FOR THE COLONIES

Great Britain Denounced the German Treaty.

THEY WANT PREFERENTIAL TRADE

And There are the Imperial Government Took a Step Tending in That Direction—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier Off to Switzerland General European News.

London, Aug. 4. Joseph Chamberlain, answering a question in the House of Commons to-day on the subject of the denunciation by Great Britain of the treaties of commerce with Germany and Belgium, said the denunciation was the unanimous wish of the self-governing colonies, who desired to deal with the United Kingdom on preferential terms.

Mr. Chamberlain said that at the conference between the colonial premiers and himself a resolution was passed unanimously, the substance being that the premiers of the self-governing colonies heartily recommended the earliest denunciation of the treaties, as hampering the trade of Great Britain and her colonies, and that it was accompanied by an important and significant resolution, namely, that in the hope of improving the trade relation between the Mother Country and the colonies the premiers present undertook to confer with their colleagues as to what result could be secured by a preference given by the colonies to the products of the United Kingdom. Her Majesty's Government resolved to withdraw the treaties with Germany and Belgium immediately. The law officers of the Crown are now considering the question whether the resolution of the Canadian Parliament infringed those treaties. The Canadian Government had asked to be allowed to be represented before the law officers of the Crown. This was usual, but the request of the Government of Canada had been granted.

In conclusion, Mr. Chamberlain assured the House that the action of Canada in this matter was not a step towards separation, but distinctly a movement against separation, the intention being to show gratitude and to prove the loyalty of the Canadian Government.

THE BEE IN PAPERS

Note Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Remarks at the Banquet in Paris.

Paris, Aug. 4.—(Montreal Star Cable.)—Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, after a very pleasant stay in the French Capital, will leave Paris for Switzerland to-morrow, accompanied by Lady Laurier. The Premier and Lady Laurier are both in good health.

A large amount of space has been given in the city papers to Sir Wilfrid's speech on Monday night at the banquet tendered him by the friends of Canada in Paris. The event itself was a great success.

Published in Berlin.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—Reports of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech at a banquet in Paris on Monday night are published here, extracts being given of his utterances regarding the denunciation of the German trade treaty with Great Britain. The comments of the papers here upon the utterance are peculiar. The cheering by the Paris company of Britain's denunciation of the treaty at Canada's instigation is noted, as is also the fact that Canada's Premier is a "Frenchman." The sapient Teuton editors are, therefore, drawing the conclusion that no favors to Germany may be expected from Canada with Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the head of the Government. In commercial circles here and in Hamburg, however, the case is better understood, and the denunciation of the treaty coincident with Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Premiership is not considered in the light of one circumstance having anything to do with the other. It is well known in these circles that Sir Charles Tupper and his Conservative predecessors were as anxious for the abrogation of the treaty as was Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The future prospects of Canadian trade with the German Empire are discussed considerably. The steamship lines running to Montreal in summer from Germany have always carried a great deal of manufactured goods for distribution in the Dominion, in many cases in direct competition with Great Britain. In the face of a 25 per cent. discrimination in Britain's favor, this business is considered in jeopardy, and its curtailment is looked for when the new condition is entered upon next July."

Says It's All Nonsense.

London, Aug. 4.—Mr. R. F. Hawksley, counsel for Mr. Cecil Rhodes, says that the report that Mr. Rhodes and Mr. Alfred Beit had personally paid the Transvaal Government $1,250,000 as indemnity for the Jameson raid is "all nonsense."

Will France Get the Quid Pro Quo?

Paris, Aug. 4.—The Gaulois yesterday published an interview with the Minister of Commerce, M. Boucher, in which he is quoted as declaring that it "should not for a moment be doubted that President McKinley will spontaneously grant to France 20 per cent. tariff reduction, as permitted by the Dingley Bill."

M. Boucher is reported to have added: "It is, of course, only on this condition, that France will continue to grant the United States the customs concessions which have now disappeared. In asking for this reduction, France will cite the favors accorded to imports from the United States and the liberal legislation enabling American insurance companies to operate in France in competition with the home companies."

Harsh Talk About Cecil Rhodes.

London, Aug. 4. In the House of Commons to-day Sir Wilfrid Lawson, Liberal, in calling attention to the attitude of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain towards South Africa, classed the latter's policy as being "dangerous and obstructive to our reputation abroad." Referring to Mr. Cecil Rhodes, he remarked that the ex-Premier of Cape Colony was guilty of "treachery, betrayal of his sovereign and disloyalty to his colleagues."

King of Siam at Portsmouth.

Portsmouth, Aug. 4. King Chulalongkorn and his suite of Siam arrived here to-day from London, on his way to visit Queen Victoria at Osborne. His Majesty was received at the railroad station by the Prince of Wales. The warships here were decorated with bunting and fired a royal salute as the King proceeded on his way to the Isle of Wight. At Osborne the King of Siam will lunch with the Queen, and later he will take tea with the Prince and Princess of Wales on board the royal yacht Osborne.

THEY ALL GOT UP STEAM.

Foreign Warships Were Prepared to Deal With the Turkish Squadron.

Canea, Island of Crete, Aug. 4. On the receipt of the news that the Turkish squadron from the Dardanelles was coming into these waters the foreign warships got up steam and the international troops on shore have taken measures to anticipate any possible complications. The report and these preparations have greatly excited the Mussulmans.

The Scare Was for Nothing.

Constantinople, Aug. 4. The second squadron of Turkish warships, consisting of seven vessels, commanded by Hari Pasha, which sailed from the Dardanelles yesterday, has arrived at Sigri, Island of Mitylene. The Turkish newspapers say that the squadron has only been ordered to carry out evolutions.

Sir Louis Davies in Wales.

London, Aug. 4.—(Montreal Star Cable.)—Sir Louis Davies is to be presented with the freedom of Tenby, Wales, the home of his ancestors, to-morrow.

Mr. McLeod Stewart, ex-Mayor of Ottawa, had an interview with Lord Lansdowne this morning with reference to the Georgian Bay and Ottawa Canal. He was promised all the assistance in the power of the Secretary of State for War.

United States and Morocco.

Tangier, Aug. 4.—A special commission, headed by Vice-Consul Carleton, who recently participated in the demonstration made by the United States cruiser Raleigh at the principal ports on the coast of Morocco, in consequence of the differences between the United States and Morocco relative to the rights of American citizens, has arrived at the city of Morocco, with important instructions in connection with American claims. It is reported that the commission has had an interview with the Grand Vizier.

MR. WANT PROTESTS.

Cost of Frank Butler's Extradition Was Six Thousand Pounds.

London, Aug. 4.—A special despatch from Sydney, N.S.W., says that the Attorney-General, the Hon. John Henry Want, Q.C., has issued a minute, protesting against the excessive and unwarranted charge to the colony of £6000 for extraditing Frank Butler, the Australian bush murderer, from San Francisco. Mr. Want says: "It would be better to let criminals remain abroad than to pay such enormous costs for their extradition."

RELIEF OF FORT CHAKDARA.

Garrison Was Getting Short of Food and Ammunition When Help Came.

London, Aug. 5.—A despatch to The Times from Camp Malakand, in the Chitral, says that Fort Chakdara, which was relieved Tuesday by Colonels Goldsbury and Meiklejohn of the British force under General Blood, was invested by large bodies of Pathans. On the evening of July 26 the natives made repeated charges simultaneously on all sides of the fort, advancing right up to the walls, and giving the garrison no rest day or night. When finally relieved the garrison, according to the despatch, was beginning to run short of food and ammunition.

A COURT INTRIGUE

Which Was to Deprive the Czar of His Throne—But He Heard of It.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—The Hamburgische Correspondenz publishes a curious story about the Dowager Czarina. It says that last May she tried to secure the regency; but, in her insistent efforts to get Emperor Nicholas to go abroad on account of alleged illness, the Czar's suspicions were aroused. He heard of the intrigue, assembled his body guard and summoned the Dowager Empress and other court intriguers, including the Minister of the Imperial Household, Count Vorontsoff-Daschkoff. All were confounded at the discovery of the plot. Count Vorontsoff-Daschkoff was compelled to resign, and it is probable that the Dowager Empress will reside permanently at Copenhagen.

DEPRESSION IN AGRICULTURE.

Royal Commission Thinks a Freer Coinage of Silver Might Help Matters.

London, Aug. 4.—The Royal Commission on Agriculture has issued a report suggesting various palliatives for the existing depression in agriculture, which the Commission attributes mainly to the general and persistent fall of prices and to foreign competition which is not likely to abate. The Commissioners are very much divided in opinion with reference to a remedy for falling prices. Ten of them, including the Right Hon. Henry Chaplin, President of the Local Government Board, and the Right Hon. Walter Hume Long, Conservative member of Parliament for the West Derby Division of Liverpool, sign a supplementary report declaring their belief that measures tending to increase the value of silver would greatly assist agriculture, but no recommendation on this subject is signed by the Commission as a whole.

The supplementary report expresses the opinion that depression prevails alike in protective and free trade countries, and is especially severe in the United States; that heavy protective duties, when imposed in Germany and France, failed to give either country security against depression, and suggests that the reason for universal depression may be found in the great monetary changes made in Europe and in the United States in 1873 and 1874.

Since the only countries which appear to be free from such depression are India and Argentina, the framers of the supplementary report contend that a prima facie case is established for the assertion that the depression is the outcome of the appreciation of gold and of the divergence in the value of metals which gives an artificial advantage to producers in silver-using countries.

While suggesting the abandonment of the gold standard, the signers of the supplementary report propose an international conference to arrange for the opening of mints abroad and in India, and the restoration of silver, either wholly or partially, to the position it occupied prior to 1873. In conclusion, the supplementary report invites the Government to give effect to the resolution adopted by Parliament in February, 1895, in favor of such a conference.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

In this year Messrs. Mason & Risch started in business with small capital and no reputation, but with a determination to sell pianos of such unquestioned merit that each customer would be an aggressive advertiser for them.

The enviable position that this firm occupies to-day is the best proof that their policy when they started was a wise one. They have sold over 6000 Mason & Risch Pianos in addition to many thousands of pianos and organs of other makers, establishing for themselves a reputation for piano building such as no other Canadian maker has achieved, also the recognition of prominent musicians in the United States and Europe. There is no experiment in getting a Mason & Risch.

Jubilee has always drawn good excursions on our Civic Holiday, and Court St. Peter's Branch of Foresters will have "the pull" this year. The LeGros—LeBrun Wheel Race.

The money has not yet been paid over in connection with the bet of $60 wagered on Mr. Charles LeGros' ability to cover the ground between the town clock and Chemong and return in 75 minutes. As announced in THE EXAMINER, there was a dispute over the finish being made within the time. But Mr. LeGros is not content with, as he claims, winning the stakes fairly and squarely and not having them paid over. He has placed the matter of the recovery of the stakes in the hands of his solicitor, who, it is understood, has received instructions to push proceedings. Mr. LeGros is bound to have justice, and justice in this case is, according to his view, represented by a cheque for $60.

A Fine Fire Kindler.

Attention is directed to the advertisement in another column of Mr. Bernard Trainor of Almonte, who is in town for the purpose of introducing a very great household convenience, and one of great interest, especially, to the husband who has not yet brought his wife to the recognition of her duty to rise and light the kitchen fire in the morning. Mr. Trainor's device, which is called the "Monster Wood and Coal Fire Kindler," consists of a sphere of porous material, which, when saturated with coal oil and placed under wood, even that not thoroughly dry, will kindle it in a short time. Its efficiency was tested this morning in the boiler room of the EXAMINER. The blaze which is 15 or 18 inches in length, lasts for ten minutes, or long enough to boil a small kettle of water. Each porous ball will last a life time if used with care. A larger size is guaranteed to kindle any coal stove fire. Mr. Trainor has numerous testimonials as to the excellent working of his fire lighter. He is staying at the Peterborough House, and will canvass the town in introducing his really handy device for lighting the house wife's fires as well as lightening her work.

RESIGNATION OF MR. W. H. LAW.

The Engineer and Manager, Director of the Central Bridge and Engineering Company Retires—The Directors Reticent.

A representative of the EXAMINER this morning met Mr. W. H. Law, Engineer and Managing Director of the Central Bridge and Engineering Company of Peterborough, and received the rather important information that Mr. Law had resigned that position last night. Naturally surprised at so unexpected and important a proceeding the question was asked:

"Are you at liberty to state the reason of your resignation, Mr. Law?"

"I've resigned," was the brief reply. "It's impossible to please everybody. The other directors have opinions; so have I."

"And are you not pretty full of work?"

"Yes, there's lots of work."

Mr. Law did not seem inclined to go into details, and considering the importance of the Bridge Works in relation to the town and how much public interest was taken in everything that relates to their prosperity or otherwise, the EXAMINER called on one of the leading directors for further information.

In reply to his query, the gentleman stated that he was not in a position to say anything in reference to the matter.

LINDSAY BRIDAL BELLS.

McIntyre—McSweyn.

(Lindsay Post Aug. 4.)

A quiet wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Macmillan, pastor of St. Andrew's church, on Tuesday morning at the residence of Mr. John McSweyn in the north ward, when his eldest daughter, Jessie, was married to Mr. Archibald B. McIntyre, of Flavelle Bros.' mercantile establishment. The bride's sisters—Kate, graduate of Boston city hospital, Bella about finishing a course of study in the same institution, and Minnie, (Mrs. Geo. Simpson) were present for the occasion. The former acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Alexander Carmichael rendered valuable assistance to the groom, and, it is said, did it remarkably well. The presente were unusually costly, as well as useful and ornamental After partaking of a well-appointed breakfast with a number of their more intimate friends, the newly-married couple started upon the 6 o'clock train to take in the Mackinaw trip, and received at the station more favours than the bill called for in the shape of bursting torpedoes and a perfect fusilade of vegetables and other congratulations.

THE RICE LAKE ROUTE.

The Unusual Activity of Summer Travel—Extensive Orders Booked by the City of Peterborough.

The popularity of the Rice Lake route, and the activity of summer travel, are indicated by the number of excursions booked.

For instance, for the next few weeks, with others yet to fixed as to dates, the steamer City of Pet rough has booked the following:

The Peter Hamilton Agricultural Works employees to Jubilee Point on the 11th inst.

The Geo. Matthew's Packing Company's employees on the 12th.

The Sons of England, Belleville, per G. T.R. to Hastings, thence via the steamer to Jubilee on the 16th.

There are several other excursions booked.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

It is expected that the Hastings-Norwood teams will select the P.A.A.A. grounds, Ashburnham, to play off the tie—each team has won a home game. The rivalry is keen between them and if the game is played here excursions will be run from both villages.

The Tecumsehs have written giving their terms for a game on the on the 19th (Civic Holiday), but in the absence of the secretary of the home team the matter will not be discussed till Saturday. As so many of the players are taking a day off on Civic Holiday the chances are there will be no game.

FOOTBALL.

The Templars' football club played a game last evening with a team picked from the Canadian General Electric Works and south end teams, but were defeated by a score of 4 to 0. The Electrics played practically the same men as in last Friday's game, being strengthened by the addition of Wilgar at half-back. A noticeable improvement was also to be seen in their team play. The Templars were weakened by the loss of many of their men who were unable to be present. These teams have now won a game apiece, the Templars having won Friday's game by a score of 5 to 1. Now the boys ask, which is the better diet, electricity or cold water.

There will be a match to-night at seven o'clock sharp between the employees of Ackerman's harness shop and the residents of Lundy's terrace, corner of King and George streets.

THE WHEEL.

The Peterborough contingent is home from Port Hope where yesterday's bicycle races were successfully run off. Most of the races were run in heats. Walker and Rickey both rode well, qualifying in three heats, but got in the bunch in the finals, so that it was impossible to make a good finish. Fakenham entered in the novice, but did not win his heat. The track was in good condition, and some of the fastest amateurs and professionals in the country were entered.

BASEBALL.

Baseball practice to-night. All players should turn out.

Toronto did not play yesterday, but came a few points nearer the top by Syracuse losing to Providence.

INSPECTOR STRICKLAND

ARRIVES IN PETERBOROUGH FROM THE KLONDYKE.

Physically Sound and Robust, but Glad to See Home Again—En route for Lakefield Where he Will Stay a Week and Then Return to Klondyke.

This morning Mr. Inspector Strickland of the Northwest Mounted Police, who has just returned from the Canadian field of the cloth of gold, the Klondyke, arrived in Peterborough this morning from Ottawa accompanied by his wife. He has been so much interviewed and so abundantly in print that he must have congratulated himself on the prospect of having run the gauntlet of the last newspaper man, tbut his feeling was interrupted by an EXAMINER representative at the G. T. R. station this morning. Inspector Strickland arrived from Ottawa on the 4.42 C. P. R. Express and left by the 8.25 G. T. R. train for Lakefield, where he will remain a few days before returning to the Yukon.

It is interesting enough to read about the richness of the Klondyke gold fields, but it seems to bring one more in touch with the great auriferous region in the Canadian far north, to shake the hand of, and to hold pleasant chat with the gallant young Inspector, whose eyes have looked upon and whose hands have handled the glittering nuggets of gold that stud the frozen alluvium of the Canadian Pactolus, whose yellow glitter sparkles in competition with the crystals of eternal ice that lock them in their embrace. After reading so much of the sufferings of the goldseekers in the Klondyke (Inspector Strickland calls it Klone-dyke), of their dying by starvation, etc., one is delighted to see in Inspector Strickland a living refutation, at least as far as he is concerned, of such gruesome tales. He was dressed in a plain gray summer tweed suit, with a deerstalker cap, and in his white pique scarf glittered a nugget pin of Klondyke gold, not large but flawless. He looks as fit as possible. His five feet eight of stature is clothed upon with about 215 pounds of good solid flesh, hardened by abundant exercise. Although he complains of being completely knocked up by continuous travelling he looked this morning as fresh as a daisy and ready for any amount of saddle work, if the call of duty should come.

"You don't look, Inspector Strickland, as if there was much starvation going on among the Klondyke."

"No; if one has ready money to pay for provisions, and look after them in time, the fare is not half bad."

Having only a few minutes to chat with Inspector Strickland, he had not much of a chance to unfold the marvellous tales he could tell of the Klondyke.

He went to the Yukon district in the spring of 1895, as second in command of a detachment of Mounted Police, sent from Regina under Inspector Constantine. Inspector Constantine was acting gold commissioner from the time he arrived there until Mr. Fawcett, appointed by the Government, arrived last spring. Inspector Strickland says that it is a hard country to live in. Provisions were, he said, scarce, but he did not think there would be any serious shortage this winter; but if the present rush to the gold fields holds, and increases according to present appearances there will probably be famine conditions prevailing a year later unless in the meantime means of transport are not greatly improved, as they promise to be under the energetic action the Canadian Government has inaugurated.

He would advise nobody to go into the Klondyke without provisions for one year at least, and about $300 for incidental expenses. Anyone going in might strike it rich, but the probabilities are that he will only find a good claim after months of diligent prospecting. The fact of the matter is a young man going in there has to depend entirely on chance. He may be successful or he may not.

"Mining," said he, "is carried on almost entirely in winter. The reason for this is that the ground is frozen the year round, and the gold is obtained by melting down to bed rock. The depth at which the gold is usually found, and the short summer, almost prohibits ground sluicing. The surface water in the summer also prevents the burning process during that season.

Speaking of the way of getting to the Klondyke, Inspector Strickland said that in view of the closing of navigation on Yukon River, the best routes were by Junea, Dyea and the Chilkoot Pass, the pass being very perilous. He had never travelled by that route, but the height dividing the pass was 3,560 above the level of the sea. He has "no use" for the route from Hudson Bay, the streams were swift and hard to navigate, and it would be impracticable to carry enough provisitions to see the traveller through.

Inspector Strickland was at Ottawa consulting with the military authorities respecting the ways and means of sending reinforcements of mounted police to the Yukon. He himself will go up on his return from Lakefield in a few days to take up one of the three detachments of twenty five men each that will be sent up at once.

There was quite a crowd at the station this morning seeing off the tourists to the lakes, and when the romantic young ladies "caught on" and discovered his identity they were very much interested—but these transports would have been somewhat modified if, as they cast admiring glances as he lightly swung his portly figure upon the coach steps of the departing train, they had known that he was going within to meet the wife that had stood with him the perils and hardships of the hyperborean gold fields, and the little unattached Mounted Policeman in the person of his baby boy.

A Banker's Experience.

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affection of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dewson, of the Standard Bank, now of 14 Melbourne Avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

PRAISE FOR THE PRINCE OF WALES LADS.

Official Satisfaction Expressed of the Cavalry Representatives, Third P. O. W. Dragoons.

Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers this morning received the following letter from Major Evans, who was the officer commanding the cavalry unit or arm of the Canadian Jubilee contingent. It is a commendation of which the commanding officer of the gallant Dragoons, the four members of the contingent itself, the regiment as well as the volunteer force generally, may justifiably be proud:

Cavalry Barracks, Winnipeg, Aug 5th, 97.

Lt.-Col. Rogers, Commg. 3rd Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons, Peterborough:

DEAR SIR, It would be neglect of duty on my part if I failed to express to you my appreciation of the good conduct and soldierly bearing displayed by the representatives of your regiment in the Cavalry unit in the Jubilee Contingent.

Their appearance and conduct at all times, was a just source of pride to me, and reflected the greatest credit upon Canada and the regiment under your command,

Very faithfully,

T. D. B. EVANS,
Major, R. C. Dragoons,
Late O. C. Officer commanding Cavalry Unit, Jubilee Contingent.

ASHBURNHAM BREVITIES.

The W. M. S., of Mark street church, held its regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon. The attendance of the members was somewhat larger than usual, which was encouraging. The interest of the meeting was materially increased by a reading rendered by Mrs. Wand; solos by Miss Beer and A. Smith; and thoughts on the subject for the month, "African and Jewish Missions," introduced by Mrs. W. J. Hanbidge and supplemented by the President and others. The interest is growing here in missionary work; another new member was added to the roll. The absence of the recording-secretary, Miss Emma Smith, was felt by the society, but her work was successfully taken by her sister, Miss Annie Smith.

BERNARD TRAINOR'S Monster

WOOD AND COAL FIRE KINDLER.

Guaranteed to keep a full and constant blaze over 18 inches high for ten minutes. No kindling wood required. It will kindle two fires each time, even though the wood be damp or green. Boils two quarts of water without fuel. I have flattering testimonials and carry them with me as vouchers from different residents and Business men of Almonte Pembroke, Arnprior, Ottawa, Renfrew, Smith's Falls, etc., who are using the kindler from one to three years, to certify that it is still in use and as good as ever. These men recommend them to the public. With care every kindler is everlasting. I also manufacture a larger one which throws 4 times the heat of the smaller one, and that will of itself boil all small water required, which is a great convenience in the hot summer weather, and will without fail light any coal stove from under the grate, and is a magnificent fishing torch for spearing, etc The kindler is used with a coal oil liquid and is safe in every form. One gallon of oil is sufficient to light one stove for one year. This is cheap kindling wood. Price, 50c and $1.00.

Mr. Trainor, the inventor, is at Clancy's Peterborough House, Hunter street, and will make a thorough canvass of the town.

HISTORIC QUEBEC.

Parts of it Suggestive of Scenes in the Old World.

From Quebec, Canada, a correspondent writes to the Paris Daily Messenger:—"Ici on parle francais" might be written on the portals of this quaint and picturesque old city. Strolling in lower Quebec you might easily fancy yourself in Amiens or Dieppe. In the upper town there is more English, but everywhere an amusing mixture. On the same card you will read "Maison a louer," and "House to let"; on one side of the door "Pas d'admission sans affaires," and on the other "No admittance except on business." This bilingual necessity causes a little extra painting and printing. Each "railway crossing" must be marked likewise, "Traverse du chemin de fer," and every official "notice" must be printed also in full as "Avis." The blending is often curious, as when two adjoining shops have their announcements one in French and the other in English. Along the Grande Allee, running right across the Plains of Abraham, you might be in Brussels or Paris, only that "Clifton Terrace" seems to recall you to Kensington Travellers for whom Europe is too distant, are advised to go to Quebec, there to find a bit of the medieval Old World transplanted to the New, but still embalmed in its ancient religious sentimentalism, upon which the rush and roar of modern unrest produce as little effect as the Atlantic breakers on the cliffs of Cape Breton. French continues uppermost until you pass Montreal, but from Ottawa and Kingston to the Pacific the legend of the universal tongue is like that of the Paris shopkeepers, who announced "English spoken." In most of the best schools English is taught, and a large number of the people are conversant with both languages, English being indispensable for commerce.

Premier Hardy "Takes to the Woods" - He and his Party Pay a Visit to Algonquin Park.

Cache Lake, Algonquin Park, Aug. 4.—Premier Hardy and party reached here this morning by special car, placed at his disposal by President Booth of the Ottawa, Arnprior and Parry Sound Railway. This point is on Mr. Booth's new road, 80 miles from Parry Sound and 140 from Ottawa, the line running through the southern part of the Government park. The party consists of the Premier and Mrs. Hardy, Hon. G. W. and Mrs. Ross, Judge and Mrs. Hardy, Brantford, and Mr. Andrew Patullo, M.P.P., Woodstock. The weather is perfect, a little cloudy, but fair, and the temperature delightful. The Premier spent the early morning in settling the location of the new buildings that will in future be the headquarters of the park. Work on these is just begun. The site is a very pretty and convenient one, and will enable the Superintendent and park rangers to utilize the new railway line in the performance of their duties. During the day the Premier, with his friends, traversed a number of the beautiful lakes that cover this picturesque region and examined into various matters connected with the great national park. The party will remain a couple of days here, and will then proceed to Parry Sound for a brief stay.

Men's Tweed and Worsted Pants, in all wool, good top and hip pocket, regular price $2.00 to $3.00, Grafton & Co's Summer Clearing Sale Price $1.50.

Cheap Afternoon Trips to Jubilee Point

The steamer City of Peterborough will leave the C.P.R. wharf for Jubilee Point every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons at 1.30 o'clock sharp, (weather permitting) calling at Peck's wharf, Ashburnham. Return fares 40c, tea included.

Just Another Week.

The warm weather special sale continues all this week at the Peterborough Bookstore. Our specials in writing paper please everybody wanting note paper. Our special cut price in fans makes quick sales. Our special cut in light literature for the camp, the hammock and the shade is appreciated by the reading public. Our special cuts in hammocks to clear have just about cleared them all out. All this week we will give you the same inducements to purchase, and want one and all to come and see that we are selling cheaper than ever. A. H. STRATTON & Co., 417 George street.

The Great Attraction This Week.

Gough Bros'. hurricane sale of summer clothing, hats, boots, gloves and furnishings for men, youths and boys will doubtless prove a great attraction this week. A shrinkage of $10,500 on the prices covered by their whole stocks in both stores since last week should be inducement enough to bring crowds to their counters. The prices represent their great reductions in summer stocks, including that portion of the clothing left over from their great sale of the E. A. Small & Co.'s mammoth purchase in Montreal. Everything that cannot be carried over is to be got rid of. The goods cannot be marked any lower, and in order to have the benefit of a fairly good selection they advise all to call early to get the pick of the choicest. The changed prices will probably clear out all the summer goods in about a couple of weeks. dtf

Brooks, who after graduating as an electrical engineer at Cornell University, entered the test department of the Royal Electric Light Works, Montreal, to perfect himself in practical details, has made great progress in winning the confidence of the company. Though only in his present position for three and a half months, upon Mr. Fisher being attacked with yellow fever of the Klondyke variety, and resigning, Mr. Brooks was appointed to the position of superintendent of the test department, a proof of proficiency and reliability of which his family may well be proud, and upon which the young man's many friends will congratulate him.

CANADA FIRST.

A Collision in the Lachine Rapids.

On Tuesday evening before going into Montreal, the steamer America, owned by the American Line, and the steamer Algerian, belonging to the R. & O. N. Co. collided in the Lacine rapids. The steamer American was ahead, and the Algerian caught up to her. They came together with the result that the American had her bulwarks torn away, and damage done to the extent o. $1,000. If the captain of the America had desired he could have caused the Algerian to go on the rocks. Two steamers cannot run the rapids together, and it is very unwise to try the experiment. The Algerian was not damaged as seriously as the America. Any one who has run the rapids knows how dangerous such a proceeding would be, and it shows that our Yankee cousins have a thing or two to learn, and one is that when they come into competion with Canada on the water though they may be ahead, as in this instance, they come out second best. Anyway it makes one shudder to contemplate the serious accident that might have happened had the captain of the American seen fit to force the Algerian upon the rocks.

WHERE THE SHOE PINCHES.

Wearing Shoes does not afford much pleasure to people who buy the factory made kind. How can it be otherwise? All feet are not alike, any more than all faces. Unless made to your measure, they pinch your toes, press your favourite corn, squeeze the ingrowing toe nail, inflame the heels, and make your feet sweat, swell and ache.

CAREY'S SHOES don't do that—they fit your feet, give you everlasting comfort, make walking easy and cost less. They are not stamped on the soles, but stamps don't improve the fit or wear.

CAREY, The Shoe Architect, SHOP—420 George Street.

BABY WAS CURED.

DEAR SIRS,—I can highly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It cured my baby of diarrhœa after all other means failed, so I give it great praise. It is excellent for all bowel complaints.

YELLOW JACK COMES IN

And He Is Gen. Gomez's Strongest Weapon Against the Spaniards.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Yellow fever is the most formidable weapon of General Gomez now. Dr. Brunner, the United States sanitary inspector at Havana, in his latest official report says: "Up to the last two weeks it was noticed there were no cases occurring among the sailors of the Spanish navy, but lately five or six war vessels have gone to the navy yard, which is in close proximity to the Tallapiedra Wharf, and closely adjoins a military hospital which is full of sick soldiers, and the number increases daily. Fresh troops are coming to open the campaign, and most of them are unacclimated. Yellow fever increases to an alarming extent. There are 100 cases of yellow fever at present in the military hospital, and about 600 sick soldiers suffering from dysentery, malaria and tuberculosis. In the town among civilians it is impossible to estimate the number of sick, and the death rate is very high, owing, among other causes, to the want of medicine. The civil hospital is overcrowded, and its condition for the proper cure of the sick is not very favorable."

FRESH FISH TO PAY DUTY.

Local Fishermen at Erie, Especially the Small Concerns, are Pleased.

Buffalo, Aug. 3. A special from Erie to The Express says: "The ruling of the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury upon the question submitted by the Sandusky Fish Company of Erie, as to what fish were dutiable, settles a point at this port which is of benefit to the local fishermen. Under the McKinley Tariff Bill the large dealers were enabled to fish in Canadian waters by leasing their twine to Canadians, and get the catch into American ports without paying duty. The fact that labor is cheap in Canada enabled the fish dealers to get their fish very cheap, and that fixed the price for fish caught in American waters by smaller fishermen who could not afford to furnish twine for the Canadians. The Wilson Bill let in fresh fish free of duty.

"The Dingley Bill states that none but fish caught in the great lakes and fresh waters, by American citizens, can be admitted free of duty. The laws of the Dominion provide that none but citizens may fish in Canadian waters. If the dealers on this side bring in fresh fish from Canada they must pay the duty of one-fourth of a cent a pound.

"Under the old regulations the Erie fish dealers brought into Erie anywhere from 50 to 100 tons a year, and that supply at times killed the fishing in the waters on this side of the line. The small fishermen are greatly pleased with the provisions of the Dingley Bill, as it will be some measure of protection against cheap Canadian labor, and the duty on the fish will keep up the price on this side of the lake."

A Carberry Syndicate.

Winnipeg, Aug. 3. — (Special.) — Carberry citizens have organized a syndicate to prospect in the Yukon country. They have dispatched two of their number to the Klondike to take up claims. The balance of the party intend to follow in the spring.

A man may dress as well as his own good judgment and the assistance of an artistic tailor may elect. He may take his "tubs" but if his digestive organs are out of order, he will have an unwholesome appearance. His complexion and the whites of his eyes will have a yellowish cast. His tongue will be coated, appetite poor, his teeth rusty, his breath abominable. He is one big, unmistakable sign of constipation. The quickest, surest, easiest way to cure this trouble is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. Nothing in the least harmful enters into their composition. They hunt down all impurities, and "make them move on." They are the product of many years' study and practice. Dr. Pierce cannot afford to put forth a worthless article.

Wrong action of the heart causes nervousness, nervous dyspepsia, shortness of breath and other distressing symptoms. BIKE FLYERS AT ASBURY

Bald Won the Mile Open Race With Nat Butler a Close Second. Cooper and Kiser Tie Man.

Asbury Park, Aug. 3.—Five thousand people attended the National Circuit race meet at the Asbury Athletic grounds today. More than usual interest centered in the meet because the national championship races are to be decided at Philadelphia this week. It gave those who follow the sport an idea of the relative merits of the crack riders of the country, including Bald, Kiser, Cooper, Titus, McDonald, McFarland, Stevens, Newhouse, Eaton and all the best riders in the professional and amateur classes. The half mile match race between James J. Corbett and Henry Maddock of Asbury Park was one of the principal events. Maddock gave Corbett about 250 yards. Corbett won amid loud applause. His time was 1.02 2-5. Maddock's time was 1.10. Master Willie Hays of Trenton and Clarence McLain of Kentucky entertained the crowd by fancy and trick riding. The races, both amateur and professional, were hotly contested. Bald, Cooper and Butler seemed to be the favorites in the professional class, and Powell, Ertz, Ripley and Dawson were the amateur favorites. The most exciting event was the one-mile professional, won by Bald, with Butler a close second. Summary:

Mile novice—Won by H. A. Thiede of New York; J. S. Goodway, Brooklyn, second. Time, 2.43 3-5. J. P. Woolley, who won the first heat, was disqualified, having won two races last week.

Mile, open, amateur—Won by G. H. Collett, New Haven; C. M. Ertz, New York, second. Time, 2.27 1-5.

Third of a mile dash, professional—Won by Eddie Bald, Buffalo; O. L. Stevens, Ottumwa, Iowa, second. Time, 43 2-5.

One mile, open, professional. Final heat—Paced by Austin Crooks of Buffalo, won by Bald; Nat Butler, Cambridge, second. Time, 2.14 2-5.

Two-thirds mile, handicap, amateur—Won by H. C. Hausman, Harlem Wheelmen; C. H. Collett, second. Time, 1.28 2-5.

Two mile handicap, professional—Won by Nat Butler; C. S. Wells, San Francisco, second. Time, 4.46.

SLOW TIME IN THE CIRCUIT.

Trenton, N.J., Aug. 3.—The National Circuit bicycle races, run off here yesterday, were principally notable for the slow time made. Such cracks as Eddie Bald, Tom Cooper, Fred. Lougheed, Nat. Butler and Charley Church took part, but none of them made any great exertions after new records.

The one mile scratch professional, in which all these stars rode, was won by Orlando Stevens of Ottumwa, Iowa, in 2.07, with Bald second and Butler third.

Owen Kennole of Louisville (110 yards) captured the two mile handicap professional in 4.43 2-5; W. R. Randall of Rochester, N.Y., (80 yards), second; C. M. Murphy, Brooklyn (60 yards), third.

The half-mile handicap professional was won by Orlando Stevens (20 yards), in 1.04 4-5; O. R. Newton, Springfield, Mass. (30 yards), second; F. J. Lougheed, Sarnia, Ont. (scratch), third. Jimmy Michael made an attempt to lower his five-mile record of 9.51 4-5, but he only succeeded in making it in 10.00 2-5.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Toronto, Aug. 4.

The Torontos took a turn at boosting their batting averages yesterday afternoon at the Island. It was a contest in name only and Hamilton would have had as much show as Dan Shannon's barons from Wilkes-Barre. Everyone of the Irwinites got two or more hits, and their 23 went for a total of 31 bases. Score:

Toronto	0 0 3 2 1 0 1 0 3—10
Wilkes-Barre	0 0 0 1 1 0 2 0 0—4

SYRACUSE, BUFFALO, SPRINGFIELD.

At Buffalo—The Bisons turned over a new leaf and won out easily from Scranton. A home run, three and two-baggers show that the locals like Morse. Score:

Buffalo	0 0 3 1 0 2 4 0 *—10	16	1
Scranton	0 0 0 0 0 3 0 0 0—3	10	3

Batteries—McPartlin and Urquhart; Morse and Gunson.

At Syracuse—The Stars bunched their hits in the first and third innings of today's game and won out in a walk. Lampe had the Clam Diggers at his mercy with men on bases and three of their eight hits were scratches. Cooney was fined $10 for disputing a decision of Umpire Doescher. Score:

Syracuse	3 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 *—5	11	5
Providence	0 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 0—2	8	1

Batteries—Lampe and Shaw; Rudderham and Dixon.

At Montreal—Two bad errors combined with Montreal's inability to bunch their hits gave the game to Springfield. At no stage could they find Dolan's delivery to any extent, and up till the ninth he had the home team at his mercy. Richter, who has been ill for some days, was obliged to retire from the game in the eighth innings, McNamara taking his place. Attendance 110. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Montreal	0 0 0 2 0 0 0 1 2—5	13	4
Springfield	0 0 1 3 0 0 3 2 0—9	16	1

HAMS WON A GAME.

Hamilton, Aug. 3.—After holding the Hamiltons down to four hits in two or three games, Johnson, the London pitcher, was hit hard to-day, and seven runs were made off him by bunched hitting with a few errors sandwiched in. The seven hits made off Cochran were scattered, and he got good support. Some of the fielding was of the fireworks order, particularly a one-hand catch by Phillips and a dive by Dean. The latter play was in the ninth, when London had three men on bases. Sippi made what looked like a sure hit, but Dean went after it head first, and came up with the ball in one hand and a foot on the bag, retiring the side. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Hamilton	3 1 1 0 0 2 0 0 x—7	9	0
London	0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—3	7	4

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Louisville Miller relieved Magee in the seventh inning, after the Indians had scored eight runs and, succeeded in retiring the side. The game was called on account of darkness at the end of the eighth inning. Attendance 1200. Score:

Louisville	0 0 0 1 0 0 4 0—5	11	6

Batteries—Young and Zimmer; Magee, Miller and Wilson.

At Washington—The errors made by the Senators in the first game were numerous and provoking. In the second game Swain proved somewhat of a surprise and the fielding of the locals improved. Nichols replaced Silvetts in the box at the end of the seventh. Score:

First game:	R.	H.	E.
Washington	0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—5	8	11
Boston	3 4 0 1 1 2 0 0 0—11	12	2

Boston	1 0 0 0 0 2 2 0 0—5	8	1

At New York—Four hits were all the Brooklyns could get off Rusch's delivery in a postponed game at the Polo grounds. The Giants, on the other hand, hit the ball, ran the bases and fielded in great style. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
New York	1 0 2 1 0 2 4 0 x—10	16	0
Brooklyn	0 0 0 0, 0 0 2 0 0—2	4	4

METHODIST STEAMER LOST.

Drawn on a Reef on the Northern Coast of New Guinea. Fears That All on Board Are Lost.

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 3.—News has reached Sydney of the wreck of the missionary steamer Meda, owned by the Methodist Board of Missions. The Meda struck on the northeastern coast of New Guinea and went to pieces. All on board were cast upon some desert island or lost. The Meda had on board a large party of religious teachers from Fiji. She got into a violent current and was drawn on the reef. Nothing has been heard of her passengers and crew.

H.M.S. Valette has reached Sydney with the report of the total loss of the steamer Sultan in mideocan, off the Isle of Socotra. She had on board 65 pilgrims returning from Mecca. The seas were running high when the Valetta saw the sinking steamer. The waves were alive with sharks. The captain of the Valetta called for volunteers and the whole crew came forward. Just before the third and last boat was pulled alongside the Valetta it swamped, and the occupants were devoured by sharks.

The steamer Dove, bound from Cairns to Cooktown, Queensland, was wrecked in Arnze Bay, 15 miles south of Bloomfield River. The steamer struck a reef, the weather being foggy. All hands were saved.

A CHANGE IN TONE.

The Stand Taken by the Doctors in the Kent Case Beginning to Weaken.

OTTAWA, July 26th.—It is safe to say that the statement made under oath by Mr. G. H. Kent of this city with regard to his wonderful recovery from Bright's disease through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills has definitely decided the objection as to whether he owes his recovery to this valuable medicine, and has been been accepted as a final settlement of the debate. While, however, there is now no question raised to the statement, there is still a strong feeling in the city and neighborhood with regard to the cure, and those who at first combatted the idea as incredible are now loud in their expressions of astonishment that what has been considered an incurable disease should succumb so quickly to a remedy, and in their praise of the remedy itself.

A New Fabric.

Shot grenadine is a new fabric that is most charming, and so thin as to be almost like gauze. In blue and beige, a gown built of it for the season at the lake shore is charming. It is mounted over Russian blue taffeta, which intensifies the blue, and is trimmed about the hem with four flounces of the grenadine, each headed with a band of Russian blue velvet ribbon, and each trimmed with three very fine rows of blue. The skirt is clinging and slightly dipping behind. The bodice is built of inverted shingles from the belt of blue velvet to the bust, the belt fastening on the side with a gold buckle; the shingles pass beneath the arms, leaving a very deep guimpe of white satin sprigged with deep ecru lace motifs. The chocker is covered with a white mull scarf, which ties in a bow under the chin, one end edged with ecru lace motifs, and the sleeves are of the shot blue and beige grenadine with ruffled epaulettes.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMER, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

LONG BROS.

414 and 393 George Street.

Thousands of men in every walk of life all over the world are playing a desperate game with Death for an opponent. They are playing with an opponent who has every advantage, and the outcome of the game is as certain as Death. The man in any walk of life, who is too hard-worked, too busy, to take care of his health has only himself to blame when the final break-down comes. It is easy to keep health while one has it, but uphill work to win it back when it is lost. A man neglects a slight indigestion. Then his appetite gets poor. That's a trifle and he pays no attention to it. Then he complains of headaches and it is hard to work or think. His sleep becomes restless and he only gets troubled spells of it. He gets nervous and irritable. Everything goes wrong both at home and at business. He persists in paying no attention to his health. Then some day he breaks down. The doctor says nervous prostration or consumption as the case may be. He has been playing a game with death and has been checkmated at the weakest point.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is an unfailing cure for all disorders of the digestion, and the deadly maladies that follow in their train. It is the great blood-maker, flesh builder, and nerve tonic. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. It is an unfailing remedy for nervous prostration and exhaustion. Thousands of men have testified to their recovery under its use, after all other remedies had failed. All druggists sell it. Do not deal with a druggist who offers you a substitute for he is not only dishonest but willing to sacrifice your health and possibly your life for a few added pennies of profit.

A clear complexion. Any one can have it who keeps the blood pure. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them.

MR. WILSON'S SUPPLY.

"If I could only go out and do something to help to earn money!" said Mrs. Wilson, wistfully.

Mr. Wilson laughed fondly, as one shows amusement at the vagaries of a child, and patted his wife's cheek playfully.

The idea of a little woman, who has been sheltered all her life, as you have, going into the world as a money getter! You make a first-class wife and mother, but that doesn't demand a knowledge of the principles of business. No, we will get along with what the man of the house is able to earn, even if we cannot buy the corner lot; so do not let your mind stray from the province in which you dwell so successfully to work that you would not be able to perform. My wife does not need a business head."

As her husband left the house Mrs. Wilson walked to the window and looked after him, with her mouth drawn into a firm scarlet line.

"So I do not need a knowledge of business principles, Asbury Wilson!" said she, apostrophizing his retreating form. "You must have forgotten that I have had to make use of them for a number of years; that twice a year I look up the tax receipts and pay the taxes, often out of my own spending money; that I look after all our insurance; that I always kept up the interest on the mortgage until we paid it; that I keep all the accounts of the family, and that every claim is submitted to me for payment, to say nothing of the business knowledge necessary to make one dollar do the work of two—a problem that a man seldom tries to solve. It's all right, of course, and I must put up with being a business cipher; but if there is anything in the doctrine of reincarnation, I hope you will be reborn as a woman, to see if brains are not as necessary for a wife and mother as for a husband and father."

After this spirited speech, Mrs. Wilson went about her work, which, that morning, was the construction of a stylish spring jacket for 12-year-old Edna out of Mr. Wilson's light overcoat of two seasons back, meaning a saving of from eight to twelve dollars towards the June tax assessment.

Mr. Wilson occupied the position of traveling salesman for a grocery house, and had been able to provide his family with a comfortable home and a good living. It was no business crisis that brought forth Mrs. Wilson's wish to earn money, but the chance to purchase a certain piece of property at a most advantageous price. She could see the advisability of such a transaction, and of her desire to see the investment made was born her wish. Mr. Wilson was proud to term himself a "self-made man," and the idea that his wife's work might have a commercial value, or that he might be compelled to receive such aid from her, would have been distasteful to him. He was a most generous man, giving freely and unasked, yet always conveying the feeling that he considered the money used by the family as his alone.

Through all the afternoon Mrs. Wilson could not help a little feeling of resentment against her husband for so coolly setting aside the idea of her capability; but the feeling vanished suddenly, when, at supper time, a closed hack drove to the gate, and two men took from it a stretcher. She flew to meet them, and the man they were carrying opened his eyes to say to her:

"It's only a broken leg, Chic, don't be frightened."

It proved to be "only a broken leg," but how serious the effects would really be to him she only knew late that night, after the broken bones were set, and the doctors gone:

"The worst of it is, Chick," he said, dolefully, between groans, "I was to start to-morrow on that two weeks' trip up north, and it's the most important one of the season. It takes in Great Bow, Hinesville, Robinson and several other smaller towns, all comparatively new to our house, and I had timed my dates just ahead of the man from the Occidental Grocery Company. He'll get every one of them, for the house wouldn't have time to send a supply in my place, and it may be the means of putting me on a poorer route, since I lost last month for them, because of that la grippe."

In spite of his wife's efforts to quiet or cheer him, the man worried himself through a restless and feverish night. The next morning when he opened his eyes, Mrs. Wilson stood beside him in her out-of-door costume.

"I've found your supply, Asbury," said she. "I sent over for mother last night, you know, and she will stay here while I go up north in your place."

"You go in my place? Great heavens! Mary Wilson, you do not mean such a thing!"

"Indeed I do, Asbury," said she, undaunted by the horror in his face and voice. "I can go over the ground, and if I don't do as well as you would, I will save the route for the house and you, anyway. It is two hours yet until train time, and I can sit here for an hour and a half, with your lists and books, and find out where to go, and how to handle each man, and about the prices—though I have helped you so often with your writing that I could find out about the prices myself, I think."

"But, Chick," interposed Mr. Wilson, "you don't know what you are offering. You'll have to travel on crowded trains, and put up at strange hotels, and talk to the grocers themselves. You've led such a sheltered life that you don't realize anything that would be expected of you."

"I've travelled on crowded railway trains more than once, Asbury, when I had three babies to take care of, and had to drag them around while I bought tickets and rechecked baggage, and I've put up at strange hotels with them, too; and as for talking to grocers—if I haven't learned how to do that, after fourteen years of marketing, I need this experience to teach me. Oh, it's no use, Asbury, I am going, and you needn't waste any more of our hour and a half in arguing the question. Mother is a better nurse than I am, and the children love her so that they will be as good as gold, so none of my duties will be neglected. Here are your books and papers; hurry and tell me what I must do about things."

Mr. Wilson spent a lonely and worried two weeks, though in the bottom of his heart, he did not doubt that his wife would be successful—he had seen her meet too many perplexities to lack confidence in her ability. In his heart, also, he knew that all his assumption of her dependence upon his superior judgment was but a pretty play of his own, whereby his value to her seemed enhanced.

Promptly to the day, Mrs. Wilson returned, bright and fresh from what had been to her a vacation from the indoor life she had been leading, joyous at seeing the family, and elated at her success, as the well-filled pages of the order book testified.

"Only two of your customers refused to buy of me, Asbury," she announced quite breathlessly, as she relieved herself of the details of her venture, "and they were old Mr. Green of Hinesville, who 'reckoned he'd wait for the Occidental Company's man, and a man up at Great Bow, who talked through his nose, and who said he 'didn't consider no woman fit to sell groceries.' The rest were all so polite—at first, I think, because I was a woman, but afterwards they really seemed to like to order from me, and as I have had practical experience with so much of the goods that you carry, I could add my knowledge to what you told me, and so my orders grew amazingly."

Mr. Wilson was enthusiastic over his wife's success, the thought went through his mind that when a rosy little woman, with bright eyes and a dimple-cleft chin, held the order book, a merchant would need some of the adamant in his nature to keep his orders from growing.

During the weeks that he was confined to the house, Mrs. Wilson came and went over his route, with the result that when he could take his place again, the firm for which he worked sent an offer of steady employment to M. A. Wilson, the non-committal name that Mr. Wilson's supply had signed to her orders, with the astonishing information that she was "just the kind of a man they had been wanting."

Did she go? No; because, you see, this happened in real life, where duty and poetic justice do not go hand in hand. She went back to her home and babies, to the remodelling of old clothes, and the cooking of groceries instead of the selling of them.

"I might be able to hire a housekeeper," said she, "but never a mother, nor an economizer. It takes business judgment to be a housekeeper, wife, mother, nurse, dressmaker and general economizer, all in one, just as it does to run a government, or to sell groceries."

"You're right, Chick," said Mr. Wilson, approvingly, "and a great deal more, I think, for here is a housekeeper who can sell groceries, and here is a salesman who couldn't be a housekeeper. And you deserve a salary for your work, just as I do for mine, so hereafter, half the income of this family is your own, and I'm ashamed that I had to be brought to a proper sense of the value of your work by such an experiment as this, though I must say that I deserved it all."

Which was a great deal for Mr. Wilson to say, and, altogether, quite the most satisfactory thing, also, from Mrs. Wilson's point of view.—Woman's Journal.

HASTINGS COUNTY MINES.

FAVOURABLY SPOKEN OF BY AN ENGLISH GEOLOGICAL EXPERT.

Members of the British Association Will Visit the District in August.

"We have in Hastings county thousands of acres of land that carry choice minerals of every kind, such as gold, silver, lead, asbestos, nickel, garnet, etc., and people need not go thousands of miles away from the old provinces of Ontario and Quebec to engage in profitable mining, under conditions, too, which entail untold hardships and privations," remarked Mr. C. S. Sanderson, of Ormsby, Ont., to a Montreal Witness reporter, while in the city a day or two ago, in company with Mr. Weddell, of Trenton, Ont. "And as we are not selling any stock, I am not giving you any speculators' boom talk," continued Mr. Sendereon.

"Yes; and this has been one result of the fires which have laid portions of the country bare, so that we can now see the rocks, and as a consequence have discovered that they are very rich in minerals," added Mr. Weddell.

Mr. Sanderson is the manager of the Anglo American Mining Company, which is opening up 80,000 acres of choice timber and mineral land, along the Central Ontario Railway in Hastings County, and he feels certain that there are thousands of tons of mineral-bearing quartz veins anywhere from three to a hundred or more feet wide. They have cut across twenty feet in places and cannot find any side to the veins. Mr. Sanderson also states that they have mountains of iron, but they place very little dependence upon it because the prices are so extremely low that they cannot see their way clear to operate at the present time.

The claims of Messrs. Sanderson and Weddell were also borne out by Mr. Miller at the recent mining convention in this city, when he declared that this district had not received fair treatment so far, and that some years ago when deposits were first opened, little was known concerning arsenical ores, and difficulties were naturally met with, and the owners appeared to have lost courage and worked the mines more with the intention of selling them than of trying to make a profit. Mr. Miller also mentioned that he had visited the Deloro mine in Marmora township, and at a depth of 180 feet the vein was found to be still well defined.

The Deloro mine, in Marmora township, referred to above, is now being worked by an English syndicate, who have one hundred and fifty men employed there night and day. Near by is the mine which Mr. A. W. Carscallen, M.P., has sold to an English syndicate from Newcastle-on-Tyne for $55,000 and adjoining this is the Ledyard mine, where a shaft has been sunk to a depth of one hundred and fifty feet.

In Madoc Township there is the Crescent mine, owned by Montreal parties, where a mill has been erected at a cost of $20,000. The Gladstone property, owned by Mr. Henry Corby, M. P., and Mr. Robert Weddell, is about thirty miles from Trenton, and is one of the richest mines in North Hastings. It carries heavy free gold, which has run from $22 to $250 a ton. There has been $60,000 already taken out. This vein of free gold is ten feet wide and has already been traced for over 1,400 feet. The shaft is now down eighty feet, and several cross cuts show the ore standing right out. The gold can be panned right out of the dust.

The Eldorado, or the old Richardson mine, in Madoc township, were some years ago some three hundred thousand dollars were taken out of one pocket in a very short time, and which was afterwards closed, is now in working order again. This vein is eighty-five feet wide. Adjoining this is the St. Charles-Weddell mine, which under mill test has produced from $50 a ton of pure gold and upward. The concentrates show four ounces of gold to the ton, on a basis of ten per cent. of the ore, and the tailings which have been left through an imperfection at the mill have shown $7 a ton. There will shortly be a further test of one hundred tons of ore now in store at the mill. The shaft is now sunk to a depth of thirty feet, and it is proposed to go down one hundred feet. A building forty-two by twenty-six feet is in course of construction here. The Bannockburn mine is also being operated on a large scale, and a tunnel is being made. Adjoining this is the Weddell mine, where galena and gold, the reporter was informed, are found equal in richness to anything that has been found in Rossland, B.C.

Tudor township is quite rich in minerals and a carload of ore now lies at Millbridge station for a test. Shafts fifty feet deep are sunk in the Weddell and Chard mines. True fissure veins are to be found here, and the ore runs seventy-five per cent. of lead and fifteen ounces of silver.

In Limerick township, near Ormsby, there is practically a mountain of garnet ore, and the reporter was shown a small piece which was literally studded with the gem. There are hundreds of quartz veins in the township that carry different classes of metals that have proved very satisfactory on essay.

The reporter was also informed than an excursion had been tendered to the British Association, which meets at Toronto next month, to visit the mines of Hastings county, and it has been accepted.

Mr. Wm. Kelly, of Marmora, who has also been in town, stated that about a month ago he met Mr. Rathbone, the celebrated geological expert, who was sent out by a rich London company to South Africa and who was there during the Jameson raid, and Mr. Rathbone had stated, after he had examined several properties in Marmora, that the district was equal to anything he had seen.

SOME RECENT INVENTIONS.

Communication from Messrs. Marion & Marion, Montreal.

Firemen's spectacles or eye protectors are formed with domed disks of wire gauze, fitted in a holder and held in place by a rubber strap around the head.

A new bicycle tire, which the inventor claims cannot be punctured, has an outside metal shoe or rim surrounding the rubber tire, the flange of the outer rim projecting around the tire to prevent it coming off.

To prevent all unfairness in the starting of bicycle racers a new invention is made of an inclined plane for each wheel to rest on, the back wheels being held fast by a series of bolts which are withdrawn simultaneously by the starter.

Shoe strings are safely tied without the use of knots, by means of a new device which fastens to the shoe upper near the top eyelets, being formed of a disk or plate with a curved clip projecting from the side into which the string is forced.

In a new crutch for invalids the wooden head is hollowed out and fitted with a pneumatic cushion, having an inflating valve in the underside, with a covering of leather to enclose both the head and cushion at the bottom of the crutch.

A British seaman has invented an improved life buoy and rescue signal detacher and piercer, in which the rescue signal is flexibly attached to the boy so that it can be lighted and thrown overboard with the buoy in a few seconds, thus avoiding the delay which is so often fatal.

BENSFORT.

Sabbath Desecration.

A correspondent informs us that on Sunday last a doctor, a lawyer, a hotel keeper and a telephone repairer paid a visit to Bensfort for the purpose of repairing the telephone line, and he wishes to state that the people of the neighbourhood are not very much pleased with their visit on such business. Next time they pay such a visit they may expect a little attention from the police authorities. The communication also calls attention to the desecration of the Sabbath by the traffic of steamers.

SIR WILFRID ABROAD

A Chat With a German Newspaper Man.

ABROGATION OF GERMAN TREATY

Does Not Mean England's Return to Protectionism—Germany Can Have a Treaty With Canada—Turkey Getting Into a Financial Pinch—News by Cable.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—The Frankfort Zeitung publishes an interview with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier, representing him to have said: "It is absurd to suppose that the denunciation of the commercial treaties with Germany and Belgium means England's return to protectionism. If Germany is willing to confer corresponding privileges upon Canada, she can have a new treaty similar to the present one, though it would, of course, contain a clause under which the British colonies would be bound by England's commercial treaties."

France Will Benefit.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The Gaulois points out that under the commercial treaty concluded between France and Canada in 1893, France will benefit by any advantage which Canada gives Great Britain.

TURKEY GETTING INTO A HOLE.

Funds are Getting Low and the Porte Wants to Hurry Up a Settlement.

Constantinople, Aug. 5.—The Turkish Government officials are now manifesting a desire to expedite the settlement of the peace negotiations. This is owing to the straitened state of the exchequer, rendering it impossible under the present circumstances to contract a new loan, because of the unhealthy condition of the troops in Thessaly (where many of the soldiers are dying), and for political reasons, the attitude of Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro being regarded as threatening.

Tewfik Didn't Know.

The Turkish Minister for Foreign Affairs, Tewfik Pasha, replying to enquiries made by the Ambassadors of the powers, has expressed ignorance of the destination of the Turkish fleet which left the Dardenelles on Tuesday last. It appears, however, that the warships are not going to Cretan waters, which is probably a wise decision upon the part of the Turkish authorities.

Treachery in the Harem.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—According to a despatch from Constantinople to The Neue Freie Presse, 14 ladies of the Imperial harem have been arrested on a charge of complicity with the intrigues of the Young Turkey party.

ENGLAND DID NOT OBJECT,

Foreign Fleets Were Ready to Blow the Turkish Squadron Out of the Water.

London, Aug. 5.—In the House of Commons this evening the Right Hon. George J. Goschen, First Lord of the Admiralty, in reply to a question, said it was true, as reported, that the admirals of the International fleets had decided to exclude the Turkish fleet from Cretan waters, and he added: "Their action is not disapproved by Her Majesty's Government."

No Retreating Change.

Despatches from Athens and Constantinople show that there has been no noticeable change in the situation as to the peace negotiations to-day.

Sir Edward George this afternoon had a long conference with M. Onou, the Russian Minister, and it is understood that the peace conference has arranged for the appointment by the powers of three delegates to control the revenues assigned to the service of the Greek debt. The Porte is negotiating a loan to cover the evacuation of Thessaly. The ambassadors propose that the indemnity should be paid in four yearly instalments of £1,000,000 Turkish. The Turkish Government wants the evacuation to occupy the same period, and wishes to hold a portion till the whole has been paid. Germany regards that Turkey shall be allowed to hold the districts of Trikhala and Turnovo until the indemnity had been paid. England strongly opposes this. Turkey's recent abandonment of the proposal to send the Turkish fleet to Crete is significant of her attitude when next the powers take a bold and united stand.

THE RIOT IN CALCUTTA.

When the Truth Gets Out the Affair Was Not So Terribly Serious.

London, Aug. 5.—The Evening News this afternoon publishes a letter from a Calcutta volunteer, reiterating the statement that during the recent rioting there the artillery fired point blank at a mob of 5000 mill hands who were marching to join the rioters, with the result that 1500 of the natives were killed.

The Secretary of State for India, Lord George Hamilton, was questioned in the House of Commons on July 9 as to the accuracy of the native reports that 1500 persons were killed. He replied that about seven persons were killed and about twenty were wounded during the riots referred to.

Hungary and the Dingley Bill.

Vienna, Aug. 5. — In the Hungarian Parliament yesterday, the Minister of Commerce, Baron de Daniel, replying to an interpellation on the subject of the Dingley tariff, said the Government considered that Hungary, in protecting her export interests, should not act alone. But to insure success, the Government thought that States should agree in a common course of action.

Anti-Federation in Australia.

Melbourne, Aug. 5.—The discussion of the Australian Federation bill in the Colonial Parliament reveals the existence of an important anti-Federal section. The crux of the difficulty is the question of securing the rights of the smaller states without depriving the others of the advantage which should be theirs from the fact of their larger populations.

THE THUNDERER ON FINANCE.

Persistent Weakness of Silver is a Puzzler—What About the Indian Mint?

London, Aug. 6.—The Times, in its financial comments this morning, admits its inability to explain the persistent weakness of silver, but thinks it due perhaps to a well-grounded belief that the results of the American bimetallic commission, headed by Senator Wolcott, are not likely to prove satisfactory to silverites here and in the United States. The Times adds:

"Even those who disapprove the closing of the Indian mints are not prepared to support a demand for opening them, because re-opening them now would involve worse evil than continuing the new state of affairs which their closing has created. Moreover, it cannot be denied that the policy has been successful, inasmuch as it has kept the exchange value of the rupee at a level much above its melting value, and, though this means that the rupee is no longer a standard coin, which is an evil, it greatly helped the Indian Government in making provision for the extraordinary difficulties caused by famine and plague."

Referring to the announcement of the Baltimore and Ohio as to the payment of coupons, The Times says:

"This is a very satisfactory result of the application of judicious pressure to the proper persons. Perhaps the holders of the Pittsburg and Connellsville bonds will now see the advantage of being represented by a powerful house."

The Standard in its financial article, referring to silver, says:

"It is difficult to see where the decline will stop, resulting as it does chiefly from the extent to which the forced liquidation of holdings by American speculators has yet to be carried."

Yankees Charged Too Much.

London, Aug. 6.—The Morning Post, in an editorial on the American claim of £5700 for the extradition from California to Sydney, N. S. W., of Frank Butler, the Australian bush murderer, recently executed at Sydney for the murder of Capt. Lee Weller, whom he had induced to go with him on a gold prospecting trip in Australia, says: "Such a claim seemed an act deserving severe condemnation. If a nation will behave in such a manner, it ought not to be surprised when the Attorney-General of New South Wales asserts that the charge is excessive and unwarranted."

Another Plot Hatching.

London, Aug. 5.—A special despatch from Sofia says it is rumored there that the object of the visit of Prince Ferdinand and of M. Stolloff, the Bulgarian Premier, to King Charles of Roumania, at Sinai, is to induce reluctant Roumania to join Servia and Bulgaria in the rising against Turkey, for which it is alleged secret preparations have for a long time been in progress.

Portuguese Victory in Gazaland.

Lisbon, Aug. 5.—A despatch from Lourenzo Marquez says that word was received there on Tuesday that the Portuguese troops had again routed the rebels in Gazaland and captured two of the principal chiefs. The reports, however, lack official confirmation.

Royal Residence in Ireland.

London, Aug. 5. — According to The Cork Constitution, the Muckross estate, Killarney, has been selected as a site for a royal residence in Ireland.

Archbishop Walsh in Ireland.

Queenstown, Ireland, Aug. 5.—His Grace Archbishop Walsh of Toronto, who is spending a month in his native land, will sail about Aug. 15 for Canada. His Grace is accompanied by two secretaries and is at present in his native county of Kilkenny.

Tim Murphy and His Victim.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 5.—John Cartuyvelles, the fireman who was struck on the head with a beer glass yesterday by Tim Hurst during a game between Cincinnati and Pittsburg, is reported to be in a critical condition. A charge of assault has been made against Hurst and he was released on a bond of $300. A new affidavit will now be filed, charging assault with intent to kill, and Hurst, who has gone to St. Louis, will be re-arrested there and brought back here to answer the new charge.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Report as to Canadian Trade With Jamaica,

AGENT BURKE HAS EXPECTATIONS

Hopes for Extended Commercial Relations When the Cable is Completed and the Steamship Connection is Improved Effect of U. S. Tariff on the Fish Business.

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—Mr. Elisha Burke, Canadian commercial agent at Kingston, sends a very interesting report to the Department of Trade and Commerce. He congratulates both Canada and Jamaica on the anticipated completion of the cable and the improved steamship connection, which he hopes will lead to extended intercolonial commercial relations. He expects Canada will make an effort to procure Jamaica and the other West Indian Islands for the markets of Canadian industry, Canadian enterprise, and, in a word, Canada's progressive path. The bulk of his letter is taken up with the stream of every Canadian agent's quarterly reports, namely, that Canadian producers must put up goods to suit the market. Other nations do it, and so must the trader. He remarks that the orange season is about to open, with prospects of an extra crop. Owing to the new United States tariff putting a duty of 1c per pound, equal to $1.60 per case, on, shippers may perhaps turn their attention to the Canadian market. Mr. Burke announces his intention of coming to Canada in the fall.

Mr. W. Stubbs, M. P. for Cardwell, is in the city to lodge an objection in the office of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council to the application of the C. P. R. to run a new line from Mona. The objection takes the form that the new line would divert the traffic from Charleston. Mr. Stubbs' own home and chief village in the Township of Caledon, which township paid a bonus of $15,000 to the old T., G. and B., now the C. P. R., on the condition of a station being established and maintained within a mile of the township.

The new United States tariff regulation placing a quarter to three-quarters of a cent per pound on all fish from Canada will interfere with a considerable industry on some of the border lakes. It is a well-known fact that at Lake Winnipeg and many other of the inland waters of Canada these firms have carried on a successful business for years. The plan was to furnish Canadian fishermen with nets and other plant and handle their catch in the United States markets. Fish thus caught were entered free of duty in the States as having been taken on "American twine," shipped in American bottoms, etc. Quite an agitation was carried on a couple of years ago by Canadian fishing firms against the advantages enjoyed by American companies in this respect, but the Dominion Government appeared to be powerless to remedy the grievance. The new rule will place the Canadian and American exporter on the same footing as regards the United States market, and the Canadians who have been fishing with American outfits will have to either give up business or obtain nets of their own.

Little Boy Missing.

Ottawa, Aug. 5.—Elisha Cook, a 9-year-old son of a mill hand, disappeared mysteriously this week and it is feared has been drowned.

Louis Mercer, one of Mr. J. R. Booth's mill hands, was found near the C.P.R. round house last night in an insensible condition. He was carried to his home in Mechanicsville, where he afterwards recovered sufficiently to tell his story. He was going home about 10 o'clock, he said, and was set upon by several men, whom he did not see before they struck and kicked him and left him in an insensible condition near the round house. He was picked up about 12 o'clock and taken home. The police are on the case.

WHERE IS YOUNG SLATER?

He Went From Niagara Falls, Ont., to Cleveland Last Week and Has Not Been Heard From since.

Buffalo, Aug. 5.—The police to-day are busy working on a case of mysterious disappearance. R. P. Slater, a Niagara Falls, Ont., real estate dealer, arrived in Buffalo at noon and went directly to police headquarters, where he complained that his son, F. W. Slater, 21 years old, had disappeared mysteriously. The young man went to Cleveland last week to visit his uncle, Mr. Hanna, who is superintendent of the street railway company, and a brother of Senator Mark Hanna. He left there for Buffalo Saturday night and reached Buffalo the next morning on the C. and B. steamer. Since then all trace of him has been lost.

WEDDING FROLIC AND DEATH.

Sec. Caused Sleepiness and Cigarets Started a Fire Which Cost Four Human Lives.

Cincinnati, Aug. 5.—Otto Adler kept an all-night restaurant in the lower storey of the house in which three men and one woman perished this morning. There were seventeen men and women in one room in the second storey of this house. The occupants of the building refuse all information. None of the dead were burned. They were suffocated by smoke from the fire in adjacent rooms. The only exit for escape was blocked by a bath tub set up on end at the head of the stairway. The smoke came from an adjacent room, where the fire was soon extinguished.

It seems that it was a wedding frolic, in which Guth, one of the dead men, was bridegroom, and the daughter of Landlord Adler was the bride. Still there is some doubt about who was the bride. The celebrants of the wedding used beer and cigarettes very freely, and it is now supposed cigarettes started the fire and that beer caused the somnolence which with the up-turned bath tub was the indirect cause of so much fatality. It seems that, while out of the seventeen, four were suffocated fatally, the other thirteen suffered but slightly. The fire started from the explosion of a gasoline stove.

"TIME FOR A CHANGE."

HON. G. W. ROSS in an address at the Hardy banquet at Brantford, preached a little sermon on the Conservative text which forms the entire platform of the Ontario Opposition—'it's time for a change'—"Lamentations of Whitney; chapter I, verse I. In the course of his sermon Hon. G. W. Ross proceeded to ask and answer the following questions:—

"Has there been anything in the Liberal party for the last twenty-five years that would warrant you in transferring that trust to the Opposition? We have spent $70,000,000 in public works, and yet not one single dollar of that has been corruptly or dishonestly spent. We have challenged our opponents every year in parliament, before the public accounts committee, on every platform, through every one of their journals, we challenge them morning, noon and night, to show that one dollar of the public funds has been corruptly expended, and yet to this hour that challenge has been unanswered. We have subsidized over 3,000 miles of railway, and not one dollar of that subsidy, with the consent or approval, or with the knowledge of the government went otherwise than to the construction and maintenance of the railway it was intended for. We have built bridges by the score and hundred, and yet there is not a Curran bridge among them all. We have spent about eight millions on public works and built parliament buildings, and there has not been a whisper of scandal. Let me say that it is a historical fact that the highest quality any government can possess in the administration of your affairs is an honest expenditure of the money committed to their trust. When the senate of Rome became corrupt the empire crumbled into ruin. You must have a capable government. Make no mistake; send your best men to Parliament, if only for one term. Capacity tells everywhere. If you want a street sweeper, get the best man; whether a bricklayer or timekeeper, put your best man there, believing that other things being equal, capacity is an invaluable quality in the discharge of public duty. I do not say we have got all the capacity we should. I do not say the Opposition is without capacity. I want to say that, go over the record of this Government for twenty-five years—in the administration of justice, the administration of public works and department of the treasury; go over all the departments, and I want the leader of the Opposition to place his hand upon a single transaction that indicates want of capacity or want of business power."

SIR WILFRID HASN'T STEPPED DOWN.

The following from the Orange Sentinel of a few months ago is queer reading, in the face of the recent denunciation of the German and Belgian treaties by the British Government, especially to meet the wishes of Canada:

If the preferential tariff adopted by the Liberal Government turns out to be unworkable because of the favoured nations clause in the British treaties, the Cabinet will have to pose as an aggregation of amateur law makers by withdrawing the preferential clause. There is reason to fear that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will have to step down from his high pedestal, come down to the level of other statesmen, and admit that he did not know what he was doing when he sanctioned the tariff legislation of last session.

One seldom repents of keeping silent, but we have often to weep over saying too much. The same thing applies to writing.

THE Colborne Express remarks that "in striking result of the introduction of the new county council act is the saving in expense connected with the three seasions held during the year. For instance, the June session of the united counties' council of Northumberland and Durnham, just closed, cost the people $425, whereas the June session last year, cost $925, which represents a clear cut saving of over half the cost, or over $500."

IT is announced from London that Lord Wolseley, commander-in-chief of the British forces, is seriously ill. It was reported a short time since that he was suffering from an incurable disease, and there can be little doubt his end is now near. His successor will be either Lord Roberts of Candahar or the Duke of Connaught. By virtue of his Canadian services the Commander-in-chief has a special place in the interest of Canadians.

WE cannot, says the Belleville Sun, but feel sorry for Mr. Wood's nominee in North Hastings. Even the Tory organ has not cheek enough to countenance the wire-pulling which secured him the nomination. The organ knows that Mr. English was the man who deserved the nomination, and that Conservatives do not like either Mr. Wood or his nominee. It dare not deny these facts—it is afraid of Mr. Wood on the one hand and of the party on the other. Meanwhile the whole county looks on and smiles and Mr. Byron Lott's successful candidature forges cheerfully ahead.

SHALL THE LOG DUTY BE IMPOSED?

(Montreal Star.)

The completion of the American tariff with the $2.00 lumber duty firmly embedded in its bosom raises the question as to what the Canadian Government meant when it took power to impose a defensive export duty on logs. It was either a "bluff" intended to frighten Congress from its course, or it was a deliberate and dignified provision for the taking of certain steps for the protection of the Canadian interests in case Congress adopted a policy calculated to injure them. The fact that this provision was taken at a time when this preliminary action might have served as a warning to Congress not to impose this objectionable duty unless it was indifferent to the Canadian retort which it must elicit does not detract from the statesmanlike character of the step, but rather enhances it. If the mere statement of the course we would feel compelled to pursue in self-defence should the Americans take certain action had been sufficient to prevent that action, our whole purpose would have been accomplished without either disturbance to trade or risk to international amity. It was only friendly then to tell Congress what its action would mean. No flavour of "bluff" has yet appeared.

But it will appear, and we shall hardly escape the imputation of meaning "bluff" all along and nothing else, if now, when the Americans have imposed their $2.00 duty, our Government sits with this power in its pocket and does nothing. Quite apart altogether from the question of whether it will pay us to impose an export duty on our logs, another question faces us, demanding whether we can afford to earn the reputation of playing a "bluff" game in the tariff contest. What effect will such a reputation have upon our success in playing tariff against tariff with the Americans in the future? Is it not, as a matter of fact, somewhat too late for us to ask whether an export duty on logs will pay? Ought we not to have asked that last session, before the Government virtually threatened to impose this duty if Congress levied a $2 rate on our lumber?

As for the profit or loss concerned in the action, that is being discussed over again in the press with all the old vigour. The weight of opinion is, as usual, strongly on the side of the imposition of the duty. Ald. Scott of Toronto, President of the Georgian Bay Lumber Company, tells the Globe that an export duty would probably mean non-intercourse in lumber, and then proceeds:

"But it is my belief that at present prices of lumber a duty of $2 is prohibitive on the greater parts of our exports. For our own protection at home, if for nothing else, the export duty should be imposed. The Michigan operators get our logs duty free, saw them up and send them back to Canada, where lumber comes in free. We have to compete in our own country with the lumber that is the product of our own logs sawn in the States. To that we did not object, so long as we had a chance to get into the American market with our lumber, but since they refused us that we should prevent them from hauling away our logs."

The consensus of opinion has been all along on this side. We have the timber reserve of the continent, and if the Americans can be persuaded by the owners of their rapidly vanishing limits not to buy from us just now, the time will soon come when they must buy from us at our own prices. By playing a waiting game we are sure to win. The only way, indeed, in which we can very well lose is by letting the Americans keep their saw-mill industry alive and the price of lumber down, by feeding off our forests, while their $2 duty kills our lumber trade and compels the capital and labour engaged in our saw mills to cross the border in order to find employment sawing up our logs.
